AT ANN ARBOR,
Reception to Dr. Chaffee Jr.—Introducing
Notes.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 26, 1894.—Lively and merry was the scene that congregated in the rooms of Drs. Hobson and Teggen last Saturday evening, the 13th, in enjoying a suitable time and to bid one of its members good bye and wish him success in future labors. Benjamin Chaffee Jr. was the guest of the evening, which was a most enjoyable and happy one.

The program was opened by a general welcome given by Emil B. Leigren, which was followed by a musical selection on the piano by John J. Stetson, Master of Ceremonies. Dr. J. H. Hobson, then invited Dr. Chaffee to speak a few moments, which was done in a happy vein, after which Bro. Hinckley sang a song very nicely. Brother Robinson of Farmington, then read two original poems—one written in a very forcible style, and another very fine, and exhibiting marked talent in the poetical art. A medley of old airs, arranged on the spot of the moment, was then rendered on the piano by Dr. Hobson.

These many hours of laughter, mirth with witty sayings, and universal feeling of happiness and freedom permeated the room. Games were played and social talk enjoyed for some time when intermission was taken. Refreshments were served in a way to put right the eaters, and we were (Lappon) in the happiest condition of the evening. After the "goodies" were put out of sight, the singing and dancing was resumed to with great interest, and E. B. Leigren as emcee of sides. Your correspondent happened to be on the first named side, which was certainly the winning one. The audience was highly pleased, and enjoyed the show for about five minutes to 10 o'clock. We adjourned. Then we sat down to the happy time we had enjoyed, and enjoyed the same measure of the affair that had filled our hearts.

We are now at work trying to get the money to pay off the debts of Brother Chaffee. He does not leave till tomorrow evening late. We wish to congratulate him that he has a decided degree in literary work, and hope for us all that others will apply themselves to this effort, great success in literature.
