JAMES WILSON, SECRETARY AGRICULTURE.

Hon James Wilson, who has been a cabinet minuter longer than any other in the new administration, Seey, Wilson will in a short time complete the or just service of any cabinet minister in the entire history of the republic. He promised that he can achieve his ambition. Seey, Wilson entered on his present office away back in 1897, which is very ancient history indeed as capital service is figured out in Washington. He was born in Ayrabire, Scotland. Aug. 16, 1835, and came to this constry in 1852 and settled in Connecticut with his parents, who, however, traveled out to lows three years later. In 1801 Sory. Wilson was farming in laws, but he was soon sent to Congress for three terms and acquired a liking for public life. He taught in the Iowa agriculturat college from 1890 until 1897, when he entered the cabinet. Since then he has been a part of the national government.

Weather conditions throughout the state indicate that spring has come and all earlier than usual. The abundant snow in the mountains gives the farmers in the southern portion of the state, where irrigation is necessary, the assurance of alundant crops, ditch.

Mr. E. D. Hines and Mr. Alvord from Aberdeen were at the meeting in the interest of the Aberdeen potato growers' association, and talked to the people biterestingly upon this subject, which is of vital interest. Idaho grows as fine a potato as is grown in the world and today the markets are calling for idaho potatoes. The Aberdeen Potato Growers' association is an organization of three months age, and has at the present time cless to 100 members, who are farmers under this one canal system, and our community added 15 of this number to its roll last night. They have already bought and night. They have already bought and distributed two cars of one variety (Carmen No. 2), which will be planted and cared for by members of their association, and they are ordering more, The association has a president, view

Charles Nagel, the prominent St. Louis jawyer, has been selected by President Tart to guide the destinies of the important department of commerce and labor. While he has lived long in St. Louis and has for many years been identified with the growth of that city, he was born in Colorado county, Toxas, and therefore must be accounted a southern man in the national administration. Mr. Nagel is the son of a physican, Dr. Hermann Nagel, and is of German descent. He studied at the high school in St. Louis and finished there In 1868, and graduated from the St. Louis law school in 1872. He went to Herlin, and for a year took a special post-graduate course in law studies. Mr. Naget married Miss Anne Shopley in May, 1885. He was a member of the Missouri jugostature from 1881-83, and president of the St. Louis city council from 1892 until 1897. He is fond of art and is a man of broad culture
