Coburn Refuses to Fight!

Terrible Accident on the Erie Railroad!

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Premature publication of the Washington treaty.

WASHINGTON, 12.—The committee on foreign relations held an adjourned meeting at two o'clock to-day, continuing till 12 m. Assistant Secretary Davis was before the committee to finish his explanation of the treaty.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock. Immediately after assembling and reading the journal of Wednesday, it went into executive session.

Attention was called in the Senate to the premature publication of the treaty, and there was a spirited debate on that subject. An investigation has been ordered. Cameron stated that the committee on foreign relations will not be ready to report the treaty until Monday next, at 11 o'clock, to which hour the Senate adjourned.

The committee to investigate the premature publication of the treaty, consists of Carpenter, Conkling, Trumbull, Davis and Sumner. Much indignation was expressed by some of the Senators at what they considered a violation of the privilege of the Senate.

The officers of the Senate this morning confidentially distributed among the hitherto unsupplied members of that body, officially printed copies of the treaty.

NEW YORK.

Treaty of Washington criticised—Railroad accident—The prize fight.

NEW YORK, 12.—The Tribune's Washington special dispatch says that there are very few who criticise the treaty of Washington, as a whole, but the following are some of the points which will arise in the debate. They will relate principally to the article which provides for the settlement of the claims of British subjects. Considerable surprise is expressed by Sumner and one or two others that the American Commissioners did not insist that the government of Britain should submit a schedule of claims of her subjects so that it might be definitely known of what kind they are, and what their amount, and that those will not include any of those to which the American public will object. Granville's letters to Lord Lyons, about the claims of British subjects in France, have been cited to show that there is no occasion to fear that they will be large, but the reply to that assurance is that we are not sure that England will abide by these precedents, and that it would have been much more satisfactory to have had these points definitely settled in the treaty itself. To show that these claims may be very considerable in amount, it is said that one million five hundred dollars are involved in the case of Peter Hoffman, who was captured in Rio Del Norte, and confined.

ROCHESTER, 12.—There was a collision on the Erie R. R., between Attica and Alden this morning, by which six persons were killed and thirty or more injured. An emigrant train bound west broke, when the train was brought to a stop. A freight train following, ran into the rear of the emigrant train. No further particulars have been received.

PENNSYLVANIA.

ERIE.—The mill, yesterday, between Mace and Coburn, was interrupted in the first round, by the militia, and was therefore undecided. The ring was pitched at Hay Creek, about two and a half miles from Port Dover, Canada. The principals left Erie about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mace on the propeller Cassona and Coburn on the New York. They arrived off Hay Creek about 7 o'clock, three hours before the excursionists had landed, for the beach was a shoal, and there were but four yauls with which to land two thousand people. About an hour was then consumed in pitching the ring and selecting a referee. Barney Aaron was master of ceremonies. At six minutes past eleven o'clock Coburn shied his castor into the ring. He was received with hearty applause. Five minutes later Mace threw his white hat over the ropes and immediately entered the arena. His appearance was the signal for cheers by his adherents. Mace's seconds were Jim Cusik and Jerry Donovan, and Coburn's, Billy Dwyer and Tony Googhan. Alderman McMullen, of Philadelphia was chosen for referee, but just before the commencement of the fight he appeared in the ring and declined serving. Dick Hollywood, of Indianapolis, was then chosen for that position. Money was offered on Mace, even, but was not taken. Mace won the choice and took the west corner. At precisely twelve o'clock the parties faced each other, over the scratch, and went through the customary formal hand-shake. Both appeared in fine condition, Mace being a trifle the fleshiest of the two, but in weight there was probably not the difference of five pounds either way. Both looked confident. The men approached each other cautiously and neither seemed disposed to hazard the first blow. Coburn gradually yielded to Mace's aggressive movements and retired to his corner. Mace did not follow the challenger closely, but returned and stood by the scratch. Shortly, the jeering of the crowd brought Joe from his corner, and the men faced each other again. Joe then backed to his corner a second time as before, without a blow, and Mace returned to the scratch. These tactics were repeated nine times, until an hour and twelve minutes had elapsed and without a single blow being passed by either party. It was evidently Coburn's dodge to entice his antagonist over to his corner, where a mob had collected in great force, but the Englishman refused to follow him more than three feet beyond the scratch. At twelve minutes past one o'clock, before the round ended, the Canadian authorities, represented by Judge Wilson and Edward Deeds, sheriff of Norfolk Co., rushed into the ring, read the riot act and ordered the assemblage to disperse or be fired upon by the militia. The militia, numbering about sixty men, under the command of Col. Tevisdale, were drawn up in line about twenty rods away, armed with loaded rifles, and the mob began to disperse at once. No arrests were made. While Judge Wilson was ordering the mob to disperse, some clever thief relieved him of his watch. The referee reserved his decision until to-day, and the whole party adjourned to the boats. It was quite late in the evening before the whole party had reassembled and the boats bearing Mace and Coburn did not arrive in this city till a late hour this morning. The referee has decided that the men must fight it out within two weeks, and it is stated that some point near New Orleans is decided on for the place of meeting. The sympathy of the crowd is decidedly with Mace, and bets are freely offered that Coburn never dare meet him in the ring, but they are not taken.

Later.—The referee has decided that the fight shall come off three weeks from to-day, at Kansas City, Mo.

ILLINOIS.

Refuses to fight.

CHICAGO, 12.—A private dispatch from Erie, says Coburn refuses to go to Missouri to fight.

CALIFORNIA.

State Democratic convention—Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—In the case of the people vs. MacClellian and Woodward, publishers of the Alta, indicted for alleged libel on the county treasurer Klopperstein, in the municipal court to-day, the matter was submitted by the defense without introducing testimony. Judge Lake ruled that the press has the right to fully criticize the acts of public officers, and if no malice was shown, and if the defendants misunderstood the law as to the complainants' duties, and proceeded to argue from an incorrect stand-point in consequence, they were not liable under the law. The jury under the instructions rendered a verdict of "Not Guilty" without leaving their seats.

Patrick McClusky was arrested for wife-beating, and on being placed in a cell beat a fellow prisoner outrageously. He was fined $200 by Judge Sawyer for the last offence.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—The Democratic State central committee have decided to hold a State convention on June 20th, at Sacramento. The test adopted for the preliminaries is, all who are opposed to the radical measures of Congress, and who pledge themselves to vote for all the nominees of the Democratic party at the next election. The manner of selecting the delegates to the convention is left to the different county committees, but where primary elections are not held, it is made the duty of each representative of a ward, or precinct in a county, to select and name the delegate of his ward. The rates of representation is fixed at one delegate for each county, and one for every two hundred votes cast for Seymour and Blair at the last Presidential election. This will give San Francisco sixty-nine delegates, and make the entire number of delegates 319.

A. W. Pitts, who arrived here from New York in August, 1849, on the bark Staffordshire, and was subsequently a partner of the firm of Pitts, Grisalm & Kloparstein, died here last evening, aged 53.

The schooner Harriet K. sprung a leak off Point Pinas, and was in a sinking condition when she signalled the steamer Autocoma, which took her in tow and ran into Santa Barbara, where she was beached.

Nothing has been heard from the steamer Pacific, now long overdue from Victoria.

National battalions thinning—Sir J. Herschel dead.

LONDON, 12.—The Times' correspondent says Brumel is appointed commandant of Vanvres.

The Daily News' correspondent says the national battalions are thinning. The resignation of Rousel causes discouragement. Delescluse is unable to do much, in consequence of ill health. In a speech Delescluse says he is confident of the future freedom of France and the success of the Commune.

The Telegraph says the insurgents are unable to repair the damages done by the Versaillists.

The mayor of Issy has been arrested.

Floquet was arrested while going to Bordeaux.

The Emperor William is slightly indisposed.

Sir John Herschel is dead.

FRANCE.

Re-taking of Vanvres.

PARIS, 12.—The Communists claim victories and deny that the Versaillists won a victory. Fort Vanvres was retaken at the point of the bayonet. There has been a desperate engagement around Issy, and the Communists claim to have re-captured the Park. The Versaillists are cutting trenches to Porte Maillot. The troops are concentrating in the Bois de Boulogne. There was a sharp fusillade at Bicetre to-day. Schoelcher is arrested.
