young lad, named Thomas Parry, aged about 16 years, he was out hunting. A flock of ducks passed over their heads about dusk, and the two young men, in order to get out of sight, dropped upon their knees in a sort of pit, thinking the birds might come over them and thus give them one more shot. Avery, seeing the flock approach, began getting his gun into position. The weapon, a double-barrelled shotgun, was lying on the ground with, the muzzle pointing directly at him, and in this position he drew it up towards his body. It is presumes that the gun was already cocked, as hunters frequently carry their weapons in that way, so as to be prepared to shoot on the instant, and that the trigger caught a shrub or rock, or something else, which caused foot, would like those brethren who Olsen, who has become the happy the discharge of one of the barrels. are acquainted with the various de- bride of Mr. J. The feelings of the parents on seeing their son brought home dead, are better subjects for thought than description. John Avery was about 25 years of age, unmarried, and was a good faithful young man. He held the office of a deacon in the Church, was sober and industrious, and was very highly esteemed by all his acquaintances. He was engaged to be married in about three weeks to a daughter of Brother Jas. Lewis, of the 15th Ward. A coroner's inquest was to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The funeral will take place at the 15th Ward meeting house, to-morrow afternoon, at 1 o'clock.
