Bruck, a prominent oil man of Boston, has been calling at the Com-morcial club, where he expressed him-self as deeply impressed with the varied possibilities of this section of the com-possibilities of this section of the coun-try. He also remarks that he never saw such good indications of oil as be-tween Salt Lake and the Rocky Moun-tains. He says that the Farmington oil well men may have to go down 3,000 feet, but they will surely find oil, and oil with a parafine base, which is worth more than the oils coming from Texas or Louisiana.

The funeral of Fred. L. Oswald was held yesterday afternoon from St. Mark's cathedral, Dean Eddie officiat-Mark's cathedral, Dean Eddle official-ing. There was a large attendatice of Masons, especially Knights Templar, and the pallbearers were George Y. Wallace, Maj. W. H. Bird, J. E. Ogles-by, R. F. Hayward, J. D. Wood, Claude S. Williams and Warren C. Bogue. Mr. Oswald came originally from Brooklyn. N. Y., and was a member of the Com-mercial club and other local organiza-tions. Several relatives were present at the services from St. Louis.

At yesterday afternoon's annual meeting of Local 104, American Federa-tion of Musicians, the following roster of officers was chosen for the year. President, Charles L. Berry; vice president, Walter E. Sims: secretary, A. S. Zimmerman; treasurer, L. Sharp: board of trustoes, F. H. Ford, C. S. Carring-ton, J. P. Olson, H. A. Mercer, P. C. Stevens. This is about an even division between the two factions into which the Local is divided; and it is expected now that harmony of the most duiced style of modulation, and the sweet dove of peace, will brood over the face of hitherto troubled waters. There seems to be prospects ahead of enough work to keep all hands busy this fall and

An old familiar figure and genial friend of many local people has been called home in the death of D. P. Tar-pey, formerly a well known resident of this city. He died in San Francisco yesterday, from Bright's disease, with which he has been troubled for some time. Mr. Tarpey was resident land agent in this city for the Southern Pa-cific road, and was also owner of the Tolice ranch in Boxelder county. He occupied one of the most picturesque and attractive residences in town, 723 Newcort, Exer the own owned and occupied one of the most preturesque and attractive residences in town, 723, Eleventh East street now owned and occupied by Col. John Wilhart, the Montana stockman. Mr. Tarpey was interested in mining, and was well known throughout Nevada. He leaves a wife, four sons and two daughters.

The Saturday organ recital was well enjoyed by a goodly sized audience, and the program was choice and appreciat-ed. The audience appeared to be in a elassical mood, as the reception accord-ed the "Overture to Lobengrin" indi-cated. The "Old Melody" number was "Ben Bolt" with improvisations, in seven sharps, which greatly pleased the category in the the saleriton not seven sharps, which greatly pleased the audience—that is, the selection, not necessarily the difficult key, though that would have been appreciated also, had the audience "caught on."
