JOHNSON and Kershaw, forgers, did not give bonds and will therefore be held in custody till the Grand Jury disposes of their cases. They were only examined on one charge, the evidence in the others being similar.

MISSIONARIES TO ARIZONA.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made so that the Missionaries for St. John's, Arizona, can leave this city on Thursday, July 10th, 1884, via the Utah Central and Union Pacific Rallways to Denver, thence by the usual traveled route to destination. Parties having freight should deliver the same at the Utah Central Freight department not later than Wednesday morning.

Sunday Services .- The congregation in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon was addressed by Apostle George Teasdale, who delivered a comprehensive discourse on the pretensions of the Latter-day Saints to having found the only way to be saved, and showed that the ridicule and persecution they were subjected to, instead of proving them to be in error, was only a further proof that the preaching of the doctrines of Christ and IIIs Aposties in these days was attended with the same results as formerly.

Attempted Burglary .- An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the safe of the D. and G. Lumber Yard on Sunday morning about 2 o'clock. Mr. C. B. Felt, who has charge of the premises, in the employ of Gilmer and Wescott, informs, us that the burglars knocked off the hinges, dial and handles of the safe, but finally gave up the task of getting it open. A lady across the street heard the hammering but supposed it came from the depot, a little way off, and so raised no alarm. The robbers easily got into the place it being only a frame building guit easy of access. That safe is a good one, though, and ought to be adver-tized in the interest of the makers.

Husted, of Provo, who some time since indulged in threatening language towards the editor of the Enquirer and was bound over to keep the peace, is said to be on the look-out for another bondsman in lieu of one R. S. Hines. Rines, it will be remembered, was the keeper of the drug store where, as alleged by the Enquirer, whiskey-selling and gambling were carried on and the affair between Musted and the editorof that paper grew out of the fact that the Doctor-sent prescriptions to the drug store to be filled or was connected with it in such a way as to be involved in the strictures made by the Provo paper. When Husted was ar-rested for threatening to shoot the ed-itor, Mr. Graham, or indulging in lan-guage that was so construed, Hines became security for the bond under which he was held to preserve the peace. Since than, we are informed, Husted and Hines have had trouble (it is said the former drew a pistol upon the latter), and it is owing to this rupture that the balligerent little M.D. is now hunting for another surety. It is pos-sible that, in default of finding the same, he will be gaing through from hars before he is many weeks older. Dr. Husted was a passenger to the city this morning.

Returned Missionary.-Elder A.H. Anderson, of Huntsville, Weber Co., was in the city on Saturday, having returned a few days previously from a mission to Scandinavia. He left his home on the 16th of October, 1882, and labored principally in the Goetiborg Conference, Sweden, where he had
