A Third Term Movement. CHICAGO, 15. - A Washington special says that the third term movement is developing rapidly in official circles; many leading resays the republican party will be compelled to take Grant as its choice. He then rings out a sad wall over the fact that all of the old rebels are coming into power in Congress, and the life of the re-public is therefore endangered, and that Grant is the only man who can save it. There is ne escape from this view of the question of electing a president, and the masses of the republican party are no long-er affrighted with the absurd cry of Casarism, and they are now looking to Grant as confidently as they ever regarded him. The school ques-tion and anti-Cathoifeism are to be dwelt upon in the annual message, under the tutel selof Morton. The deas foreshadowed in the Chronicle are really based upon a matured plan, prepared by the President and his intimates since the late fall
