Negotiations are now pending by which Baroa Rothschild may secure the services of O'Connor at a very liberal salary, but there is nothing definite yet. O'Connor has been under contract for the past two seasons to Mr. Feather-stone, who is a great admirer of the boy's ability in the saddle. He likes O'Connor personally, and was always ready to pat htm on the back for his good efforts in races. During the early part of the present season the indications were that the

some excuse for withdrawing the horse from the race. He was good for only one heat. He wouldn't stand training, and from the race. He was good for only one heat. He wouldn't stand training, and Tom Marsh and the second trainer knew that. He has a bad tendon. He was lame and that's all there is to it." Horsemen generally will regret the breaking down of Boralma. Mr. Law-son had the gelding overrated, accord-ing to general beilef, but that in many respects he was a wonderful trotter all are free to admit. Boralma was trained and raced as a 2-year-old and has been and raced as a 2-year-old and has been steadily in racing condition ever since As a colt he was undoubtedly given a tremendous amount of drilling, and this, with the preparation he has been given year after year, has at last told on him. That he stood up as long as he did is remarkable. On the other hand, did is remarkable. On the other hand, the horse to defeat him in his last three races had none of the severe work as a youngster that fell to the lot of the Bos-ton horse. As a colt Boralma was lucky after he passed that age he did not have the usual run of luck that a win-ning horse should have. Those who op-pose the racing of colts will find armu-ments in Boralma's downfail to support their contention. While he did not have many races in his 2 and 2-year-old many races in his 2 and 2-year-old form, all familia, with the history of the young Borcals will admit that Bor-alma's drifting must have been severe.

TERRY M'GOVERN'S OPINION.

He Reviews Some of the Top Notches In Fistic Game,

In the following interview Terry Mc Govern gives his impressions and est mates of the top-notch lighters. It is interesting, as it shows one fighter's measure of the knights of the gloves: To begin with," said McGovern, think that Flizzimmons is one of the greatest fighters in the world. He is my ideal of a lighter. He is an old man, but at that I don't think there is a man in the world who has a chance with in the world who has a chance with him in a six-round bout. That, I think, is his limit. "I believe he could come pretty near beating Jeffries if he went in to do the trick in six rounds. That would be his only chance with the big fellow. 'As for Jeffries, to be candid, it appears to me that he is in a class by him-self. His strength and weight are too seif. His strength and weight are too much for any of the present heavies. "Sharkey came very near being a great fighter. As for gameness and will-ingness, Sharkey has no superior, but, unfortunately, he lacks two of the most essential qualifications of the boxer --coolness and science. Since his defeat at the hands of Jeffries, Sharkey has gone down the line. He has been beaten by Euroimmons and Eublin has taken Fitzsimmons and Ruhlin has taken his measure twice. "It is too bad that McCoy didn't pos-sess more weight. He has the punch and as a ring general it is doubtful if he has an equal.

honors. He came very near taking Sharkey's measure when the latter was at his best. One noticeable thing about McCoy's style is that he can use both hands most effectively and as a hard puncher he can be closely compared with Fitzsimmons.

"Jini Corbett is the superior of them all when it comes to science, but the former champion has not the hitting power behind his lightning-like deliv-ery. Give Corbett Fitzsimmons' punch and he would be the world's champion heavywalcht today.

heavyweight today, "Tommy Ryan is a great man at his weight and is a fine example of the model puglist. Although in the boxing game 16 years. Ryan is today as good as can be found in the middleweight class. He is a finished boxer in every sense of the word, and not a bad matchmaker by any means. He has taken good care of himself during his ring career, and when he put Carter out recently he surprised even the most con-servative."

$100,000 in One Day John A. Drake, the Chicago millionare who has made such a success with his horses on the eastern tracks, threatens to "guilt the turf" unless some of the sensational New York papers stop publishing false accounts regarding his enormous winnings. It is true that Mr. Drake has won a great deal of money on the turf, but not near the sum that is claimed for him. The other sum that is claimed for him. The other day, as an example, after four of his horses had crossed under the wire in front of their field it was claimed he left the track between $75,000 and $100,-000 winner. In order to stop such ra-mors Mr. Drake made a public state-ment of his transactions for the day, which shows he won just $18,955. They were as follows:

$500 on Charlie Grainger to win at 7 to 1.....$ 3,509 $560 on Charlie Grainger "to show" 800 $1,000 on Miller stable to wint at 51/2 to 1..... $1.000 on Miller stable "to show" at 5,500 $2,000 on South Timble to wint at odds..... 6,755
