

was winking at it. These things were incriminating the marshal of Salt Lake City. They ought to make him feel they were ashamed of him.

Mr. Wanless said that on the night of the election, when a temperance meeting was held in this very building, they were in better condition than they were tonight. Since then the men they had elected had been false to every pledge they had made. Every promise they made had been shamefully violated, and it will forever brand the "Liberal" party with everlasting shame and contempt.

Mr. Wanless continued in this strain for a considerable length of time, saying that further delay was dangerous and that this meeting had been called to protest against the continuation of such infamous and glaring outrages. The law must be vigorously enforced at all hazards. He moved the adoption of the resolutions. The motion was carried. The resolutions were finally adopted after which the meeting adjourned.

SEVERE WINTER.

ALGIERS, Jan. 17.—Unless a miracle happens or the weather changes radically within a very short time, the inhabitants of Sebron, a small town in Tlemcen district of the Province of Oran, will starve to death. About a week ago information came that the inhabitants of Sebron were snowed up beyond escape and slowly starving to death, horses, mules and cattle were being killed for food. A quantity of provisions, under escort of a detachment of troops from the garrison of Tlemcen, started to their relief. Unhappily, the convoy, a day or so later, was snowed up in Talterney pass, and it was some time before the authorities at Tlemcen became aware of the danger to which the convoy was exposed.

An additional force of troops was sent out, and on January 16 it was announced that the convoy had been extricated from its perilous position.

Today, however, word was received here that the attempt to provision Sebron had failed. The district is hopelessly snowed up and the troops are continuing their efforts to open up a line of communication. Grave apprehensions are felt as to the eventual fate of the inhabitants of the snowed-up town.

The French-African troops, accustomed to the burning heat of the African summer and utterly unaccustomed to such severely cold winters as the one they are now experiencing, are themselves suffering terribly from the cold.

MADRID, Jan. 17.—A violent storm prevails and the weather throughout is extremely cold. In Malaga district the jackals are playing sad havoc with the flocks, and appearing in such numbers that they are terrifying the peasants.

NAPLES, Jan. 17.—A snowstorm which commenced yesterday lasted all night. The storm was unprecedented. Traffic in the street has entirely ceased.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Heavy snowstorms are reported from Bordeaux and Perigieux, and traffic of all kinds in those cities and surrounding regions is at a standstill. In the Department of Dordogne all the rivers are frozen over, and the wolves are ravaging the sheep pens,

The village of Pontapilare and farms about it are completely isolated. Several deaths by freezing are reported from the Department of Cher.

Signs of Progress.

The Eighteenth Ward Chapel is now fitted up with connections and fixtures for the lighting of the building with electricity. There are twenty-one incandescent lamps, each of sixteen candle power, and one at the entrance of thirty-two candle power. The current was turned on January 17th in order to test the apparatus, and the lighting will be used at the meeting of the Saints of the ward Sunday evening, January 18. This is the first instance of the lighting of any house of public worship in Salt Lake City by means of electricity.

The heating of the building has also been improved. The mammoth fire-on-the-hearthstove, heretofore used, has been discarded, and is supplanted by a large, handsome Howe ventilator, which was tested Jan. 17 and answers the purpose admirably.

A Sample of "Tribune" Special.

The following appeared in the Tribune January 13th as a special to that paper, with the exception of the introduction of a few additional phrases. Otherwise there is practically no difference. It was received at this office Jan. 13 as a regular Associated Press dispatch.

DENVER, Jan. 13.—A row was started in the lower House of the general assembly, Friday night, between the factions of the Republicans, to see who should have control of the House, and was renewed again at last night's session. Fears were entertained of serious trouble and before the House was called to order some half dozen Sergeants-at-arms were sworn in. These were stationed all over the House to promptly suppress any demonstrations that might be made. After the House had been called to order, Voorhees (democrat) got the floor and charged that bribery had been attempted. This caused a heated debate and resulted in the appointment of a committee to investigate. After considerable filibustering the House adjourned.

She was baptized by President Brigham Young, and married by him to Jonathan Hampton, at Kirtland, Ohio. Three of her children were born in Ohio. She emigrated to Missouri, where she passed through the privations encountered by the Saints in that State. From there she went to Illinois and witnessed all the trials previous to the exodus.

In 1844 her husband, Jonathan Hampton, died and was buried at Nauvoo. In 1846 she went to Jacksonville, Ill., where her father, James Foster, lived. She remained there until 1855 when she crossed the plains. The past ten years she made her home with her son Brigham Hampton in this city. She departed this life at the venerable age of 79 years, beloved and respected by all who knew her. She died a faithful member of the Church, of which she had so long been a worthy communicant.
