

RESORTS WERE WELL PATRONIZED

Captured Thousands and the City Was Practically Deserted.

DANGEROUS AMUSEMENT.

Setting Off Skyrockets and Big Cannoncrackers Caused Panic Among Citizens and Horses.

It goes without saying that the resorts captured their thousands yesterday and during the afternoon Salt Lake City was practically deserted. The horse-drawn brougham, however, was terrific and lasted long after midnight, when sent on street cars were at a premium and scores walked home.

Whether it was a safe and sane Fourth is a matter for debate. Early in the day it looked as though the celebration would be confined to polite parades involving the correct display of banners, the migration of the family to a shady dell or a picture park. Late in the evening, however, especially up town, the fool-kicker walked abroad and several stunts were pulled off that were not only distracting to those with weak nerves, they were absolutely dangerous.

DANGEROUS AMUSEMENT.

On West Temple and Second South a youth discovered that some very hilarious and spectacular effects could be derived by laying a two-pound rock on the pavement and touching it off with a match. Flipping, dodging and scooting the deadly missile would leave a trail of fire for a block until it exploded in the region of Main street, much to the discomfort of pedestrians, the dismay of horses and the general panic of all in its line of fire. Teams were soon driven off the upper streets because unbridled men and boys made them a target for cannoncrackers. Then it was great sport to toss big fireworks under automobiles, but even that began to pall—it was so much better fun to throw them into the tenebrous and hear delicate ladies scream with fright.

That more were not hurt is something to marvel at; that some of the insane "celebrators" did not get thrashed for their wanton work also is somewhat remarkable in several cases. If the limit line was passed in Salt Lake at the resorts everything passed off without an accident or any unpleasantness. The resorts were crowded and yesterday marked one of the best Fourth of July in the history of this city.

OFFICIAL FIGURES.

The official figures of the attendance at the leading resorts yesterday are as follows:

Saltair	12,000
Lagoon	9,000
Calder's Park	7,500
Salt Palace	6,000
Liberty park (estimated)	10,000

SALT AIR'S HOSTS.

Saltair with its Royal Hawaiian band, dancing, bathing, side attractions and 45-minute train service captured the lion's share of the picnicers. With the two concerts and then the big band alternating with Christensen's orchestra in furnishing the dance music there was plenty of enjoyment for young and old alike. In addition to the regular clientele from this city the crowd was reinforced by parties from all the surrounding towns and settlements within a radius of 40 miles. It was a record day for bathing also and after 3 p. m. those who bought tickets intending them to suits, towels and a dressing room were led to rustic for themselves and lay in wait for keys as the bathers left the water. As nearly $1,000 was taken in by the bathing privileges some idea of the crowd that went into the lake can be arrived at. The Flugs-eight railroad was another proposition that captured the dollars, while the other attractions also established new records. Everywhere the crowds took possession. The bathing in comfort was entirely out of the question on the big floor; to secure a table for lunch was another problem involving much stratagem and flank attacks; to secure a seat in the restaurant, well that at times was out of the question.

The drawing for cash prizes which was made at 11 p. m. resulted in the following:

1423	.....$50.00
5449	.....25.00
5588	.....10.00
9207	.....7.50
9732	.....5.00
6694	.....2.50

AT LAGOON.

Lagoon was taxed to its capacity yesterday when a good program was in order. While Salt Lake sent the largest delegation of picnicers, Ogden, Kaysville, Farmington, Layton and other points were heavily represented. It was a record crowd for that popular resort that has long been advertised as "the most beautiful spot in Utah." That the crowds intended to make a day of it was soon apparent. In fact nearly 100 people went out on the 4 a. m. train, something unheard of heretofore and something which surprised the attendants when the train pulled in. From that time on until 9 p. m. every train brought out loads of humanity. Then everybody tried to come home at once and in the scramble that followed several were squeezed and one woman fainted. With a blinding breeze blowing and the full moon smiling down upon the festive scene Lagoon proved to be a very alluring spot. One of the best events on the sports program was the association football game between two eleven, the Blues and the Whites. A fast game resulted in the excellent turf and the ball was traveling luxuriantly. The fast game ended in victory for the Blues to the tune of 4-2. Adamson, Churchill, McPhie and Brandey for the Blues and Russell, White, Snodden, Gibson and Stevens for the Whites showed the best form. Large throngs watched the game with interest. There was also a game of the dancing pavilion and on the roller rink.

AT CALDER'S PARK.

The management of Calder's is to be congratulated upon the excellent and clean entertainment afforded its patrons yesterday. It was an old-fashioned Fourth that was greatly enjoyed by the 7,500 souls present. No accidents or boisterous behavior marred the day. The people shot the chutes, took rides on the boats and Lake Shore railroad, spread their picnic under the ample shade and generally had a splendid time.

EXCITING CONTESTS.

In the afternoon there was a program. The leading feature was a patriotic address by Prof. Douglas M. Todd who took for his subject, "The One Hundred and Thirtieth Anniversary of American Freedom." He closed his oration with a rousing Kluge poem "Let Us Forget." Another feature was the rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the juvenile choir.

started on regular trips, under the direction of Capt. S. M. Barrett. Crowds of people besieged the landing the rest of the day waiting their turn to enjoy a ride around the lagoon.

The first racing event was a best two in three harness trotting. Sammy J. owned by C. Jones, and Almay, entered by Henry Barker, were the only entries. Sammy J. was the favorite before the race, but after the first heat he was only a shadow as an entry. The horse broke just after the start, again at the quarter and then on the half. The driver, after completing the half turned back, but he was instructed to proceed. He stated afterward that he understood the trial heats were in half miles. Almay took the heat, of course, after walking 1800 yards of the distance. Time—1:45.

The match running race for $50 a side between Rose, entered by Ed Davis, and Little Dutch, entered by Charles Powell, was won by Little Dutch in 1:02 flat.

When Almay and Sammy J. met for the second time Almay won easily in 2:32. Purse, $25.

In the evening fireworks were in order. Among the guests of the day were the members of the Nauvoo legion and the Veterans Firemen's association.

AT THE SALT PALACE.

They stood 'em up at the Salt Palace last night, and all the crowd present could not be accommodated at the bicycle races. During the day "Te Old Mill," the aerial railway, the electric swings, miniature railways and the theater were liberally patronized. Following the close of the races there was a display of fireworks that lasted for an hour, and afforded considerable entertainment for old and young alike.

LIBERTY PARK.

Liberty Park, with its cool retreats, shade and ample space for the youngsters, drew heavily upon those who did not care to spend their money lavishly and get mugged up in the crush of the glorious Fourth.

EIGHT TRAMPS JAILED.

Police Put a Stop to Chicken Stealing This Morning.

Police Officers Carlson and Harris made a round-up of tramps and chicken thieves this morning, and as a result, eight weary Willies are now candidates for the rock pile. Those arrested gave the following names:

Henry Lundberg, Jim Graham, John Taylor, Ed Connor, Joseph Johnson, Bruce Rieherd, Al Blochin and D. J. Tenny. This gang was hauled in from the banks of the Jordan river early this morning. Many complaints had been received to the effect that a gang of hoboes were infesting the neighborhood and stealing chickens. When several stolen chickens were found. The prisoners will be tried before Judge C. B. Dehl tomorrow afternoon.

DISTURBED THE PEACE.

Lee Gregory, Ed Gunn and Ed Brooks Arrested.

Lee Gregory, Ed Gunn and Ed Brooks were arrested at Saltair last night by Deputy Sheriffs Ike Emery, Russell and Slater, for disturbing the peace, and were confined in the county jail over night. They were taken before Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith this morning and arraigned. Gunn and Brooks pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each. Brooks paid his fine and was discharged, but Gunn will serve five days in jail instead of paying up. Gregory pleaded not guilty and will be tried tomorrow morning. The men were drunk and were using some very vile language on the pavilion when placed under arrest. This particular class of rowdiness is receiving the special attention of Sheriff Emery and his deputies, and they are determined to put a stop to it.

DYNAMITE FIEND CREATES HAVOC

Unknown Man Explodes Bomb at Midnight and Makes Good His Escape.

RODE AWAY ON A BICYCLE.

Injured Three Women and Shattered Numerous Windows and Destroyed Other Property.

The celebration of the glorious Fourth in Salt Lake yesterday was generally regarded up to midnight as having been safe, if not sane, but an act of some man as yet unknown at 11:30 o'clock, is responsible for a general change of opinion.

A dynamite bomb was exploded at that hour on West Temple street a few rods north of Third South street. It splintered a telegraph pole, broke a street railway pole square off at the base, shattered the windows of all buildings on both sides of the street, and seriously injured Miss May and Miss Emma Higgins, who were passing along West Temple street on the sidewalk. Mrs. L. C. Peterson, who lives at 254 south West Temple street, was also injured, and not seriously.

BETWEEN POLES.

The bomb was placed between two poles, one a telegraph pole and one a street railway pole, and was fired from a distance. It blew them outward from the base, and splintered the taller pole for a height of about 10 feet. While the explosion was in progress, a street railway pole was broken loose from the overhead support, it was not grounded, and a West Temple car that came along immediately after the explosion was unable to stop safely. Although the powder smoke was then so dense that the car was stopped, and the motorman went out ahead to see what had happened, and if the road was clear.

CRASH AND EXCITEMENT.

Pedestrians came from all directions, following the crash of powder and the sound of falling window panes, and found the two Higgins sisters on the sidewalk, stunned and bleeding from slight flesh wounds. The police physician, was called. He found that fine gravel, forced by the terrific concussion had passed through the dresses of the girls and lodged in their bodies. Miss May had her hip slightly torn by the missiles, and Miss Emma's arms were bleeding from the wounds. Both girls were stunned, and were taken to the home of Mrs. John O'Brien who lives at 254 south West Temple, and cared for until able to return to their home at 64 south Fifth West street. They had just said goodnight at the corner of Third South to some friends with whom they had been out enjoying the Fourth, and were walking along West Temple street north on their way home.

FIEND ESCAPED.

The miscreant who chose to celebrate his Fourth in such an unanticipated and unbecoming manner, and to the dismay of the community in doing it, escaped. The two injured girls and a number of other people state that they saw him ride south on a bicycle, stop by the poles and deposit a bundle, after which they saw him light a match, and then ride hastily away on his wheel. The explosion followed immediately.

In property the damage was considerable, consisting of many square feet of window glass in the residences on both sides of the street. The Metropolitan hotel on the corner of Third South, suffered badly, almost every window on the west side being shattered. In the Metropolitan saloon considerable damage away, glasses were shaken off the bar, and two windows broken. The big plate glass front of O'Donnell's undertaking establishment, right opposite the scene of the explosion was caved in, resulting from appearances in the most expensive bit of destruction. Kingston Bros. tinning establishment and a plumbing shop adjoining it both suffered but only slightly as the larger panes of glass remained intact, while the smaller ones were broken. The Western Newspaper building marked the northern limit of the concussion and suffered mostly from a few broken windows. It is estimated that the damage will total over $200. The police believe that at least one pound of dynamite was used in the bomb.
