

PAPER TRUST AND THE NEWSPAPERS

Enormous Toll That the Publishers Will Have to Pay Next Year.

PREST. RIDDER'S FIGURES.

Between Paper Trust and Labor Trust Newspapers of U. S. Have a Dark Outlook.

In view of the action of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, in petitioning President Roosevelt to investigate the Paper Trust, and in deciding to appeal to Congress, and to repeat the duty of wood pulp and all materials entering into the manufacture of paper, the following speech delivered by Herman Ridder in Chicago Thursday afternoon, is of especial interest. Mr. Ridder is editor and proprietor of the Staats Zeitung, and president of the American Publishers' association:

Government reports upon the condition of the printing and publishing business, as it was two years ago, show that it was the only large manufacturing industry which tended toward diffusion and away from consolidation or concentration. In the printing and publishing business, as it was two years ago, the industry had grown in greater proportion than any other industry, and it had taken first place among all the industries of the country in the number of establishments. Furthermore, the output of printing establishments had shown a greater increase in the five years from 1900 to 1905 than in the previous 10 years. Then, too, the per capita value of printing and publishing products had increased in greater proportion than those of any other industry. In fact, only three other industries had shown an absolute increase in the value of their products. The printing and publishing business, therefore, had become important and significant in any discussion dealing with the effects of combinations or trusts upon industrial progress.

Since those reports were compiled, the printing and publishing interest has been menaced and even, point of view, products of the printing and publishing business, therefore, had become important and significant in any discussion dealing with the effects of combinations or trusts upon industrial progress.

LEADING INDUSTRIES.

The leading manufacturing industries of the United States in 1905 ranked as follows:
First—Slaughtering and meat packing.
Second—Iron and steel.
Third—Foundries and machine shops.
Fourth—Textile and grist mills.
Fifth—Clothing.
Sixth—Lumber and timber.
Seventh—Printing and publishing.
Eighth—Cotton manufactures.
Ninth—Woolen manufactures.
Tenth—Boots and shoes.

The printing and publishing interests then represented an annual product of one-half billion dollars, of which nearly $100,000,000 represented machinery, tools and implements. They paid salaries and wages amounting to $106,000,000 per annum to 160,000 workers. They paid $28,000,000 per annum for their principal articles of use and value. This vast business, which is the backbone of the printing and publishing industry, is the backbone of the printing and publishing industry.

COMPETITION MAINTAINED.

Yet so scrupulous were they in the subordination of their own and immediate interests to the public interest.

When it was written that "The mills of the Gods grind slowly but grind exceeding fine," the writer must have had a hunch on date interests to those of the varying constituents which they represented. They submitted without material protest to exactions and oppressions which no other interest would have tolerated. While all others were consolidating and planning to enrich themselves at the general expense, the publishing interests were maintaining a competition that reduced their subscription prices to the lowest limit. They reached the minimum in price had increased their average size from 5-10 pages in 1890 to 16-18 pages in 1905. They increased their product and extended their scope until the circulation of the daily newspaper averaged one copy per day to every four of the entire population of the country. But all the benefits arising from the introduction of type setting machines, the perfection of the printing press and the cheapening of the cost of white paper and the improvement of fast running paper-making machinery, were given to the public. In New York City, for instance, 30 per cent. of the total newspaper circulation is on the one cent basis, and this percentage will apply in many parts of the country.

CAPITAL INVESTED.

Within the five years from 1900 to 1905 capital to the extent of $47,000,000 had been added to the investment for newspaper publishing. The total investment had grown to $1,000,000,000. The output had increased from 1,000,000,000 in 1900 to 1,500,000,000 in 1905. The increase in circulation had not been attended by corresponding increase in profit. The tendency toward concentration and consolidation in every other direction has increased the cost of every article supplied to the newspaper, though it receives less than formerly for the article itself. Concentration and consolidation in every other direction has increased the cost of every article supplied to the newspaper, though it receives less than formerly for the article itself.

ed by publishers as payments for industrial insurance. Just as they paid for fire and accident insurance. It has been calculated that in New York City alone the newspapers pay $1,500,000 per annum as their tribute to the closed shop and to organized labor. Any attempt to estimate the aggregate paid by all the newspapers of the country would involve too many complexities to justify the effort. With each new concession to the unions, or each new award of arbitrators, the publishers ask how far this payment may be carried. There are limits beyond which they cannot go, even though they are well-wishers of organized labor. They are approaching that limit where their necessities may force them to stop further concessions and allowances. They wish to emphasize the fact that they have no objections to unions. They believe in the unions, notwithstanding many faults. They have accomplished excellent results for men who are not ambitious to rise above their employment. They believe that the future in the way of securing better terms for workers who deserve them. However, they have a right to complain of those who have set up a selfish guild for the rights of other labor. The unions have fallen into the habit of expecting more from a newspaper than any union could hope to obtain from any other employer. These unions are making demands upon the newspapers because of supposed friendliness of unions and because of supposed helplessness of employers in resisting such exactions. A newspaper, to exist, must run all the time. It cannot wait to contest strikes or to resist demands.

PAPER COMBINATION.

Serious as this labor trust may appear in some of its aspects, it does not compare in objectionable features with a paper combination, which is a thing of the most remarkable financial freak that we can find in a long list of combinations. The printing and publishing business as a whole turns over its capital in about two months. Large department stores, that advertise energetically, will turn over their stock about five times a year, but the largest paper manufacturer in the world—the International Paper Co.—turns over its stock only three times a year. It has no more money to invest. It has no more money to invest. It has no more money to invest.

GOOD BOOKS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

The work of preparing high class books that will suit the tastes of young and old for the coming holidays is now going on at the Deseret News Book store.

Several years of experience have demonstrated to the satisfaction of the management that the demand for the best literature at Christmas time is steadily growing. To meet this demand, one that ought to be encouraged in all ways, the Book Store has decided to devote the space hitherto used for toys and games to books, books, therefore, of the best grade, will form the big feature of the Deseret News establishment during holiday time.

Shipments have already begun to arrive, and arrangements have been made with such standard publishing houses as Harper Brothers, McMillan & Co., Dodd Mead & Co., Scribner's, Little & Brown, and many others for their standard works. Even though it is a little early yet, people who want to select books for their friends can have them set aside and carefully held until near the holiday days.

In the meantime the public is invited to inspect the large, rare and beautiful stock of standard literature which the establishment has received and is daily receiving for the holiday trade.

MLLE. RAGOZINNIKOVA.

Young Woman Who Assassinated Gen. Maximoffsky to be Hanged.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—Mlle. Ragozinnikova, who yesterday shot and killed Gen. Maximoffsky, director of the department of prisons of the ministry of the interior, was taken to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul today, tried by court-martial and sentenced to be executed by hanging.

COLLEGE FOR CHINESE WOMEN.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—A constitution for the women's college at Pao Chow, China, the first woman's college to be established by American missionaries in southern China, was adopted today by the executive board of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church.

FOR UNIFORM DIVORCE LAW.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The biennial convention of the Universalist church in business session here today placed itself on record as against the enfranchisement of women, and declared for a uniform divorce law.

JAPANESE CONSUL MAKES PEREMPTORY DEMAND.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 29.—In reply to a peremptory demand of Japanese Consul S. Shimizu of Chicago as to reasons for the isolation of Japanese laborers afflicted with beri-beri, Mayor F. W. Brown today stated that he had no time to listen to such complaints. He insisted that the laborers had left quarantine at Alva without permission, and that they would be isolated in the empty box car on a sidetrack at Lincoln until there was no danger of their communicating the disease to other workers of their race. The mayor told the Japanese consul that he did not understand the situation here or he would not make such a demand.

DEAD AT WILSON-ASTORIA.

New York, Oct. 29.—A man who on Thursday registered at the Waldorf-Astoria as H. B. Potter, Jr., of Philadelphia, was found dead in his room tonight.

After a thorough examination Coroner Harberger emphatically stated that the man had been murdered. A letter addressed to his wife, Mrs. H. Bradley Potter, Doylestown, Philadelphia, showed that the man was an agent of the Michigan Commercial Insurance company of Lansing, Michigan. The marks on the body showed that he had been beaten and kicked. That the murder did not occur in the man's room Coroner Harberger is certain.

TO BOOM LA FOLLETTE.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—A committee was organized here today to promote the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the Republican nomination for president.

The conference at which the committee was appointed was attended by 20 Republican leaders of the state. An executive committee to direct the work was also chosen.

JUDGE CROSSCUP UNDER INDICTMENT

Held Responsible as a Director For Wreck in Which Eighteen Persons Were Killed.

HE IS DEEPLY TOUCHED BY IT.

Says Accident Was Due Solely to a Human Error in Carrying Out Orders.

Charleston, Ill., Oct. 29.—Several bench warrants were issued today for the arrest of officials and employees of the Mattoon City Railway company, operating the Charleston and Mattoon interurban line, as a result of a wreck near this city last August, in which 18 passengers were killed. Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States court at Chicago is among those indicted.

The others are Directors Underwood, Sampson and Rose of Chicago; President Potter, Supt. Moore and Motorman McClure. Motorman McClure, who, as alleged by the company, was responsible for the accident, by running an express car between stations without orders, has not been indicted. Criminal negligence, tending to produce manslaughter, is the charge against the seven men named.

IT HURTS THE JUDGE.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Judge Grosscup was informed of his indictment just as he was about to take the bench today. He said:

"This thing hurts. My friends, I am sure, know that I have a tender regard for human life and suffering, and a desire to deal justly with all men. I can only say that the accident was due solely to a human error in carrying out orders, and that my sole connection with it is that I was a director of the company at that time."

KING ALFONSO IN LONDON.

London, Oct. 29.—The king and queen of Spain arrived in London tonight. It was raining hard, but in spite of the depressing weather their majesties were met at the station by members of the English royal family and the Spanish ambassador to Great Britain, Senor Villa Urrutia. The visitors drove at once to Kensington palace, where they will reside until next Monday. They will then visit King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Sandringham. The London populace displayed the greatest interest tonight in the infant son of the Spanish king and queen.

SHOT IN SELF DEFENSE.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—The trial of Capt. Benjamin Klensberg of the whaler Olga for the murder of his engineer, Jackson D. Paul, while in the Arctic ocean, was resumed in the United States circuit court, and the defendant told again of how he did the shooting. He claims that the fatal shot was fired in self-defense.

INTERESTING MUSICAL FIND.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—An interesting musical find is reported by the Tagblatt. It consists of 11 unknown dances by Beethoven, composed in 1810 for friends forming a musical society at Moeding, a suburb of Vienna. The dances were found at Leipzig. They are arranged for seven instruments and, it is said, will be shortly published.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested. For the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

For Inflammation

Ladies

who suffer from inflammation of the womanly organs, should be careful that they do not allow the inflammation to spread, or take fast hold, since serious disease might result, requiring, possibly, an operation.

Pain is one of the first signs of inflammation, and when it remains constant in the back, side, hips, head, or comes back every month, your trouble is nearly certain to be inflammation, and needs prompt treatment, with Wine of Cardui.

The great popular success of Cardui, during the past half century, tells volumes as to its merit for female complaints. Thousands of letters are received, telling of its curative powers. See the following, from Mrs. Mabel Hashenbarger, of Larkin, Kas.

"Before I took Cardui I suffered greatly with inflammation. It worked on me for some years, but hadn't bothered me much, till after my marriage, when it caused me two mishaps. After that, Cardui helped me so much and I am so thankful."

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case?

Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not brought under control by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 58 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous cure, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 328 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to prevent the development of a dangerous condition. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that may help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS.

Gov. Stokes Signs Bill Providing for a Popular Expression.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 29.—Gov. Stokes signed today Senator Colby's bill, providing for a popular expression in the selection of United States senators. Under the bill 1,000 voters may file a petition with the secretary of state, indorsing a member of their political party for the office. Candidates for senator or assemblymen in filing their names of nomination may then sign one of two statements, the first pledging them to vote for the candidates for United States senator receiving the highest number of votes in the county at the party primary, and second, pledging him to vote for the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the state at the party primary.

The governor also signed the direct primary bill, which provided for the nomination of all candidates for office except governor, congressmen and presidential electors by direct or primary vote instead of through delegates.

ATE CANNED CORNED BEEF.

And Now Five Men Are Ill from Poisoning.

Los Angeles, Oct. 29.—Five employees of the Behrns dry goods store seriously ill today from ptomaine poisoning from eating canned corned beef for lunch yesterday. Five others are also suffering from the poison, but are not dangerously ill. The men seriously affected are William Star, shipping clerk; J. E. Cottle, engineer; Vincent Rice, night watchman; Thomas F. Gray, head dry cleaner; and Miss Ida Hurley, tubster. The food was purchased at a nearby grocery store, and came from one of the large packinghouses.

PRINCE'S WEDDING POSTPONED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—There is reason to believe that the marriage of Prince Wilhelm of Sweden to Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, previously announced for this fall, will not take place until next month.
