HENRY H. ROGERS AND THE DANISH WEST INDIES.

Mr. Rogers, who is said to have attempted the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States for $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 at a commission of 10 per cent, is a director of the Standard Oil company and a prominent railroad man. The Islands are St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix, and the harbor of St. Thomas, which is shown above, would make an excellent naval station. This scheme of Rogers' has fallen through, and it is now said that unless congress purchases the islands before June I Germany will take them in exchange for the whole or a part of north Schleswig, which was taken from Denmark by Germany in 1867. This menace to the Monroe doctrine was the cause of Secretary Root's recent sensational speech at the dinner of the Grant Monument as-

John A. Lewis was, on July 18, 1898, working for the defendant, engaged making an excavation for a mill site in Woodside canyon, Summit county, when a large rock, unloaded on the hillside, struck him, thereby causing his death. The answer denied any negligence. At the close of plaintiff's testimony defendant moved for a non-suit, which was granted. This is now held to have been an error, the court holding that the grounds of the motion were too general to be considered. Justice Baskin, who wrote the decision, says he examined the evidence and is of the opinion that plaintif's testimony tended to show negligance on the part of the defendant, and was sufficient to support a verdict in favor of the plain-

STATE LAND BOARD WINS.

Supreme Court Decision in the Cache County

Held That Board is Vested With Authority to Name and Fix Its Own Price.

The Supreme court in an opinion handed down late this afternoon affirmed the judgment of the Third district court, A. G. Norrell, judge, in the case of Orson Miles, appellant, vs the State land board.

This was an action brought to compel the defendant board to receive an application for the selection by the State land board of certain lands situated in Cache county and to enter into a contract and sell the same to plaintiff at the price fixed by the board under the provisions of section 16, chapter 64, laws of Utah, one dollar and fifty cents

Defendant interposed a demurrer on the ground that the petition did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. The demurrer was sustained and judgment entered thereon, from which an appeal was taken to the Supreme court. Justice Baskin, who wrote the opin-ion holds that the Supreme court has no jurisdiction to direct, by mandamus, how the discretionary power vested in the land board by the statute, shall be exercised, and orders that the judgment of the lower court be affirmed. The court further holds that plaintiff's ialm is purely untenable and finds that it was the intention of the Legislature to vest the belief, with authority to fix

Its own price for land.

No price having been fixed for the lands in question the appellant, the court holds, is not entitled to have the same contracted to him at a price fixed in some other case, Justice Bartch and Justice Miner.
