Bee Matters. — The Bee-keepers Associations throughout the Territory, are requested to send to Secretary Edward Stevenson, P. O. Box 346, at as early a date as possible, reports of the number of swarms of ed that he once had a little pistol of bees, condition, amount of honey taken, and extent of foul brood (if at himself without its hurting him. any) in the various organizations.

Due notice will be given of the Bee-keeper's Convention, postponed from Conference week on account of other meetings being held at that time.

Returning Missionaries .- A letter to President John Taylor from President Wm. Budge, of the European mission, dated October 23d. which we have been permitted to read speaks in terms of the highest praise of the labors of the missionaries who left Liverpool that day for their homes Utah. Some were permitted to return rather soon from their missions, on account of ill health and other reasons, but all were released cheerfully and have been faithful and industrious in the work. Including returning elders, the company numbers 258 souls. The names will be found in another column.

Utah Eastern Notes .-- From a gentleman just in from the Park, we learn the following items concerning the Utah Eastern. The ties on the road are all bedded, the bridges are built, and the iron is in the yard at Coalville. The rolling stock is on hand, the engine works well, and over one mile of iron per day is being laid. The prospects are good that the road will be finished to Kimball's within 10 or 12 days. Side tracks are made to the coal beds. The famous Spriggs mine, belonging to the company, is in excellent condition, and doing a large business under the skillful manage ment of Mr. Hay. Everything is encouraging. Now come forward with your help, friends, and another month will lower the price of coal in Salt Lake City.

> There are many persons among us who are capable of delivering interesting and instructive lectures upon various subjects, who have not yet appeared as public lecturers. The committee will doubtless enlist the services of such persons, and the result will be that a greater amount of talent in this direction will be developed, and the associations correspondingly benefited.

> These public lectures should not in any case be allowed to interfere with the regular meetings of the Associations.
