At the Y. M. C. A. meeting at 4 p. m. A special New Year's message from Vice President-elect Theodore Roose-velt, who is a strong supporter of the association, will be read to the young men by Hon. Frank B. Stephens. The message covers four type-written pages over the autograph of the Vice President. With mafl for two days more to ar-rive, before the twentleth century, the circulation of the Semi-Weekly News has reached 19.975. The way agents of has reached 19.4%. The way agents of the "News" everywhere are working to roll up as big a total as possible by the New Year is somathing wonderful to contemplate. Two employes are now kept busy doing nothing else but re-cording names of new subscribers and setting up the names in type setting up the names in type.

There is something noble in in. dependence. If the parent stints him-self to buy a text book he will see that is child uses it. In conclusion, Mr. Barlow-From the Land of the Sham-Ashton made a pica for the old reader, which he said was the magic wand that has transformed the log cabin into the white house, and turned farm boys into statesmen.

A SCIENTIFIC TREATISE.

A paper on "The Relation of Psychology to Pedagogy" was then read by Prof. W. G. Roylance of the University of Utah. The paper was a very thoughtul and scholarly presentation of the subject and was exceedingly interesting to those who understood it. It was a philosophical treatise of the subject in pector Ulmer this week as follows: McGurrin & Co., Sixth South between every sense of the word, and was thor-oughly scientific. He said that pyschology was a mixture of mythology theology, and physiology. He de-scribed the many definitions of psychol-ogy, each at variance with the other, with and Flfth East; brick cottage, Mrs. Jane Meeks, Sixth South, between Seventh and Eighth East; brick cottage, $1,000. Pedagogy is in that ague state that characterizes the be-sinning of all things. He concluded by stating that the relation between and Eighth East; four brick cottages, Frederick Langton, corner Third North psychology and pedagogy will be vital when there is a scientific psychology, one with less metaphysics, less vague ness, and more definite results. The discussion of the paper was car-ried on by Prest, J. H. Paul and Prest. George H. Brimhall, Prest. "I was not sober." concluded the witness, "but I remember every detail as stated. Hopkins was visibly agitated and expressed great sorrow over the deplora-ble affair. Robert Wells was next called and his testimony corroborated that of Hopkins on all the important points. He said that he was at the bar when Garland Gred the fatal shot. In answer to Mr Gunter, Wells stated that at no time were any of the boys behind the bar, and that Garland was behind the bar when he shot. None of the boys were armed, said the witness. Williams was carried up stairs and the next day he was removed to the Keogh-Hosmer hospital.

DOCTOR ANDERSON TESTIFIES.

County Physician H. A. Anderson testified that he held an autopsy on the body of the deceased yesterday, and was able to state what caused the death of Norton Williams. "What caused his death?"

Pressure on the brain from hemorr-hage and oedemia on the left side of the brain, the sequel to a bullet wound in front of the head.

"There were no other marks of vio-lence," said Doctor Anderson. "The wound was an oblong one, half an inch to the left of the medium line and onequarter of an inch above the margin of the left orbit extending up an inch and a half."

WHAT OTHER WITNESSES SAW. Other witnesses were Frank H. Strickley, T. W. Wildar, George T. Thompson and Michael Fitzgerald. Strickley said that right after the shooting, Mrs. Garland rushed into the saloon and said to Garland: "My God I knew you would do this. Why did you do it?"

Garland replied, pointing to Hopkins, "There is the s- of a b- I meant to get and I am sorry I didn't get him." The other witnesses said that Hopkins struck Garland, and that Garland was sober

The jury was only a few minutes in reaching a verdict which is as follows in part: "That the said deceased came to his death through a bullet wound fired from the pistol in the hand of one Clarence Garland." ----
