DONATES 850 BOOKS.

Hon. John T. Caine's Munificent Gift to the Mutual Improvement League.

The Mutual Improvement League, which is conducted by the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A. of this city, has recently received an important addition to its library in the form of a donation by Hon. John T. Caine of 850 books.

During his ten years service in Congress as delegate from Utah, Mr. Caine collected, at considerable expense and labor, a large number of valuable works of reference, published by the government, it being the intention of the gentleman to present the books at some future time to an institution where the youth of Utah might have access to them, and extract from them the reference information which they contain.

The collection comprises writings on a great variety of subjects, including the following: American history and biography, agriculture, commerce and manufactures, arts and sciences, mechanics, engineering and surveying, geology, mineralogy, diplomacy and state craft, U. S. penal, land and pension laws, and Wharton's Digest of International Law.

A history of the war of the Rebellion, containing the official records of the Union and Confederate armies, 31 volumes and 3 important parts of the collection. Another valuable set are the U. S. consular reports, which set forth the industrial, educational and moral condition of the various peoples of the earth are described by our representatives abroad, and is the evidence on the census of 1890 and the tariff and money questions will be found of much value to students.

The books are all well bound and make an excellent appearance in the shelves of the library. The executive committee of the league are highly appreciative of the generosity of Mr. Caine, and believe that his contribution, added to the many interesting volumes already in possession of the institution, gives the league one of the choicest collection of books in the State. The library and reading room are open to the public without charge, but only members of the league are permitted to take books from the building.
