The efficiency of street car fenders as a protection to life received a practical demonstration yesterday afternoon when 12-year-old Richard Johnson saved himself from being crushed beneath car No. 200 on Second and West street line by grabbing the fender of the car as it was passing East Temple street, and in jumping out of the way of a car coming north, landed immediately in front of another, and the boy was not able to get off the track, and the car stopped by the startled motor-man, and then dropped to the pavement, uninjured except for a slight bruise to his left arm.

the church in three months. The church people hold property at Second East and Fifth South streets, but they are without a pastor and in such a disorganized condition that unless strenuous action of some kind is taken in the near future, the property will pass out of their hands.

The Y. M. C. A. directors let these contracts yesterday afternoon: Heating, etc., Paul Heating System of Denver; boilers, Mine & Smelter Supply company, Salt Lake; electric wiring, etc., Inter-Mountain company, Salt Lake; telephones, Bell and Home for each floor; stokers, two from American Stoker company, Salt Lake; concrete floors, Nichols & Co., Salt Lake. Security announced the receipt of George Foster Peabody's check for $25,000, the promise of which was the starter in getting subscriptions for the new building.

The program of yesterday afternoon's Tabernacle organ recital included the Chopin Funeral march, an Intermezzo by Calverts, the Schubert Serenade, a Larghetto from the "Dove" and the famous march with variations in the registration. The singing work of the organ movement were specially artistic and appreciated by the large audience. The Intermezzo was entirely new here, and the sprightly little air and its orchestral interpretation were especially pleasing to the audience. There will be a classical program tomorrow afternoon again, at 5 p.m.

MINISTERIAL SLANDERED
Rev. Zimmer, a former Salt Lake Pastor, now in Germany, at it again.

Rev. Gustav A. Zimmer, formerly pastor in this city of the German Evangelical church, is still attempting to carry on his war upon the Lutheran church in Germany. The London Telegraph has the following paragraph in connection with this matter:

"Despite the fact that Mormon emissaries are not allowed to carry on their propaganda in Prussia and Mecklenburg, endeavors are still being made to induce the inhabitants of the other German states to emigrate to Utah. Pastor Zimmer, the clergyman of the Evangelical church in Salt Lake City, has now addressed a letter to a German college, in which he most earnestly warns his countrymen against listening to these agitators, whom he describes as a curse to Germany and her people. One of the reasons attributed by the pastor for the desire of the Mormons to obtain German recruits is that on arriving at Salt Lake their capacity for work is exploited in the most barefaced manner, without any opportunity for redress."

The large pane in the show windows of Keith-O'Brien broken last Fourth of July was replaced yesterday afternoon in very short time, with another. The glass was specially made.

Don Porter says that times are quiet at Los Angeles, compared with the past two or three seasons on account of its great residential year. But, at the same time, the building is going steadily on and the suburbs of the town are becoming larger and larger.
