GOVERNOR CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

A GENERAL UPRISING OF MINERS IN HOCKING VALLEY.

SEVERE STORM IN COLORADO, ETC., ETC.]

Comments on Governor Cleveland's Letter.

WASHINGTON, 30.—Hon. Dorman B. Eaton, president of the civil service commission, was to-day asked by a representative of the Associated Press for his views in regard to Gov. Cleveland's letter published this morning. Eaton, in reply, expressed himself as follows: "It would be unpardonable presumption in me to assume to speak for Governor Cleveland, but I may speak freely for myself. I regard the letter as the deliberate, significant and manly utterances of a man who comprehends the situation and has the courage of his convictions and duties. It is a platform on the subject to which it relates. The views of the letter are those common to all true statesmen of both parties. These views are those most rapidly growing in the hearts of the people. The policy disclosed in the letter is that by which, alone, his party can retain power or the country escape decay. It shows, plainly that we are to have no mixed Cabinet, and no timid or compromising policy, but a strong, positive, honest, courageous and absolutely democratic administration. It will be one in broad contrast with the last democratic administration, which was weak, evasive and scornful of all noble and growing sentiments. I may do injustice to my political opponents, but I think many of them have been hoping that Gov. Cleveland would be found ready to break his pledges and trifle with his convictions. This letter ought to dispel all such illusions, and is therefore timely. The place-hunters of his party may yet give him much trouble, and perhaps may bring their party near to ruin by their greed for offices. The democratic party now stands as it did when Buchanan was elected—where two roads separate; one leading to honor and victory, and the other to shame and defeat. Its fate depends on its choice of roads and leaders. If I cared more for my party than for my country, I should hope that the greed and clamor for places and spoils would break through the civil service law and rules, and engulf the new President with all the statesmen of his party. The declaration of the letter, 'that the lessons of the past should be unlearned,' may well be pondered by republicans as well as democrats. It is just ten years since President Grant, through a special message, was asking a republican Congress to make a small appropriation for the enforcement of the civil service rules, to which the republican party was solemnly pledged. Unfortunately there was then no statesmen in Congress who could see that a new cause, with elements of potency in the near future, was beginning to stir the hearts of the people. In the eyes of the republican leaders, the early friends of the cause were 'enthusiasts' and 'doctrinaries,' at whom partisan journals especially delighted to sneer. No member in either House cared to even call for the ayes and noes on the appropriation, and amid jeers and laughter, civil service reform, in the opinion of its enemies, was consigned to the tomb of the Capulets. About that time the republican party entered upon a slow decline.

At that time, too, began on a deliberate method (and soon afterwards was carried forward through many affiliated organizations), that broad appeal to the virtue and wisdom of the country, which, two years ago, convinced a reluctant Congress that the reform sentiment must be heeded. A civil service reform bill was prepared by courageous and patriotic democrats—Pendleton in the Senate and Willis in the House, to whom the country owes much, introduced that bill, to which republicans contributed by far the most in speech and votes to make a law. But their return to sound principles on this subject was rather late; and their support of it in the last canvass was rather feeble and equivocal; facts which, in my opinion, insured their defeat. They thus gave the democrats a chance to capture that cause, and now that reform sentiment having grown to be a great political force, having captured the Empire State, and under the leadership of Gov. Cleveland shaped its administration to reform methods, speaks in firm, decisive and unmistakable language through a letter of the President-elect, whom that sentiment has, thus early in its cause, brought to the head of the nation.

Washington, 30.—The Evening Star to-night prints brief interviews with democratic members of Congress upon Governor Cleveland's letter. Representative Ellis of Louisiana said to a reporter that he regarded the letter as the finest production which had come from Gov. Cleveland's pen. "The life of the democracy," he said, "depends upon its upholding the law. With the policy indicated in Cleveland's letter, twenty-five years from now the party will still be in power. Cleveland has proven himself a statesman of a high order. He will trample out this accursed spoils system, and I pray that every democratic Senator and Representative will gather around him and make the name of the democratic party the lasting insignia of honor and honesty. There are sentiments in that letter which should be posted over portals and gateways, as the Jews used to do. They should serve as a frontal-piece to rest before the eyes of American politicians."

"Every democrat and every republican," said Pusey, "will read that letter and say that it has the right ring. Cleveland has grown upon us."

Representative Holman thinks the letter is timely, manly and proper. He says the independents gave Cleveland valuable support, and it was eminently proper for him to answer their inquiry as to his course, with regard to removals from and appointments to office. "I believe," added Holman, "that Governor Cleveland is entirely honest and sincere, and that he will faithfully carry out the civil service law."

Representatives Springer, Hopkins, Brown, of Pennsylvania, Nichols, Buchanan and Dibrel, also expressed approval of Governor Cleveland's letter.

Representative Miller, of Pennsylvania, republican, said he thought Cleveland would have to go out of this country to get non-partisans to fill his offices. He would have to import them.

The Newark Saving Bank.

TRENTON, N. J., 30.—The action against Daniel Dodd, president of the Newark Savings institution, and directors, was decided to-day by the filing of an opinion by Vice Chancellor Van Fleet. The saving banks was wrecked, as alleged, by the action of Dodd, who deposited $845,000 with Fisk & Hatch, and $100,000 with E. H. Harriman & Co. The bank was embarrassed some years ago, and the Court of Chancery took charge of its affairs and directed the manner in which its investments should be made; that they should be in United States or Newark City bonds. Dodd made a special deposit with the two firms named, and permitted use of the money and bonds by both. When Fisk & Hatch failed, the money of the savings institution was swallowed up in the wreck. A bill was filed to attach Dodd and the directors for contempt of court, for violating its order. The opinion reviews the order of 1877, by which the bank was taken charge of by the court. It reviews the fact of the loans to Harriman & Co., and the deposit with Fisk & Hatch when the latter firm failed. Fisk & Hatch had availed themselves of it, not honestly, but fraudulently, but none the less effectually. Such a transaction is, I think, without precedent in the history of the modern business world. Other loans on collateral had been made, but in no other instance was the debtor allowed to retain in his possession the collateral and control it at his will. The vice chancellor decrees that Daniel Dodd alone is guilty of contempt of court, but that three of the managers—Bishop Baldwin, Algernon S. Hubbell and Francis Macklin—had such knowledge of his actions as to render them legally liable for their pecuniary consequences.

Striking Miners.

COLUMBUS, 30.—The State Journal's special from Logan says: There is a general uprising in Hocking Valley to-night. Sheriff McCarthy, with a large posse of men on a special train, left at a late hour to quell the mob. A large shipment of dynamite was received at Nelsonville yesterday. Attacks have been started on the railroad bridges. Special officers are being sworn in and taken to the region of Buchtel, where the strikers are said to be concentrating.

Heavy Snow in Colorado.

DENVER, 30.—A heavy wind and snowstorm is reported raging over the mountains. The thermometer is 10 degrees below, and growing colder. Although the railroad lines are now open, the present heavy fall of snow in Marshall Pass is likely to result in serious delays to Salt Lake trains, if not a formidable blockade. Several interior towns are again snowbound, but as this is the normal condition during the winter months, no apprehension is felt.

Oklahoma Trespassers.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., 30.—In pursuance of instructions from the War Department, Brigadier General Augur, of the department of the Missouri, has ordered Col. Hatch, of the Ninth Cavalry, to proceed to Camp Russell on the Cimarron River, Indian Territory, with six troops of cavalry and one company of infantry, and remove unauthorized persons from Oklahoma and other points in Indian Territory. Col. Hatch is now at Fort Leavenworth making preparations for the expedition.

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE CALAMITY IN SPAIN.

EVENTS OF 1884.

TERRIBLE PANIC IN A THEATRE.

THE DARK CONTINENT, ETC.

The Spanish Calamity.

MADRID, 30.—At Granada to-day a Te Deum was sung and prayers offered for the cessation of the earthquake.

At Priego, province of Cordova, shocks came while the theatre was crowded with people. A terrible panic followed. Many persons jumped from the galleries and windows upon the crowd below. Two were killed outright and forty more or less seriously injured.

At Malaga two lofty chimneys of the gasworks fell. Patients in the hospital were so terrified that they forgot their maladies and fled to the open air. Convicts in prisons refused to enter their cells and remained all night in the courtyard.

Alhama and Santa Cruz are completely destroyed. Soldiers are clearing up the ruins in search of corpses, which are found in large numbers, many of them horribly disfigured. The number of persons killed is unknown. There is much distress among the survivors, who ask relief.

At Albuneulas 200 persons are injured from falling houses; 100 bodies so far have been recovered.

The barracks at Loja, province of Granada, are ruined.

At Scalfaraya, a town not far from Loja, 50 persons perished.

The walls of all the churches in Malaga were cracked by the recent earthquake. Several houses in Camilhas were destroyed and many persons killed. Five persons were killed and several injured at Motis. Sixteen houses were destroyed at Lanjoran, and numerous houses demolished and lives lost in other villages. Fifty corpses were found at Vantas de Tain, Arranda.

Newspapers here are opening subscriptions for a fund for the relief of sufferers by the earthquake.

LONDON, 30.—The Times this morning has a ten-column review of events of 1884. Referring to America, it says: The absorbing topic of the year was the election of President. The session of Congress ending in March was rendered abortive, both parties desiring to avoid a direct issue on the question of free trade, which was momentarily shelved. The democrats preferred to play a waiting game, hoping to regain control of the executive by the probability of the republican selecting an objectionable candidate. That hope was fulfilled. Blaine's appeal to the anti-English spirit of the Irish voters failed to seduce them from their alliance with the democrats. The project of a treaty with Nicaragua, giving America control of the proposed canal, has found little favor and will hardly be ratified by the present Congress. The Times rejoices at the revival of the industrial activity in the South as shown by the New Orleans exhibition.

Killed by Abuse.

LIVERPOOL, 30.—The evidence taken in the case of second mate Wm. Rauscher and boatswain Ferdinand Kolpein of the American ship J. E. Chapman, arrested ten days ago on the charge of having murdered a Russian seaman named Jansen, shows that defendants daily struck and kicked deceased; that one cold morning they lashed him to the top sail sheets for two hours, with his hands tied in front of him; that he moaned piteously to be cut down, and next morning was insensible, and soon died.

French Victory.

PARIS, 30.—Official advices from Tonquin report that the French made an advance from Fu Yen Quan, met the Chinese forces, engaged and defeated them, inflicting severe losses. French loss trifling.

Cabinet Changes.

LONDON, 30.—The World says: Earl Derby will soon resign the office of Secretary of State for the Colonial Department, and be appointed Lord President of the Council. Lord Roseberry will probably be appointed Colonial Secretary.

Fighting Pirates.

PARIS, 30.—Gen. Briere DeLisle telegraphs that he has been fighting pirates near Hongyen for several days, and killed 300 and captured two guns.

The French troops are in excellent health and spirits.

Princess Beatrice.

LONDON, 30.—It is reported that Queen Victoria has announced to the Privy Council the betrothal of the Princess Beatrice to Prince Henry of Battenberg.

Egyptian Finances.

LONDON, 30.—Earl Granville had a consultation to-day with Waddington, French Ambassador, on the proposed resumption of the conference on Egyptian finances. Waddington stated that France was unwilling to take part in the deliberations without previous agreement on the basis of the conference. The Berlin Cross Gazette says Germany desires an early resumption of the London conference.

The Advance Begun.

CAIRO, 30.—A dispatch from Korti dated 7 a. m. this morning, says: Gen. Stewart's expedition is six miles distant.—General Wolseley accompanied the troops for a mile and then reviewed them as they marched past. The line of their route is through a flat desert country, in which no huts are visible.

A Munificent Gift.

LONDON, 30.—A dispatch from Rome says: The offer of Miss Caldwell of Virginia to give $300,000 to found a Catholic university at New York similar to tee college of the Propaganda fide at Rome has been submitted to the Pope, who intends to confer a signal mark of distinction upon the lady.

Sinking of the "Bienoa Daniel."

PARIS, 30.—The government denies the truth of the story of the sinking of the transport Bienoa by Chinese cruisers. The Bienoa is reported at Saigon.

Gunpowder Explosion.

VIENNA, 30.—An explosion of gunpowder to-day in a gunsmith shop at Kralap, Bohemia, destroying three houses, killing three persons and injuring many.

Frightful Theatre Accident.

LONDON, 30.—A portion of the roof of the theatre at Cholet, France, collapsed during the performance to-night. There were about 1,000 persons in the house. The lights were extinguished and screams and groans filled the air. About 150 persons were wounded; some it is feared fatally. The theatre was a temporary structure, and had been strained by recent storms.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council held its regular session last evening, Mayor Sharp in the chair. The meeting was a very brief one, and lasted only from 7 to 7.30 o'clock.

Wm. Ridd and 100 others, residents and taxpayers of the Nineteenth Ward, asked that Fourth North street, between Second and Sixth West, be graveled. They had filed a petition some time ago, which they stated had been granted, but the streets still remained in the same condition. Referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

A petition from Chandler & McElhaney, merchants, was read, asking, that as they were compelled to retire from business through unavoidable circumstances, the unexpired portion of their license, paid in November, be refunded them. Referred to the committee on license.

George Mathison petitioned that the City grant him a five years' lease of the grounds belonging to the corporation outside the cemetery, north and east of the artesian well, with the privilege of living in the house formerly occupied by E. Bench; he agreed to pay $30 per annum, to take good care of the property, machinery, etc., and to vacate at a month's notice, provided he were allowed to erect a suitable residence on another part of the land.

They annointed the house with certain unctuous perfumes to keep out infection. They disenchanted it with various charms to keep the witches from the bride. Now we simply give the bride a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, telling her to take that and be happy and hearty. Keeps out such witches as neuralgia, debility, dyspepsia and rheumatism and helps make home delightful.
