MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS.

BUSINESS IN STOCKS IMMENSE

Mining Share Market Nothing Short of Sensational.

DALY-WEST, FORTY-THREE

This Morning—News of Consummation of Merger Deal Affects Stock Favorably—Entire List Higher.

The mining share market this morning was highly sensational. The business transacted was very large and in sympathy with Daly-West, the entire list advanced enormously, the entire list, with but few exceptions, sold up from yesterday's figures.

Daly-West was decidedly the feature. News of the consummation of the merger deal was known when the session commenced and the room was crowded with share holders and others awaiting the call of the stock. There was little surprise expressed at the first sale which was made at $42.50, a gain of $8.50 over yesterday's high mark. The stock from that sold up to $43.00, after which it reacted to $42.90. Undoubtedly not a few traders were caught short of the stock.

Ajax again this morning was heavily dealt in and sold up to 44¾, a decided gain. Carisa, May Day, Con. Mercur, Daly-Lower Mammoth, Century and Yankee were traded in considerably, and very substantial gains were recorded by each. Ajax, May Day and California were the most heavily dealt in, while among the dividend payers Con. Mercur, Daly, Daly-West and Yankee were active.

The market shows a much improved condition. There is large trading for outside accounts and a big demand for the stocks of the properties known to be mines and also of the better class of prospects.

At the close this morning the following quotations were recorded:

GREEN RIVER OIL OPERATIONS.

San Rafael Company Will Erect Big Tanks and Pipe Line.

TWO OIL WELLS NOW READY

For Production—Manager Davis to Leave for East Wednesday to Order More Machinery.

The oil fields near Green River are receiving much attention at present and several companies are spending considerable money in sinking wells and otherwise assisting in developing the country. The San Rafael company, operating near Deseret and the California-Utah company operating near Green River are each sinking shafts, while the Utah Shale Oil company is experimenting with a plant for the extraction of the very rich oil occurring so abundantly in a shale occurring.

The San Rafael company has two shafts in oil of a very fine quality and Manager Davis says that the output now would be 100 barrels of $30 oil a day if there was any place ready to store it. To enable the company to operate the two wells a 2,500 barrel iron tank will be erected at the property and another of like capacity at Deseret on the railroad. The two will be connected by a 6-inch pipe line and pumps and boilers will be put up at San Rafael. Manager Davis says that work will be commenced at once and that the tanks and pipe line will be burried to completion. He leaves for the east on Wednesday to order another machinery and complete a third well.

The California-Utah company is sinking continuously and is now over 1,200 feet, while the Utah Shale company will begin experiments on its plant next week.

WATER FOR MIDAS MILL.

Tanks Are Ready and Mill Will Soon be Started Again.

Fred Dern stated today that the tanks in which water will be hauled to the Midas mill are finished and are awaiting shipment from American Fork. The roads, Mr. Dern states, have been so bad that shipment has been impossible until now. The tanks are of seven tons capacity each, and ample water to run the mill can be obtained about seven miles from the property.

A water reservoir is being constructed at the mill and as soon as it is completed the mill will reopen operations.

YANKEE CON. DEAL.

Big Tintic Property May be Sold to a Maine Corporation.

In accordance with instructions from President Franklin, the directors of the Yankee Con. met last evening and issued a call for a special stockholders' meeting to be held on April 19th. The purpose of the meeting will be to authorize the sale of the stock and property of the Yankee to the Boston-Yankee Consolidated, a company to be organized under the laws of Maine. What the details of the deal are has not been stated. There are now 150 stockholders in the Yankee, which is capitalized at $500,000, in all shares. The company will have paid by the time of the April meeting $75,000 in dividends. It is now better understood why such an elaborate examination and report were recently made by James A. Neill was ordered. It is stated as probable that the new company will have an increased capitalization and that its stock will at once be listed on the Boston exchange.

NEW COPPER CONTRACT.

New York Metal Exchange Adopts Rules for Traders.

New York, March 28.—The managers of the New York Metal exchange have adopted a new contract and special rules to govern trading in standard copper which will go into effect on April 15. It is expected active trading under the new form of contract will begin immediately upon its enforcement, because ever since the organization was first made, aiming to make New York a leading copper trading market, renewed interest has been manifested and the membership of the exchange has largely increased, especially within the past few weeks.

WILL CONNECT WORKINGS.

Galena and Utah Properties Will Connect on 800 Feet Level.

The management of the Galena of Fish Springs has made arrangements with the Utah mine whereby connections will as soon as possible be made between the workings of the two companies on the 800 foot level. About 460 feet of ground now separates the workings and this will be opened up. The purpose of making connections is to get better air and to provide a means of escape from either property by way of the other, if any accident happen to block the entrance to either one or the other.

CABLE COMPANY INVESTIGATION.

Washington, March 28.—Representative Corliss of Michigan, in giving a hearing before the house committee on judiciary today on his resolutions directing the attorney-general to institute proceedings against the Commercial Cable company for alleged combination with other companies. Mr. Corliss declared that there had been a deliberate violation of the laws against combination and that the effect was to advance the cost of cable messages on the Atlantic 12½ cents a word.

Chairman Ray and the members of the committee asked a number of questions which developed rather sharp division over the resolution. Mr. Corliss said the matter had not been brought to the attention of the attorney-general so far as he knew, but he desired that the committee take cognizance of facts which showed an offense against the law and refer the subject to the attorney-general for investigation and action. Mr. Littlefield made the point that if the subject had never been brought before the attorney-general he could not be remiss in not acting on it, and until he decided to act Congress was not warranted in giving him directions. He thought this amounted to a reflection on the attorney-general. Mr. Corliss disclaimed any purpose of making such reflections. He simply stated facts, he said, preliminary to action.

Chairman Ray said the resolutions amounted to a direction by Congress to the attorney-general to do his duty when there was nothing to show he was remiss in his duty or knew anything about the matter. He suggested that Mr. Corliss should go first to the attorney-general. Mr. Corliss remarked that he had not come to be advised as to what he should do, but merely to be heard on a statement of facts. If there was to be no action he desired to have the committee shape its resolution in the responsibility for non-action.

Mr. Littlefield expressed the belief that the attention of the attorney-general could be got in 15 minutes if steps were taken to get the subject before him. He added that charges had often been made against the last attorney-general and against the present one that they had failed to act but Mr. Littlefield said he had failed to find these officials had refused to act on any matter properly brought to their attention.

Mr. Corliss maintained that there was ample evidence to warrant inquiry by the proper officials preliminary to action. Considerable sharp sparring was indulged in as to the desirability of Mr. Corliss could produce.

The committee then went into executive session and unanimously reported against the resolution on the ground that Mr. Corliss had not presented a case calling for the action proposed.

Miners Were Defeated.

Des Moines, Ia., March 28.—In accordance with an understanding reached last night, the joint conference of miners and operators failed in agreement and finally adjourned this afternoon.

The miners were defeated in their main contention, securing neither an increase in the day wage scale nor the employment of shot firers by the operators. The only concession by the latter was the employment of shot examiners.

Brewery Lockout Off.

Cincinnati, March 28.—The indications are that the lockout of the brewery workmen of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport will be declared off tonight. The contending labor organizations all agree to abide by the decision of President Gompers as announced last night in favor of the autonomy of the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen, and also criticising strongly the action of the engineers and firemen as well as the united brewery workmen. Since these contending unions have been brought together negotiations are pending today with the proprietors of the breweries who last night declared in favor of the men recently employed. As several hundred of the old men have gone to other cities, it is believed that an arrangement can be reached when the men settle the controversy which has disturbed this district for months.

PASSENGERS SHAKEN UP.

Chicago, March 28.—Fifty passengers were badly shaken up by a collision between trains of the South Side and Metropolitan West Side Elevated systems, in the Union Loop today. The South Side cars had stopped at La Salle street station when a Metropolitan train following it became unmanageable. The crash sounded like an explosion and was heard for several blocks away. The motorman, who was in charge of the runaway coaches, had to jump through a window to save himself from being caught in the wreck. He reached the station platform just before the cars came together. One of the rear coaches of the South Side train was demolished and the passengers were buried from their seats and covered with flying glass. Many were cut and bruised but none seriously injured.

TRICKS OF BOOK AGENTS.

Provo Man Gets Some Experience in That Line.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, March 28.—The Philadelphia Times of March 21st reports the arrest of Charles B. Graham, William L. Holloway and George Y. Clements of Philadelphia, and a man named Robinson of Cincinnati, on the charge of fraudulent use of the mails to entrap book canvassers and agents. Graham was conducting the People's Publishing company, and Holloway and Clements the Dominion company, and the Cincinnati man was running a publishing concern in that city. The defendants were released on bail of $2,000 each, to appear before the United States district court. They claim to have been doing a legitimate business, but the thousands of affidavits claim that they have swindled people out of hundreds of thousands of dollars by their scheme, which is to have general agents, whom they appoint in various parts of the state, work up the business, and deposit money with them, as a guarantee of good faith for books which the companies ship to their agents. The South Side cars had stopped at La Salle street station when a Metropolitan train following it became unmanageable. The books are alleged to be worthless and the postoffice people claim that the agents get none of the money back, which they have swindled. A gentleman in this city made correspondence with the People's Publishing company about a year ago, on the strength of which he went east for the purpose of accepting an agency from them. When he arrived he found the contract which the company required him to sign, was not such as he could accept, and refused to sign it. They promised to pay his traveling expenses if they did not enter into a contract with him. This they refused to do, on the grounds that they were willing to enter into a contract. The chief difference between the People's Publishing company and the other companies is about the amount of the deposit, $1,200, where in cash, when he had a misunderstanding about the amount, they were willing to let it go when the agency was established in Provo, and the book never received. He insisted out against the company for the amount of his expenses, which is now pending.
