WARNING TO FARM OWNERS.

Land Jumpers Threaten to Make Trouble in North End of Weber County—Seven Couples Wed.

Ogden, June 12.—The party of "boosters" from Omaha, 100 strong, who will invade the northwest during the next week or two are scheduled to reach Ogden at 9 o'clock Friday evening and will remain here until 1 o'clock the following afternoon. Arrangements have been made for special committees from the Weber club to meet the delegation at the train. The holiday street illuminations will be turned on and the Omaha crowd will be escorted to the Weber club where a smoker and luncheon will be served up. On Saturday morning the visitors will be loaded into a long line of automobiles and taken to view the beauties of the Ogden canyon.

Threaten to Make Trouble in North End of County.

C. M. Clay, a prominent horse dealer of this city, has issued the following warning to the farmers and property owners in the northern part of Weber county:

"There are certain parties prowling around the northern line of this county, finding, or pretending to find, unheeded section corners, making how

While a freight train was running at the rate of a mile an hour over a bad piece of track one mile east of Knight, Wyo., yesterday, the eighth car from the engine jumped the track, broke the couplings and turned from side to a sufficient distance from the track so as not to block traffic. The freight train was coupled up again and proceeded on its way, one car short in its make up.

WALKING ARSENAL ARRESTED.

Sheriff G. A. Sebring placed a man, who gave his name as James Knight, under arrest yesterday morning and locked him up at the county jail for being a suspicious person. When searched, Knight had several large bunches of keys, a big gun and a box of cartridges in addition to a lot of other junk that led the officers to believe that he was a burglar. During the searching process to which the fellow was subjected he was asked why he did not go to work. Knight said that only fools and horses work. He will probably be charged with carrying concealed weapons unless the officers can dig up something else against him.

SEVEN COUPLES WED.

Permits to marry were issued yesterday to the following couples: George Franklin Garner of Provo and Miss Martha J. Bybee of Riverdale. William T. Scheld and Miss Nellie J. Glue, both of Salt Lake. William Trevino and Miss May A. McCormick, both of Park City. Ralph E. Pingree of Chicago and Miss Hazel H. Allen of Salt Lake. Kearney K. Stephenson, of Salt Lake, and Miss Winifred H. Marriott of Ogden. Arthur Halverson and Miss Elizabeth J. Pearce, both of Ogden. David M. Shaw and Miss Gwendolyn Williams, both of Ogden.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

HIGH WATERS CAUSE ALARM.

People living along the banks of the Ogden river are becoming alarmed over the high water. The rains of the latter part of last week brought the stream up beyond any previous mark this year. Saturday night the county bridge was in a dangerous condition. Commissioner Knowles got about five men and teams at work yesterday and put in several hundred loads of rock and gravel which has averted the danger for the present, but the bridge will be constantly watched. Road Supervisor Blanchard has had men constantly at work to protect the upper bridge leading to Providence bench.

The railroad bridge between here and Mendon is in such a condition that travel over it has been stopped. All trains are now going around the loop by way of Hyrum and Wellsview. Mrs. Jessie Mason of Plymouth was operated on at one of the hospitals in this city on Friday. She rallied nicely and is doing as well as her friends could anticipate.

Albert Hall of Hyde Park who was reported on for appendicitis on Saturday is getting along nicely. A young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Englund is suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

A son was born to Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Pack on Friday, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cheney yesterday.

DR. AND MRS. H. P. ENNIS.

Dr. H. P. Ennis and Miss Rieta Morrison took advantage of the excursion rate on Thursday and took a run down to Salt Lake. Upon their return yesterday they surprised their friends with the announcement that they were Mr. and Mrs. Ennis. They have a host of friends who congratulate them.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Charles F. Cunningham has filed suit in the first district court for divorce from Mary Cunningham on the ground of desertion. They were married in November, 1905. The plaintiff alleges that six months after their marriage his wife deserted him and has since refused to live with him.

W. G. Danielson left today with his family for Independence, Mo., where they expect to reside in the future.

W. B. Thatcher and his family have returned from Chicago where Mr. Thatcher has just completed a four years' course in dentistry, having with him his home in Thatcher or will in all probability locate in Logan.

LOGAN DEPARTMENT.

The "News" is delivered by carrier in Logan every night (Sunday excepted) at 25 cents per month. All payments and complaints regarding delivery should be made to F. A. Mitchell, Agent, Daily, Saturday and Semi-Weekly News, 405 E. Center Street, Phone 374 Independent.

What Matters It?

What matters it that thou art far away. That hands and lips no longer meet, nor eyes. With silent speech wax eloquent, nor sighs. Of understanding greet each new-born day. No loneliness can e'er my heart dismay. No heaviness upon my spirit lie. Thy tender thought forever shall be nigh. Entangling in its sympathy my way. Since I have learned thee every look and tone. What needs thy presence here for speech with thee? Like white-winged gulls from out a stormy sea. I'll come to thee whenever thou art alone. In nighttime stillness or in noonday glow. My soul shall call thine, and thy soul shall know. — Edna St. John.

His Many Meanings.

"The hiss," said an actor, "does not only mean disgust and reprobation. In Japan, for instance, it means delight. A Japanese, in greeting you, hisses."

"In West Africa the hiss denotes astonishment. There I would hiss if you should say we back that loan I made you last month."

"In the New Hebrides they hiss before anything beautiful. Do you see the large turkey in front of that shop? Well, a New Hebridean, beholding it, would hiss."

"The Basutos hiss in sign of cordial agreement. When a candidate for office secures a point, a hiss from the Basuto audience is his reward."

"Among the Kabyles the hiss denotes satisfaction and contentment. At the end of the dinner that I propose to eat on Christmas day, I would, were I a Kabyle, lean back in my chair, loosen my waistcoat, and hiss loud and long."

Countess Becomes Cab Driver.

Four more cabwomen were granted certificates of ability today, among them being the Countess du Pin de la Guerniere, who is divorced from the count.

Mme. Duffaut and Mlle. Charnier, who were licensed some time ago, did their first day's work yesterday, and were overwhelmed with fares. A large crowd cheered them as they left the news in the Avenue de la Republique, and there was a tremendous rush of people anxious to get the first ride.

Many witticisms were shouted at the women as they drove through the main thoroughfares, but they stuck to their work and were highly satisfied with the day's results.—Paris Correspondence London Express.

Strange, But True.

The woman stopped the streetcar just where it ought to stop. She didn't catch it moving. Nor did her bundles drop. She took her time when leaving. And stepped off frontwards, too. This story is a strange one. But just the same, it's true. — Boston Herald.

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1847.

At half past 5 o'clock a. m., the thermometer stood at 47.5 degrees. The weather was calm and clear, with considerable dew. The pioneers traveled seven and one-half miles and halted for noon, latitude 42 degrees 51 minutes and 41 seconds. In the afternoon they traveled four miles, which brought them to the place where the Oregon road crossed the Platte, being 124 miles from Fort Laramie. The Platte at this place was usually forded, but when the pioneers approached it was quite high. The channel had about 15 feet depth of water in it, and the water was about 100 yards wide. Here the company voted one of the foremost companies of the Oregon emigrants. Three days before they had sent a small detachment of their camp in advance to this place; they arrived about four hours before any of the emigrants, and having a skill of sole leather that would carry 1,500 or 1,800 pounds, they were employed to ferry the emigrants over, carrying their goods in the skiff, and swimming the empty wagons, which were frequently whirled several times over by the force of the current. These emigrants paid the pioneers

$1.50 for each wagon and load, in cash at $2.50 per 100 pounds; yet four was worth $10 per hundred, at least at that point. They divided their earnings among the members of the camp equally. Which amounted to five and a half pounds of flour each, two pounds of meat and a small piece of bacon. "It looked as much a miracle to me," writes Wilford Woodruff, "to see our flour and meat bags replenished in the Black hills, as it did to have the children of Israel fed with manna in the wilderness. But the Lord had been truly with us on our journey, and had wonderfully blessed and preserved us."

These little stores of flour were supposed to have saved the lives of some of the pioneers, for they were by this time entirely destitute of the staff of life. A few miles from the ferry the hunters succeeded in killing three buffaloes and two antelopes, the meat of which was divided among the different messes or companies as usual. The hunters also killed a grizzly bear and three cubs. Bears were quite numerous on the Black hills at that time. After leaving Fort Laramie the hunters killed a number of antelopes every day.
