

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Correspondents writing for publication are requested to send one side of the paper only. Correspondents' names must be accompanied by their communications, and are necessary for publication, but as a rule, not for publication.

THEATRE.—The performance last night was very well liked, and Miss Emma in the role of "H. Trovatore" was particularly successful, and in response appeared before the curtain.

Miss Clolla takes a benefit and splendid bill is offered. The popular comedienne of the "Hoe and the Orange Tree" will be presented for the first time in this city. It is one of Planché's best productions, and every effort has been made to ensure success.

The performance will commence with the comedienne of "The Pretty Horsebreaker." Miss Clolla appearing as "Bella Sunny-Side." Between the pieces the Howsons will appear in a Grand Vocal Concert, in which the sisters will sing a choice selection of duets and ballads. Miss Clolla will also sing Perring's celebrated cavatina of "Beware" or "She is fooling thee," the same which Mr. Bowler of the Papepa has sung with such success. Let every one who can, patronize the benefit to-night.

BOILER.—N. Mitchell, arrested for selling whisky without a license, was fined $10.

REMEMBER.—The residents of the 20th, 21st and 22nd wards will do well to take heed of the advertisement in the columns, and meet at the mill bridge on Monday morning next, with picks and axes at seven o'clock.

TRAVEL.—John Brainard, Esq., of the Nonpareil, Council Bluffs, called this morning; he reached the city at 10 o'clock, and in 61 hours from Omaha.

Mr. F. E. Bean, proprietor of the Nevada, California, Gazette, also called. He left Salt Lake City, California, last Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, and reached Deseret station this morning at three o'clock, and this day at nine o'clock, having traveled over 1,000 miles. During Mr. B's trip from California, the trains were detained several times.

PACIFIC CIRCUITS.—This circus and school of educated horses will exhibit at the City Hall corner, at seven o'clock to-morrow. To-morrow two entertainments will be given, one at 2 and the other at 7 p.m. Rumor says that in addition to their other attractions, their troupe of acrobats and gymnasts is excellent.

GRAND JURY.—Yesterday the Grand Jury made presentations against W. Jarmon, J. R. McVey and Lewis Miller, and then adjourned until July 27th. The day for the trial of the prisoners is not yet fixed.

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.—A gentleman (?) stepped into our office this morning, who said he was a member of the church, but was an entire stranger to us. He wished to advertise for a boarding place in a respectable family, and while preparing the copy of his advertisement, one of our staff stepped in, who had recently traveled a number of miles by stage in company with him, and had heard him boasting of certain achievements in the past, and of what he intended in future, his exploits and intentions being such as no man of honor or morality would ever think of. As soon as our employee entered the office this proud brother instantly recognized him, and made his exit in a very abrupt manner. The fellow is apparently about 27 or 28 years of age, tolerably good looking, dark whiskers and moustache. We print as that our citizens may be on the look out for him if he should apply for lodgings, feeling sure that such a man is not worthy of being a resident of any "respectable family."

PROVO SABBATH SCHOOL.—Elder H. H. Cluff, Secretary of the Provo Sunday School informs us that on the 14th inst., according to previous arrangement, the scholars of that school, to the number of four hundred, in charge of their superintendents and teachers, had a most delightful picnic party at the "Church Grove," where suitable arrangements had been made to afford the children amusement in the midst of the beautiful scenery and invigorating music. At half past two, the children were called together and were addressed by Bishops A. O. Smoot, J. P. R. Johnson, A. H. Scott, and M. Tanner, Superintendents B. J. and H. C. Coyne, and Elder G. C. Fowler, followed by a song for the occasion by L. J. Nuttal. At five o'clock the party returned home.

There is an earnestness worthy of praise, manifested by the managers and teachers of the Sunday School at Provo which bids fair to make much improvement in the ranks of the rising generation of that place.

LEAD.—A correspondent writing from London on the 12th inst., says: "On Wednesday last the militia of the northern portion of Utah County were inspected by Generals Burton and Pace. The former addressed the troops on the necessity of their providing themselves with good arms, and urged the introduction of Upton's tactics in the place of those now in use."

The weather here is extremely warm; our wheat and barley crops look very promising; co-operation is alive and doing well; all is peace in our city and everybody is busy.

On Sunday last we were called to mourn the loss, by typhoid fever, of Bro. Joseph Cox, aged about 26 years, after a lingering sickness. He leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss.

AUSTRALIAN MAIL.—A. W. Street, Esq., wishes to give notice of the discontinuance of mails for the Australian colonies and New Zealand, via Panama, on account of notice having been given by the British Postal Department, of the withdrawal of the steamship of the Panama, New Zealand and Australia Royal Mail Company, from the mail service between Panama and New Zealand. Mails will in future be made up and forwarded from the United States to New Zealand or Australian colonies, via Panama.

Died: On Monday, June 11th, at Plain City, Weber County, of yellow fever, Mary, wife of Elmer Davis, and daughter of William and Elizabeth Adams.

Deceased was born July 25th, 1855, in Kidwell, Ky. Mary, Carmichael, daughter of James and Susan, died in 1880. She leaves a husband and six children to lament her loss. She lived and died a true and unflinching in her integrity to God.

REMARKS

[REPORTED BY DAVID W. EVANS.]

I am glad, my brethren and sisters, of meeting with you again in General Conference. Our Conferences form a peculiar feature in our history, and the people in all parts of the Territory look forward to these occasions with far more than ordinary interest, and make calculations to participate therein.

The past six months have been a period of remarkable interest. There has been a marked advancement in the progress of the work of the Lord and a great increase and improvement in the knowledge, sentiments and feelings of the Saints since our last Conference, perhaps more so than in the same space of time at any period in the history of the Church since its organization. The Saints are becoming more united in their business relations, and in all their associations for the purpose of accomplishing the work that is before them; and if the old adage, "union is strength," be true, we are certainly growing stronger.

The teachings during this Conference will, as a matter of course, have a tendency to increase this union, to enlarge the understandings and judgments of the Saints and to banish certain antiquated ideas which, more or less, have been woven into our being, and have formed part of our existence, enable us to free ourselves from the shackles of tradition and ignorance and to move forward more effectively in the discharge of those duties devolving upon us in connection with the great and glorious work which God has entrusted to our charge. It will also be necessary for us to take into consideration the different points pertaining to the progress of that work.

It was a saying of Joseph Smith, that he taught the people correct principles and they governed themselves. A feeling has been engendered and sent abroad that the Latter-day Saints are subject to bondage; but instead of this being so they are controlled wholly on the principle to which I have just referred, as having been instructed by Joseph—they are taught correct principles and then govern themselves. When the elders of Israel have succeeded in informing the minds of the Saints in relation to any topic pertaining to the work of God in the last days they have accomplished a great work, and that work is followed by a feeling of willingness and obedience to carry out that principle on the part of the great mass of the Saints.

Last year we made an effort to bring home the Saints from the Old World, and a pretty strong emigration was the result. It will be remembered that when the matter was first agitated it seemed as if there was but a small amount of means to be obtained. Many of the brethren in the wards felt that they could do but little, but they went to work and brought home some five thousand Saints. This same work is still before us, and appeals to our sympathy, and we still have occasion to call the attention of each other to the importance of the work of bringing home to Zion our brethren and sisters in foreign lands who are deprived of the privileges that we enjoy because of their inability to gather. An appeal is to be made from this Conference to the Saints generally throughout the Territory, to contribute again of their substance to bring home the Saints from foreign lands.

The facilities for gathering the Saints are far greater than they have been heretofore. We wish to say to any of those who are already gathered, who may be indebted to those who are left behind, that they should remember and discharge their obligations. We also advise the Saints to write to their friends abroad and inform them how things are progressing here. I am aware that when the people land here there are many inconveniences with which they have to contend, and they have to struggle for a time before they can again make a start in the world; but they should not, on that account, forget the brethren and sisters they have left behind and especially those who may have advanced means to aid them in emigrating. One of our first duties should be to square our accounts and to stand honorably with our fellow-beings.

Although a great advance has been made within the last two years in the observance of the "Word of Wisdom," there is yet room to talk on that subject. We find that the tobacco trade is still very considerable in this Territory, and we cannot yet lose sight of the fact that we are compelled to pay a tribute to the Emperor of China for tea, and to the Emperor of Brazil for coffee; and there are still men in Israel who do not seem to realize the importance of observing the "Word of Wisdom." It is, therefore, necessary to preach, teach and exhort, and to enforce upon the Saints the importance of its observance, for it is preparatory to great blessings which God has in store for the faithful. The elders will instruct us in relation to these matters as the spirit of the Lord may dictate.

It has been my privilege, this last month, to visit most of the branches in the southern part of the Territory. At a large portion of those branches I have attended meetings, and have seen many of the brethren and sisters, and I feel to testify that in all my travels in Zion, I have not found a better spirit, a more united determination or a warmer feeling with regard to the work of the Lord, and to build up His Kingdom, than I found on this visit. I felt thankful to learn that our brethren in the cotton country were filled with the spirit and were zealous for the accomplishment of their work, and that they were progressing very satisfactorily in the accomplishment of their mission, or at any rate that portion of them who have taken hold of it with the zeal which becomes men who are honored with the privilege of laboring in any department for the building up of Zion. The testimony of the work of the Lord in the hearts of the Saints is a living and abiding testimony. While the work is progressing, we must be alive to the fact, and we must not get behind, we must be faithful, live humble before the Lord, observe His counseils and laws, not even forgetting the principles contained in the "Word of Wisdom." If we take this course the blessings of life and peace will continue to abide with us, which may God grant in the name of Jesus, Amen.

Special Notices.

WARRANT DEEDS FOR SALE.—The citizens of this Territory are now in possession of all the rights and privileges accruing from the enjoyment of the Free-emption and Homestead Laws, and hereafter all transfers of titles to land will have to be effected by means of Warranty Deeds, instead of the Quick Claim Transfer Deeds heretofore used.
