

MRS. MARY JUDGE CALLED BEYOND

After Many Years of Suffering, Final Summons Comes Early This Morning.

SHE LEAVES A LARGE ESTATE

Holdings Valued at $3,000,000 in the Hands of the Judge Company, Incorporated.

Death laid his kind hands on the tired eyes of Mrs. Mary Judge this morning, and her soul, lightened of its heavy burden of misery and pain, set out with glad feet over the long trail that leads from the haunts of men.

The end came at 3:15 o'clock, at her home, 127 east South Temple street.
Loving hands soothed her last hours.
Her son, J. Frank Judge, and daughter, Miss Kathryn Judge, were by her side when the light failed.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, pending word from Mrs. Judge's other two daughters, Mrs.
T. A. Baldwin of Fort Wayne, Mich.

MRS. MARY JUDGE.

and Mrs. J. E. Woodward of Governor's Island, N. Y. Interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery. Although friends of the family have suggested that the funeral be public, and that it be a state affair held from St. Mary's cathedral, owing to the wide nature of Mrs. Judge's influence and acquaintance, it is probable that the last ad-vicer will be purely private, by wish of her son. The body is being cared for by E. O. O'Donnell & Co.

Mrs. Judge had suffered several attacks from heart disease, the cause lying in hardening of the arterial walls.
She was quite ill two years ago. Less than a year ago, she went to California for health, and returned apparently greatly benefited. But the malady seemed to be constitutional, and gradually but steadily made inroads on the patient's health. Although Mrs. Judge enjoyed the summer without a reminder of her old ailment, the last attack, which proved fatal, set in about two weeks ago, since when she speedily declined. She was attended by Dr. A. J.
Hosmer, and other heart specialists, but her condition was beyond hope of medical aid.

FIVE CHILDREN SURVIVE.
Mrs. Judge was born 58 years ago, on April 19, 1841, in Alexandria, Canada, near Montreal, where her parents, James and Elizabeth Fay Harney, both of whom were born in Ireland, had removed shortly before her birth to New York. The family soon after her return to New York. She married John Judge at Fort Henry, in northern New York, in 1867, at the age of 26 years. Mr. Judge moved to Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Judge came here a little later, in 1881. Mrs. Judge died here about 17 years ago.

Mrs. Judge is survived by five children, as follows: Mrs. W. M. O'Brien, of 48 G street, Salt Lake City; Mrs. T.

In regard to such matters, it is known, however, that she was a prime mover in the successful building of St. Mary's cathedral, and she extended every material aid to Bishop Lawrence Scanlan in the work in the diocese.

Mrs. Judge might be said to have been purely masculine in her dealings with the outside world. But in her home and family relations, and among her friends, she showed a different side and was sweet as summer.

Perhaps the greatest disappointment of her broad life was the pathetic failure of the Judge-Miners' Home, which she built seven years ago on the east bank at a cost of $125,000, for the building and furnishing of the home was to have been run in connection with a hospital. It was Mrs. Judge's fond dream to establish a great home for broken down, old, indigent miners.
The funds of the home's fortune lay in the mines of Utah, and she had a warm spot in her heart for the miners.
But though the gift was tendered in the kindest spirit, it was not so received.
The miners seemed to be repelled by the idea of the ordinary, charitable institution. It was suggested to Mrs.
Judge that she change from her initial idea of a miners' home to a grand scheme whereby a great plan of the home should be laid out, in which every old miner could have a separate little home, with a few acres for his support, in which he could take an active interest. Mrs. Judge, however, never developed this plan, though it is said among her friends that she contemplated the prosecution of a big establishment on this line.

ESTATE HAS INCREASED.

The Judge fortune was laid in approximately 50,000 shares of Silver King mining stock, years ago, by John Judge.
His widow simply applied the steadily growing increment, until today the whole estate represents a total value approximating $3,000,000.

Mrs. Judge, it is said, did not have a will drawn up by her real estate interests and vast property holdings. If an instrument is filed for probate, it will probably only relate to personal effects, and no formal distribution of the estate will be necessary, as all of her holdings were incorporated, March 6, 1908. In the Judge company, under the laws of Arizona, the papers having been filed in duplicate in the office of the secretary of the State of Utah. The directors named at the head of the Judge company were Mrs. Mary Judge, W. J. Halloran, J. Frank Judge, Mrs.
Elizabeth P. O'Brien, Mrs. Kathryn Judge was president, treasurer and a director of the company, and its temporary head, William J. Halloran was vice president. J. Frank Judge was secretary.

INCLUDES VALUABLE HOLDINGS.

The Judge estate includes the following properties: Judge building, corner of Third South and Main streets, valued at $500,000; the R. K. Thomas building, 67-69 south Main street, building at 121-123 south Main street; Charlton building, 249-253 south Main street; building at 257-269 south Main street; building just east of the Cullen hotel, the Cullen annex, 19-25 west Second South street; building at 254-26 south Main street; Reynolds building, 255-259 south Main street; building occupied by the Eved Furniture company, 32-36 east Third South street; building occupied by the Greenwald Furniture company, 33-35 west Third South street; a wide front age of real estate, with small stores running from 129 to 135 in east Second South street; besides a large number of valuable lots and dwellings in the residence districts of Salt Lake City.

Among the public benefactions of Mrs. Judge was a donation of $10,000 toward the Y. M. C. A. building fund.
Among the most important holdings of the Judge estate are a number of undeveloped patented mining properties in White Pine county, Nev., which, it is anticipated, will develop into great operative mines.

MURDER CASE DRAGS ALONG.

Another Dispute Between Interceptors Occupies Morning Session.

In the murder trial of John Kothias this morning another dispute arose over the interpretation of evidence. The jury was excused and John Pusey, a witness was recalled and examined as to his testimony. The evidence which he gave this morning conflicted with the testimony given in the preliminary examination. Judge Lewis finally succeeded in getting the testimony straightened out and the case will be resumed this afternoon before the jury.

BURL ARMSTRONG ARRESTED.

Former Manager of Hot Springs Charged With Embezzlement.

Burl Armstrong, formerly manager of the Utah Sanitarium company at Hot Springs, Boxelder county, was arrested about 11 o'clock Sunday night on the charge of embezzlement. In the information, he is charged with having embezzled $125.00 from the sanitarium company. Armstrong was released on his own recognizance after a talk with Sheriff Joseph Sharp had a talk with Sheriff Joseph Sharp of Boxelder county over the telephone. Armstrong denies that there is any ground for the charge of embezzlement. He gave a bond of $100 this morning and went to Hot Springs, Boxelder county, to appear in court.

MRS. MAY GETS DIVORCE.

Decree Awarded by Judge Armstrong In District Court Today.

Miss Alice E. May was granted a divorce this morning by Judge George G. Armstrong from Luther M. May on the ground of habitual drunkenness.
May is the proprietor of a drug store at 301 east Second South street. She was awarded the custody of their daughter, 10 years old, given the household furniture and half of the proceeds of the drug store.

They were married here on April 3, 1882. For the last three years, Mrs.
May declares that her husband had squandered his money for liquor and has failed to provide properly for her.

FERRIS WANTS HIS MONEY.

W. C. Ferris, a civil engineer, filed suit in the city court today to recover $20 for services rendered to H. L. Sawyer, an inventor. Sawyer has invented a new oil and fuel pump. Ferris was employed to find the strength of it. After he made the tests and figured it out, he charged that Sawyer refused to pay him.

SUIT ON NOTE.

H. B. Smith filed suit in the Third district court this morning against O.
N. Parsons to recover $48.00 which was assigned to Smith by James E. Shaw.
As collateral security Parsons gave $50.00 shares of the Iowa-Utah Mining & Milling company. The debt was contracted on Oct. 2, 1909.

LINE FROM GULF TO PUGET SOUND

Burlington Operations in Wyoming Show Purpose of Hill Road.

WELLINGTON-CHEYENNE LINK

Connection Between Orin Junction
And Kirby Will Complete Strategic Move.

(Special to The News.)

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 8.—The operations of the Burlington in this vicinity confirm recent reports to the effect that the company is soon to build the Wellington-Cheyenne link of the Colorado & Southern, and thus connect, through Cheyenne, the Cheyenne & Northern branch between this place and Orin Junction, with the Gulf lines, and eventually connect up between Orin Junction and Kirby, thus giving this company a through line from the Gulf of Mexico to the Puget sound country.

It is stated that land has been secured for shop sites north of the city, and that the Burlington will reconstruct its Cheyenne & Northern between this city and Chugwater, and will enter Cheyenne from the east instead of from the west as at present.
The line Cheyenne to Ft. Russell will be maintained, but as the proposed cut-off-Chugwater to Cheyenne, skirts the eastern edge of the military post, a new passenger depot will be constructed there. This cut-off will save over 20 miles between Cheyenne and Orin Junction, and will avoid the troublesome grades and bridges through the Crow creek valley. It is expected work on the numerous lines in and out of Cheyenne to the south and west will begin in the spring, the surveys having been completed.

UNPRECEDENTED ORDERS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—More car orders are soon to be placed by the Pennsylvania company for the lines west. Inquiries sent out last week have come to the car building companies for 5,000 new steel cars of the standard type, 100,000 pounds capacity, for delivery next year. This inquiry is in addition to the 10,000 cars of the "battleship" type on which car companies are bidding.

The Pennsylvania company now has under consideration a total of 1,000 steel cars for 1910 delivery valued at about $18,000,000. In connection with the new 5,000 car order, the railroad is asking for specifications that include steel wheels for that lot of cars. The big order for "battleship" cars with a carrying capacity of 77 tons each will also include all steel wheels, as it is the use of these wheels that makes the larger cars possible. The railroad officials stated yesterday that all told the Pennsylvania would probably be in the market for 125,000 steel wheels in 1910 for freight cars alone.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The Mountain View Hot Springs company of Richfield filed its articles of incorporation this morning with the secretary of state. The concern has a capital stock of $200,000 divided into shares of $25 each. Of this amount 4,000 shares have been set aside as treasury stock.
The officers of the company are: J. M.
Rickett, president; John P. Chidister, vice-president; Clara Panscott, secretary. These officers and Andrew Paulson, B. F. Bichel and L. Nielson form the board of directors. The company has purchased a tract of land in Sevier county from Thomas Cooper and the springs on the property will be developed.

TO DISCUSS FLAX GROWING.

A meeting will be held in the Fifth ward meeting house next Thursday evening, to discuss the cultivation of flax. In this connection it is of interest to note that E. A. Wilde, the Toome brothers of Coalville, T. L.
Beach and Edward Mills of Coalville, have promised to sow 40 acres of flax in Morgan county.

DEATH OF MRS. W. H. RICKETTS

After an illness of more than two years, during which time she was unable to leave her bed of illness, Mrs.
W. H. Ricketts, a widely known and respected woman of Salt Lake City, died at her home 354 west Sixth South street Friday noon. A complication of diseases caused her demise. Mrs.
Ricketts was the mother of Mrs.
James E. Mulloy and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ricketts, and two sons.
Mrs. Ricketts was 56 years of age and came to Utah about 31 years ago from Bristol, England. She was a woman of inveterate deposition and had many friends here.
The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at St. Paul's church.

REGISTRATION FEE RAISED.

There have been a number of new rules and regulations made which will have to be observed by the users of the mails, and this is particularly true of those who depend largely upon them for sending holiday presents. The weight limits are much more liberal, but the fee for registration has been advanced from 8 to 10 cents. Packages not properly wrapped will not be received, while rates to a number of foreign countries have been reduced.

WANTS NEW FRANCHISE.

Saltair Road Asks County Commissioners to Electrify Line.

The Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company petitioned the county commissioners this morning asking for an electric line franchise from the city limits to Saltair. The railroad company was granted a franchise for a double track by the city council inside the city limits. The franchise asked for by the railroad company in the county is identical with that granted in the city. The franchise was referred to the committee on roads and bridges and the commissioners will accompany the railroad officials over the proposed route in the near future.

Miss Dora Iverson was appointed by Mrs. Margaret Kane Witcher, county clerk, as a regular stenographer in the clerk's office at a salary of $65 a month, and Miss Vera Hodge was appointed as a copyist in the same office at $25 a month. The commissioners approved both appointments.

OGDEN MAKES BIG OFFER FOR FIGHT

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 8.—Jimmie Dunn, on behalf of a local syndicate, has sent telegrams to James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson, offering a purse of $50,000 for the fight in this city during the National Woodworkers' association and live stock show, to be held Jan. 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1910.

COURT NEWS

AFTER POOLROOM PROPRIETOR.

Gust Poules was charged Saturday in a complaint issued by the county attorney with contributing to the delinquency of minors. Poules conducts a pool room at Second South and Commercial streets and has been arrested before for the same offense. Probation Officer Charles S. Sperry swore to the complaint against Poules, charging him with allowing Abe Murdoch, aged 16 years, and Dan Beck, aged 15 years, to frequent the place.

REHEARING FOR DEFENDANT.

In an opinion handed down by the supreme court Saturday, a rehearing of the case of Mrs. Mary R. Schuyler and others by John M. Forristall, guardian ad litem, against the Southern Pacific was granted to the railway company.
Mrs. Schuyler obtained a verdict of $9,- 000 in the second district court against the railroad company for the death of her husband, Albert Schuyler, who was killed Jan. 14, 1907. He was killed while riding in a mail car.

JUDGE MORRIS HERE.

Judge Page Morris, on the district bench for Minnesota and residing at Duluth, arrived in Salt Lake last night and took Judge Marshall's place on the district bench this morning. He will fill the place until the return of Judge Marshall from Oklahoma.

TEMPORARY ORDER ISSUED.

A temporary restraining order was issued by Judge T. D. Lewis on Saturday in the case of J. A. Heath et al. against G. F. Hedges and T. Masuya, prohibiting the defendants from removing some improvements made by them on the Salt Palace grounds which they had leased from the plaintiffs. The bond on the injunction was fixed at $500.
The lease provided that all improvements should be left on the grounds. It is alleged that the Japanese attempted to take away the stand which they had built for their concession.

EXEMPT FROM EXECUTION.

The money derived from the sale of the homestead of a judgment debtor is exempt from execution, according to a decision handed down Saturday by Judge J. J. Whitaker in the city court in the case of Jens S. Hansen against Michael Maus of Murray. Maus levied by execution upon $1,000 cash in the hands of P. C. Hansen, belonging to Hansen, in order to satisfy a judgment rendered against Hansen in favor of the Miller-Caboon company. Judge Whitaker held that the money was exempt and rendered judgment against Maus for $252 and costs, amounting to $4.

IN THE U. S. COURTS.

The federal court today is busily engaged in obtaining grand and trial juries. It is thought that the panels subpoenaed will yield the necessary numbers and it is expected that the actual work of the session will commence tomorrow.

The first case on the federal docket is that of Allison A. George, charged with stealing cattle from the Utah reservation. This is a holdover case from the spring term of court, when an
