

THE VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON RETURNS

Believed Result of its Cruise Will Be Put a Check on Contraband Trade

BY AMERICANS AND ENGLISH

Officials of the Fleet Are Indignant At the Criticism of its Course.

Vladivostok, Aug. 3.—The reception of the Russian fleet, Gromobol and Burik on their return from their latest expedition was enthusiastic. Rear Admiral Josen was in signal communication with Vice Admiral Skrydloff for ten hours before the squadron reached port.

As a result of the cruise, naval officers believe, a check will be given to British and American shipowners carrying contraband of war or at least additional burdens will be imposed on Japan by the increase in freight rates. Officials of the squadron are indignant over the criticism of the British and American newspapers "over the lawlessness of the cruisers," asserting that the complete detailing of the cruise will show that Admiral Josen displayed the greatest humanity and acted within his rights and instructions.

The crew of the Japanese vessel Okazaki was set on shore before the ship was sunk by the Russian and the crews of two schooners which were far from shore were taken on board the Russian vessels.

The steamer Camara, belonging to the Cullion company of London, when stopped was bound for Muroan for coal. The officers say that she had evidently brought contraband from Japan to Yokohama. They allege she was on the way to Muroan with the intention of loading coal for delivery at Japanese ports or to the Japanese fleet. She is pointed out that the British steamer Alanton, on the previous cruise of the squadron, was seized after leaving Muroan.

Although the Camara could have been seized, she had not enough coal to get her to Vladivostok, and was given the benefit of the doubt and released. The Kibunji, a Japanese vessel, although subject to confiscation was released because there were women on board.

The British ship Knight Commander when signaled to stop declined to do so, even after three shots had been fired across her bows, and the officers say that her evident intention was to make an effort to escape, which in itself rendered her liable under Russian naval rules to a shot. The Knight Commander stopped, however, at the fourth shot, and was found to contain between 2,000 and 4,000 tons of railway material from New York for Korea and Yokohama.

The captain's documents were not in order and the captain said his instructions had been sent in advance by mail. Both ship and cargo, the Russians believed were undoubtedly subject to confiscation. The Knight Commander had not enough coal to go to Vladivostok, Admiral Josen was confronted with the alternative of releasing her and allowing the cargo, as is believed, to reach the Japanese or of destroying her. As it was plainly, in the opinion of Admiral Josen, one of the extraordinary cases coming under Russian regulations, the admiral assumed the responsibility of sinking the ship, although she was flying a neutral flag.

A high Russian officer said to the Associated Press correspondent: "The destruction of the British newspapers in this case are perhaps pardonable, but the protest of the British government, even before it was possible to know any of the circumstances surrounding the action of Rear Admiral Josen, is certainly strange. The captain of the Knight Commander does not deny that his cargo was contraband of war."

All the passengers and crew of the Knight Commander, together with the ship's papers, were taken off.

In the case of the German steamer "Thos. Admiral Josen had no doubt that her cargo, which consisted of fish, was distinctly contraband of war. Her crew was taken off at night during a heavy sea and she was sent to the bottom.

After passing Tsushima straits, home-ward bound, the squadron saw three coast guardships and seven torpedo boats, which while keeping out of range, tried to draw the Russian ships into the mine fields and under the guns of the Japanese batteries, but Admiral Josen declined to be caught in this trap.

The cruisers brought 23 Europeans,

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 4.—The Democratic convention adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this morning after nominating a set of Parker and Davis electors. Half the state ticket was chosen by the Populists.

The Populists adjourned at 1 o'clock having nominated Watson and Tibbels electors and half the fusion state ticket.

Both conventions agreed on the same platform, which confined largely to state issues, mentioning the railroad rate question. The convention left blank one place for railroad commissioner which means that the allied forces will support J. W. Robinson, the Republican nominee.

The Democrats nominated the following portion of the ticket: Governor—David M. Dale, Wichita. Superintendent of Schools—M. Howard, Leavenworth. Treasurer—Thomas M. Dolan, Clifton. Secretary of State—John H. Curran, Topeka.

Railroad Commissioner—William M. Ferguson, Wellington. The Populists chose the following: Supreme Judge, long term, Judge W. S. Glass, McPherson.

Justice of the Supreme Court—John T. Little of Olathe. Lieutenant Governor—M. R. Householder, Cherokee. Auditor—W. H. McDonald, Crawford. Attorney General—W. O. Wells, Miami.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 3.—The state Democratic convention adjourned tonight after nominating the following ticket:

Governor—S. W. T. Lanham. Lieutenant Governor—George D. Neal. Attorney General—D. V. Davidson. Comptroller—John W. Stevens.

Treasurer—John W. Dohbins. Land Commissioner—J. J. Terrell. Superintendent of public instruction—R. B. Cousins.

Railroad commissioner—Allison Mayfield. Justice of the supreme court—T. J. Brown.

The platform committee was headed by John H. Regan. The plank against socialism, which has been a burning issue in Texas, is adopted, but the next legislature is called upon to enact a statute forbidding it.

A plank calls for a law limiting free transportation to railroad owners, officers and employees.

Senator Culberson formally accepted the nomination for United States senator.

Former Governor Hogg's speech lauding Roosevelt was the principal topic of the day. It gave an opportunity for former Congressman Ball to answer, and his answer did much to elect Frank Anderson chairman of the executive committee, which furnished the real content of the convention.

POPULISTS MEET.

Want to Amalgamate With Disaffected Democrats.

New York, Aug. 3.—Populists from a number of states met at the St. Dennis hotel tonight and conferred with Democrats who are opposed to Judge Parker. The meeting was called by James H. Ferriss of Illinois, chairman of the Populist party. The object of the meeting was to confer with men who have sided with the Democratic party but who are not inclined to support the ticket during this campaign. It is also to arrange for the notification ceremonies of the Populist nominees.

Members of the Populist party met at the hotel and decided to take place in Copper Union, New York city, about Aug. 18.

Reports were made from different states concerning the efforts making to co-operate with dissatisfied Democrats, and it was said that in a number of regions Democrats were willing to support Watson electors, but desired to vote their own state ticket. Durbin Van Vleck of New York, who is president of the National Democracy, expressed his position thus:

"We, as Democrats, feel without a home since the 'Wall Street' contingent nominated Parker, and we call to the meeting to meet some fellow Democrats who look upon his nomination somewhat as we do. We have not as yet decided what we will do in this campaign."

After the meeting adjourned a number of those who participated called on Mr. Watson at the Hoffman House. Mr. Watson will deliver a speech at Lincoln, Neb., on Aug. 10.

POLICE USED THEIR CLUBS.

A Good Sized Riot Was Started By Strikers at the Stock Yards.

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN ARRESTED.

Trouble Started When Strike Breakers Were Leaving and Tried to Board Street Cars.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—In a riot which broke out at the yards tonight two policemen were injured and 28 rioters were arrested after being beaten into submission. The riot started when five strike breakers from one of the machine shops in one of the packing plants were leaving the yards and tried to board a street car to go to their homes.

Despite the signals of the strike breakers the motormen on 12 cars refused to stop and a crowd, seeing a good opportunity to get revenge on the non-union men, began to throw stones at them. Two policemen who were guarding the entrance went to the assistance of the non-union men, but the rioters by this time had grown in numbers so rapidly that fully a thousand angry men were trying to get at the strike breakers.

Retreating into the machine shop the policemen sent in a riot call for reinforcements. When the additional policemen arrived a charge was made on the rioters. The crowd was assaulted with bricks and stones and when the policemen started forward every man who could find room fought with a brick. Two bricks went true to the mark and two policemen dropped with wounds on the head. They were carried by their companions to the machine shop.

Seeing the condition of their companions the other eighteen policemen made a charge on the crowd. This time the onslaught was in earnest, eighteen clubs being swung from right to left with all the muscular force the men could render and fully 50 rioters were beaten to the pavement in this manner before they showed any signs of scattering. As soon as the policemen saw that they had the mob on the run they turned their attention to those who were lying on the ground and arrested 28 men.

WESTERN STOCKMEN.

Discuss Bill to Repeal Timber and Desert Land Act.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 2.—The conference between western stockmen and the federal land committee was called to order at headquarters of the National Livestock association at 10 o'clock this morning by President F. J. Pinchot, chief forester of the government. Mr. F. H. Newell, in charge of the reclamation service, and 100 delegates, representing every western territory, were present. Secy. James Wilson of the department of agriculture was delayed en route and did not reach here until tonight. Several delegates from Arizona and southern California were delayed in Arizona by washouts, but will arrive tomorrow.

The discussion today was on the bill introduced in the last Congress for the repeal of the act, especially as far as applicable to the western country, should be enlarged rather than restricted.

The discussion on the forest reserve problem brought out the fact that western stockmen are not opposed to the preservation of forests. Their grievance is that grazing and agricultural lands are often included in reserves from which stock are excluded. They also ask that the rules governing these reserves be modified so that sheep may graze upon them as well as cattle. The discussion had not concluded on adjournment tonight and will be continued tomorrow morning.

A committee on resolutions, to consist of one member from each state and territory, will be appointed in the morning.

President Hagenbarth did not care to express an opinion on the statement of Mr. H. D. McCall of Chicago to the effect that the present butchers' strike had broken the "meat trust" further than to say that it was a very important matter, so far as the stockmen are concerned, if true.

A NEGLECTED SHRINE.

Endower Carnegie, since war is a plague, and his fortune is hard to decrease. Has shipped off a billion or so to The Hague For a beautiful Temple of Peace.

The Jap and the Russian, engaged in the sin Of causing each other decrease, I wonder are they taking interest in Mr. Carnegie's Temple of Peace?

And the Turk, as he stabs the Armenian lamb And dangles the blood-stained fleece, Will he stop in his labors to give a salam To the Carnegie Temple of Peace?

And the French and the Germans with cutlasses drawn, The Haytian coast to police, Are they looking toward the millennium's dawn In the Carnegie Temple of Peace?

And the English who fight with the Japs from Jang, And slaughter the lambs with ease, Do they lay down their rifles and lift up a song For the Carnegie Temple of Peace?

And we, when we recently saved from the Moor the Moslem from Greece, Did we carry the torch to Ralsall's door Through Carnegie's Temple of Peace?

While the war dogs are yapping and keen for the hunt (Though their primitive tastes we abhor), Wouldn't Mr. Carnegie do more of a stunt If he'd buy us a Temple of War?

MUNYON'S WITNESSES TESTIFY.

SAVANTS AND SCIENTISTS ENDORSE MUNYON'S

Paw Paw.

PROF. ARCADIVS AVELLANVS, DR. LITT, Dr. Ph., A DISTINGUISHED SAVANT, COMMENDS MUNYON'S PAW PAW.

PROF. ROSS L. WALLACE, A M. AND A. C., AN EASTERN CHEMIST, GIVES HIS OPINION OF PAW PAW.

WHAT A LEADING LIGHT IN CATHOLIC CIRCLES SAYS.

ARCADIVS AVELLANVS, DR. LITT, Dr. Ph., one of the most distinguished and widely known savants and scholars in the world. His attainments are familiar to the greatest educators both in foreign lands and in America, and in the most exclusive educational circles he commands the highest respect and admiration. In a recent letter to Prof. Munyon he says: "I used to wonder when in the land of Paw Paw why some clever physician or chemist had not brought that wonderful fruit before suffering humanity as a powerful digestant, stomach and nerve tonic, as I know from actual use that it had rare virtue in that direction. Seeing that Prof. Munyon, with characteristic energy and enterprise, has worked the thing out, I tried his Paw Paw and find it all that is represented to be. Its effects upon digestion, its control of the nerves and purification of the blood is something wonderful. I congratulate Prof. Munyon sincerely on this, which considers his crowning achievement in the realm of curative remedies."

WHAT A DISTINGUISHED CHEMIST SAYS.

Ross L. Wallace, A. M. and A. C., is one of the most distinguished and widely known chemists in the east. His home is in Haddonfield, N. J. After a careful analysis of Munyon's Paw Paw he writes as follows: "The sample of Munyon's Paw Paw submitted for examination shows that it is a highly concentrated vegetable compound of exceptional merit as a digestant and tonic for both the stomach and nervous centers. It contains nothing but the most delicate organic."

Sold by all druggists. Large bottle, $1. Paw Paw Laxative Pills, 25c a bottle.

Druggists say they have never handled a medicine that gave such universal satisfaction. Paw Paw gives new life and strength to the stomach, so that it digests every thing that goes into it. Its effect upon the nerves is marvelous; it seems to relieve them of all strain and irritation. For insomnia it is proving a great blessing, as scores of people declare that Paw Paw soothes and quiets the nerves so that one can enjoy a good night's rest and get up in the morning feeling strong and refreshed.

Prof. Munyon especially asks every weak and debilitated person to try this Paw Paw remedy. He says it makes old folks feel young and weak folks feel strong. That it will take away all need and desire for alcoholic stimulants. Alcoholic drinks lift you, but you fall. Paw Paw lifts and holds you; it gives exhilaration without intoxication.
