

THREE BIG ERRORS IN FOUR
BRIEF SENTENCES.

THE Philadelphia American has the annexed paragraph:

"In Idaho Territory Mr. Singler, the Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, is elected. The issue there was Mormon and anti-Mormon, and the candidate for the latter was successful. To some extent the Mormon issue affected the result in Nevada, Mr. Cassidy, Democrat, being elected—a man whom the Mormons specially hate. During the last session he sharply reprimanded his Democratic friends for sustaining Mormonism."

There are several errors in the above short statement. The issue in the Idaho election was not a religious one, and the Republican candidate was not elected because he was an anti-Mormon. He agreed to elect to work for the annexation of Northern Idaho to Washington Territory, and on that promise captured a great many votes which would otherwise have been given to his opponent. Then the Democratic candidate had already served for two terms, and many Democrats were opposed to a third term. And finally Mr. Ansley was reported to be in favor of a casual scheme which was looked upon as a land grabbing job, and that broke him. The "Mormon" issue had little or nothing to do with his defeat. He would not have been elected if no "Mormon" had supported his nomination.

In Nevada Cassidy was re-elected simply because he was the Democratic nominee, and the Democrats are in a majority in that State; that is all there is of that.

Lastly the Democrats in Congress do not support "Mormonism" in any shape or form, directly or indirectly. Those who voted against the exclusion of Mr. Cannon or against the now generally despised Edmunds bill, simply acted upon Democratic principles, and in opposition to measures which were alike hostile to those principles and to the Constitution as they understood it. "Mormonism" stands independent of any political support, and will continue in spite of all political antagonism. It is a religion of inherent vitality and irrepressible force, and cannot be destroyed by any human power, because it is built upon the rock of divine revelation and is destined to endure for ever.

So much for the mistakes of the American. There are four sentences in the little paragraph and three of them are erroneous.

GAS STILL HOLDS ITS OWN.

EDISON, the noted "inventor," is famous for furnishing disappointments to his admirers. How many times he has been going to make a success of his electric light scheme we are not prepared to state, but the public have been led to rest assured that this time there was no doubt of the lighting up of a large area in the City of New York by the diabolical system, permitting of a controllable and economical electric light for household use. The telegraph every day brought news of the positive triumph of the light, and prepared the public mind for something revolutionary in electricity illumination. But alas! it appears that these promises like others of the great "inventor" were but illusory; will-o'-the-wisps, so to speak, instead of electric lights. The Gotham papers are explaining that the cost of production is so great that the experiment has proved a practical failure. Besides there are grave mechanical difficulties to be surmounted. The Sun says, "these relate to the maintenance of the current and to the continuity and uniformity of the electrical supply," and expresses the opinion that "the Company is running against snags, and there is not much chance of its ever realizing the sanguine hopes of those who expected great things for either as stockholders or consumers."

The progress of electric lighting in any part of the world is not of a character to be alarming to the owners of gas stock. It has not as yet caused any material decrease in the consumption of that tractable and convenient illuminator, nor in the dividends to investors in gas companies. Yet it is on the way to success. As we have maintained from the beginning of the discussion of its merits in this part of the world, the electric light as at present developed is adapted for large open spaces; but for internal household distribution it cannot "hold a candle" to gas, and until some method is adopted to render practical that which Edison has professed to be able to accomplish, but hitherto has not succeeded in producing gas will continue to hold its own in cities where it has obtained a foothold, and to light up the homes of the people, while it yields fair profits to those engaged in its manufacture.

HOVERING IN RUSSIA.

At the present moment in Russia the attention of the press and society in all the large towns is concentrated on the daily announcements of bank failures, population, embezzlement, frauds and robberies of every kind. Scarcely a day passes without some bank having been found insolvent or in a critical condition, or of some cashier of a government institution or benevolent society having appropriated the funds and "cooked" the accounts. The Municipal Bank of St. Petersburg, the province of Riazan, has failed for over $5,000,000. It is a legal point whether the insolvent, the whole of the inhabitants, through their principal authorities, will not be held responsible. It is calculated that the embezzlements and robberies, both private and official, during the year amounted to over $10,000,000.

IDAHO NEWS.

[Our Special Correspondent at Boise.]

BOISE CITY, Dec. 26th, 1892.

Editor Deseret News:

This city is now slightly covered with the beautiful. The few members of the Legislature who remain here during the holidays are strolling around to while away the time. The excitement that attended the organization has now died away. The representatives of newspapers from Wood River, Silver City, and other places are returning to their homes, and the departure of your correspondent is an early day is highly probable.

The fantastic tricks played by the Governor during the last few weeks have disgusted the party in the Assembly, several of whom have taken satisfaction in scientifically causing him, others feel like the man whose apple was spoiled—their time they could not do justice to the occasion. Among other allies outside that took possession of him was the National idea Idaho's end. He became so inflated with this notion that he resolved himself into the Legislative Assembly, and appointed himself a committee of the whole on credentials, organization, finance and polygamy. He sat down on all the things, and some members of the Twelfth Session appeared on the scene and inquired for the Legislature. "Here it is," said he, "and here it is—here is the State all ready, I have got all the offices filled, just sign this state, fall into line, and I will put you through by daylight."

The most intelligent among the Republican members however, could not appreciate the Governor's proceeding and failed to see how he could be of himself the Legislative Assembly. They supposed the Assembly was composed of thirty-three persons, and that there were a portion of that number and were entitled to have a voice in the organization and all other matters connected with legislative proceedings. As the description of these conflicting claims became animated and determined on the part of the members, the little Governor modified his claim to two-thirds, and contended that he was at least two-thirds of the Assembly, and he wanted his friends to support him. "We are not responsible for what you want," said one of the members, "and the fact of the matter is, Governor, we claim the whole of the Assembly, and we are committed to the policy of the whole hog in this case or nothing. We are not going to rock our cradle, and the last that was seen of his friend Wilson, he was rooting at the tail end of two House committees."

The Governor as he started to re-ward the sore-headed Gentiles of Utah for their disappointments and sacrifices in fighting the "Mormons" of that Territory, but it is feared he has not enough of it to go round. Some of them came a long way by express invitation and direct promise, but the Governor's State business and affairs did not pay out worth a cent, so they went back disappointed.

The time and cry made by Neil and his few friends during the last few months is of all things the most foolish and ridiculous, only in view of the fact that the Governor, of Idaho, of all the Territories, is the least prepared to do without it. "Mormonism" citizens. They are the most frugal, sober, industrious, moral and intelligent people of the Territory. They own the only woolen factory within the Territory; their numbers give them mills, saw mills, planing mills, with many other manufacturing enterprises, with their agricultural and stock raising interests aided by their frugal and industrious habits, they are developing wealth that bids fair to make them the most prosperous people in the Territory. And they seem necessary that Idaho should be sustained by the "Mormon" counties to give it tone and respectability with in morality and in population.

To make this plain I submit the following figures: The Territory numbers per the last census returns 32,611 souls. The Delegate elect has pledged the northern counties to assist in their annexation to Washington Territory, which would take away 6,983. Should Oneida and Bear Lake Counties, to say nothing of Cassia, be restored to the State of Utah—it is to be from which they were carved when this Territory was organized, it would leave Idaho only 14,628 souls, taking away said returns—hardly enough to make a good-sized city. We do not advocate the segregation of either portion of the Territory, but submit the above figures to show the insane policy of the Republican part of this Territory.

Our people have no desire for any change in this respect. We have the highest regard for the leading citizens of our Territory, who, as a rule, have always shown a disposition to treat us fairly. And if the general Government would call home the few disreputable carpetbaggers that have run loose among us during the last few years, there would still be a prospect for peace. But while low, pot-house politicians are paid by the Government there will continue to be strife and confusion.

Several affidavits have been received during the last few days from Col. Wood and other non-Mormon residents of Blaine County, vindicting Hon. W. C. Carlisle from the trumped up charges against him by the Governor's tools. The conspiracy, however, had failed, its chief plotters were disappointed, and the accused was fully vindicated.

A little over four years ago your correspondent called the attention of your readers to the fine agricultural resources of Goose Creek Valley, its genial climate, its rich sandy loam, its grazing facilities and its capacity to sustain an immense population. Since that time a goodly number of our people have settled in that valley and other parts of Blaine County, and have sent one Representative to the W. C. Martindale to the 12th Legislature. The County elects its County Board with Owyhee. They elected to that office this year the Hon. Phil A. Regan, a young man of considerable ability, a respondent's member of the body during the tenth session, Mr. Martindale says they have thrashed in the Goose Creek valley this season about 60,000 bushels of grain. It would be an exaggeration to say that valley alone is capable of sustaining a population of thousands of people. The soil is rich, the water of Snake River, which can be utilized as an irrigation system, and the temperature is so genial that the snow never lies on the ground but a few days. They can raise not only small grain, but corn, vines and fruit of every description. The valley is a rich and fertile land, and it is a pity that it is not better known. I will call the attention of your readers to the fact that the valley is a rich and fertile land, and it is a pity that it is not better known.

within 20 miles of the Oregon Short Line, capable of accommodating 1,000 families, and containing only 24, who boast of their homestead crops of grain and livestock. The watermelon; the latter, however, can only be grown in sheltered places. Long Valley, in Boise Co., is a beautiful place, and the stockmen and farmers. That county contains only 5,218 souls per last census report, and most of them are Chinese and Japanese. The leading men have strongly urged your correspondent to induce some of our people to prospect and settle in that valley, and that some of them would like to have a few more "Mormons" in the Legislature to keep those Republicans level. We are not at all ambitious about representation, it comes along and is thrust upon us, and we are ready for it, although we have considerable reserve force of some, all prospective Representatives ranging from two to twenty-one years, all monogamists like our people, and all honest and energetic for a number of years.

Eight years ago we had only one "Mormon" Representative, Bishop Hatch of Franklin County. Eight years ago we had only two. Two years ago five. At the present time only ten, but we do not dispute this day of our things. Eight years ago B. F. White and his respectable clique, who ran Oneida County until the last few years, hounded and harassed the honest and energetic men of that county, and they became disgusted with their villainy and left the Territory, and to-day there are ten members in the Legislature where there was then but one; another evidence of the conservative energies and vitality of what the world calls "Mormonism." It may not be proper, however, to claim Mr. C. J. Hatch in this connection, although he was raised in your city and of "Mormon" parentage. He was elected by the Gentile element of Oneida County, but he fraternized and voted with our delegation, and has acted in every way gentlemanly and honorable.

Yours, etc. JAMES H. HART.

Governor Cleveland's Message. NEW YORK, 2.—Judging from the press comment on Cleveland's message is not a little disappointing. The World says: There is nothing specially striking about the message. So far as it indicates anything, it is that the Governor is not a man of the highest caliber, but a man of the lowest. The Star says: His ideas are few, but for the most part sound and on the side of official economy. That it is commonplace, with a laudable moral tone, verging perhaps a little towards cant, does not on the whole diminish the value of the document. The Star says: It is to be regretted that he did not speak with more emphasis on three or four matters of great public importance, but Cleveland is constitutionally cautious and conservative.

Times: It is made up chiefly of a series of rather bald statements of the condition of the various departments of the State. It is singularly barren of suggestions and recommendations regarding matters of first importance and such as are made use of as a basis for the Tribune says: The message, considered as a whole, is commonplace. Cleveland is said to be a man of ordinary wisdom, but the firm grasp of the underlying principles of government which goes with statesmanship. The message is a good deal of a collection of scraps and shreds, and is not a very impressive document.

The funeral services over Thomas W. Park were advertised to take place yesterday. The church was opened and a number of persons assembled, but about 10 minutes after the appointed hour it was announced that the steamer by which the body was expected had not been sighted. It was then announced that due notice of the funeral would be given and then the congregation dispersed.

The elevator originally cost $100,000.
