

STYLISH SPRING SUIT.

THE WEEK REVIEWED

The week, though not as brilliant in a social way as the last, has had a number of interesting events, the most notable one being the large gathering at the Bee Hive house on the three first evenings of the week to hear the reading of Bishop O. F. Whitney's epic poem. Following this in importance were the entertainments given by the Reviewer's club at the Ladies' Literary club house on Monday and Tuesday, for the benefit, respectively, of the free kindergarten, and the choir of St. Paul's church. Besides these have been a number of smaller events which have helped in the week's pleasant record.

CARDS AND KENSINGTONS

Mrs. Arthur Davies was hostess at a pretty card party on Tuesday afternoon, given in honor of Miss Hattie Jennings. The affair took place at the home of Mrs. Byron Groo, the hostess, mother, about 12 guests being present. The rooms were prettily decorated in red and white, the Japanese idea being carried out in all details. Prizes were won by Miss Jennings and Misses Jane and Frances Hoyat.

One of the prettiest card parties of the week was that given by Mrs. McGeath and Miss Lane on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. McGeath. The decorations were in yellow and white, daffodils and carnations being used.

ELEGANT SPRING SUIT.

Elegant costume of grey light weight cloth. Skirt plaited each side front. Deep box plait at back. Curved straps with numerous rows of stitching outline shape of deep bouffant. Double yoke effect heads the skirt. Coat is double breasted, with deep turn down collar, edged with stitched band, some for shaped bodice, and a modern sleeve plaited into bands under deep tabbed cuffs. Black lace hat, edged with chiffon folds, trimmed black feathers and ribbon velvet.

folids and marguerites being used about the rooms, and the scores and tallies having the same flowers in water colors. The prize winners were Mesdames Ferris, Gallagher, Gammel and Witcher.

On Monday night Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Niles entertained at cards, about 50 guests being present. The rooms were tastefully decorated and the scores and tallies were water color paintings.

Mrs. Klobb, Mrs. Woodruff and Miss Kimball were hostesses at a pleasant card party on Wednesday, and again on Thursday, about 60 guests being entertained.

Mrs. Henry Borman entertained delightfully at cards yesterday for her guest, Miss Weinberger of Denver.

Miss Marie Luce entertained the Cup and Saucer club at her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles W. Fifield was hostess at a delightful afternoon affair on Thursday, the entertainment being the game of hearts. The decorations were entirely in hearts, scores of them artistically arranged, making an effective adornment. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Cleaver, and the prize-winners were Mrs. Dinnahy and Mrs. H. E. Cary.

Mrs. N. C. Parsons entertained the Card club this afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Moyle was hostess at a charming function yesterday afternoon, the entertainment being 63. The Washington birthday idea was carried out in all details, the room being decorated with flags, cherries, and little hatchets—these last also figuring in the scores and tallies. About 15 guests were present, and a delightful time was spent by all.

SOCIAL CHAT

The entertainment given by the ladies of the Salt Lake Stake Primary association in the Twentieth ward annex on Thursday night was one of the successes of the season. No more delightful program has been given in the schoolhouse than that of Thursday night, and the enjoyment of its many notable features was so great as to induce a demand for its repetition, which will possibly take place some evening next week. Special praise was awarded the charming operetta, the dance given by the pupils of Prof. Loicelle, and the part taken by the Primary children, who delighted the audience with their performance. President Camilla Cobb of the Primary, cannot but feel well satisfied with the efforts of those who combined to give this notable evidence of their loving interest in her and the organization of which she is head.

One of the most charming of the season's luncheons was that given by Mrs. N. C. Parsons at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday. The springtime flowers and colors were chosen for the decorations, the center of the table having a large basket of daffodils with ferns, and outside these a circle of violets, while out-glass candlesticks at either end of the table had shades in daffodil hue, the effect being most brilliant. A pretty feature was the last course, consisting of a dainty confection of cream and chocolate served in dainty flower pots, and with a jingling platter as if springing from the brown earth. The guests who enjoyed the pleasant affair were: Mrs. E. O. Howard, Mrs. Belden, Mrs. Leishear and Miss Keogh, Mrs. La Motte, Mrs. Sturgis, Miss Mabel McCune, Mrs. Daggett, Mrs. Blythe, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Proulx, Mrs. Charles Read, Mrs. Fabian, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Webber.

Costume of medium light dull blue serge, the seams inverted and stitched over straps of the same. The plaits held with straps trimmed with white heavy lace. Short sleeves, collar, stock, and cuffs trimmed the same. Deep double cape. Shaped hand with lace. Hat of black fancy straw and lace, trimmed with black plumes.

The ball given by Battery A at the Armory on Monday night was a successful affair. The hall was artistically decorated with military emblems, and the red, white and blue, 60 American flags being used to draw the hall with hundreds of yards of hunting in the national colors. Ammunition chests covered with artillery blankets were used for seats, and snuffing guns, and crossed swords and rifles were everywhere in evidence in the decorations. About 500 people were present.

This evening the second-year French class of the Y. M. C. A. will give a French play at the main building of the university. The students who will take part are the Misses Sawyer, Ferguson, Snyder, Miller and Critchfield, and Eugene Young. The affair is a private one and invitations have been issued to a number of friends of the participants.

Miss Jean Odell entertained five of her young friends at luncheon at the Alta city today, and afterward took them to the performance of "Arizona" at the Theater, the party being chartered by Mrs. J. H. Richards. The table at the club was prettily decorated in pink and the following guests were present: Misses Kate Groo, Annette Ferguson, Edith Sadler, Vida Richards and Florence Grant.

Mrs. M. W. Pratt, counselor to the presidency of the Y. M. C. A. of Granite state, was the recipient of a pleasant surprise given by the local Y. M. C. A. officers of Forest Dale ward on Thursday evening, Feb. 12, at Mrs. Pratt's residence. About 30 officers and friends were present and enjoyed themselves in social reunion. During the evening Mrs. James Hendry, on behalf of the officers, presented Mrs. M. W. Pratt with a handsome bound volume of the "History of the Church." Mrs. Pratt responded in a happy vein. Delicious refreshments were served.

The normal students of the L. D. S. U. gave an unusually interesting program at their matinee yesterday afternoon. It commenced with the play, "The Spider's Convention," given by a number of the students in Barrett hall, and was followed by a dance in the gymnasium, the entire affair being most enjoyable.

A reception was given in honor of Mr. J. David Larson, who leaves for a mission to Scandinavia on the 27th of this month, at the home of Dr. S. L. Richards on Tuesday evening. Miss Alice Richards and Jennie Taylor acted as hostesses. The rooms were decorated with flowers and a musical program was one of the features of the evening, after which dainty refreshments were served. There were present about 40 guests.

An unique party was given at St. Paul's rectory on Tuesday night for the benefit of the organ fund. Each guest brought a penny for and used of his or her life, the sum being turned over to the fund. An interesting musical program was rendered by Miss Edna Duncan, Karl Scheid, Mrs. Fisher Harris, Miss O'Connor and Miss Thompson.

Judge and Mrs. C. C. Goodwin entertained at a delightful dinner at their home on Tuesday evening. The table decorations were in yellow, the idea being carried out in yellow tulips and yellow shaded lights. The guests were:

Miss Lindquist, received informally on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Lindquist will leave shortly for her home in South Dakota.

Capt. and Mrs. Sturgis entertained at dinner last night at the fort.

Judge and Mrs. O. W. Powers will give a dinner party at their home tonight.

The Fort Douglas dancing club gave its usual hop on Wednesday night.

The party given by the High School cadets at the Armory last night was a most enjoyable affair, a large number being present, and all having the best kind of time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones entertained at a Theater party on Monday night and afterward at a supper at the Commercial club.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Cary entertained informally at dinner on Tuesday night. The table was prettily decorated, and covers were laid for 16.

A pleasant party was given by the T. A. N. society in the museum hall at the University last night.

WEDDING BELLS

The wedding of Miss Hattie Jennings and Mr. Arthur Shepherd will take place on Thursday, March 5. Following the wedding the young people will leave for a trip to Boston.

One of the interesting events of the week was the wedding of Miss Julia K. Hays and Mr. Enos Hoge, which took place on Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hays. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses, carnations, palms and vines, with a profusion of violets in the dining room. The ceremony was performed by Father Kiely of the Catholic church, and afterwards an elaborate supper was served, the immediate friends and relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Hoge are at home at 940 Lincoln avenue.

The marriage of Miss Essie Robinson and Mr. Fred Thorpe took place last Monday at St. Paul's church. Rev. C. E. Perkins officiating.

The wedding of Miss Clara L. Snyder and Mr. Herman Eckner took place on Tuesday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Snyder, Rev. Mr. Zimmer of the German Lutheran church performing the ceremony. The rooms were prettily decorated, pink and green predominating. A sumptuous wedding supper was served, the guests being the relatives and near friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Eckner will be at home after March 1, at 215 east First South street.

Last night Miss Mabel D. Heagren of this city and Mr. Richard J. Rogers of Piquette were married, the wedding, which took place at the home of the bride, being a very pretty one.

OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

A very pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Corey, on Jefferson avenue, when their daughter, Miss Armeta Corey, was united in marriage to Mr. Claudiu J. Stober. The wedding party entered the beautiful parlors at 8:30 in the evening, the bride and groom taking their place under a beautiful floral arch. Mr. J. C. Corey performed the ceremony. The bridesmaids were Miss Daisy Andrews of Ogden and Miss Margaret Barr of Salt Lake City, and the maid of honor Miss Vera Entwistle of Ogden, all wearing beautiful white gowns. Mr. Frank R. Davis, uncle of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride was gowned in a pretty creation of white crepe de chine over white of brides' robes. After the ceremony the wedding guests who were present in large numbers sat down to a sumptuous wedding supper, served by colored waiters, and each guest received an exquisite little box of wedding cake. The home decorations were very artistically arranged of ribbons, cut flowers, evergreens, etc. The bride is a daughter of numerous friends. She was formerly a student in the Ogden public schools. The groom is a popular and highly esteemed young business man. The happy young couple have a host of friends who will wish them every happiness and prosperity. They will make their home in Ogden.

The Child Culture club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Heller, on Orchard avenue. A very interesting program was carried out.

Miss Elizabeth Reader returned home this week from a month's pleasant visit with relatives and friends.

Ray Boyce, son of A. McLaren, left Ogden Thursday evening on a mission to Germany. Monday evening a farewell party was given at the home of his parents on Adams avenue. There was a large circle of his young friends present, who spent a most enjoyable evening at music, playing games and other pleasures. Daily refreshments were served during the evening.

Mrs. Frank Dunning of Salt Lake was in Ogden this week visiting with friends.

Mrs. Cora Snyder went east to Chicago Wednesday, to be absent about a month.

One of the most pleasurable social dances of the season took place Wednesday evening, when the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen gave a masquerade ball at Conley's hall. There was a large attendance and everybody had an enjoyable time. Refreshments were served. The hall was artistically decorated for the occasion with banners, palms and flowers.

Mrs. S. H. Cave, wife of Deputy Sheriff Cave, was in Salt Lake several days this week assisting in organizing a ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen.

The concert given Thursday evening in honor of Miss Nannie Toot was a
