

DESERET EVENING NEWS

WEATHER REPORT.

Report at the local office of the weather bureau for the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today:

Barometer reading at 6 a. m. 35.55 inches. Temperature at 6 a. m. 40 degrees; maximum, 52; minimum, 40; mean, 46, which is 14 deg. below normal.

Deficiency of daily mean temperature since the first of the month, 99 degrees.

Deficiency of daily mean temperature since Jan. 1, 1903, 40 inches.

Precipitation for the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. 40 inches.

Precipitation since the first of the month, 2.89 inches, which is 1.47 inch above normal.

Deficiency in precipitation since Jan. 1, 1903, 1.10 inch.

Local forecasts for Salt Lake City and vicinity.

Partly cloudy and unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

FORECASTS TILL 6 P. M. TUESDAY.

For Utah: Forecast made at Denver, Colo.

Partly cloudy and warmer tonight and Tuesday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A storm area is central over New Mexico. Another area of low pressure over the Canadian northwest. High pressure over the North Pacific.

Scattered precipitation occurred over the middle and northern plateau regions, the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys, and the middle Rocky Mountain slope. Temperatures below normal throughout this entire section.

R. J. HYATT, Local Forecast Official.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURE

6 a. m. 40
7 a. m. 42
8 a. m. 45
9 a. m. 48
10 a. m. 50
11 a. m. 52
12 m. 54
1 p. m. 56
2 p. m. 58

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS.

THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

It is issued Mondays and Thursdays and contains all the cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Press club is the recipient from Harry Fisher of a fine photograph of City Creek canyon.

Charles V. Tracey, formerly a member of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, was buried yesterday from St. Mary's cathedral, where the services were conducted by Father Morris.

The Indian war veterans will meet tomorrow evening in the Thirteenth ward meetinghouse annex to receive tickets admitting them to the patriotic rally Friday on the occasion of the president's visit.

Lieut. H. A. Pearson of the U. S. A. left for the east Sunday after having spent some time with his parents at Draper. The lieutenant expects to be assigned to the Atlantic seaboard.

The G. A. R. posts and W. R. corps will attend St. Mark's cathedral tomorrow in a body, marching from the respective halls at 10:30 a. m. The dean will preach a memorial address.

Two cases of smallpox were reported to the board of health Saturday. The victims are Leonard and Lisle Brimley, aged 5 and 11 years respectively. They reside at 348 West Eighth street. The house was placed under quarantine.

Hevey Armstrong, formerly a section foreman, was found dead by the Union Pacific track near Evanston. The man had starved himself to death, having recently refused all offers of food and rest. Armstrong was 55 years old.

It was announced last evening in the First Presbyterian church in all probability the corner stone of the new church would be laid next Sunday afternoon. The "probability" was good because of the uncertainty of the weather, as should it rain the ceremony would have to be postponed for another day.

Dean Eddie preached yesterday morning on "Some Men of Olden Times" before the Grand Army of the Republic in St. Mark's cathedral. The speaker's point was the gratitude the nation owes the veterans of the civil war. The sermon was the courage, devotion and heroism displayed in that great struggle. A feature of the service was the playing of Kipling's recitation.

Plans for the new Packard library are now being prepared by an eastern architect, and it is believed that the site of the proposed building will be secured shortly in preparation for commencement of active operations. The site is immediately south of the Alta club on State street. Mr. Packard expects to expend over $75,000 on the building.

The management of Held's band has the contract for furnishing music for the season to the Salt Lake and will have 20 men playing for the race track at night, eight men for the local theater orchestra, six men as a dance orchestra, and a few as a Sunday open air concert. Mr. Held will make the music a feature of the resort.

There was a good attendance Friday night at the Ladies' Literary club, on the occasion of the Browning dramatic recital. Mrs. Frank C. Kelsey interpreted a few of the beautiful poems by Browning, including "Love Among the Pines," "The Last Ride Together," "The Youth and Art," "A Group of Lyrics," "Count Gismond," "The Patriot," "A Tale" and "The Vagabond." The musical part of the program was furnished by Mrs. Wetzel. Miss Clayton was the accompanist of the evening.

Sam Gilson, the well known old timer and mining man, will present President Roosevelt on his arrival here with a cane he carved himself, with a knife from native Utah cedar, the knots on the stock being carved into the likeness of some animal. A band of gold and silver has been placed around the walking stick. One-half is gold, with a star below marked "east." The other half is silver, with the attached star marked "west." On the band is the inscription given above. In the wood is carved on one side the shield of Utah and on the other the shield of the United States.

We pay 4 per cent interest per annum on all deposits. Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co., Joseph F. Smith, President, George M. Cannon, Cashier.

DIAMOND COAL. 51 W. 2ND SO.

THE NEW ELWORTH EUROPEAN HOTEL, SALT LAKE CITY

200 rooms, 60 with bath, popular price restaurant. Rates $1.00 to $3.00 per day.

SERVICES AT

THE TABERNACLE

Elder Nephi L. Morris Speaks on The Power of Prejudice.

GOOD WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

Mr. C. S. Ward, International Secretary, Proclaims its Influence in All Avenues of Life.

Addressing the Saints at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, Elder Nephi L. Morris spoke upon the power of prejudice, showing that it had been the cause of much injustice and laying particular stress upon its influence against the Latter-day Saints.

charges of men that Joseph Smith was an impostor, and that the Church founded by him was based on a delusion and an error. "The day is past," said the speaker, "when Mormonism is to be closed among the delusions."

WORK OF Y. M. C. A.

Mr. C. S. Ward, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was introduced at the congregation as the speaker.

He opened by sincerely thanking President Smith and the stake authorities for the courtesy granted him to speak on this occasion.

He then spoke of the building sought to be erected in this city by the Y. M. C. A. and stated that the raising of the required funds was contingent upon the willingness of the young men of the stake.

Mr. Ward then launched out upon the aims and objects of the Y. M. C. A., and stated among other things that 35 per cent of the young men of the stake are living away from home. Such, perhaps, was not the case in this city, but it was so in other cities, and it was to help those who in a measure could not help themselves, that it was sought to foster this organization.

Mr. Ward spoke of the good being done by the Y. M. C. A. in various departments, noting particularly the railroad and college departments. He said the presidents of the various roads have come to realize the moral influence of the railroad branches exert over their men, and that it is to their interest, not only from a moral but from a financial point of view, to give the Y. M. C. A. all the support they can. He said that the president of one of the roads told him not long ago that since the establishment of association branches along the system, the daily cost of wrecks had fallen from $100 to about $35. The president attributed the decrease to the moral effect the association has upon the men; that it exerts a powerful influence over them, and has a decided tendency to cause them to live better lives; that the roads are benefited thereby, to say nothing of the general effect upon the lives and character of the railroad men.

Mr. Ward said that one large eastern railroad system spends $400,000 a year on its Y. M. C. A. branches, and is ever on the alert to see that the opportunity is never lost.

He told how young men had been snatched from evil associations, and how men of public life have been saved by the organization that had been of incalculable benefit in all avenues of life. The gentleman closed with an appeal to the citizens of Salt Lake to rise up and save themselves in the face of such influences by supporting the Y. M. C. A. during its present crisis, thus assisting to further the great cause of human brotherhood.

The choir sang the anthem: "Praise the Lord all ye nations," and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Henry P. Richards.

GRATEFULLY ARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, and I was at last obliged to leave the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it.

"I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all druggists.

THE LATTER-DAY SAINTS

have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

The Latter-day Saints have no higher hope than that of being properly understood by the world. Men are governed far more by their prejudices than by their reason.

Mr. Ward, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said it was the lunatic of all books. Dr. Samuel Smiles, in viewing his brother through a mist, declared him to be a veritable monster, but as he drew nearer he learned the whole truth and found the abnormal thing of a moment before to be not only a man, but his dear brother.

pledges of this amount are needed, small sums are welcomed to help swell the fund.

Five thousand dollars a day must be added in order to meet the condition of the offer of Mr. Peabody of Brooklyn. S. V. Sheple is chairman of the building fund committee and will gladly welcome the assistance of all citizens having an interest in the enterprise.

A meeting to consider the question of a canvass among the salaries of the city will be discussed at a dinner to be held by the young men in the Commercial club rooms on Monday evening. Gov. Heber M. Wells will be present and address the company.

Secy. Cox called attention yesterday, in an address, to the fact that the association membership in the United States and Canada is $300,000, although the average time of membership is from two and a half to three years. It is intended that the members should remain after they get married and have homes of their own. The attendance at the Sunday meetings is 3,000.

Then about 100 persons, mostly from the United States and Canada, are enrolled in the educational classes and 10,000 in the gymnasium work. The buildings and property of the association are valued at $250,000 and the annual running expenses amount to $250,000.

Mr. Ward spoke of the good being done by the Y. M. C. A. in various departments, noting particularly the railroad and college departments. He said the presidents of the various roads have come to realize the moral influence of the railroad branches exert over their men, and that it is to their interest, not only from a moral but from a financial point of view, to give the Y. M. C. A. all the support they can. He said that the president of one of the roads told him not long ago that since the establishment of association branches along the system, the daily cost of wrecks had fallen from $100 to about $35. The president attributed the decrease to the moral effect the association has upon the men; that it exerts a powerful influence over them, and has a decided tendency to cause them to live better lives; that the roads are benefited thereby, to say nothing of the general effect upon the lives and character of the railroad men.

Mr. Ward said that one large eastern railroad system spends $400,000 a year on its Y. M. C. A. branches, and is ever on the alert to see that the opportunity is never lost.

He told how young men had been snatched from evil associations, and how men of public life have been saved by the organization that had been of incalculable benefit in all avenues of life. The gentleman closed with an appeal to the citizens of Salt Lake to rise up and save themselves in the face of such influences by supporting the Y. M. C. A. during its present crisis, thus assisting to further the great cause of human brotherhood.

The choir sang the anthem: "Praise the Lord all ye nations," and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Henry P. Richards.

GRATEFULLY ARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, and I was at last obliged to leave the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage