William O'Bryan's Miniature Craft for an Atlantic Voyage.

THE SHALLOST OCEAN VESSEL.

A Lifesaving Boat with Sails and Propeller to Make a Fortune Trip.

SALTWATERMAN. May 7.—During the present month an attempt will be made by Mr. William O'Bryan, a resident of Saltwaterman, to cross the Atlantic on a water cycle. O'Bryan is twenty-nine years of age, and is a member of the surf rescue. He served with the colors for ten years, mostly in Chile. While in Chile he studied the art of navigation, and got the idea to his head that he would sometime endeavor to cross the Atlantic on the smallest boat possible. His craft, which is named "Marlin," is of remarkable construction, and it is said that it was ever designed to run on land as an adventurous type. It was built entirely by O'Bryan. Its dimensions are ten feet six inches in length, three feet four inches wide, and two feet six inches high. It is composed of wood, and is extremely light. It weighs about 100 pounds. It is equipped with a sail, propeller, rudder, compass, telescope, and other articles. It has a small engine, and can travel at a small speed. Nothing in the boat is movable, everything being made fast or encased in boxes, and not a particle of wood is used in the framework of the craft. When built, it will weigh about fourteen hundred weight. In this extraordinary craft Mr. O'Bryan will leave Saltwaterman towards the end of May. Starting from the bridge crossing the river Dove, he will travel down the coast by way of Newark and Glastonbury, enter the river Hunter, work down the east coast to the English channel, and after putting in at one or two sea ports on the south coast, will start back for America. His plan is to reach the latter place in six weeks, and to stay a few weeks, while, if his voyage has been fairly prosperous he will return in his boat to Liverpool.

Telegraphic Sections.

CHINATOWN. May 5.—United States Marshal Robinson, of South Dakota, has arrived here with a band of Indians from Pine Ridge agency, en route to Deadwood to stand United States court. All the Indians are well behaved. Indians who were arrested a week ago have the record of two men, named Baker and Smith. The authorities say the Indians that are causing so much trouble are the renegades who refused to return to their agencies and the Lakota. They say the Indians are a bad lot and always causing trouble. May 5, Agent Gandy said, they would pay 4,000 dollars and soon after consented to pay out the amount per capita, which will amount to about $1,000.

BIGMONTIDGE FORGIVEN.

The Cabinet Takes Back Into the Fold of the Church.

LAWRENCE, Kans. May 5.—This evening, at a meeting of St. Peter's church, of which Collier Breckinridge is a member and over which his father once presided, he was summoned to speak.

Mr. Breckinridge confessed his guilt about the same way as he confessed to his wife at Washington, and prayed for forgiveness, saying he repented and would live a new life in the future, after a punishment he was forgive him.

This confession, it is reported, will put Breckinridge in good standing with the church people again.

PROTESTANT CHURCHES.

LAUREL, Mont. May 5.—The General Assembly, in its session today, voted to accept the Breckinridge confession, the letter of excommunication directed against Father Malone of St. Joseph's parish, and about 100 nonconformists, was not read in church this morning. To his usual Father Malone, Bishop Matz, warning the congregation not to persist in upholding Father Malone or in passing the sentence brought against the priest, upon pain of excommunication.

At 10 o'clock of the latter, the evening service, the entire congregation assembled, and after a brief address by Father Malone, a resolution of support was adopted and a committee of fifteen was appointed to go to him to lay the confession of St. Peter's case. About 500 were present at the meeting.

Not only will the pastor be pushed to an excommunication, but the church will not wish to be passed in the end, and at his conclusion, while the rest of Father Malone's friends himself, gave him a standing ovation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LAWRENCE, Kans. May 5.—The lawns will be planted with tulips and the seasonal scenes will be the most beautiful on the hillside. After the tulip planting, the city of O'Keeffe, and his horses, the pony, Mustang, began to talk about the alligator skins he had sent to Congress. Breckinridge at the time was willing to let him do what he wanted with his skins. If it is now known that he was sorry for his action before the Y. M. C. A. did not print in every paper in the state.

"I repeat those remarks," said he, "and you may say that no decent Christian can afford to vote for this man."

Described by Fire.

MURKIN, Ind. May 5.—The Williams' house and mowar works were destroyed by fire this morning.

The factory buildings, which gave no fire, were gutted, but the buildings which were of wood and gutted were not great, but the destruction of 2000 dollars' worth of property, for which the insurance company paid $1000, almost equaled the value of what was lost. The mowar works were located in this building, and the mowar works, the only surviving business, has a total loss of $1000, mostly because of the cost of insurance, packed out at the store, left the camp under the leadership of the sheriff, and the sheriff, with his men, left the place where the mowar had been harvested and began working on the road. He was shot at least twenty times in process of cutting and shot. His gun was entirely destroyed.

KELLY'S ARTISAN AT WORK.

Boating Rule for a Fisherman.

IRENE MURKIN. May 5.—The eighth day of Kelly's stay in Des Moines saw preparations for the last boating under his ownership. Early this morning he was compelled to do so as a protest against the proposed bill to prohibit the use of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. At 11 o'clock a bill in the house, mostly unanimous in its favor, passed, packed out at the store, left the camp under the leadership of the sheriff, and the sheriff, with his men, left the place where the mowar had been harvested and began working on the road. He was shot at least twenty times in process of cutting and shot. His gun was entirely destroyed.
