

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

City—As Monday is a legal holiday the University will be closed.

State Senator Bamberger was on Wednesday at the chapel exercises on Wednesday but was detained at home by the account of the students. The students were addressed by President Kingsbury and Prof. Marshall, Cummings and Bennett. Miss Vera felt sang two solos.

Next Wednesday the prep student body will meet again to consider the question of reorganization. The students claim that the normals packed the claim that resulted in a victory for the latter.

On Wednesday the preps again defeated the crack freshmen team at indoor baseball.

Earl and Mary Thompson, members of the fourth year normal class, went to their home at Annabell this week to attend the funeral of their father.

Kingsbury, G. M. Marshall, Byron Cummings and R. K. Thomas. The committees in charge are Horace Whitney, Karl Kingsbury, Prof. Marshall and Prof. Cummings are honorary members of this fraternity.

Prof. Stewart returned to the University on Monday. He recently underwent an operation at the Holy Cross hospital and is rapidly recovering. When he entered his class room at 9 o'clock he was greeted with "Nine nines" from the fourth year normals. Class President Warlick took the floor and made a speech of welcome. Prof. Stewart responded cheerfully and then the session turned into an impromptu program. Speeches were made by students. Larson, Barton, Thurman, Miss J. L. Smith, Messrs. Barton, Butler and Leek sang a trio "The Dream." While listening to the speeches the students busied themselves eating peanuts.

On Friday evening March 11, the fourth year normals will give a dance at Christensen's.

The fourth years have purchased their class pins. The design is a square of gold with a facing of black enamel. In this enamel are stamped U. N. '04.

Number one of the Report of Government Investigation for 1902 contains an extensive article on "Irrigation in Mountain Water District of Salt Lake City," by E. R. Morgan, agent and expert in irrigation investigations. Mr. Morgan is a graduate of the state school of mines in Butte. The topics discussed under Great Salt Lake Valley are Irrigable lands, soil, and water supply. Under the last subdivision, City Creek, Red Butte, Emigration Canyon and Mill Creek are treated in detail.

The fourth year normals are working diligently on their class program. The third years are watching them closely to get items for their burlesque program.

Mr. A. E. Hyde, Jr., manager of the Anna Laurie mine, visited the school of mines on Thursday.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Supt. Christensen held the usual meeting for principals last Wednesday. President Kerr of the A. C. U., not being able to keep his appointment at this session, will appear before the body at an early date. Supt. Christensen notified the principals that President Kerr had extended a cordial invitation to the Salt Lake City teachers to visit the A. C. U. at Logan, and had stated that to pains would be spared to insure the most pleasant sojourn. The railroad companies, however, had not been consulted, so the matter was referred to the committee, who conducted the Lehi and Park City excursions, with such excellent results and unqualified success. An early report from this committee, consisting of Principals Bradford, J. H. Coumbs and Van Cott, the last named succeeds Principal Martin, will determine whether or not the trip will be undertaken. The superintendent called attention to the fact that appropriate exercises should be held in all the schools to commemorate the anniversary of Washington's birthday; that, no matter how small, should adorn each room and that, where possible, one should also be hung to the breeze from the flag-pole of each building.

The next suggestion, thrown out to the principals was that there is a probability of there being too much study during school hours. It was recommended that long recitation periods be avoided as such are known to be practically unprofitable. The fact that occasional groups of school boys can be seen indulging in the "weed," led the superintendent to remark, that a penalty is attached to selling tobacco to minors. It was the sentiment of the principals that strict vigilance be kept in order that effective means might be discovered to suppress the sale of tobacco to school boys and its use by them.

A committee consisting of Supervisors Wetzel, Doney and Miss Pollock, together with Principals Cross, Wallace and Martin was appointed to consider the feasibility of preparing an exhibit from the Salt Lake City schools for the St. Louis exposition. The committee reports next Wednesday. The reading of a paper on Elias Cobb by Principal Cross concluded the meeting. The paper was intensely interesting and bubbled over with wit and humor.

Supervisor Wetzel has been giving the fifth grade students in all the schools a test in sight and prepared reading, this week.

Mr. Frederick Ripley of Boston who is one of the authors of the local music course, has kindly asked Supervisor Wetzel to prepare an exhibit of work in music for the St. Louis exposition, the space to be allotted with the Boston schools. Further, the music department of the N. E. A. wishes to hear a paper from Mr. Wetzel at one of the sessions of this department.

Mrs. Horne has been doing substitute work at the Jackson; Mr. Rampton has been transferred from the Union to the Bonnevill; Miss Martin is now conducting the eighth grade at the Union. She was formerly at the Bonnevill.

Principal Eaton of the High school held an interesting meeting with the senior class last Thursday afternoon. A more definite outline of their work for the remainder of the year was given also matters relative to their class-day exercises were discussed.

Miss Hannah McLaughlin at her residence on West Temple entertained the Riverside corps of teachers last Saturday evening. Much merry-making was indulged in after which a dainty lunch was served. Covers were laid for 15.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

City—No Book of Mormon lecture next Monday. It has been postponed till the 29th.

Wilford Walker and Wm. J. Hanson have received calls to go upon missions. Brother Walker leaves for the Northern States mission on May 15.

The commercial class of 1902, though not now in school, still keep up its school patriotism. The members hold a reunion next Thursday evening at the home of Miss Elsie Pettit.

C. W. Bennett was placed in a position this week with the firm of Miller & Volle, and N. C. Hicks is employed as a stenographer in the office of Attorneys Thomas & Maycock.

On Monday Madame Valentine Hime visited the class of French B. and sang three French songs, which were highly appreciated by the students. Several members of class D. were present by invitation.

At the last meeting of the preparatory students, Willard R. Bullock was elected president, with Allie Hicks as President Young. Fifty-one years ago, the present Young, fifty-one years ago, was elected secretary, and Charles Dover treasurer.

On Wednesday morning, Hon. A. Milton Musser delivered his address, "A Trip Around the World Without Purse and Scrip," before the student body. He was one of the Elders called by President Young. Fifty-one years ago, and way at this time only twenty-two years of age. The trip occupied four hundred and ninety days, more than three hundred of which were spent on the water in sailing vessels.

Three pieces of rare and exquisite music characterized Thursday morning's devotionals. The first was "The Angel's Song," of Braga, which was sweetly sung by one of our students, Miss Vera felt, with violin obligato by Prof. W. E. Weihe. At request of the president, Mr. Weihe then favored the assembly with the "Crucifix Song," by Sauer, and responded to an encore with "The Old Folks at Home."

President Paul left the city for Rexburg, Idaho, this morning. He will speak in that city tomorrow evening, and will address the students of Ricks' academy in their celebration on Monday, Washington's birthday. The program of the celebration will be given by the students of Prof. Oscar A. Kirkham of the same institution.

The trip to Logan was, as usual, an enjoyable one. A delegation of 22 students went from the L. D. S. U. St. Paul, and returned on Monday. The trip was in the party. These went to attend the business connected with the Church summer school and were in session all day Saturday. The basketball boys were cordially treated by the victorious team. Especially do our boys recall with pleasure the thoughtful courtesy of Prof. Jensen, of the A. C. U., lately of the L. D. S. He banqueted the team after its victory, and the unite in voting him a jolly good fellow.

By winning the second game from Logan, the B. Y. C. basketball team clinched the championship of the state for the fifth successive year. The victory was dearly won, the score being 23 to 15 in favor of the L. D. S. U. The game was a hard fought one, the B. Y. team profited by them. Our team was one point ahead without the fouls and without deducting any of the free throws for Logan. The last game of the series came off yesterday, too late for inclusion in these notes, but the result appears elsewhere in this paper.

How would you like to be me? And for your school such champions? I can tell you, boys.

There's some comrades with them, Stanton and Christy and our big Joe, Taylor and Hamilton and Lund, you know, L. D. S. U. students! They are the real deal this time.

The above chorus, to the tune of "Pretty Mollie Shannon," was sung one morning this week after devotional exercises were over, the practice being led by Prof. Kent.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY.

Provo.—Mr. Thomas Chamberlain of the Kanab stake visited the institution last week. Mr. Chamberlain has a number of grown-up sons and daughters, who are among our leading students.

Tom Higgs and Sylvester Broadbent, both pedagogues this year, were visiting the school one day during the week. Perhaps class patriotism drew them here, perhaps a pair of our charming young ladies—who know?

Mr. M. W. Merrill of the Commercial school is taking steps toward organizing an inter-collegiate baseball league. He has written the U. of U., the L. D. S. U., the B. Y. C. and the A. C. U. It is believed that the movement will be successful.

The college orchestra played a grand selection in devotional exercises on Monday morning. The players were lustily applauded by the faculty and students.

Prof. Robinson gave some very good instructions to the students in chapel on Tuesday morning. He advised each student to have a conference with himself and seriously consider his actions, motives and ambitions at the present time. He also warned the student to cautiously guard the unconscious transformation that is constantly going on in his life. His advice was very timely indeed.

The Church school board of examinations, consisting of President Linford, President Paul of the Latter-day Saints' university, President Brimhall of the Brigham Young university, and Superintendent J. M. Tanner met in President Linford's office last Saturday and transacted considerable business relative to the work of the schools concerned. Among other things transacted, plans were matured for a summer school, the temporary location of which has not yet definitely decided upon. Two or three of the very best and ablest instructors that can be had in the east will be engaged to give five or six weeks' course. This will be quite a step in advance of anything that has yet been done in the intermountain region.

The Nebo stake had a reunion the other evening at which representatives from home towns were present. The affair was very enjoyable both socially and from the view point of strengthening future attendance from that stake.

In the Rialto club has been organized a debating team consisting of 12 members, and a series of debates have been arranged for with a view to preparing for the time when the university meets the L. D. S. U. next spring.

Prof. Osmond lectured before the branch normal at Provo last Saturday and Sunday. Manager Richmond of the White and Blue also went to Beaver with the view to rustling patronage for the students' paper. Both missions were successful.

Prof. Hickman lectured Tuesday evening in Spanish Fork on the subject, "As are our thoughts so are we." The professor accompanied by Miss Ella Larsen, our training teacher, conducted a two days' institute in Sevier county yesterday and today.

Owing to the fact that Washington's birthday is to be made a holiday, it being also the occasion of the visit of President Smith to the institution, it was decided not to observe fund day as heretofore. The classes convened last Wednesday, therefore, without any change.

The city council, before ceding over the title of Temple hill, exacted a condition that the university should place on it substantial buildings. The student body, Mr. Mayor, and the morning unanimously agreed to the condition, all future university extension will, therefore, be on this picturesque ground.

For a long time a number of neat posters painted by the art students, and ornamented with the old-fashioned spinning wheel, have been in evidence, announcing "Frisella." This week the city is thoroughly billed with printed posters, announcing the same fact and giving the dates of the opera as Feb. 22-23.

In the upper hall of the high school building the art department has stretched a strip of dark cloth along the wall as a background on which to exhibit its work, which is changed daily. During the last three days, however, the only token to be seen there was the picture of the late Marcus A. Hanna, draped in mourning.

In the literary society last week Prof. Nelson gave a talk on "Robert Burns." Illustrated with selected readings. Songs were sung by Miss Lucile Young and Miss Edna Daniels. Miss Pearl Adams read "Tam O'Shanter," and Miss Sadie Preston read Burns' "Ode to the Wood Lark." The program seemed to be much appreciated.

The ground ceded by the city council to the students for the first and second joining tracts which they also desire to get hold of, contains about 40 acres. The subscriptions to the fund from the students alone amount now to nearly $500. They are determined that their beloved Alma Mater shall be richer for their having been in attendance during the present year.

The band and orchestra are now following the plan of the music school in giving recitals every Friday afternoon. Last week the program was as follows: "Johnnie Scott," "The Bluebell of Scotland," "The Students' paper," "The White and Blue," enjoys the unique distinction of being the only weekly school paper in the state. It is also larger and contains more matter than any other. Among the regular departments in each issue are the literary, current events, editorials, music, athletics, local and plunder. The subscription list is nearly the 600 mark, at 75c per copy, which, taken in consideration with the liberal patronage of Provo advertisers, will enable the board to get through the present year without debt, and with money in the treasury. In addition to all this, the present board has fitted up a neat office, with carpet, desks, and other furnishings. Provo advertisers, the old school take notice of these facts, should they receive a sample copy.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, Feb. 19.—During the week congregational singing has been a feature of devotionals at the institution. The choir being very busy with opera work, they have taken seats in the body of the house.

The dinners which are served daily by the cooking departments have become so popular that it is very difficult for Miss Homer to accommodate all who apply each day for dinner. In fact, it has been impossible during the last few weeks. This week Miss Homer has found it necessary to turn away three different applications for dinner parties. On Tuesday Miss Mayor Robinson gave a dinner party at the college dining room, her guests being Mrs. Capt. Syer, Mrs. Prof. Langton, Mrs. Dr. Whitsoe, Mrs. John A. Hendrickson, Mrs. Thad Naylor, Mrs. W. B. Preston and Mrs. Pyper. Mrs. Robinson's floral decorations were in geraniums. On Wednesday, Mrs. Knox gave a dinner party. Her guests were President and Mrs. Morrell, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Campbell, Mrs. Marlinton, Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Hanks. Carnations were used for decorations in Mrs. Knox's party.

The college orchestra played a grand selection in devotional exercises on Monday morning. The players were lustily applauded by the faculty and students.

Prof. Robinson gave some very good instructions to the students in chapel on Tuesday morning. He advised each student to have a conference with himself and seriously consider his actions, motives and ambitions at the present time. He also warned the student to cautiously guard the unconscious transformation that is constantly going on in his life. His advice was very timely indeed.

LEAVES FROM OLD ALBUMS.

A REMINISCENCE OF "BLEEDING KANSAS."

An interesting story lies back of the gruesome spectacle shown in this half tone. The negative of the photograph is in possession of the veteran photographer C. W. Carter, whose invaluable stock of views forms a regular pictorial history of the development of the west. Mr. Carter bought the negative from a traveling photographer many years ago. He printed pictures from it and added them to his collection. One day not long since, he showed the picture to Judge E. F. Colburn, who was astonished beyond measure to recognize in it an episode in his own life. The figure of the idle spectator standing at the corner looking upon the two prostrate bodies, is in fact that of Judge Colburn himself, who was then little more than a boy. The bodies are those of two desperadoes, who had been shot in the building adjoining, and flung up on the sidewalk by the famous "Wild Bill." The scene was in the town of Hays City, Kansas, during 1871. Though the population of the place was 5,000, it was one of the wildest border towns imaginable. The people in desperation made a contract with "Wild Bill" to preserve law and order, and the picture illustrates how "Bill" started in on his program. Judge Colburn remembers vividly as he stood at the corner of the building gazing upon the lifeless forms of the desperadoes, that a traveling photographer paused and took a snap shot of the spectacle. The event had passed entirely from his memory until the Carter photograph brought it vividly back again.

BEAVER B. B. Y. UNIVERSITY

Friday morning, Feb. 12th, Sister Macer spoke to the young ladies on "The qualifications of Latter-day Saint Women."

The leap-year and valentine party last Friday night was a success. The nature of a high grade and valentines were of a high grade and were therefore very beautiful. Some visitors attended the party.

The lecture on "The Manly Life" given last Saturday night by Prof. Osmond of Provo was enjoyed by all who attended. Prof. Osmond was accompanied by Brother Richmond who, being the manager of the White and Blue, came in the interest of that paper. Prof. Osmond and also Brother Richmond spoke to us in devotional yesterday morning.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—Pres. Kerr went to Salt Lake City yesterday to attend a meeting of the state board of education, at which the matter of an exhibit at St. Louis next summer is to be discussed and plans formulated.

The class of 1903 presented the college with a beautiful framed picture of their members. It will be a pleasing addition to the class and group pictures which now adorn the walls of the library.

Mayor Robinson, in a very fitting address of welcome to the Utah dairymen last Wednesday, turned over the keys of the city to them.

State Engineer Doremus addressed the farmers of Cache Valley today on the new irrigation laws.

Mrs. Kerr was quite ill for a number of days the first of the week, but is now much better.

Mrs. Peterson, after a visit of two weeks with her sons, E. J. and Preston, returned to her home in Baker City, Oregon.

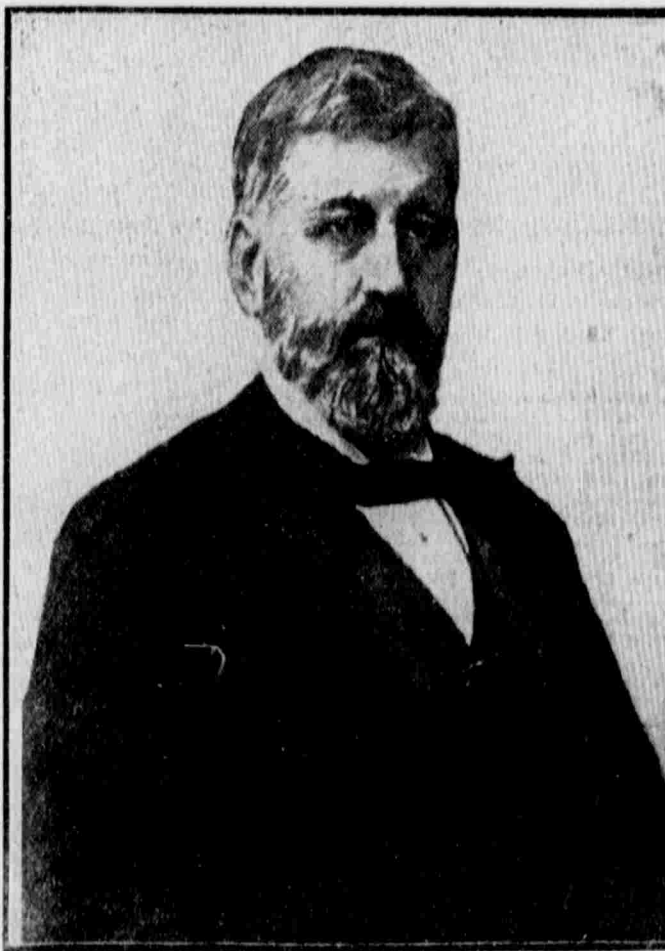

The class in assaying with Prof. Peterson, have commenced its work in the new and finely equipped room in the south end of the basement.

Mr. E. G. Peterson was in Salt Lake on Student Life business on Monday and Tuesday.

and recitations was rendered, and games were played, after which refreshments were served. About 150 girls were present to enjoy the occasion.

Mr. Horace Kerr has been absent from school this week on account of a fever which the attending physician fears may develop into typhoid.

The Cache county teachers' institute met at the college last Saturday. Supt. Thompson addressed the students and teachers assembled at chapel; he expressed his great satisfaction in being able to visit this great state institution with his teachers as they might the better understand its work and purpose. After the morning session, the teachers did full justice to a magnificent dinner which was prepared by the domestic science department and served in the dining room.

Prof. O. J. Sullwell of the Ogden high school, accompanied by several of his students, spent last Saturday at the college, comparing notes with Prof. Boxell in the department of commerce. They all expressed themselves as much pleased with the work.

Prof. Norton of the Idaho academy, formerly President Kerr's private secretary, spent last Saturday renewing old acquaintances at the college and in Logan.

Miss Izatt, station stenographer, returned to her desk this week after a ten days' sojourn of pneumonia. Director Whitsoe says the station nearly ceased operations during her absence.

Prof. Thomas, principal of the Ogden high school visited the college and Logan last Saturday.

Prof. Upham was able to meet his classes again this week.

The teachers of the Benson school were entertained at luncheon today by the domestic science department.

The Cache valley farmers held an institute at the college last Thursday. A large number were in attendance, and were served with lunch after the session, and were then shown about the building and grounds.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Ogden.—A beginners' algebra class was organized last week to accommodate those who finished arithmetic.

"Which is better for thought culture, literature or mathematics," is still an open question as far as the psychology class is concerned.

The Book of Mormon classes are following the Y. M. M. I. A. manual while discussing that part of the subject.

The first issue of the academy paper, "The Acorn," is at present in the press. It will be ready for circulation the early part of next week.

The class in English literature has just finished reading Julius Caesar. "How could it be otherwise, being narrated by the academy girls?" asked one who knows what they are doing. The decorations pleased the eye, the refreshments the taste, the order the aesthetic nature, and the sociability, the soul. Everybody feels well over it.

The largest audience that has yet greeted a lecturer in the academy turned out to hear Hon. B. H. Roberts last Monday evening. His lecture was "The Witness of the Book of Mormon," and was delivered in the orator's characteristic manner.

The lecture committee is busy arranging for the lectures and dramatic recitals to be given here on the 8th, 9th and 10th of March by Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago. The lecture will all be given in the tabernacle—five in number.

The basketball team goes to Logan Saturday night, where they will play the B. Y. college boys on Washington's birthday. They will return Tuesday morning.

BRANCH NORMAL.

Cedar City.—Ex-State Senator Tanner of Beaver, who was among the first to advocate the establishment of the branch normal, was a visitor last Friday. The program for students' chapel was dispensed with in order to hear from him. He gave an inspiring talk, which received the applause of those present. An urgent invitation was given him to be present at the social Monday.

The question, "Resolved that Utah's future prosperity depends more upon its mining than its agricultural industries," was debated last Friday evening. The affirmative side being victorious. An election dance was given after the debate.

Political agitation has ceased with the following results: Mayor, John Webster; recorder, Clarissa Stewart; attorney, R. E. Lee Wikom. The precinct officers are about equally divided between reform and non-reform candidates.

Choral society will convene hereafter at 5 p. m. Tuesdays. A number of students have been requested to attend regularly.

Number one of the series of entertainments will be given in the new hall Monday, Feb. 22, under the auspices of the Athletic association. It will consist of an athletic exhibition in connection with dancing.

A society has been organized known as The Branch Normal Social club. Its officers are an executive committee identical with the faculty; and a board of reference, identical with the student body. Persons not members of the school may become members of the society if their names are presented to the faculty and approved by it. Coupon tickets are issued at special rates to students only for admission to the society's entertainments. The purpose of its organization, primarily is to avoid a questionable element being in attendance at our entertainments.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes of Du Pont, Cal., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come.
