THE DAY'S POLITICS.

Hancock's Acceptance

NEW YORK, 29.—The Express says: It was rumored to-day that General Hancock's letter of acceptance will be issued this evening, but this afternoon it was definitely learned that his letter will not be furnished to-day. It is believed the issuance of the letter only awaits the arrival of copies of Mr. English's letter, so that both will be issued simultaneously. The Express reporter, this afternoon, learned that General Hancock's letter has been ready and in print for several days. It is understood to be short. From persons believed to have a general knowledge of its substance it is gathered that its chief points are:

First—That the President's duties are chiefly executive, and that the President must obey the Constitution as the supreme law of the land, and obey and enforce the laws of Congress, whose duty it is to repeal laws when found that they have become obnoxious.

Second—That the political results of the war must be accepted and upheld in good faith; the constitutional amendments and laws enacted in pursuance thereof, must be fully respected.

Third—The broadest democratic ground will be taken on the Chinese question; that Columbia is the asylum and home of the oppressed of all lands, but she will not tolerate the enslavement of labor in any form, whether by foreign or local contract.

Fourth—That it is the duty of the President to make recommendations to Congress in no narrow, but in a thoroughly national sense, and as local interests may conflict, the duty of reconciliating matters over which sections may dispute, belongs to Congress the law-making power.

Labor Convention.

PITTSBURG, 29. The Independent People's Labor Convention assembled in Sharon yesterday to select candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States. W. H. Taylor, chairman of the national committee, called the convention to order. B. Smith, of Virginia, was chosen chairman, and John S. Jones, of Pittsburg, secretary. A committee on President was appointed. They reported 15 States present, each State being entitled to 15 votes. The convention then went into nominations. Taylor, of Cleveland, presented the name of Senator James A. Garfield, seconded by Perkins, of Ohio. Jones, of New York, presented General Hancock, seconded by Johnson, of Iowa. Bilden, of Maine, presented General Weaver, seconded by Spalding, of West Virginia. Total vote cast, 225. Garfield received 25 majority over all. The nomination was then made unanimous. General Arthur was nominated for Vice-President by acclamation, after which the convention adjourned amid great enthusiasm.

Nominations.

TOLEDO, 29.—The republicans of the sixth congressional convention to-day nominated Asa U. P. Richardson, of Cleveland, 29. — The republican bolters of this district to-day nominated H. Lockwood for Congress, hoping to force the withdrawal of Amos Townsend, the regular nominee.

Galveston, 29.—The democrat congressional convention of the fifth district nominated Seth Shepard.

Portland, Me., 29.—The democrats of the first congressional district nominated Samuel Anderson Representative, and the greenbackers of the same district endorsed the nomination.

Morrow, Ohio, 29.—The republicans of the third district have nominated H. L. Morey to Congress on the 367th ballot.

St. Louis, 29.—The greenbackers of the Eighteenth Illinois District nominated G. W. Rutherford for Congress.

Chattanooga, 29.—The democrats of the Third District renominated G. G. Debrill to Congress.

Marietta, 29.—The democrats of the Fifteenth District have renominated Warner.

Maine Bolters.

PORTLAND, Me., 29.—The bolters from the regular Greenback District Convention organized, with Stephen Jewett, chairman. They appointed a committee of five to call a general convention, if necessary, for the nomination of a pure greenback candidate for Congress. Resolutions were adopted, alleging the primaries had been packed by democrats and protesting against Gen. Anderson's nomination.

The Bolter's central committee has issued a strong manifesto, charging the regular convention with throttling free speech and making nominations regardless of the people's wish by force and fraud. Lockwood, the Bolter's nominee, is a steadfast and prominent republican, and the manifesto has created a profound sensation in political circles.

METROPOLITAN.

Tanner Failing.

NEW YORK, 29.—Dr. Tanner is decidedly worse. He is weaker, his eyes are dull and heavy, and he is suffering so much [illegible] have decided to have beef extract, warm water and brandy ready for an emergency. He, however, makes light of the symptoms, and says when his cough breaks, he will at once break the fast. Hemphill for a few drops of peppermint this morning to relieve pain, but was refused receiving instead [illegible]. He sought relief [illegible] ribs. He ate [illegible] and soon [illegible] a half [illegible]. He [illegible] an hour [illegible] has caused a slight [illegible] was asleep [illegible]

At 1:30 [illegible] Dr. Tanner [illegible] perature [illegible] street [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] applied [illegible] wrist, [illegible] good as [illegible] o'clock [illegible] the lower hall, [illegible] was found to be 12 [illegible] half a pound in 24 [illegible] four ounces of [illegible] water, and then laid [illegible] covered with blankets [illegible] very cool.

At 8 o'clock [illegible] entered the hospital and fell asleep quietly after lying down.

S. M. Branscom, of Jacksonville, Florida, was to-day committed to the Tombs on a charge of forgery. His intimate [illegible] put up [illegible] documents [illegible] borrowed money [illegible] to move an orange [illegible] and made partial arrangements to this effect. About $25,000 of bonds are in the hands of merchants innocently betrayed into aiding the scheme.

Suit Against an Oregon Company.

In the case of Errin and others against the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, a lengthy argument was heard this morning by Judge Donohue on two motions; first for a commission to examine witnesses in Oregon, and second, for an order permitting plaintiff to examine defendant's books. Judge Donohue reserved decision.

Quite a Blaze.

A large building at West and Bank Streets, occupied by the Domestic Sewing Machine Company and several other firms was partly destroyed by fire to-night. Loss about $6,000.

No Life Preservers.

In the Seawanhaka investigation the evidence showed to-day that there were no life preservers in the saloon aft or in the ladies' cabin on the lower deck.

DENVER ITEMS.

The Indian Commission.

DENVER, 29.—The Tribune's Los Pinos special says: The Indian commission met early yesterday, and the greater part of the day was consumed in discussing the provisions of the treaty objected to by the Utes at previous counsels. They still protest against the allotment of land in severalty, yesterday they expressed unwillingness to their removal to the junction of the Gunnison and Grande rivers, preferring the junction of the Uncompahgre and Gunnison rivers. Chief Guero, who has opposed the removal from the first, expressed himself as willing to surrender the mountains to the whites, but is unwilling to give up the lands along the rivers. An opportunity was yesterday offered by the commissioners for the Indians to sign the ratification of the agreement made in Washington last winter by Ouray and others, to which not a single Indian responded, nor was Ouray, when questioned on the subject, able to give the name of a single Indian who had expressed a willingness to sign the treaty. The commissioners addressed the chiefs, informing them that the treaty in the present shape was the only terms on which the question could be settled, and they must accept it or nothing. At the suggestion of Ouray, the Indians were given until to-morrow to determine their action. Commissioner Mears, in reply to the question of the chiefs as to what the Colorado people think of the removal, said they could accept the treaty or not, the people of Colorado were fully determined that the Utes must go, and that he was afraid that if they did not accept the treaty in the present shape, with the payment of $50,000 and land in severalty, they would be compelled to go and lose everything. There will likely be considerable talk before the treaty is signed.

The Commissioners held a counsel yesterday. The Indians still decline to sign the treaty in its present form. Objections were raised at the last meeting to their removal to the junction of the Gunnison and Grande rivers, on account of the poor soil. An opportunity was offered for the chief and head men to come forward and sign the treaty, but not a single Indian accepted the invitation. The Commission will brook no further delay, and have given the Utes until to-morrow to decide what course they will pursue.

The Locomotive at Leadville.

The joint track of the Denver and South Park and Denver and Rio Grande railroads is finished to Leadville. Trains will soon be running into the city. The Manitou branch of the Denver and Rio Grande road is now completed and trains are running to Manitou.

Talmage in his Element.

The Republican's Leadville special says: Rev. Talmage visited the dance houses and gambling dens last night after his lecture. At one dance house a girl asked him to lead a set, but he declined.

Violent Proceedings.

ST. LOUIS, 29.—A Post special from Moberly, Mo., says: An armed mob of about 100 men from adjoining counties came to town this morning, and as Sheriff Mattocks was taking J. C. Carlow in the Court House to be tried for committing a rape on Mrs. Crump, last March, the mob opened fire on him, and Carlow ran into the court room followed by three men and was shot again. He then escaped to the street and fell, but quickly regaining his feet and received another shot. He then ran into a store closely followed by his slayer, out into an alley and again into the street. He then made his way up stairs over a saloon with his pursuers at his heels. Here he found himself cornered. The husband of the outraged woman, who did the most of the shooting, then fired five more shots into the body of the wretch, and one into his forehead. Carlow died in ten minutes. Intense excitement prevailed while these violent proceedings were going on.

The Schroeder Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, 29.—At the examination of Schroeder for the killing of Dr. Lefevre, at Oakland, this morning, Rev. Horatio Stebbins, father of Mrs. Schroeder, was allowed to testify. He said Mrs. Schroeder, on June 12th, confessed to him and her husband that Dr. Lefevre had seduced her, and that criminal intercourse had continued between them for two months previous. Stebbins and his son-in-law shortly afterwards visited Lefevre, when Stebbins accused him with the affair, which Lefevre neither affirmed nor denied, but was much excited and trembled visibly. Stebbins said he was unarmed at the interview, but if he had had a pistol he would shoot and there have killed the seducer and saved his son this trial. Stebbins further testified that since June 12th, Schroeder had acted as though out of his mind. He himself accompanied his son-in-law [illegible] through the country to di[illegible] him, but did not succeed.

Sherman Back Home.

WASHINGTON, 29.—Gen. Sherman returned to-day from his tour in the West. He says the Indians are doing well and the white settlers [illegible] so [illegible] that they will soon be so far outnumbered all along the frontier as to be powerless to do any mischief if so disposed, and expressed himself well satisfied with the indication of things at the military posts.

Terrible Fire.

BUFFALO, 29.—A terrible fire is raging in the southern part of the city, on Blackwell's Island. Three planing mills, a floating elevator and several lumber yards, together with two ship yards are already on fire. The fire originated by an explosion in one of the planing mills. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

Indiscriminate Commending.

BOSTON, 29.—The captain of the Eunice Newcomb reiterates the statement made when he was in Boston, on his last trip, concerning the firing upon him by the Spanish war vessel, and is positive when the affair happened he was 10 miles from the Cuban shore.

The Investigation.

NEW LONDON, 29.—In the Narragansett investigation one passenger testified to-day to seeing an old grey-headed woman clinging to a boat loaded with men and women, and they refused to take her on board. He believed she was drowned.

Insanity—Disturbers of the Dead—Superstition—Mobocracy—Murder.

VERNON, Ala., July 19, 1880.

Editors Deseret News:

Something over a year ago, a Mr. Hawkins, near this place, died and was buried. He left a wife, who has since lived with his mother and two brothers. It appears that some time ago, the wife and mother of the deceased had some peculiar manifestations, in which they were told that if they would take said Hawkins up one year from the date of his burial, and speak to him, he would receive life, resurrect and live again. This they firmly believed, and with much eagerness looked forward to the day when they would again enjoy his company. Accordingly, when the day arrived for them to resurrect the body, they waited until late in the evening, and then the brother's wife and mother stole secretly to the cemetery, taking their spades and shovels, also the hat of the departed for him to wear home. After their arrival, the dirt was speedily thrown out of the grave, the coffin taken up and opened, but all the speaking and praying they could do would not restore life to the dead body. The corpse was in a good state of preservation; the hair and beard had grown to be long and beautiful. This seemed to give them new faith, and putting the corpse across two sticks, they carried it home, and put it in an old well within a few feet of the door, where they could see it whenever they felt so disposed. They then received more revelations to the effect that the body would rise upon another date. This failing to be accomplished, the authorities interfered and the remains were again buried.

Another cause of disturbing the dead has resulted in the death of six "freedmen" if not more. The particulars have been gleaned by your correspondent as follows: In the latter part of last year a negro came from Columbus, Miss., into this region, and gambled with those of his own color. He proved to be expert at playing cards, and the winner of every game. On being asked by his defeated opponents why he was so successful, he refused to tell, unless they gave him $5.00 for a receipt which he said would enable them to accomplish any trick they desired to perform. Several of them, how many of them I cannot ascertain, some say six and others say as high as 30, procured receipts. The receipts required them to go to a grave yard in the middle of some dark night and hold prayer. Then dig down to a coffin and play three games of "seven up" on the lid. Then open the coffin and twist off the finger bones and string them on a string and carry them in their pocket. They followed the directions, but they first opened the grave of an old gentleman who had been buried over 40 years. On finding no bones they opened the grave of one Mrs. Poe, who had been buried something over a year. In twisting off her fingers they twisted her arm off at the shoulder, but they returned the arm to the coffin, keeping the fingers. Several more graves were disturbed, but the number is not known. This was all kept a secret until about two weeks ago, when one of the perpetrators of the deed was taken sick, and, about to die, he made a "death-bed confession," and divulged the secret of the whole matter. A company of men immediately captured three of the guilty ones and hung them until they told all they knew about it and gave up the string of bones in their possession, in which was found the bones of snakes, rabbits, squirrels, human fingers, etc., also scorpion heads. The prisoners were then brought into this place and lodged in the county jail. Another of these negroes was followed into the northern part of the State and killed. These men then went to Columbus, Mississippi, and put to death the salesman of the mobocrats last Friday night. Saturday night, at 1 o'clock, Sheriff Lacy was awakened by a mob of between 20 and 30 men, who told him to come out. He declined. They then demanded the jail key, but he refused it and gave his reasons for so doing. They then demanded a lamp and succeeded in obtaining it. After placing a guard around both the jail and Mr. Lacy's house, they went and broke open a blacksmith shop and brought out hammers and chisels and begun work. The locks soon gave way, but they found it impossible to bring the negroes out of the cage, therefore they shot them down like so many hogs in a pen. The mobocrats stayed in the jail one hour until the victims breathed their last, and then proceeded to the dwelling of the sick betrayer to end his misery. The names of those killed in the jail at this place were Dudley Brothers, Lindsey Portwood and Westley Richardson. The former was a minister of the Methodist Church. Two of the bodies received four balls each, the other only two. They lay in the jail until Sunday afternoon. Your correspondent saw them and pronounced it the worst sight he ever saw. The white citizens washed, dressed and buried them, all in one grave, in decent order. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder, but it will be impossible to get a jury in this part of the State to convict one of the mobocrats, even if they are ever caught.
