Pocatello's Workers Hurt in Odd And Rather Numerous Ways.

DEAD INFANT FOUND IN ALLEY

All That's New and Newsy in and About the Gate City Told Briefly.

Special Correspondence.

POCATELLO, April 15.—George W. Smith, foreman at the railroad shops, was painfully injured Tuesday evening while unloading a car of wreckage. His left hand was badly lacerated and his chin was caught and torn by the hook of a derrick.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

Barney Moyes, a machinist, and son of ex-Judge Al Moyes, sustained an injury to his right hand Thursday. John Hay, a truck hand in the car shop, is nursing a broken thumb on the left hand. A glancing blow from his own hammer struck the left thumb with sufficient force to break the middle joint.

Dan August, a mason on the government buildings at the Ross Fork Indian agency, met with a serious accident last Thursday.

MEETS LIVE WIRE.

While engaged in building a chimney he lost his balance and to save himself, caught a wire overhead which carried 2,200 volts of electricity. He was unable to let go and soon became unconscious, while the flesh of his hands began to burn.

Fortunately two Indian boys engaged in shingling the same roof, saw his plight and came to his rescue and took him to the agency hospital where he received medical help at once.

Agent Caldwell says August will recover, but it is probable that he will lose the use of both hands.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST.

A declamatory contest will be held Saturday night at the Congregational church. Nine pupils of the Pocatello high school will take part for the purpose of selecting one pupil to represent the high school at the Auditorium on April 24, when seven high schools, one state normal and two academies will contest.

MAIL IS NO MORE.

The Southern Idaho Mail of this city, accredited to the political interest of ex-Senator Dubois, has failed to appear for two weeks. It is tacitly understood that the paper has suspended publication.

COURT CONVENES.

The United States court for the southern division of Idaho, convened here yesterday afternoon with Judge F. S. Dietrich on the bench, having been delayed for two weeks by the session of the federal court at Boise.

MAY GET SPUR.

General Manager F. S. Bureton of the Mink Creek Coal & Gas company, recently called the attention of General Manager Bancroft of the Short line, to the product of the mine at Mink creek, with the idea in view of building a spur to the mine. Mr. Bancroft appointed Supervising Engineer John P. Congdon of this city to visit the property and to furnish data for consideration by the operating department.

A farewell social was given this evening at the Masonic temple in honor of the traveling silver trowel, which

MRS. JACQUES PAPISIAN

"NEW VENUS OF MILO."

For centuries artists and sculptors have mourned and wondered over the lost arms of the Venus of Milo. And no one has ever discovered what became of them.

For two years men of the brush and chisel about New York have mourned the disappearance of an American girl whom they called a new Venus of Milo, because in height and proportions she was said perfectly to duplicate the exquisite marble Lady of the Louvre.

This girl was a model, Irene McAlpine, who three years ago married a sculptor, Jacques Papisian, and went to his home in Smyrna.

Last week she came back to New York on the Greek steamship Muriata, and it was perceived that the lost Venus arms had found a treasure—a rosy, chestnut-haired little girl of a year and a half, Anna Vera Papisian, whose blue eyes opened on her mother's country for the first time last Thursday.

Mrs. Papisian is actually a very beautiful woman. She is five feet six inches in height and weighs 150 pounds. Her figure is perfectly proportioned, and when she walks shows the untrammelled stateliness of the ancient goddess. Her face is regular, her eyes blue, her teeth of dazzling perfection.

will leave for Portland Saturday evening.

BABE FOUND DEAD.

Albert Nym of 440 north Seventh avenue informed the officers this afternoon of the finding of a dead new-born infant in the alley near his residence, wrapped in a bedspread. An investigation showed that the infant had been dead three or four days. The laundry mark on the bedspread showed that the latter was the property of the former Rich rooming house. The matter will be further investigated.

The funeral of Henry Kellow, a miner at the Fort Hall mine, who died Tuesday from cancer of the stomach, was held this afternoon at the Lindquist undertaking parlors, under the auspices of the L. D. S. church.

MORELAND SCHOOLS CLOSE SEASON'S WORK.

Special Correspondence.

MORELAND, April 15.—The district schools closed Friday, the 10th inst. Those graduating from the eighth grade were: Joseph Jones, Wilford Belnap, Ralph McKnight and Teresa England. In the evening an interesting program was rendered in the hall and diplomas presented to the graduates.

Much credit is due the teachers—John Wray, Laura Bird and Ruth Bird—for the progress made by the students in all the grades.

A. M. Hatch and John V. Wray, who have just completed a missionary course at the Ricks academy, have received notice to prepare for foreign missions this coming fall. The former will go to Germany and the latter to New Zealand.

The contract for fencing the school lots has been let to O. M. Belnap.

Quite a number of people are setting out fruit trees this spring, apples being in the lead.

The weather continues excellent and the farmers are busy planting beets and grain. A good shower passed over last night and gave the land a much needed wetting.

MANAGER T. R. CUTLER VISITS BLACKFOOT

Special Correspondence.

BLACKFOOT, April 15.—Thos. R. Cutler, general manager of the Sugar company, was in Blackfoot Tuesday and Wednesday, and in company with H. H. Dalton, visited the lime rock quarries at Arco, which have been leased by the Sugar company, from Mr. D. H. Beltham. Tuesday evening Mr. Cutler spoke to the business men of Blackfoot, his subject being sugar beet culture.

The funeral services over the remains of C. W. Fresh of Groveland, who died Friday, were held in the L. D. S. chapel Sunday at 2 p. m. Bishop John Bitton of Groveland presiding. Music was furnished by the Blackfoot ward choir. The speakers were Bishop Frank C. Parkinson, L. R. Thomas and Bishop Bitton. Burial services at the cemetery were conducted by the local camp of the Woodmen of the World.

Tuesday and Wednesday a very welcome rainstorm visited these parts. Planting is now under way. The long dry spell has retarded planting somewhat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dalton of Sugar City were in Blackfoot the latter part of last week. Mr. Dalton will locate here about the first of May, taking the superintendency of the sugar factory vice Mr. F. T. Richards, who goes to Portland to engage in business.

The declamatory contest of the Blackfoot high school Friday night resulted in a victory for Mr. Hugh McVicker, who will represent the high school in the state contest at Pocatello.

MRS. ALICE WALKER DIES AFTER OPERATION

Special Correspondence.

RIGBY, April 15.—A much needed rain came Tuesday afternoon and evening, doing a great deal of good. More moisture would be appreciated. Spring work is being pushed now, preparing the ground and putting in grain. Beet drilling also has commenced.

Mrs. Alice Walker, wife of Erastus Walker, who lives between Rigby and Lewisville, died at Rexburg on Monday, the 13th inst., after undergoing an operation there. She was the daughter of Brigham Ellsworth and wife, and was in her thirty-eighth year. She leaves her husband and nine children, as well as a large circle of relatives and friends, to regret her untimely departure. She was interred at Lewisville on Wednesday.

Albert Gray, it is alleged, tried to raise wheat without resorting to the slow and old-time methods. Last Monday night he went to the stockyards near the depot and helped himself to 11 sacks, but he was tracked to his home and the stolen grain was found in his cellar.

The grain was returned, and Justice J. W. Jones imposed a fine of $20 upon Gray. Not being able to pay the fine, he is being imprisoned for 10 days at St. Anthony jail.

On Saturday next a joint teachers' meeting of the teachers of Fremont and Bingham counties will be held at Rigby. An interesting program is prepared and a good time is expected. The consolidation of Center school district, with Rigby Independent district No. 5, is now completed, and next year wagons will be run to haul the children living at a great distance from the school house.

Bishop George A. Cordon and Joseph Woodmansee left for Salt Lake City last Saturday evening and are now expected via Mr. Woodmansee's new automobile.

Fred Hayes and wife received a 12-pound daughter on Sunday last, and this morning Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Matyer were also favored in a similar manner.

15 YEAR-OLD GIRL WANTS TO BE ADOPTED.

Sarah Solomon wants a father and mother like every other fifteen-year-old girl she knows.

Her mother died while Sarah was a baby, and her father passed away sixteen months ago. Since that time she has been with friends of the step-mother at the home of Mrs. Annie Manewitz, No. 48 East Ninety-eighth street.

Sarah weighs probably more than most girls of her age, nearing the 175 mark, but she says it is because she has not done any work in all her life. Sarah is willing to be adopted.

to Huntington. This car left Glenns Ferry at 8:15 p. m. and after a slow run coming up the hill to Mountain Home they soon gained a fast speed across the flat country and slight down hill to Nampa, stopping for Mr. and Mrs. Woodmansee, who were en route to Huntington, that being the next stop of any consequence, arriving at that point about 7 a. m., and will continue the race to Portland, stopping for meals only.

Auto enthusiasts of Nampa probably regret that they did not get a look at this notorious car as it went through this morning. "Is the rallying cry," "Brady and Hamer," and to my mind there will be nothing to it but Brady and Hamer in that part of the country. The people there have unbounded admiration for Mr. Brady and he is almost the sole topic of political talk. They will tell you there that their property is due to the genius and energy of Mr. Brady, and that they appreciate him is shown in the absolutely unanimous favor in which his candidacy is looked upon."—Pocatello Advance.

POINTED PRESIDENT PENCE.

J. T. Pence, president of the Democratic club, and M. Alexander, were the regular speakers of the evening, each having declared for the "old fashioned" Democratic principles and against the "Mormon issue." Mr. Alexander was especially bitter in his remarks upon this issue, which he said, had been used for the last six years to "glorify the ambition of the 'Napoleon of the desert' as he called the 'Napoleon of Idaho.' He declared that he for one would follow Dubois' leadership no longer, saying that Dubois could not lead the 'Mormon' if he wanted to, but that he denied the right of the 'Mormon' to set himself up as the champion of the home. Speaking of the way Dubois had organized the Democratic state central committee, Mr. Alexander said that any man who would put up that kind of a job ought to be jobbed at the polls. His speech was punctuated by applause at frequent intervals, showing that he had his audience with him."—Wallace (Idaho) Press.

SHOT THE CHUTES.

A man by the name of Park Wardell last Saturday came down Boise river in a stolen row boat, and when he reached the government dam, where there is a water fall of between 20 and 30 feet, he exclaimed to bystanders: "What man has done, man can do," thereupon starting his boat into the middle of the stream and allowing it to pass over the falls. It completely capsized, and but for speedy assistance, he would have been drowned. He was after taken in charge by the police, who believe the man partially insane.

GERMAN CAR PASSES THROUGH NAMPA

No doubt the people of Nampa will be very much surprised to learn that the German car "Berlin," one of the contestants in the New York-to-Paris automobile race, passed through Nampa about midnight last night, making an all-night run from Glenns Ferry

POLITICS FROM THE VIEW POINT OF IDAHO EDITORS

SITS ON SALMON RECORDER.

The Capital News is glad to afford the Salmon Recorder the opportunity to state its position on the question of whether it does not propose to follow Dubois into an "American" party movement, even if he wished it to do so. The paper says it is Democratic and proposes to stay Democratic, and if the majority of the delegates elected to the state convention favor a modification or elimination of the laws of the state by the leaders of the Mormon church, it proposes to abide by that decision.

But the Recorder in objecting to being misrepresented or misunderstood ought not to be so flagrant in misrepresenting its adversaries.

It says: "It (the Capital News) has an equal right to condone the offenses against the laws of the state by the leaders of the Mormon church."

Now that is a gratuitous and wilful misrepresentation of this paper, which has never condoned any offenses of the leaders of the Mormon Church, nor of any individual Mormon or other person. In fact, its sole contention has been that if those leaders in Idaho or elsewhere, or those members of the Church not leaders, commit any offenses against the laws of the state, they should be punished. It has argued against the injustice of attempting to punish all Mormons because of the alleged offense, whether committed or not, of certain persons called leaders.

Punish the guilty whoever or wherever they may be found, but do not punish the innocent with them. That is barbarism.

And it is just such barbarism that the Recorder has stood for by its campaign of "Dubois" against which it proposes no distinction between the guilty and the innocent. The state has laws now adequate for the punishment of all guilty, and the only purpose of a continued agitation is to obtain the means for punishing the innocent also.

Again the Recorder, speaking of itself, says: "The Mormon hierarchy do not own a dollar's worth of its stock, and for that reason the writer is in a position to fight the disobedience of all human and divine laws. Can the Capital News make as positive a statement as this and back it up with absolute proof?"

The Capital News has answered that question so often that it is getting to be quite a chestnut, and it might save composition expenses to the office to keep the answer standing for such people as the Recorder, if it were deemed worth while to make answer to every Tom, Dick and Harry. But the Recorder is again informed that the only stock in this paper now held, or ever held by a Mormon is $100 subscribed by a former state official when the paper was first started and long before any Mormon agitation was begun. "The hierarchy" owns not a cent of the $10,000 capital stock, either directly or indirectly.

Somebody makes an absurd charge which the Recorder and its kind accept as true without evidence and then coolly demands "positive proof" to the contrary!—Evening Capital News.

BRADY AND HAMER.

Joe Murphy returned this morning from a business trip to St. Anthony and Ashton, and brings back encouraging reports of generally increasing business and a more prosperous trade tone.

According to Mr. Murphy the most noticeable fact in this trip was the unanimous sentiment expressed in favor of Hon. James H. Brady, and the affection in which he is held by the people of that section. Coupled with Mr. Brady's name, too, is that of Hamer for congressman.

"All you hear up that way," Mr. Murphy said to an Advance reporter this morning, "is the rallying cry 'Brady and Hamer,' and to my mind there will be nothing to it but Brady and Hamer in that part of the country. The people there have unbounded admiration for Mr. Brady and he is almost the sole topic of political talk. They will tell you there that their property is due to the genius and energy of Mr. Brady, and that they appreciate him is shown in the absolutely unanimous favor in which his candidacy is looked upon."—Pocatello Advance.

THE BOARDING COW

YOUR cow is a boarder. Does she pay her little bills? If not, why keep her? Why treat her better than you would a man? "Pay or get out." If the old cow does not pay as she goes send her to the block and purchase one that will not only pay all expenses for food, drink, shelter, clean and wholesome quarters, care and kindness, but will also return to you a nice profit for your work and your worry.

A few cows are very good boarders. They pay handsome profit. There are many more that are only fair boarders. They pay a small profit. But the number that fail to pay actual expenses are far too many, and yet we continue to keep them and pay the losses. We may not know this, "but ignorance of the law excuses no man." Nor must we delude ourselves upon appearances for appearances are often deceiving. A cow may possess many of the points of excellence, which among the judges are considered as indicating good quality—the may possess the triple wedge, the large capacious barrel, the sharp points, the soft, mellow skin, the slender neck, the clean head, the dished face, the large, fine nostrils, the prominent, bright eye, and yet with all these good features she may possess a meaty udder of small capacity, thus rendering her incapable of large and continuous milk production. Results, actual results form the final test of excellence after all. A cow is simply a machine used by man for converting rough food into wholesome, valuable products for human consumption. Why not test the capacity of the machine?

If an accurate record was kept of the performance of every cow, there would be many, many surprises. The behavior of cows differs widely. Some cows give

COLD AND HEAT FALLACIES.

"Yes, it is cold today. Let us have a strong whisky, that will warm us up and keep the cold out." How often have you heard something to this effect? How often have you acted on the principle yourself? Well, just so often you have been wrong. But you say, you know by experience that you certainly did feel warmer after taking the whisky. Granted at once, you did feel warmer though the quantity of heat in your body was lessened.

You suggest that that does not matter so long as you had the comfort of feeling warmer? I will answer that question by asking another. Do you think it matters whether you really are well off? What nearly happens is that the alcohol in the whisky relaxes the relaxed blood vessels, and, being relaxed, more and warmer blood flows into them, and causes a sensation of warmth, because the surface of the body is made warmer. But the warm blood is by this means brought nearer to the cold air and is made cooler than it otherwise would have been, so that on the whole, the body has lost heat which it could ill afford.

The danger is similar to that which arises in the case of a man who thinks he is more wealthy than he really is. Feeling warm, you will not take the necessary steps to supply the body with heat, or even to preserve that which it possesses. In other words, you will be lavish with your little remaining heat which you cannot afford to part with, even as the other fellow is lavish with his money which he cannot afford to waste.

You have probably heard people say that children should be lightly clad, because this hardens them against the cold. It is a stolen row boat, and when he reached the government dam, where there is a water fall of between 20 and 30 feet, he exclaimed to bystanders: "What man has done, man can do," thereupon starting his boat into the middle of the stream and allowing it to pass over the falls.
