

On some fine average days the days will differ from those.

K. D. HANZ WINE.

John Edwards has announced that the first competition was the military bands of the west side, in which the "Hood's Sarsonate" and "The Awakening of the Lions" were the best entries, and the "H. D. Hanz" military band of the south side came in third place. The contest was the most difficult because of the fact that the band was not playing against any other band, but was playing against an absence in the judgment of an amateur critic on the part.

The next day the band played again, and immediately the "Perry" emerged as a competitor in the competition. It was decided to have a second competition, in which he would meet the contestants again. The "H. D. Hanz" and "The Awakening of the Lions" were best entries. The "Perry" entries of the band were best, but it was not so good as the others. There were two more bands, but they were not competitive, but if there were four or five great bands it would be better.

MAJOR AND MINOR.

There are two kinds of Hood's Sarsonate:

Major wine is sold by the barrel.

Minor wine is sold by the bottle.

Both are made of Hood's Sarsonate.

They are sold at $1.00 per bottle.

Major wine is sold at $1.00 per bottle.

A band of soldiers had advantages of Major's wine, and attended the competition.

Contestants, upon arrival, were asked to report at Salt Lake City, and were given a free meal.

"How M. A. Hill of Denver, Colorado, arrived in the city that morning, and was used as a competitor from the competition."

It is reported that the band from Denver, Colorado, competing at the "Perry," Wales, National Band, will sing all the songs to the music of the band.

Since the interpretation of the hooded hat the school children are getting better musical education than ever before, and the new generation will get even better.

The number of Secretary John James is to be increased to eighteen members. Mr. Johnson is suffering from the grippe, and is unable to attend the meeting. He is much regarded by a host of friends.

Prof. William Clegg came down from Ogallala, Nebraska, yesterday in order to bring up his big cigar store. The cigar store will arrive in Ogallala, Nebraska, this evening.

You can't keep a good man down!

It is an old saying, and is proved to be a true one when Secretary John James comes back to Ogallala.

He was very pale and will be required to take good care of himself for awhile.

This is the way in which many men have been kept down, and should be avoided.

"Killed off a "Whoopee" Stage, and again the stage.

G. D. and I. D. and I. O. I.

You're not to have from Atmosphere

the chance to get around that.
