released their hold.

Among the many pathetic incidents seen on every hand was one witnessed in front of the Wilson hotel Wednesday There have been scores of meetings after being apart for years, hundreds of friends have been brought together after not knowing the whereabouts of each other for many a long day, but when two old comrades met yesterday it was touching. "Howdy comrade,' said one grizzled veteran as he extend said one grizzled veteran as he extend-ed his hand. Then there was the usual questions of "ar'n't you so and so." In-cident followed incident and still the men held each other hands. They laughed, talked and cried, but still they held on. It was only when their emotions had overcome them that they released their held.

I then got in touch with them and informed them that this Johnny' was running for office. I told them that one of them must have got his arm and it would be kind of them to help him out. He received the largest vote of any man on his ticket and he is still holding office as the best assessor the county ever had."

MUSIC IN THE AIR.

The appearance of the fife and drum corps, veterans of the Civil war, on the streets is one of the most pathetic the streets is one of the most pathetic and interesting features of the en-campment. Their martial music carries the mind of every listener back to the days of the Civil war when these same airs stirred the patriotic fire in the hearts of the youth of the land and rallied so many to the defense of the afig.

afig. The industrial school band marched up South Temple street this morning, in full uniform, 28 playing musicians, and 15 trumpters, and led by a darkle boy as drum major wearing the orthodox shako. The boys did well and presented on avcellent appearance.

an excellent appearance. Held's band gave a fine concert yester-day afternoon in the Knutsford hotel lobby which was much appreciated by the many veterans who listened.

DR. ILIFF THAWS OUT.

Rev. Dr. Iliff was an enthusiastic nember of the James B. McKean post was right in his element with his old comrades. He said to a "News" reporter who shook hands with him: "I have only who shook hands with him: "I have only the kindlest feelings toward the Mor-mon people." The McKean post was one of the best appearing organizations in the parade; neat in dress, good in marching. Col. Page was with them, and although 73 years old, he didn't look over 55. and seemed as full of energy as he did when under Sheridan.

A meeting of more than usual warmth took place at the Oregon Short Line depot this morning when Councilman L. depot this morning when Councilman L. D. Martin, greeted his mother, whom he has visied with but one hour in 18 years. Mrs. C. M. Sopher, the mother, arrived from Lincoln. Neb., at 8:10 o'clock this morning and is paying her first visit to Utah. Three years ago Mr. Martin was able to visit his mother shout an hour between trains and that Mr. Martin was able to Visit his mother about an hour between trains and that was the first time he had seen her for 15 years. During her stay here Mr. Martin declares he is going to show her the state and that when she leaves she will be a loyal booster for Utah.

HAYSEM'S FALL.

Charles W. Haysem came to gricf yesterday when, after finding two railread tickets lost by a veteran, he at-tempted to secure $10 for their return. He got the $10-but only for a minute, Chief of Detectives Sheets kindly ad-vanceing the money, only to reclaim it and the man too. The tickets were the percent of Mrs and Mrs W C there property of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ber-nard of Iowa, and were lost at Saltair Monday afternoon. Haycom found them, and noting the address of Hay-sem as the Kenyon hotel, called there with the offer to return them for a consideration of $10. The police were notified and Haysem fell into Chief Sheats' trapnet.

said the cardinal to the newspaper men. "I am too tired to extend my greetings to the people of Utah in the manner I wish. I will be here for several days, so I can discuss matters with the news-paper boys then. I am too tired now, please excuse me.

Plans for Cardinal Gibbons' entertain-ment while in Utah have not been completed but during his stay he will be the guest of honor at several banquets. This evening a reception will be given in his honor at the Kearns' residence. The Knights of Columbus will also have him as their guest at a banquet given Sunday evening at the Commercial elub. The greatest work which Cardinal Gibbons will be called upon to perform during his stay here will be the dedi-cation of the St. Mary's Cathedral which will take place Sunday.

DEATH OF WILLIAM HODGE.

William Hodge, a faithful member of the Church, and for some years past a regular attendant in Salt Lake temple, died at $:30 a m. yesterday, at the residence of his son, Robert, in Pleasant Green. His death resulted from a stroke of paralysis, by which he was seized the pervious evening. Brother Hodge was born in Paisley, Renfrewshire, Scotland, Aug. 29, 1826. He joined the Church in Glasgow, being baptized there in August, 1851; and married Christina Henderson on the 29th of same month. He resided with his family, a number of years, in Liv-erpool, emigrating from there to Utah in 1863, locating in Willard, Boxelder county, where they remained until 1871, and then removed to this city and settled in the Sixteenth ward. He was well known, and esteemed, among the foundrymen here, being a skilled workman in that occupation. Three sons and two daughters survive him, Thomas A., William W., Robert H., Mrs. Mary H. Irvine and Mrs. Ellen H. Behring: one son and four daughters are dead. Awalting the arrival of his son, William W., from San Francisco, it is probable the funeral will be deferred until Sunday next, and it is expected that the services will be held in the Sixteenth ward chapel.
