THE FATES FAVOR DOCTOR PAYNE.

Notorious "Woman's Physician" Is Again Acquitted of the Charge of Murder.

VERDICT WAS "NOT GUILTY."

Judge Armstrong Ordered the Jury to Thus Find and it Did so Without Leaving the Box.

Again Dr. E. S. Payne has been acquitted of a charge of murder alleged to have been committed by performing a criminal operation upon a young woman, and he is again a free man, Upon motion of Judge Powers, one of defendant's attorneys, Judge Armstrong yesterday afternoon instructed the jury Thich heard the evidence in the case return a verdict of not guilty, and such action was taken without the jury retiring from the box.

AGAIN AT LIBERTY.

The defendant was at once discharg-

The defendant was at once discharged and, accompanied by his wife, went to the cierk's office and withdrew the $1,000 cash bail deposited to secure his spearance at the trial, after which the two left the building. Dr. Payne was charged with performing a criminal operation upon Miss Alice Ferguson, and causing her death.

The only witness examined yesterday afternoon was Dr. F. F. Reed. It was thought by Dist.-Atty. Loofbourow that the evidence of Dr. Reed would corroborate that of Mars. Ferguson, which was read yesterday morning, but the witness was unable to identify the woman and her daughter as the two women he saw coming down the stairs from Dr. Payne's office on the afternoon the operation was alleged to have been performed. At the conclusion of Dr. Reed's testimony it was announced by the district attorney that the state had no further evidence to present. He further stated that he was unable to produce other evidence to corroborate Mrs. Ferguson.

MOTION FOR "NOT GUILTY."

Judge Powers then moved the court to instruct the jury to return a ver-diet of not guilty. The motion was based on the ground that a person can-not be convicted upon the uncorrobor-stell returning of an accomplishing which ated testimony of an accomplice, which the evidence showed Mrs. Ferguson to the evidence showed Mrs. Ferguson to be. The court asked the district attorney if he desired to argue the motion, and the latter stated that he did not. The motion made by Judge Powers was then granted and the instruction given and the verdict rendered. The defendant was then formally discharged.

Elaborate Affair Being Arranged for Opening of Gymnasium Building.

Interest at the University is centered n the junior promenade which is scheduled for Friday evening next and which in addition to being the principal social event of the year, is the opening affair for

The class in charge of the affair is working hard to make it a marked success both on account of the class, and to have the gymnasium building opened in a proper manner. A novel-feature has been arranged for the orchestra, which it is plauned, to have seated on a platform suspended from the rafters, and decorated to resemble a ship under sail. Booths have been arranged for by each of the fraternities and by the class itself, at which guests will be received and made welcome. OF "MORMONISM."

Delivers Herself of a Tirade of Abuse at Meeting Held in New York.

REHASHES THE OLD STORY.

Advances New Gems of Thought Chiefly Concerning "Mormon" Women -What She Said.

Special Correspondence.

New York, Jan. 30 .- In my letter of this week I had purposed writing of various interesting phases of my travels. These, however, have been crowded out of my mind, through having attended a lecture given by Mrs. Martha C. Weed at the Bedford Heights Presbyterian church in Brooklyn, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. As usual, these ladies, through the medium of Mrs. Weed, made a vigorous attack upon Senator Reed Smoot in particular and the "Mormon" Church in general.

MRS. WEED'S *ATTACK.

Mrs. Weed made no claim against Reed Smoot beyond saying he was a 'Mormon." She began her attack as follows:

"We have in the capital of our nation a representative of the "Mormon" Church. He holds an honored seat, a position second only in influence to that of the president of the United States. This has a significance. It means that

This has a significance. It means that the organization of the Latter-day Saints is powerful, that there are some men who love money better than they do their country; that there are purchased consciences."

In thinking of the integrity of Utah's senator and also of the corrupt methods rife within our country, where bribe-taking, election frauds, fad and fancy frauds, insurance frauds, and various other kinds of frauds do not prevent men from holding high political position, and meting out justice from position, and meting out justice from the bench, I could scarcely refrain from shouting, "by all means question the religion and the morals of America's senators, that we may always have men for law makers who are not law breakers."

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

Mrs. Weeds entire evening was devoted to the stories of the "Mormons" 40 years ago and all of the authentic quotations from church publications were excerpts from discourses and prayers given in public. Any think-ing person understands that extempor-aneous speakers often say things best left unsaid. The creeds of all the churches in Christendom, judged by this standard, could be attacked. Moreover, one paragraph from any speech or work can be made to mean anything— "the devil can quote scripture, etc." In proof that Brigham Young ruled his people with an iron rod,

Mrs. Weed told the wonderful
"green gate story," and also brought out two new schemes of villifying the Mormons, viz.: Child wives and a singular method of punishing delinquents.

In addition to the oft-told tales about the "Mormons," Mrs. Weed sprang some new ones. To quote:

SOMETHING NEW.

"Latter-day Saints must obey every command of the priests. If disobedient either a physical death or a damning of the soul will be the punishment." I knew they were called serfs and slaves but I did not know that they could choose their own medicine—killed and be saved or live and be damned. It seems, now, since I heard Mrs. Weed, they are betwen the devil and the deep sea.

And the "suckers" believed her.

Another innovation stolen from the Far East:

The mortality among child mothers "The mortality among child mothers is evinced by the cemeterles of Utah." This horrible jest needs no comment among your readers who could instruct Mrs. Weed before she lectures again upon the broad educational and political rights of Utah's women. Sad if it were not so silly, was her statement that a young wife (of course a polygamous one) had no secrecy and shared one room with many others.

one room with many others, Here's another flower plucked from a garden of Weed's: "American women can think as well as cook."

O! ladies of Mormondom your cook ing was not impeached but your thinking capacity, O my Something always happens when people are in earnest, Mrs. Weed in-formed us, and I dread to think what might come to you, should she open a school in Utah for the development of deprayed womanhood.

ANOTHER GEM.

It is said that all speakers and writers express some good thoughts. Mrs. Weed proved this rule. She said:

"As soon as legislators realize the wants of the people there will be laws regarding polygamy. In church we weep over the barems of the far east, but I would ask you to assist in securing legislation to abolish the harems in our own country." Of course she meant New York or perhaps Chicago or even Washington, D. C.

There was the usual hue and cry of There was the usual nue and cry of divine authority being dearer to the "Mormons" than governmental law, ending up with an appeal for the Saints of the east to crush the Saints of the west and escheat their property for the glory of God.

I was surprised that the lady was not consistent. She should have said "government" in place of "God."

At the conclusion of a report of Mrs. Weed's lecture given in the Brook-

At the conclusion of a report of Mrs. Weed's lecture given in the Brooklyn Citizen, it said:

"In the large audience were six persons who held a little aftermeeting in front of the church.

"They held up the male members of the congregation and tried to impress upon them that Mormonism was all right."

Your humble servant was that six and the reporter was the male mem-bers. The funny part of it was, I told him the truth. JOHN P. MEAKIN.

PROFESSIONAL BILL POSTER MAKES VIGOROUS OBJECTION

That the agitation in favor of doing way with bill boards in Salt Lake outside of the business district, has another side to it, like most questions of the kind is pointed out in a letter to the "News" by Robert L. He declares that the business has grown up along side of magazines and newspapers, and is an important and indispensible way of bring goods to public notice. His communication is as fol-

The "Salt Lake Womens Club" aided by the "Manufacturers & Merchant Club" intend to make an attack upon the "bilboard evil" as Mr. Hewlett terms it. Now let us be reasonable, terms it. Now let us be reasonable, and just and not get carried away by mere sentimental and misplaced enthusiasm. Out door advertising existed long before the advent of the "town crier" and that was prior to the introduction of the art of printing. The bill posting and painted bullskins have grown and developed side by side with the newspapers and magazines until today it is an established and permanent institution of the world. The printers, lithographers, engravers, artists, painters, machinists, carpenters and laborers that are dependent upon this business not counting the bill posters) are among the millions. The value of this method of advertising is shown by the newspapers themselves; travel through the big cities of our country or throughout Europe, and you will see the big dailies and weeklies and the magazines booming their circulations.
