

DEBATE IN RIKSDAG ON NORWAY'S ACTION

Both Houses Appoint Extraordinary Committees, to Which Was Referred Bill for Settlement.

VERY OPPOSITE VIEWS HELD.

Impression Left by Speeches is that Majority Think Peaceful Solution Very Improbable.

Stockholm, June 27.—Both houses of the riksdag today elected extraordinary committees to which was referred the government bill looking to a settlement with Norway.

The senate committee consists of nine anti-government and three pro-government members, and the house committee of five pro-government, five anti-government and two independent members.

The debate on the remission of the bill brought out fiery speeches in which the action of the Norwegian storting was condemned and the Swedish cabinet severely criticized.

The tenor of the speeches throughout the debate in both houses leaves the impression that the majority of the speakers were of the opinion that a peaceful solution of the difficulty was extremely improbable.

In the senate, C. A. Berg, who initiated the debate, said:

"We must not use force to sustain the union, which is valuable to us under existing conditions, but the riksdag does not recognize the illegal and revolutionary breach of the union and does not recognize Norway as a sovereign state. Sweden's representatives must consider Sweden's safety, and this can only be done through a cabinet having the full confidence of the riksdag."

After Hansson had said that the action of the Norwegian storting was revolutionary, and it had used such a storm of indignation in Sweden that all parties had rallied, the support of King Oscar, assuring him that Sweden would remain faithful even though Norway had proved false. Sweden, he said, had rejected the proposal of King Oscar, and they demanded different action from that taken by the cabinet.

"The people were disappointed at the cabinet's wavering proposals. The bill, he said, was much too moderate, and should have strenuously censured the storting. It was unworthy of Sweden to commence negotiations with revolutionaries, and parliament and the cabinet should propose conditions which Sweden would accept, telling Norway that, as she had broken away from the union, Sweden would be willing to separate, but that Norway must agree to Sweden's conditions. If Norway did not accept, then Sweden should enforce her conditions by war."

Pastor Willebrandt, speaking in the house, said he was willing to remit the bill in order to prevent further discussions in debate, but the union with Norway amounted to nothing. He said that in Norwegian schools in recent years children had been taught to hate Sweden, and continued:

"I am against war, but it may have to come as a last resort. Norway's action amounts to a revolution, and should be treated accordingly as a deadly insult to Sweden. The government's proposition opens up the probability of war. Its weakness lies in the fact that Norway, having broken the union, is liable to break treaties."

Baron Kennedy, speaking in the senate, said:

"If the king's message expresses his opinion he has lost two crowns instead of one."

This remark was greeted with great cheering by the anti-government members. Baron Kennedy said he repudiated the idea of a conference with the rebellious storting. Sweden must enforce her conditions and not be held back by the resources of the country in order to protect Sweden's honor-by-war, if necessary. The baron said that every man in Sweden was ready to give his life to protect the honor and glory of the country.

Judge Kronlund attacked the speech of Baron Kennedy, and said that the utterances were treasonable. He expressed his sorrow that a small nation like Norway had so little foresight, and urged the selection of a cabinet which would act promptly and resolutely in the interest of the whole Scandinavian peninsula.

Minister of Justice Berger in the house defended the cabinet, and said that Sweden did not wish to force Norway unwillingly into a union. Such action would mean a succession of rebellions which Sweden would have to suppress. It would be useless, he said, to submit the question to the Norwegian people, who more than ever were determined to break away from the union.

The premier declined to answer criticisms of the ministry, beyond saying that dynastical interests were not considered in the ministry's program at present.

HENRY W. COMSTOCK.

Held to Grand Jury on a Charge of Larceny.

Boston, June 27.—Henry W. Comstock, the mine operator who recently reported to the police that he had been robbed of securities valued at $100,000 from a Fall River boat, was held for the grand jury today on the charge of larceny of two $1,000 bonds. Bail was fixed at $5,000. Mr. Comstock declared that he would make no endeavor to secure his bonds, and he was committed to jail. Mrs. Cora Frothingham of Atlantic, Mass., is the complaining witness.

James E. Hickey, manager of the United States hotel, and James Martin Gray of New York, who have been appointed assignees of Comstock's property, today found $10,000 worth of stock of the Little Creek gold mine, the Beta Alta copper mine and the Pacton gold and copper mine, all situated in Colorado, and notes for $15,000, secured by collateral of the stocks.

The assignees have no definite knowledge of the amount of liabilities, but conjecture they will reach $500,000. The Beta Alta mine is the only one of the properties being operated, and it is said Comstock has it sold $100,000 in this mine during the past 18 months.

It appears that Comstock has been doing a brokerage business in standard stocks, but no securities other than his Colorado mines were found in his safe.

There are about 65 creditors in this state, and almost all of these are worried.

BURGLEY MCCOY DEAD.

He Was a Partner of the Notorious Jimmy Hope.

New York, June 27.—"Big Frank" McCoy, the famous old-time bank burglar and partner of the late "Jimmy" Hope of Manhattan bank fame, died at the Metropolitan hospital on Blackwell island today of a complication of diseases. McCoy for some years past lived a hand-to-mouth existence on the east side. He was taken to the hospital on June 18.

McCoy was implicated in some of the most sensational bank robberies in the country. At different times in his career he was possessed of considerable means, but his money went as fast as it came.

In the hospital he spoke of his past life and said he supposed he was getting what he deserved. "If I only had my life to live over again," he said, "I would not end up in this way."

McCoy is not known to have had any relatives.

VERY BAD PHASE OF UNIONISM.

Trades Council of Aberdeen, Wash. Refuses to Take Part in Fourth Of July Parade.

OBJECT TO THE MILITIA.

Say Members Go Out When Called And Obey Orders Even When They Cause Bloodshed.

Aberdeen, Wash., June 27.—A peculiar phase of unionism has manifested itself here in the refusal of the trades council, representing practically all the unions of the city, to take part in the parade on the Fourth of July, if the militia marches in line.

The reason assigned is that "when there is trouble between employer and employee the first action of the employer is to call out the militia, and on they come, and being sworn to obedience, bloodshed and wholesale murder result."

This decision on the part of the unions will be a very interesting feature from the trade union point of view, being very strong in this city.

BRAVE RY. FIREMAN.

Fatally Hurt While Rescuing a Child on Track.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 27.—In saving the life of a 2½-year-old child which had wandered on the railroad track near Powell, Neb., George Roach, a St. Joseph & Grand Island fireman, was fatally hurt. As the heavy freight train rounded a curve the child was discovered. A short distance ahead, Roach was applied, but too late. Roach climbed to the pilot and grasped the baby as the spot was reached, throwing it freely into the track. The fireman's foot slipped, was caught under the pilot and literally wrenched off. He will die.

Nogales, Ariz., June 27.—The stories sent out from this place regarding the attack by Yaqui Indians upon the Buenos Ayres ranch in Sonora, last Tuesday, in which over 20 Yaquis and several settlers and their families were said to have been slain, were the grossest exaggerations. The only foundation for the reports was a fight occurring at the ranch in which two Indians were killed and Luis Caranza was wounded. There was no attempt at a massacre and no troops were sent out, as was reported.
