MONEY saved is money earned, and any one using Duryeas' famous "Satin Gloss Starch" and Duryeas' "Improved Corn Starch" will save money. It is snow white, perfectly pure, and the strongest made, therefore the cheapest. Ask your grocer for Duryeas' "Satin Gloss Starch" for the laundry, and "Improved Corn Starch" for culinary purposes, and see that you get it. "Duryeas'" on every package.

Reliable Testimony.—I am using Duryeas' "Satin Gloss Starch" in my laundry, and have become satisfied that it is not excelled by any other starch now in use. It is very pure and white, giving a beautiful finish to the linen.

Hugh White vs. John Crawford; judgment for plaintiff.

Charles Lorintz vs. L. B. Kinney; judgment of justice reversed.

P. Edward Connor vs. H. S. Jacobs et al; motion to discharge attachment; decision reserved till to-morrow.

Big Boot.—The Workingmen's Co-operative Association have just had painted, at Midgeley's paint shop, a sign, in the shape of a mammoth boot, ten feet high. On both sides of the upper portion of it are three gilt bees, emblematical of industry, and the initials of the Association. It was to be placed in position, in front of the premises, Mr. D. Greenig's new building, some time to-day or to-morrow.

Those who are identified with the W. C. A. feel encouraged, as business keeps increasing with them almost daily.

A Brute.—The other evening as a respectable young lady was walking along in the 14th Ward, on her way to her home, in the lower part of the City, she was grossly insulted by a brute in human shape. Some of these scoundrels will get an impressive lesson taught them one of these times.

We reiterate our often repeated advice for ladies not to go out after dusk without being protected, unless absolutely compelled to. There is too much "civilization" running loose now-a-nights for the safety of womankind.

Theatre.—Miss Annie Graham's "Pauline," in the "Lady of Lyons," last night was an artistic and excellent performance. The lady really deserved the hearty sympathy of the audience on account of the continued indisposition of Mr. Sawtelle preventing him from supporting her in the role of "Claude Melnotte." On brief notice Mr. John Lindsay assumed the character of "Claude," a part for which he is not well suited, and therefore criticism of his impersonation is out of place. Messrs. Vinson, Crosbie and Thorne, and others of the company, played in their usual able manner. But Miss Graham strove with great energy and admirable determination to make the entertainment a success, which it was so far as she was concerned, the audience testifying their recognition of her extraordinary exertions and excellent acting by calling her before the curtain.

This evening two favorite pieces will be presented—the petite play of "Time Tries All," and the beautiful domestic drama of "Kathleen Mavourneen." In the former, Miss Cogswell appears as "Fanny Fact," Miss Adams as "Laura Lesson," Mr. Sawtelle as "Matthew Bates," Mr. Thorne as "Mr. Lesson." In the latter Miss Walters appears as "Kathleen," Miss Cogswell as "Miss Dorothy," Mrs. Crosbie as "Kitty," Mrs. Douglas as "Meg," Mr. Crosbie as "Terence O'Moore," Mr. Vinson as "Father O'Cassidy," and Mr. Thorne as "Bernard Kavanaugh."

To-morrow evening, for the benefit of Miss Adams, a new play, by Bentham Fabian, Esq., written expressly for the lady, and entitled, Elzina, the Cuban Heiress," will be presented for the first time on any stage, with other entertainments.

Shame!—There is every reason to believe, if the present rate of progress in the matter of shams and shoddy be continued here, that Salt Lake will soon equal any other part of America in that particular. It is time, however, that people learned not to be "caught with chaff," in the matter of public catch-pennies, with which the community had been flooded for the past year or two. Adventurers have come here without number, "sand-bents," who have done nothing but scheme and fish about for some speculation on which to "make a raise." When an idea is struck by him, the speculator, or his friends, who probably expect to share in the prospective profits of the speculation, at once, as a general rule, ask the aid of prominent men" to assist them in "selling" the public by affixing their names to a powerful request for the talented(?) "dead beat" to deliver some great lecture.

There are cases where such a manner of procedure might be justifiable, providing always that the solicitations be genuine, coming freely from the solicitors as an appreciation of real, not supposed or imaginary, merit.

In the matter of lectures got up on canvassed solicitations for delivery, as a general rule it may be said of those who attend them, "Blessed are they who do not expect much, for they are not likely to get disappointed."

People should seek more after the genuine and the real, and less after the flimsy and transparent. A good deal of common sense and infinitesimal doses, if any at all, of "spread-eagleism" will do considerable towards the abolishment of the sham and humbug nuisance.

Bender Gone.—This morning officer B. Y. Hampton left this city for Topeka, taking with him old man Bender. Mr. Hampton is not accompanied by any other officer, so that he will not have a very comfortable time until he reaches his destination. If he sleeps he will, figuratively speaking, have to do it with one eye and one ear open, as the old man would be likely to take desperate chances if he had the least opportunity, for if he be the veritable Bender, which is now almost beyond doubt, he must be aware that his doom is sealed anyhow.

From the time that he was told that he had been identified from his portrait, in Kansas, to the time of his leaving, he maintained a persistent, dogged silence, refusing to answer any questions that were put to him.

Elzina, The Cuban Heiress.—The following is a synopsis of this play, which will be presented to-morrow evening for the benefit of Miss Adams. The scene is laid in Cuba, and the date is 1873. Col. W. A. Ryan, formerly an officer in the Confederate army during the rebellion in this country, and afterwards a well known miner in Montana, tenders his services to Don Carlos Cespedes, President of the Cuban Liberators. Ryan is placed in command of a small but daring band of Liberators. Ryan acts as a spy, enters the lines of the Spanish General Valmaseda, makes important discoveries, during which he has some hair-breath escapes. He is betrothed to Elzina, orphan daughter of Don Francis Salarza. She renders timely aid to Ryan and the Liberating arms. After a severe engagement between the Spanish and Liberal troops, the latter are defeated, and the ringleaders, among whom are Ryan and Cespedes, are taken prisoners and ordered to be shot. The execution takes place with great military pomp and display in a public Plaza. Elzina enters the Plaza in great haste, as the word "fire" is given, and, heedless of the command, rushes up to Ryan, and receives a mortal wound at the same time as her lover, thus sacrificing her life at the shrine of strong affection and devotion.

Fire Signals.—The inability of people generally to tell in which direction a fire is located in this city, as indicated yesterday, implies an ignorance on the part of the public as to the signals used by the Fire Brigade to indicate particular directions. We therefore republish them.

For north, one decided stroke; south, two decided strokes; east, three; west, four.

For north-east, one decided stroke and three separate ones; north-west, one stroke and four separate from it; south-east, two distinct strokes and three separate; south-west, two strokes and four separate from them.

Between the intervals of the giving of any of these signals each time there is a sharp continuous ringing, as a fire alarm. In case of fire in the more immediate vicinity of the City Hall, the alarm is a quick, sharp, continuous ring. The City Hall is the initiatory point for the signals.

Those signals can be readily retained in the mind, as the point of commencement is North, following up through eight points of the compass.

The Wasatch company have also an alarm bell, at their engine house on South Temple Street, 12th Ward.

Curiosities.—To-day we were shown some curiosities in the shape of naturally formed marbles from the south. They are perfectly round and solid, and are to be found, of various sizes, in large numbers in the locality where the specimens came from, a few miles east of Cove Creek, where there is an extinct volcano. It is believed that their formation was caused by the material of which they are composed being thrown out of the volcano in the form of lava, and dropping into water, thus receiving their spherical shape in the same way as shot is manufactured. Their complete roundness certainly makes them interesting natural curiosities. They are hard volcanic rock.

Handy.—There was exhibited, in front of Scott, Dunham & Co's., East Temple street, to-day a diminutive, portable blacksmith's forge. The whole thing occupies a very small space, is quite light, and is only about four feet high. The necessary draft to blow the fire up is obtained by turning a handle which causes currents of air to pass through a perforated plate on which the coals are laid. It is a Pennsylvania invention, and is said to be exceedingly handy for use in mining camps.
