

DAMAGE FOLLOWS WAKE OF STORM

Cloudbursts in Eastern Mountains Spread Floodwaters Over City.

STREET CAR LINES SUFFER.

Bingham Mining Camp Hard Hit—Houses Are Carried Down Stream And Several Animals Lost.

Cloudbursts in the mountains followed by a heavy rain which lasted for an hour yesterday afternoon wrought considerable damage in the eastern part of the city. Big Cottonwood, Little Cottonwood, Parley's canyon and Dry canyon were transformed into raging torrents which flooded the streets, washed out some of the street railway lines in the southeastern part of the city, deposited large boulders on the streets, covered the lawns with an inch of mud and filled the cellars with water. In Bingham and several other mining camps in the vicinity, the roads became river beds and in a number of places were washed out to a great depth. A singular feature of the storm was that hardly a drop of rain fell near the Hot Springs and beyond the St. Mark's hospital, but the surrounding country was drenched. As near as can be learned, no lives were lost, but several head of cattle were drowned in Bingham, barns, wagons, and outbuildings being washed away and buried under the debris.

The damage in Bingham is estimated at $50,000, while in Salt Lake it is estimated at $25,000. Most of the damage in the city was done to lawns and flower gardens. The Utah Light & Railroad company estimates its loss at $5,000.

IN WAKE OF CLOUDBURST.

Within a few minutes after the first bolts of thunder, a cloud burst in Dry canyon. In a few minutes a wall of water four feet high raced down the street, spreading out across Newhouse park and entering First, Second and Third avenues. Huge boulders were carried down with the stream and deposited in the street. The water spread over the lawns, covering them with mud, and filled the cellars. The gutters finally carried the water into South Temple street. A coat of debris was left on the street, and the debris was sunk a little below the level of the street and the cars were put out of commission. A gang of 25 men were immediately put to work, placing the tracks in condition again.

The water from Parley's canyon played havoc in the southeastern part of the city with the lawns and the street car tracks were undermined in a number of places, which impaired the service for an hour, until the worst places could be fixed.

IMPROVEMENTS DAMAGED.

On Second South and Twelfth East street, where P. J. Moran is making some extensive street improvements, considerable damage was done. Two flights of concrete steps were undermined, but it is possible that they can be saved. The water which flowed down Second South street, came from Red Butte canyon and raced across the university site, causing considerable damage to the lawns and other improvements.

HAVOC AT BINGHAM.

In upper Bingham there were two cloudbursts which caused considerable damage. The torrent rushed down both sides of the canyon, bringing trees, rocks and debris with it. The bank of water carried away several houses belonging to Louis King on the Boston Consolidated road. A house belonging to Lawrence Long and occupied by Austrians was carried down the stream. John Bogan lost two cows, several dogs and chickens and his horse belonging to the Clipper Grocery store was drowned and the wagon wrecked. The house of Dr. C. N. Ray was also damaged. A team employed by the Utah Apex Mercantile company was caught on the road by the flood. His team and wagon were carried down with the stream, and he narrowly escaped being injured.

WOMEN ARE RESCUED.

During the storm Deputy Sheriff James H. Hall, assisted by employees of the mines rescued several women who were in the houses along the canyon. They carried with them what clothes they could gather up and were taken to Bingham where they found shelter. The pleasure seekers in the mountains were drenched. Many camping parties were caught in cloudbursts and lost most of their things. A number of large boulders and debris came down the canyon by the wagonload, covering the streets, the interior of buildings and residences, and passed through the city to the grain and alfalfa fields beyond. In one instance, in the southeast part of the city, a lady was found in water and mud to her waist. She was holding a month-old babe in her arms and screaming for help. She was rescued by men who were passing by.

WOMAN AND BABE RESCUED FROM FLOOD

(Special to the "News.") Ephraim, Aug. 18.—This city today experienced one of the worst floods known in its history which caused much damage to the crops as well as the homes and business houses of the city. Large boulders and debris came down the canyon by the wagonload, covering the streets, the interior of buildings and residences, and passed through the city to the grain and alfalfa fields beyond. In one instance, in the southeast part of the city, a lady was found in water and mud to her waist. She was holding a month-old babe in her arms and screaming for help. She was rescued by men who were passing by.

The loss to the farmer as well as to the business man will amount to no small sum. This flood blocked the R. G. W. train from the north to this city until evening. The track was covered with several feet of mud and water. The R. G. W. from the south was also detained until midnight last night because of floods in Salina, Richfield and other small towns in Sevier county. The rains throughout this section have been exceptionally heavy the past few days and it is feared that the farmers will lose considerable grain and feedstuff. By night the water has lowered considerably, but the streets stand with mud for several inches deep on them.

SUN IS SHINING WHEN LIGHTNING STARTS AT OGDEN

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Aug. 18.—Ogden was visited by a peculiar thunder, lightning and rainstorm yesterday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 5. The afternoon was very warm and the sun was shining when the thunder started. A few minutes later the rain began to pour down and the sun was shining just as though there was no storm. There was no damage reported from the effects of the storm.

Saltair—every day a big day.

Frederick Neil Innes, Conductor of Innes' Orchestra Band.

Innes' Orchestra Band of New York, accompanied by several soloists who were engaged for the dedication of the Exposition at Saltair, will appear in a festival program at Saltair, commencing tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The Innes band has a unique reputation. No organization stands higher for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name of Innes has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art.

The Innes Band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsing, of tireless effort on the part of Innes himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the Band, and every man must pass a rigid examination before he is accepted as a member.

Innes' appointment as Director-in-Chief of the World's Fair now being held at Seattle, Wash., will add additional interest to his engagement here. This, and the fact that several vocal and instrumental artists of international fame will take part in the performances, promise to make the occasion a memorable one. Two concerts will be given daily.

The programs for the afternoon and evening concerts tomorrow include popular and classic numbers.

The soloists are Virginia Listemann, soprano; Mr. Geo. Hagel, cello, and Mr. John Kibutz, flute.

One of the features of the program is a humorous entitled "The Merry Widow," taking the waltz theme and handling it as it is, and as it might have been had it been written by Haydn, Verdi, Wagner and in ragtime style.

The return journey will begin Sunday morning, and the tour will reach Salt Lake Tuesday evening.

A side trip from Seattle to Victoria, B. C., has been arranged for at the cost of about $1 extra, a large steamer being chartered for the occasion.

AMUSEMENTS

Theater—Tonight will witness a very interesting event at the city's theater in the return of Mr. Dustin Farnum, and the production of his new play entitled, "Cameo Kirby."

Orpheum—The bill this week is meeting with unbounded favor and good audiences are in attendance nightly, in spite of the hot weather.

Colonial—"Corlanton" continues to grow in public favor and there was even talk of a third week, until it was found that the management of the house of the cast would not allow them to remain over. The engagement, therefore, will end on Saturday night.

Grand—Owing to the fact that the advance agent of "Girls" did not receive notice of the consolidation of the Shubert attractions at the Grand theater for this season, Manager A. G. B. will play three nights and Wednesday matinee, beginning Monday evening.

"Girls" by Clyde Fitch, with the firm name of Shubert's as producing manager, is a comedy that would compel "Sober Sue" to more than smile.

It is constructed along strictly original lines, and brimful of situations which will keep the audience laughing; and while this seems to be the author's objective point, he has not overlooked the sentimental or serious side.

"Girls" contains a pretty love plot—which is not disclosed until the end—that the interest does not lessen.

"Girls" is a tonic for all ages and a most profitable play for the whole-some lesson it teaches.

Bungalow—Miss Anna Cleveland, leading lady of the company, which is playing "The New Magdalen" at the Bungalow this week, has made a decided hit in the part of the Red Cross nurse whose story is told in this remarkable play.

The company will close its engagement here Saturday evening.

CHOLERA INFANTUM CURED.

"Somebody like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and diarrhea. I was told to give it a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in 15 minutes and she was entirely well. For sale by all druggists."

Report of Special Committee of Retail Merchants Association.

At a meeting of the Retail Merchants' association held last evening in the Auerbach building, the report of the special committee on prices during encampment week was submitted. The report showed that prices were not raised by any of the merchants, whether members of the association or not, but that on the contrary prices in some cases were reduced. In spite of the fact that an increase of one cent per pound was marked up on butter by the wholesalers, the retail price was continued at 35 cents. It was also stated that notice has been given of a further

BOISE MISSED IN CHOIR ITINERARY

Circumstances Make it Necessary to Cut Out Idaho Capital Concert. Date—Particulars of Journey.

The itinerary of the tabernacle choir during the 10 days the members of the organization will be away on the trip to the Seattle exposition and other points in the northwest, on account of circumstances, has been changed to cut out Boise, Idaho. It is desired that all friends who may be going notice this, as it will necessitate their packing enough food in their lunch baskets to last from Saturday night until Sunday night about 5 o'clock, at which time the choir special is expected to reach La Grande, Oregon.

The train, which will consist of eight Pullmans, a day coach and a baggage car, will leave Salt Lake City at 8 p. m. Saturday night. There will be no dinner on the train. On its arrival in Ogden another Pullman will probably be added.

Pursuing the journey north from Ogden the train will make short stops at Pocatello and at Nampa, Idaho, on the arrival of the choir at La Grande, arrangements for their food have been made by the people of La Grande, during the whole period of their stay from Sunday night until Monday night, when the journey to Portland will be resumed. While at La Grande a concert will be given. On reaching The Dalles, Tuesday morning, arrangements have been made for those who desire to go to Portland by steamer, for which an extra charge will be made.

The choir will reach Portland a little before noon Tuesday, and the afternoon will be spent by those who desire in taking a trolley ride to the Oaks resort. In the evening a concert will be given in the Baker theater, and immediately afterward the train will leave for Tacoma arriving there about daylight next morning. Excursions around the city will be the order of the day, ending with a concert in the Tacoma theater in the evening.

Early next morning, Aug. 24, which is Utah day at the exposition, the choir will reach Seattle by the 2:30 p. m. side-tracked within a few minutes' walk of the street car line leading to the exposition at the exposition grounds. The choir will give a concert at the auditorium at the exposition grounds. The return journey will begin Sunday morning, and the tour will reach Salt Lake Tuesday evening.

A side trip from Seattle to Victoria, B. C., has been arranged for at the cost of about $1 extra, a large steamer being chartered for the occasion.

The Agricultural College of Utah

The New Education for Men and Women

THE Agricultural College of Utah constitutes part of the public school system of the state. It comprises five different schools, the school of agriculture, the school of domestic science and arts, the school of commerce, the school of mechanic arts, and the school of general science; also the agricultural experiment station, which, while not providing directly for instructional work, is one of the most important departments of the institution, and the extension department, which carries the work of the college to the very doors of the people.

THE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture has ceased to be a vocation which tolerates the inefficient man. Agriculture has become a profession, most emphatically. The farmer today if he succeeds must know the special thing he is to do as well as any man. The farm has become the laboratory of the man with intelligence, industry and high purpose. The farm is taking back the greatest men of the nation.

The western states are developing thousands of happy, prosperous farmers. They are men who farm scientifically, they are specialists. They raise pure bred sheep, hogs or cattle or apples or peaches, or garden truck or what not. Whatever they do they do it on a business basis. The old unscientific or slovenly methods of the last century are gone for good. The Agricultural college trains men for success on the farm. The courses of instruction in agriculture include: Soils, farm crops, and farm management, seed judging, judging of market types of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, breed types, animal nutrition, principles of breeding and feeding, dairying, poultry work, insect pests; fruit growing, gardening, plant breeding; irrigation and drainage; veterinary science; plane surveying, farm mechanics, rural engineering, and road construction. These courses, with a liberal training in general science and literature, lead to a degree. Short, more practical courses are also given.

The college has a large number of graduates engaged in agricultural research, in state and national service. The government pays from $1,200 to $5,000 and more for work of this kind. The college could place many times the number of men it is now able to recommend.

THE NEW COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

The state is building at Logan the greatest college for women in the west. A new epoch in the educational career of the state will be inaugurated when the Agricultural college opens its doors next fall. Heretofore there has existed no adequate facilities for the thorough

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Annual Assembly Begins in This City Next Thursday.

The annual conference of the Methodist church in Utah will begin next Thursday week. In the First Methodist church of this city with Bishop Thomas F. Berry of Buffalo presiding. Twenty clergymen are expected to be in attendance. But few changes will be made, the most important being the transfer of Rev. D. M. Helmick from the Columbia River conference in the Coeur d'Alene country. Mr. Helmick has a ranch south of there in Idaho to which he will devote part of his time, and on Sept. 1, Mr. Helmick will go to Seattle for a visit, returning to Idaho later. They leave Salt Lake, where they have lived for six years, with the best wishes of many friends.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. F. J. Hill Drug Co. ("The Never Substitutors.")
