Then came the surprise of the even. ing. Collins was the next man. Mor-ahlah had 14 minutes and 35 seconds left in which to throw two men. In-steal of the Turk going after Collins. the latter went after the suitan's man, and the the ment part of the function

LIVELY BAG PUNCHING. The program opened with a bag punching exhibition of Prof. Waiter Orr, champion of the world, and his "turn" was one that caught the avdi-ence. It was undoubtedly the eleverest exhibition of the kind ever witnessed in this city. He performed with two bags, one on a cresscent shaped platform and the other on a drum platform, both li-luminated with colored electric lights. By way of showing the punch he car-ries around with him, he broke the rope that held one of the bags and sent it Bying out into the wings. This was followed by a four round boxing match between Kid Ryan from Chicago and young Terry Davis, one of Thompson's pupils. The "go" was a good one and pleased the crowd. ROSS WAS LIVELY.

ROSS WAS LIVELY.

It was 9:12 when the event of the evening was called on. Morahlah de-cided to tackle Charley Ross first, and everybody thought he would have an easy time when the latter walked onto the mat. He locked so siender. But he had a few surprises in store for the Turk and the audience. Ross was thrown to the mat after three minutes sparring and remained down three min-

the latter went after the sultan's man, and for the most part of the fourteen minutes had the big fellow on he de-fensive. The Turk looked greatly sur-prised when he selzed Collins for a throw and found he could hardly move him. Every trick he tried was met with one a little better. Each time he got Collins on the mat and it looked like a fail, the latter would wriggle out of the hold and get the upper hand of the Turk. Time and time again the Turk secured vice-like lolds on Col-lins but each time they were broken with apparent ease. Then Morahlah becamed enraged and tried to rough it, only to be met with rougher treatment with apparent of and tried to rough it, only to be met with rougher treatment that he could possibly give. The Turk made a savage lunge at Collins but the latter was not there and Morahlah feli from the mat to the floor. The Turk's manager begged him to make short work of Collins but it was no use. Col-lins apparently knew as much if not more about the game than did the big-mau and had the better of the match throughout. When the time limit was reached, pandemonium broke loose and Collins was carried triumphantly off the stage. He returned immediately and issued a challenge to meet the Turk in best two out of three falls for any part of a $500 wager. THE TURK CHALLENGED. thrown to the mat after three minutes sparring and remained down three min-utes more when he made a clever roll and escaped from the Turk's clutches. Ross got out of scores of tight places by his quick and clever work but the big man kept right after his vietim and took his time in doing it. After 16 min-utes of hard work the Turk got a half Nelson and head scissors hold and bringing his great weight into play. forced Ross's shoulders to the mat. Ross stayed 16 minutes and 12 seconds.

THOMPSON A HARD ONE.

Thompson's turn came next, and as he appeared on the stage he was given a warm welcome. He was in splendid condition and made the Turk work THE TURK CHALLENGED. The Turk's manager accepted the challenge and said he would post a
