OGDEN, JUNE 22, 1903.

A THRILLING RUNAWAY.

Alex. Brewer, with Wife and Child, Badly Injured in Ogden Canyon.

Henry Sadler Attempts Suicide—Death Of Mrs. James Riley—Suicide.

Liquor Selling.

Alex. Brewer, the well known wholesale merchant, together with his wife and one child met with a very painful injury yesterday afternoon in a runaway in Ogden canyon. Mr. Brewer had bought him a fine team and carriage and was taking his family for a drive in the canyon. The horses were going along quietly until a newspaper blew in front of them; they commenced to run away and soon became unmanageable. Mrs. Brewer realizing that they were in great danger, jumped from the carriage with one child in her arms, the wheels of the buggy passed over them, bruising her little lady, and the child was badly bruised and received injuries in the neck. Mr. Brewer with the other children stayed in the carriage and almost stopped the team, when the rest of the children jumped out and were not hurt. The team, however, continued on down the canyon at great speed for a short distance when the frightened animals jumped over an embankment, throwing Mr. Brewer into the brush, and he was terribly bruising his body and cutting his head and face. The horses broke loose from the demolished carriage and continued down the canyon for about a mile, when they were stopped by Judge Howell, who was going up the canyon. There were a great many carriages in the canyon and the family were loaded into two vehicles and driven to their home on Jefferson avenue. Doctors Rich and Powers were summoned and cared for the injured. The injuries, while painful, are not considered serious.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Henry Sadler attempted to commit suicide Saturday at a barber shop on Grant avenue, where he had been employed, by taking a quantity of laudanum. His condition was discovered by the police and he was taken to the city physician brought him around. Sadler says he is sorry for the attempt and will not repeat it. He can hardly understand why he made such a rash move, except that he was despondent and in hard luck. Sadler has a brother and several other relatives in Salt Lake.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES RILEY.

Mrs. Harriet Emmett Riley, wife of James Riley, residing on Twenty-seventh street at No. 173, died Saturday at the eighth-year of her life. Mrs. Riley was born in Downham, Lancashire, England, Jan. 19, 1823. She came to Utah with her husband in 1852 and settled in Ogden, where they have ever since resided. Mrs. Riley was a sister of Mrs. Ann Browning, Mrs. John Elfr, Sr., and the late Thomas Emmett, all of Ogden.

SUNDAY LIQUOR SELLING.

Potter Brothers, proprietors of the "Baker" summer resort in Ogden canyon, were placed under arrest yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Bailey on the charge of violating the liquor ordinance by selling intoxicants on Sunday. It is understood that the brothers demanded of the sheriff that if the gentlemen sold liquor yesterday that they be prosecuted, and in accordance with their request the arrest was made. They put up bail for their appearance. Billy Wilson's resort was also run yesterday, but no arrests were made.

FELL ON POCKET KNIFE.

James Crawford, a stranger in the city, was taken to the police station last evening with a deep gash in his leg, which had been inflicted by the services of Dr. Gordon to stop the flow of blood and dress the wound. Crawford had been drinking considerable during the day and in that condition he fell on his pocket knife, which was partly open in his pocket, cutting the gash. He cut an artery and might have bled to death had it not been for receiving immediate medical attention.

The annual meeting of the Child Culture club was held at the home of Mrs. Daniel Hamer, Jefferson avenue. The following officers for the coming year were elected by acclamation: Miss Whalen, president; Mrs. Taylor, vice president; Mrs. Hamer, recording secretary; and Mrs. Parley T. Wright, treasurer. Mrs. Cook, as corresponding secretary, declined a re-election and Mrs. Heller was elected to fill the place. Reports were read from the different offices, which showed the club to be in a most flourishing condition with promising results. A very successful season is anticipated next year. Before adjourning for the summer, the club decided to hold the annual field day at Glenwood park on Friday, June 26, at 2 p. m.

Special Correspondence.

Ephraim, Sanpete Co., June 19.—Fred Cherry and Cordelia Cherry, both highly respected young people of Ephraim, were united in marriage by Bishop C. R. Dorius, the evening of June 18.

A small force of able workmen is at work on the Snow academy.

The walls are being finished, and the mason work is about half done. The laying of the brick and stone has been under the direction of J. P. L. Breinholt, from the foundation of the building.

The plan for the building was furnished by Architect Watkins and it will be one of the most substantial buildings in the state. Although it will take some time before the walls will be finished, the building is now in a shape so that the carpenters can commence to roof the same. The roofing will be under the direction of Albert Johnson.

The building contains 26 rooms for class work, one large assembly hall and several smaller rooms. The people of Ephraim are to be congratulated upon having such an excellent building in their town. Commendable features in the building are its symmetry, large corridors and entrances.

I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles. Guaranteed by Z. C. M. L. Drug Store. MESA, ARIZONA.

DEATH OF DAVID BAXTER.

Killed in Jerome Copper Mine—Stake Conference.

Mesa, Maricopa Co., Ariz., June 18.—Through a sad mine accident at the United Verde Copper mine at Jerome, Ariz., the life of a young citizen, says the Arizona Republican. The following telegram to the mother gives all the information at hand.

Mrs. Eliza Baxter, Mesa—Your son

David was accidentally killed here this morning. He was buried Sunday. The funeral services will be held at the home of the deceased on Tuesday at 2 p. m. The funeral services will be held at the home of the deceased on Tuesday at 2 p. m.

THE FATEFUL TELEGRAM came as a dreadful shock to the mother, who was not even aware that her son was employed in the mines at Jerome. A short time ago she had a letter from him saying that he was working in a store at Prescott, Arizona, as soon as assured of steady employment he wanted his mother to come to him for the summer months. It is interesting that Mrs. Baxter was so near the terrible news. David was 20 years of age, unmarried, and is spoken of as a manly, industrious young man. He left Phoenix two years ago to take upon his shoulders man's portion of labor. Since that time the mother has not seen him, though receiving letters from him at frequent intervals. Arrangements were made to have the body brought to Mesa for burial.

The quarterly conference of the Maricopa stake convened at the tabernacle on Sunday. There were on the stand, besides President Hakes and the local authorities, Elder Mathias F. Cowley, the Quorum of Twelve Apostles, Elder Louis A. Kelch and Elder J. E. Robinson, president of the California mission, who came to meet the visitors at frequent intervals. Arrangements were made to have the body brought to Mesa for burial.

ABOUT 10 YEARS AGO SETTLEMENT WAS made over this same settlement by the St. Johns took a certain tributary of the St. Johns river and began to construct a certain amount in labor, while Eager was to have all other tributaries under control. The controversy and the Little Colorado river.

We wish to say that that is wholly untrue and misleading. There was no such thing as a settlement. The best of memories of all the Eager's and his son and not one word of writing regarding same in the records of either Colorado or Arizona.

The person sending in the article had a grievous mistake when he laid claim to any agreement of that nature.

Eager correspondents again say:

"Just prior to the settlement referred to above we turned the water down on trial and it ran two weeks, but did not reach St. Johns, because of such a long dry channel and no many old claimants."

In answer to this we need only say that the Eager irrigation company was not organized until a short time ago and in less than a year the same was going into their reservoir near St. Johns. This does not look as though "long dry channels" soaked the water away.

The truth is that Eager means to turn the flood waters down and did so, but the next day when our representative went to see about it, the water was stopped and the water was not flowing. We hold the prior rights by virtue of earlier construction of reservoir and claim of water and the right of the St. Johns to the water.

We are willing that this question be settled lawfully. Eager people have had our water for about 12 years. We want to know our rights. We have made every effort to get our water made, but they have not been complied with, except when they could not hold it save about 24 hours this spring.

Was Wasting Away.

The following letter from Robert H. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive: "For the last five years, I lost sleep and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians. I tried Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills and less than two bottles completely cured me. I feel like a new man and well." Sold by Johnson-Pratt Drug Co.

IRRIGATION CONTROVERSY.

Under date of April 4, 1903, there appeared in the Deseret News an article regarding irrigation troubles between the St. Johns and the Little Colorado rivers. The article was written by Eager, Ariz. In coming to readers of the "News" and to us, we offer the following as the answer to the St. Johns irrigation company.

The church took St. Johns about 1870 through Apostle Wilford Woodruff and Elder Aaron M. Tenney and paid 750 American cowboys for some of us turning in our last cow on our portion. In doing so we purchased all old rights going with the land, which dated back to 1870. We also purchased the recorded water rights of 1,000 inches in the Little Colorado from Captain Hunt and there was no older claim. Eager was not the owner of the land and had not a ditch or canal built.

Eager people, as well as ourselves, have done a great deal toward building settlements and canals. St. Johns people have built three reservoirs above town and two below, four of which are filled from the Little Colorado River, when Eager was not the owner of the land.

"About 10 years ago settlement was made over this same question by the St. Johns took a certain tributary of the St. Johns river and began to construct a certain amount in labor, while Eager was to have all other tributaries under control. The controversy and the Little Colorado river."

We wish to say that that is wholly untrue and misleading. There was no such thing as a settlement. The best of memories of all the Eager's and his son and not one word of writing regarding same in the records of either Colorado or Arizona.
