MUNICIPAL MUSINGS.

The Ringleader "Goes to the Ground" Another Proposed Garbage Ordinance.

Representatives of the various City Councilmen met last evening and discussed matters upon which they will report to the next Solon. One of the questions to receive attention was an ordinance to prevent the flocks of sheep and goats that are driven through the city from leaving numerous deposits on the sidewalks. It is proposed to frame a stiff ordinance with the view of preventing such nuisances. It will be made within the next few days.

Health Commissioner Daly, in the committee of the whole, recommended the adoption of his recommendation for the removal of the offensive garbage. The committee on legislation is considering the matter, but it is expected that a definite move in the direction indicated will be made within the next few days.

City Attorney Hoge will form the ordinance in long suits, incorporating in the two or three sections all the evils that are going to war against the city. They now aggregate about half a million dollars and the hope is most earnestly cherished in the precincts of the dome that the way to remove the whole nuisance will be so to pay the proper amount as to warrant him in devoting all of his time to city work. That recommendation will probably be made to the Council at its next meeting.

The committee on police intend to have them Health Commissioner Daly carry out some of the provisions of the city jail. He said that present condition was most prolific for the spreading of the filth was simply filthy. The order prohibiting the prisoners being locked up in the cells should be removed in the interest of the humane Humane and of the taxpayers and humanity at large. The matter will be called to the attention of the City Council at an early date—perhaps at the next meeting.

The committee on streets has been committed to its consideration the question of erecting a suitable railing to prevent a repetition of the many accidents which have occurred on the Main street bridge. This action is identical in character of the many damage suits being instituted against the city for injuries sustained by persons falling upon the glassy surface of the asphalt. The city engineer will be requested to make estimates and recommendations.

Will Play Football.

The Y. M. C. A. and City Football teams are scheduled for a hotly contested on the University grounds this evening. The time for the beginning of the game was set for 5:15 o'clock. The opponents, weight and alignment of the respective teams are as follows:

Letter From Echo City, Summit County, by E. Stevenson.

Echo City, Summit Co., Utah,
May 22, 1895.

Editor Deseret News:

While waiting for the western train to connect with our Park City branch, I considered that it would break the monotony by jotting down a few items which have come under my observation during a short outing to Park City.

I left Salt Lake City on the express, 7 a. m., Saturday the 18th inst., and changed cars at Ogden for Echo City.

Assistant Superintendent Adee, presiding Elder of Park City branch, stepped on board at Carlisle. From him we learned that President Udall, of Provo, had recently taken his departure from the Uncle Valley Primary association [illegible] for the missionary fellowship [illegible] for the late conference at Ajax. Samuel Blake has now over 80,000 pounds of provender with which to feed the hungry people in the City [illegible] families at Ajax. The time of quitting for meals is one hour, [illegible] so we [illegible] hospitality is practiced, for [illegible] they are not forgotten.

We arrived in Park City just in time to see the funeral procession of the Devil Children [illegible], who were hurled down the road the Ajax mine, about 1,200 feet. One of them was nearly mangled as to be utterly unrecognizable. A third man was by some providential movement thrown on the [illegible] while the [illegible] both [illegible] down the 1,200 feet [illegible]. The accident occurred by some [illegible] of the engineer who was stricken with [illegible] of the [illegible] accident for which he was to [illegible] responsible.

The [illegible] services were held at the [illegible] house very largely attended. The procession consisted of the Park City band, with muffled drums, followed by the Fraternities and the Old Fellows, both on foot, then came the hearse, pallbearers, friends in carriages and lastly on horseback. The procession would reach over half a mile. The Ajax mine, in which the accident occurred, was closed down for the funeral, and all hands turned out to mourn the sad fatality. Words cannot express the sorrow of their fellows into the [illegible] beyond. Time is one of the largest [illegible] of the [illegible], for which it is powerful.

At the Park [illegible] is on the rampage, with good hopes of the future. Monday was a [illegible] day, and it is reasonable that for a mining camp it is quite an exception as a quiet and peaceful place. Several [illegible] were fairly attended. Four [illegible] were [illegible] by the Latter-day Saints and the [illegible] evening meeting was overcrowded. Many could not obtain admission.

We called on at Farmington and [illegible] and some part in a social gathering of the Clark family. Eleven relatives were in attendance from California, others from Missouri, Colorado, Wyoming and the larger portion from Utah. After singing and prayer, refreshments were served by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Stevenson, Mary Clark, Phillip Hall, Rhoda Clark Cooper, 40 years old, Dr. Sims, E. T. Clark, Mary Stevenson Clark and others of the relatives. An excellent composition for the occasion was read with [illegible] and [illegible] Mrs. Cooper's home which [illegible] & m. Electrical experiments were made regarding Utah and her [illegible] soon, by the guiding friends, who said there were the best days of their lives and they should never [illegible] soon.

Star Valley Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Star Valley Stake convened in Afton meeting house, Wyoming, on Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19, 1895.

Saturday morning — Choir sang, "High on the mountain top." Prayer was offered by Elder John G. Dewey.

Elder George Osmond, president of the Star Valley Stake, spoke of the many blessings the Saints were receiving day by day.

Bishop Jas. Jensen, John G. Dewey, Wm. Parkin and Thomas Lee Perkins spoke words of good cheer to the different organizations, such as the Sunday schools, Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual and Primary associations, giving some good work during the past quarter.

Counselor Thomas F. Barton, of Afton, and Hans A. Holmoe, of Grover, reported their wards, which reports were also good.

Elder A. C. Child gave an interesting history and outline of the settlement of Star Valley. His remarks were very appropriate.

Saturday afternoon, Elders A. Gardner, Harris Allred, C. H. Eggerson and Clarence W. Lee occupied the time, exhorting the people to be diligent in attending their duties, in observing the Word of Wisdom, paying their tithes in the proper manner, and of [illegible] ready to [illegible] all that should be made to [illegible] by those having authority.

Sunday, 10 a. m.—After opening exercises, Bishop Hansen Hyde gave a good report of his Auxiliary ward.

Elder H. H. Allred Jr. spoke a short time to the youth, urging them to study diligently and avoid [illegible] and [illegible] with the principles of the Gospel.

Superintendent Osmond compared a little over three months ago the Saints to make such building improvements as they should, and [illegible] to carry out the same, and [illegible] to the present time, and of what [illegible] ready to say and [illegible] that should be made to [illegible] by those having authority.
