ORE TO COME FROM BIG COTTONWOOD

Preparations Being Made to Send Initial Consignment From Wheeler Wilson Mine.

GETTING READY FOR WINTER.

Vigorous Campaign of Development to Be Prosecuted—Supplies to be Sent to Camp.

Another Big Cottonwood property is to make its initial shipment of ore during the present month. The mine in question is the Wheeler & Wilson, which has been under development for several months past. No appreciable E. W. Kelly of the Rowe-Kelly company, of this city, who is an extensive stockholder in the mine, has returned from camp with the information that the vein upon which the drift is being run continues to show steady improvement as work progresses. It is much wider than it was when first encountered and at the same time, no appreciable difference in the value of the ore is noticed. It shows a wide now of over two feet.

Mr. Kelly also states that his company is preparing for a vigorous winter campaign. The intention being to keep work moving after the roads become practically impassable on account of the deep snow. A new cabin is to be built immediately for the comfortable housing of employees. A winter's supply of provisions is also to be sent to camp within the next few weeks.

The face of the drift is now 250 feet from the tunnel entrance. Samples from the vein brought down by Mr. Kelly, when assayed, showed values of 30 per cent lead, from 30 to 40 ounces silver, with some additional gold contents.

An order has been placed with a local firm for mine cars and 400 feet of track.

FORENOON ON 'CHANGE.

Some Tintic Stocks Quoted Lower While Others Show Gains.

Business was brisk on the mining exchange again this morning, and the trading was well distributed among the stocks posted on the big blackboard in front of the exchange. A general feeling of confidence was shown in the Tintic stocks, which have displayed so much activity during the week, had a tendency to relax and closed down. Among the lot was Tetra. However, the drop in this stock was not serious; but the closing bid was 4 1/2 cents under yesterday afternoon's closing bid. Star Consolidated opened strong and remained in that condition until the last. Little Chief went up at least 20 per cent over yesterday's best figure, while Martha Washington remained unchanged. Tanke Consolidated declined slightly.

A few Park City stocks transferred, among them being New York Ironsman, 500 shares going at 12 1/2 cents. Dayton West was bought at 4 1/2 on the open board.

MONTANA'S FAMOUS OLD CABLE MINE

Property from Which Thousands of Dollars was Stolen from Owners In Early Days.

IT IS AGAIN IN FULL OPERATION

Under Direction of F. W. Bacon, Who, In an Interview, Recalls Some Pioneer Day Reminiscences.

A force of 20 men is employed at the old Cable mine near Anaconda, Mont., under the direction of F. W. Bacon. This mine was once considered to be one of the richest gold mines in the country, and is still looked upon as being a proposition of great merit.

The Cable has been a remarkable mine in its day; it has produced some immensely rich ore and thousands of dollars worth were stolen by men employed there before the owner, Mr. Bacon, discovered the leak. When he did, however, the property was closed down, and it remained in a state of idleness until Mr. Bacon secured a long time lease several months ago.

The property is not new to a good many old time Utah miners, and the following from an interview with Mr. Bacon and printed in a Butte paper recently may be of interest to them:

"The other day we succeeded in getting into some of the old workings—drifts run by Mr. Bacon 20 years ago. We can see into the old stopes—great openings made 30 years or more ago. These latter, however, are in bad shape, and we have not yet entered into them. I do not imagine the old-time left much ore for us in these workings, but in our search for new ore bodies it will be an advantage to us to know the mode of occurrence of the ore in the ore bodies which have been heretofore worked out.

"As nearly as we can learn there have been about six great chambers of ore, their production having run up away into the millions of dollars. These ore bodies have been separate, but were more or less connected by veins and strings, such as we are now ourselves following. We think we are likely, at any time, to break into one of these large and rich ore bodies. The small bunches of ore encountered in our prospecting have, up to the present time, paid almost the whole of our expenses, but that the work has thus far cost us very little.

"So far as we are not encountered any of the rich specimen ore for which the mine is famous. This probably occurs only in connection with the large ore bodies, and we are not yet into them. Undoubtedly an occasional rich specimen part of the production. One lump, which a man could carry, yielded $5,000, and one mine car of ore yielded $30,000. Of course, a good deal of this ore had been stolen, as every old Montana miner knows. Even now, every once in a while, somebody writes us that he knows of a 'cache' of this ore, valued at $5,000 or $10,000. He will find it for us on shares. We do not pay much attention to these propositions. Those who hid specimens 20 years ago have probably needed money before now. Undoubtedly an occasional rich specimen men was tucked in behind the logging and forgotten, and quite likely rich streaks have been covered up in the hope of getting a large sum. But these things do not amount to very much."

PLEASED WITH BINGHAM.

Dr. W. C. Stoddard Has Returned East After Visiting the Camp.

Dr. W. C. Stoddard of Newport, R. I., who is an extensive stockholder in the Great Divide and Bingham Copper Companies of Bingham, has completed his investigations at those properties and has taken his departure for home.

Before going aboard the train last night, the doctor declared that he was greatly pleased with the conditions prevailing at the mines, and feels more than ever that further development will not suffer the present confidence entertained by himself and associates in the propositions situated in Pine Canyon.

Dr. Stoddard spent about two weeks in camp on this trip.

IN THUNDER MOUNTAIN.

Some Remarkable Developments Have Been Made There This Year.

E. F. Francis and William Brown have returned from their trip to Thunder Mountain, says the Boz State man. They went in by way of Yellow Jacket and the Middle Fork of the Salmon. Their time was spent in the Thunder Mountain region. Mr. Francis states there is no longer any doubt that the camp is going to be a wonder. It has been opening up remarkably during the season, and everybody who owns property that is being worked is pleased.

In talking of the large properties, Mr. Francis said the Dewey mill started up again the day before they left, with a great supply of ore on hand. It had been closed down owing to the breaking of a cam shaft. There were 100 men working in that part of the district, and plans had been laid for continuing work all winter.

SCOTT ON SICK LEAVE.

J. B. Hargrove Joins the Continental-Alta's Forces at Alta.

W. G. Scott, superintendent of the Continental-Alta mines at Alta will arrive from camp tonight on sick leave. During the absence of Hargrove, a well known Bingham mining superintendent will direct development work. Mr. Hargrove is an experienced miner and was for a number of years in the employ of Col. E. A. Wall.

Rich Columbus Can Ore.

Tony Jacobson, manager of the Columbus Can mine, has returned from Alta. He brought down with him a fine sample of ore taken from the 50-foot vein in tunnel No. 2. The ore carries values of 102 ounces silver and 23 per cent copper.

CONDITIONS AT THE UTAH MINE.

Director Joseph Oberndorfer Says Property Never Looked Better Than it Does Now.

WAS AGREEABLY SURPRISED.

Some Very Rich Silver Ore Has Been Developed on the Five-Hundred-Foot Level.

The officers of the Utah mine, who journeyed across the desert west of Salt Lake to make an inspection of that property, returned here last night. One of them, Joseph Oberndorfer, had never visited the mine before, and he declared this forenoon that he was very agreeably surprised, as he found physical conditions very much better than he anticipated he would.

He says the mine has a great showing of ore at the present time, and has no hesitancy in saying that there is enough in sight to keep the property in operation on the present basis for several years to come.

The strike made recently on the 500-level has opened up big. The vein shows a width of four feet and contains some very rich ore. As an evidence of this he produced a couple of buttons, taken from a picked hand sample, which showed value well up into the hundreds of ounces in silver. Every level, Mr. Oberndorfer declared, contains a good showing of ore and those who have not yet been posted on conditions assert that the mine was never in better condition.

Director Oberndorfer says the company is again in shape to pay dividends and that the property will be posted this month had not been fully decided. He is, for one, in favor of paying a dividend of a cent per month regularly, which he was certain could be done without having the better transportation facilities could be had, the whole Deep Creek country would be benefited. The cost of moving ore at present is enormous; the Utah company pays $15 per ton in hauling the product across the desert and freights and in addition to this must be added the expense of mining and treatment charges.

The directors have provided a way to enlarge the dump room at the mine by changing the road. This can be done at little expense.

A force of 25 men are on the payroll, and the mine is in better shape than ever. Secy. Waller did not return with the other officials last evening, he remains at the property a day longer. Those who did come in with Mr. Oberndorfer were President George Crismom, Supt. Charles Crismom and Surveyor E. A. Wall.

ONBERNDORFER BRINGS SUIT.

Martha Washington Company Defendant—Trouble Over Stock Transfer.

Suit was filed in the district court today by Joseph Oberndorfer, the stock broker, against the Martha Washington Mining company to recover $450 as damages for the failure of the company to transfer to plaintiff its stock two certificates of stock in said company for 10,000 and 5,000 shares respectively, which plaintiff purchased on June 15, 1902, from N. A. Page, the defunct stock broker.

It is alleged that plaintiff purchased the stock on the above date and on the following day he presented the same at the office of the company to Alvin E. Snow, its secretary, and requested that it be transferred to him.

The secretary refused and still refuses to make the transfer and repudiated the stock as being the stock of the company. Hence plaintiff claims that he has been damaged in the sum of $450, the value of said stock.

UNCLE SAM CON. MILL.

President Chapman Has Placed an Order For the Equipment.

The excavations for the new Uncle Sam mill in the Tintic district are near completion and Manager James Chapman said today that the order for the equipment of the plant had been placed with a local firm. The contract provides that it shall consist of 3 concentrating tables, 1 crusher, 1 pair of rolls, 4 lifts and 1 Huntington mill and other necessary machinery, together with two electrical motors, by which the machinery will be propelled.

The deliveries are to be made by the time the building to be erected is ready for occupancy.

Con. Mercant Slimes Plant.

Supt. Edwards of the Con. Mercant mines telephoned Manager G. H. Dern last night that the separator at the slimes plant had been started up and was working successfully. He thought the first filtering would be done today.

CONCENTRATES.

Two cars of Carlin ores are in today's market.

Joseph Dederich returned from Beaver county today.

William Halford has returned from a trip to the Albion mine at Alta.

The working force at the St. Louis-Vassar property has been increased.

Broker E. G. Woolley, Jr., is inspecting the Tetra mine in Tintic today.

P. J. Donohue, who has been experting a mining property near Hailey, Ida., has returned.

The usual monthly dividend of $100,000 was distributed by the Silver King Mining company yesterday.

Superintendent P. M. McCree, of the Blackbird mines in Berber county, is up from the south for a short vacation.

The first snow storm of the season fell in the camp of Alta last night. The ground was white at day break this morning.

Supt. John A. Kirby returned to the Daily West mines at Park City this morning after a stay of several days' duration in the city.

Dan Kovske, a well known Butte business man, was in the city for a few hours yesterday, looking after some of his Utah mining interests.

Supt. Henry Shoppers, of the Revenue mine in the Pine Grove district, Berber county, has arrived in the city for a brief vacation accompanied by his wife.

The ore and bullion settlements reported yesterday afternoon aggregated a total of $89,600, of which: Crude ores and concentrates, $41,300; base bullion, $28,300.

Operations at the Lone Pine mine.

Park City, Sept. 11.—Some important changes in the company are probable and negotiations are now pending to that end.

The Lost Packer company, operating at Loon Creek, Idaho, has made settlements with local smelters for 30 tons of ore shipped recently. The controls showed values of 7 1/2 ounces gold, 10 ounces silver and 6 1/2 per cent copper.

William Bayly, president of the Bingham Copper Belt railway, also director in the Bingham Con. Mining company, has arrived from the east. After spending a few days looking over his Utah interests he will return to his home in Los Angeles.

"Jim" Warden, after whom the town of Warden, Idaho, was named and who was well known in the camp of Alta in the early days, is said to be dying in a Milwaukee hospital, from the effects of drinking water which contained chemicals from a cyanide plant.

Contractor Dederich expects to have the work of building the head end of the Wah Wah springs water pipe line completed in about two weeks. This consists of the reservoir and lines to the seven springs. The excavations on the main line across the valley towards the head end are being made and a force of men is now at work about two miles from the new town of Newhouse.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN EITHER WAY.

Market Fell Into Intense Dullness In the Second Hour this Morning.

LATER ON IT HARDENED UP.

Atchison and Amalgamated Led in the Betterment—Really Preferred Was Chief Loser.

New York, Sept. 11.—Opening prices on the stock exchange showed only slight changes either way in the leading stocks. The western group was somewhat higher on the favorable showing made by the government crop report but some of the minor stocks were heavy. Really preferred opened down 5 points. Large selling orders appeared simultaneously in the shares of the room and the market ran off abruptly. The specialists showed the least resistance. Amalgamated Copper, Tennessee Coal, Brooklyn Transit and Reading declined a point. Dealings were on a large scale in United States Steel and Pacific coast steels. The latter all yielded substantial fractions but seemed to meet some support at yesterday's closing prices. The market fell into intense dullness during the second hour and did not vary much until near noon when a slight recovery was noted.

Atchison was an active demand for both accounts. This buying imparted firmness to the general railway list, which advanced a fraction above yesterday's close. There was an improved demand for United States Steel, which rallied to 2 1/2, and most of the other specialties which had been under pressure recovered fully.

Stock speculation displayed a good undertone during the afternoon, though the volume of business was rather light. Under the market action above yesterday's close, there was a sharp fractional advance in the price of the Missouri Pacific. Realizing in Atchison checked the buying in that stock but its reaction was irregular.

Some additional good gains were made by special stocks in the closing hour, particularly United States Steel preferred, which advanced a point. Dealings were very sluggish in the general market, but prices were pretty well maintained. The closing was firm.

Close: Prime mercantile paper, 60 1/2 per cent.
