

principal points of interest in the city. The General and a few friends reached the Tabernacle previous to the others' arrival there, and were being shown through the building when the main body, with the President and Mrs. Hayes, Secretary Ramsay et al., presented themselves at the door. While in this position, with Gen. Sherman at the other end of the building, quite a conversation took place between the two leaders, which, much to their surprise, was faithfully carried back and forth by the remarkable acoustic properties of the hall. At another time, the President was standing immediately in front of the organ, when some of the others at the east end of the auditorium engaged him in conversation. One of the ladies said, "Good morning, Mr. President." "Good morning," he responded, both speeches being heard very accurately. Elder C. J. Thomas, who was guiding the visitors through the place, then gave His Excellency another proof of the ease with which sounds were transmitted from one point to another in the building, by dropping a pin at one extremity of the house, which was distinctly heard by the visitors at the opposite side. This the President pronounced as "extraordinary," as did Gen. Sherman and the rest. They remarked that they had never before seen anything like it. While there, they were introduced to Superintendent Henry Grow, the builder of the Tabernacle, to whom the President said: "I am pleased to meet with the man who could erect such a building. Who was the architect?" "President Brigham Young was his own architect," replied Elder Thomas. (Dead silence). On leaving the building the President courteously lifted his hat to a group of workmen who had congregated near the doorway and who promptly returned his salute. The visitors spent about half an hour at the Tabernacle, expressing great pleasure at what they saw, and delighting all who met them by their kind and affable deportment. Their names, gleaned from the register at the Temple Gate and other sources, are as follows:

President R. B. Hayes, Mrs. Lucy W. Hayes, his wife; Messrs. B. A. and R. P. Hayes, their sons; Mr. Mitchell, of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Herron, of Cincinnati; Dr. Huntington, U. S. A. Surgeon of Soldiers' Home, Washington, D. C.; John Jameson, Assistant General Superintendent Railway Mail Service, of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the President's party; Hon. Alex. Ramsay, Secretary of War, who joined the party at Omaha; and Lieut. Noyes, who joined it at Cheyenne. The above are the members of the President's party. Gen. Sherman's is as follows: Gen. W. T. Sherman and his daughter Miss Rachael; Mrs. Colonel Audenried; Colonel Barr, Judge Advocate of War Department; Mrs. Barr; and General A. McDowell McCook, Lieut.-Colonel Tenth Infantry and Aid to Gen. Sherman.

From 10 a. m. till 11, a public reception took place at the Walker House parlors, this change in the programme being made in order to allow the visitors to leave earlier than had been anticipated. Many citizens of various classes took advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to shake hands with the distinguished tourists. All were treated with the utmost courtesy. The callers were introduced by Governor Murray, assisted by others.

At 11 o'clock, the party again entered carriages and proceeded to Fort Douglas, where they were met by General John E. Smith and staff and welcomed with a salute of artillery. After lunch and a pleasant visit at the Fort, which General Smith and his associates did all they could to render interesting and enjoyable, the party returned to the city and left by special train for Ogden at about half-past one o'clock this afternoon.

They were accompanied by the following gentlemen from this city, quite a number of ladies being in the company: President John Taylor, Hons. Orson Pratt, George Q. Cannon, Jos. F. Smith and D. H. Wells; Presidents A. M. Cannon and Jos. E. Taylor; Hon. Wm. Jennings; Gen. H. S. Eldredge; Bishops L. W. Hardy and R. T. Burton; Hon. Chas. W. Penrose; Dr. Jno. R. Park; Messrs. Jas. Jack, D. McKenzie and H. K. Whitney.

Shortly after arriving there, the Presidential party left to complete the tour of the West. We sincerely wish President Hayes and his fellow-tourists a pleasant and interesting experience throughout the scenes they propose to visit, and an ultimate safe return to their homes in the East. We earnestly hope and have reason to believe their brief stay in Salt Lake will be to them a pleasant recollection, as it certainly will to all who had the pleasure of meeting any of them personally.

In behalf of the great majority of our citizens we tender them the compliments and best wishes of the people of Salt Lake and Utah Territory, and only regret that circumstances were such that the people were not permitted to make a more extensive demonstration of respect in honor of our Nation's Chief and his distinguished travelling associates.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 3.

Watch for It.—An official notice, with instructions concerning the election and registration matters, will be published in a few days. Let all watch for it and give good heed to what it contains.

Recovering.—We are pleased to learn that Apostle Wilford Woodruff, who has been quite ill since his return from Provo, is rapidly improving; the prospects are that he will soon be around again in his usual good health. Speed the day.

Married.—The marriage notice of Elder Walter J. Leis and Miss Emily S. Elsmore, both of this city, will be found elsewhere. The ceremony took place yesterday and was performed by Elder Joseph F. Smith at the Endowment House. Elder Lewis was formerly an employee at the News office, and has but recently returned from a mission to Europe. We join with many friends in wishing the happy pair a long lease of life and a large share of joy and prosperity which they richly deserve.

Accidents.—From the Logan Leader of to-day:

About six o'clock last Wednesday evening a number of little boys were playing on the U. & N. track near the depot, with a small hand car called a "trolley," when one of them was severely hurt. They are all too small to give an intelligible account of how the accident happened, but it seems that a number of them were riding on the "trolley" when one of them fell in front of it, with the right hand on the rail in such a manner as to come between the rail and the flange of the wheel. Three of the fingers of the right hand were injured, and on one of them the flesh was cut open its entire length, on the palm side clear to the bone. There is danger of the loss of this finger. The second toe of the right foot was also badly mashed. The victim of the accident is a son of Brother Josiah Hendricks, of the 2nd ward, and is only six years old. We witnessed the dressing of his wounds, and during the operation the little fellow never whimpered. Even when the doctor, with a pair of scissors, trimmed the lacerated flesh, and cut out a finger nail by the roots, the little hero maintained a stoical silence, perfectly astonishing in one so young.

On last Tuesday afternoon an accident occurred near the terminus of the U. & N. A brakeman named King wishing to couple a construction train that was moving quite fast, with some cars standing just ahead of it, ran at full speed in front of the moving cars, and succeeded in shooting the coupling rod home, but the momentum of the moving cars was so great as to instantly bend the rod double. Mr. King was caught by the hips between two cars, and it is a marvel how he escaped instant death. He was brought to Logan Thursday morning to receive attention. No bones were fractured, but a gash was cut in the right hip, some two inches long, and the region of the hips was badly bruised.

FROM SATURDAY DAILY, SEPT. 4.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of the infant child of Elder S. W. Sears, were held at 1 p. m. to-day, at the residence of Father Sears, 11th Ward. The large assembly of relatives and friends was addressed by Bishop A. McRae, Bishop Thos. Taylor and Elder C. W. Penrose.

Priesthood Meeting.—There was a fair representation of the priesthood to-day, all the Wards in the Stake being represented excepting the 12th, 18th, 20th and Brighton Wards.

Instructions were given upon the importance of Teachers fulfilling their duties faithfully among the Saints; also of officers of quorums being alive and watchful for the interest and wellbeing of those under them, not requiring the Bishop to report to them unworthy members, but being themselves aware of the condition of all. The order of dealing with the unfaithful was explained.

The importance of being faithful and judicious in temporal matters, as well as spiritual, was also urged, as we would be judged by our works. The political status of the people was also touched upon, and the brethren exhorted to influence the people to avail themselves of every legal right to protect themselves and their children in their liberties; for although the Lord would deliver His people, He expected and required them to make use of the means that He had provided.

The action of the Church hands, who were liberated on fast days to enable them to go to fast meeting, in going upon excursions on that day, was severely criticised.

The speakers were President A. M. Cannon, President Elias Smith and Elder Geo. Q. Cannon.

Adjourned to meet on Saturday, Oct. 2d, at 11 a. m.

WILLIAM W. TAYLOR,
Clerk.

Lumber Prices.—As we promised yesterday, we give below the prices on lumber fixed by Zion's Board of Trade at Logan, several days ago; also a number of resolutions connected therewith, adopted by the meeting:

Resolved, That all shipments of lumber, etc., to markets outside of Cache Valley, and as far north as Oxford, shall not be governed by these prices, but in such outside markets any person may sell to the best possible advantage. And be it further

Resolved, That in all cases when cash or its equivalent at the time of purchase is paid, a discount of 5 per cent. for such payment shall be allowed. And be it further

Resolved, That where labor, produce or trade of any kind is taken in exchange for lumber, etc., said labor, produce or trade of any kind, shall be figured at cash rates. And be it further

Resolved, That the price for lumber, lath and shingles at the various mills in the canyons shall be the same as the prices in the valley, less the price (in cash) of hauling from the mill to the nearest settlement. And further,

Resolved, That these prices shall take effect from and after the 28th day of August, 1880, and shall not be changed except by a majority vote of this convention. Provided, that contracts made and entered into prior to said 28th day of August shall not be governed by the prices here established, and further Provided, that the prices in the settlements outside of Logan may be 5 per cent. less than the prices herein named.

For good merchantable red pine timber and common white pine lumber, twenty dollars ($20) per 1,000 feet.

For wany edge, shaky or other inferior lumber, $17 per 1,000 feet.

For second class white pine and red pine flooring and picket lumber $22.50 per 1,000 feet.

For first class white pine $27.50 per 1,000 feet.

For white pine and balsam shingles $3.25 per 1,000.

For red pine shingles $3.50 per 1,000.

For lath $6 per 1,000.

For moulding,  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a cent for each inch in width and one foot in length.

For surfacing, $3 per 1,000.

For planing, rustic siding, matched or tongued and grooved, $6 per 1,000.

For beading $7.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 6.

General Sherman's Speech.—We are indebted to Mr. G. F. Gibbs, stenographer, for the report, published elsewhere, of the speech made yesterday, at the Walker House, by General Sherman.

Hail Storm.—Our agent at Park Valley, Box Elder County, informs us of a severe hailstorm that occurred there recently, which threshed out considerable grain as it stood in the field.

Eight Deaths.—Sexton Canfield, of Ogden, reports eight deaths in that city during the month of August, including the victim of the recent railroad accident and the man who was drowned in Ogden River.

Fatally Injured.—A correspondent at Wanship, informs us of the death, on the 15th ult., at that place, of Frank Chandolor, aged about 50 years, a native of England. He was fatally injured by falling from a load of grain. He leaves a wife and two children.

Wandered from Home.—Josephine Taylor, daughter of President John Taylor, left her home on Thursday afternoon, and has not been heard of since. She is slightly deranged. When she left she had on a black dolman, a white hat trimmed with black, and a drab dress. Her hair is cut short. Any person knowing of her whereabouts will confer a great favor on her parents by sending information to this office.

Jennings Re-arrested.—The following special came over the wires this morning:

TOQUERVILLE, Sept. 6, 1880.

Editors Deseret News.

Deputy Marshal Armstrong arrived here this morning, having in charge George Jennings, arrested on a warrant issued by U. S. Commissioner Wilkins, on a charge of participation in the Parker murder committed last April.

It will be remembered that at the time of the preliminary examination of Dalton and Jennings, the latter of whom was accused by the other of complicity in the crime, Dalton was held in custody, but Jennings discharged for want of evidence to prove his participation in the murder. Since then Dalton has firmly adhered to his assertion that Jennings was his accomplice, and it may be that additional proofs have been obtained which justify the issuance of another warrant for Jennings' arrest.

Beaver Stake Conference.—The Twelfth Quarterly Conference of the Beaver Stake of Zion, was held on Saturday and Sunday, the 28th and 29th ult., at Minersville. The meetings were well attended. There were present the Presidency of the Stake, the bishops of the various Wards and other prominent members of the Stake. The speakers were President Ashworth, Elders Thomas Parkinson, William Ashworth, W. Fotheringham, Bishops White, Lilleywhite, McKnight, J. N. Smith, Elder Thos. Schofield, President Shepherd, et al. The conference adjourned to meet in Beaver City, three months thence, subject to any changes that might be made at the General Conference in October.

The above is a brief synopsis of the proceedings furnished by the clerk. As they were not only too lengthy, but written on both sides of the paper; we were compelled to condense them as above.

British Mission.—The Millennial Star of August 16th has the following:

Elder William Jack, missionary from Utah, arrived in Liverpool on the S.S. Wisconsin, on Friday, Aug. 6th. He had a prosperous journey and reached here in good health and spirits.

The following elders are released to return with the company that will leave Liverpool on September 4th:

From the British Mission:—Moroni Snow from being traveling elder in Nottingham Conference.

From the Scandinavian Mission:—C. C. Assmussen, Copenhagen Conference; Peter Neilson, Aarhus Conference; A. P. Rose, Aarhus Conference; Ole Sonne, Aalborg Conference; Jonas Halvorsen, Christiania Conference.

William Jack is appointed a traveling elder in the Dundee Conference, to labor under the direction of Elder Andrew Ferguson.

Elder Moroni Snow arrived in this country on the 17th of May, 1879. He has suffered quite severely from the effects of the damp climate of this land upon his general health; but has nevertheless labored faithfully and diligently. We consider that owing to climatic influence upon his health, it would be unwise for him to remain in the mission over another winter.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of Bishop S. A. Woolley's wife were held in the Thirteenth Ward Assembly Rooms, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The large hall was filled with relatives, friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

On the stand were Apostle Joseph F. Smith, Presiding Bishop Hunter, Prest. Jos. E. Taylor, Bishops L. D. Young, J. M. Weiler, John Henry Smith, E. F. Sheets, E. D. Woolley and his two counselors.

Bishop Hunter briefly spoke, recounting instances in the life of the deceased and her husband, which were praiseworthy and becoming Saints, and exhorting his hearers to faithfulness.

Elder Joseph F. Smith addressed the assemblage at some length, on the first and second deaths, reading as a text, about two pages of the Book of Mormon, commencing on page 243. His remarks were calculated to convince all of the necessity for obedience to the commands and laws of God, in order to escape the second death. He spoke words of comfort to the bereaved husband and family, and urged upon all Latter-day Saints the necessity for faithfulness to the end.

Bishop S. A. Woolley, by the request of his wife, previous to her decease, recited in a brief and concise manner, her history and career in the Church from Nauvoo until her death.

The services lasted till about 1.30, when the earthly remains of Mrs. Catherine E. Woolley were followed to the cemetery by an unusually long procession of vehicles, containing relatives and friends.

Sister Woolley was a great sufferer and her death is to her a relief from much affliction. While rejoicing in her entrance into the rest of the faithful, we sympathize with Bro. Woolley and his family in their bereavement.

Fatal Poisoning.—The Enquirer of Saturday says:

"Last Thursday, a case of poisoning, which proved fatal, occurred at Benjamin, in the family of Mr. L. K. Stewart. The family were moving from one house to another, and some few of the things only had been removed. The father had gone to the fields, stating that he would return about 11 o'clock for breakfast; in the meantime, the mother had given her little daughters, aged about 6 and 4, some milk, and then went to the other house to prepare some breakfast. At her departure, the elder of the girls, seeing the clock, and wondering what the inside was like, dragged a heavy box (it is said to be a wonder however the child could do it, it being so heavy) to the place where the clock stood, but the box being too high for the child to climb on to, it got a chair to assist it in getting on the box. Reaching the clock and opening it, a roll was seen inside, secured by two pins. The little girl got this, opened it, and saw the vial which contained the fatal drug. Thinking it to be sugar the two little ones put some into their milk and drank it. When the mother returned she discovered the elder child's paleness and asking the cause was answered: 'I don't know, I feel sick.'"

The mother saw the vial empty, lying on the floor and the cloth in which it was wrapped. She also noticed that all the milk had been drank and the real cause of the child's illness she knew in a moment. The other one also became ill and a doctor was sent for immediately, but before assistance could be rendered the elder child had expired, and almost instantly began swelling and black spots were seen on its little body. The other child, at last accounts had just issued from its sixth spasm and was thought to be in such a condition as to recover."

The Summer Solstice.

One great reason why hot weather is so debilitating lies in the fact that the body is exhausted by the labors of the year. Indeed, it is natural that this should be so. In order, therefore, to resist this tendency to exhaustion it only becomes necessary to re-invigorate the body which can readily be done by one or two bottles of Warner's Safe Tonic. This remedy is being extensively used by physicians for this purpose and is for sale by druggists in all parts of the world. sw & w
