FRAGMENTS.

Both Theatre and Opera House were well attended last evening.

BENJAMIN was arrested last evening for trespass and vagrancy.

REMEMBER the matinee of "Stratagems," at the Theatre to-morrow, at 2 p.m.

GEORGE DAVIS, for being boisterous on the streets, was taken care of by the police this afternoon.

MR. ROSSITER informs us that the sale of seats for the "Hoop of Gold" to-night, are going off remarkably fast.

In the case of the People vs. Alex. S. Hill, for embezzlement, a motion by the prosecution for continuance was argued and allowed to-day.

The jury trial of John A. Flowers, for assault with deadly weapons with intent to do bodily harm, is in progress in the District Court.

The jury in the Biddlecombe murder trial returned into court at a late hour last evening, with a verdict of guilty, and recommendation of mercy on account of the defendant's youthfulness.

W. F. STOKES, the man who shot Ruben Wilson at American Falls, I. T., last November, was arrested Tuesday night in Ogden, on a charge of murder, by Deputy Sheriff Wm. Brown, and is now held awaiting a requisition from the Governor of Idaho.

WALKER BROTHERS are in receipt of a new supply of spring prints, which they are selling off like hot cakes at from 5 to 6 cents. Dress Goods in great variety at from 4 to 7 1/2 cents per yard. They are selling everything down low, and no mistake.

Water of the new bridge recently built over the Weber River, near Riverside, the water is making rapid inroads on the bank. It will become necessary to fix the bank by piling in rock and brush, or the bridge will be left where it will do no good, about the time high water sets in. The river has already been very high, but has now receded somewhat on account of the cold water.

SPEAKER JAMES SHARP was the recipient last evening of a beautiful ebony gavel, gold and silver mounted, with an appropriate inscription on a gold shield attached to the gavel. It was a token of esteem from the members of the House of Representatives. This rumor that the Deseret Hospital was to be closed, we learn from reliable authority to be utterly without foundation. The report must have had its origin either in malice or stupidity.

LOCAL NEWS.

Will French, President George Q. Cannon will preach in the 15th Ward Chapel, next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

Z. C. M. I.—Great reductions, all grades of carpets at bottom prices, turcoman goods, lace curtains, reversible silks and plushes in great variety at very low figures. Everything in the way of general merchandise is to be found there at remarkably low figures.

F. Auerbach & Bro.—This well known firm are now advertising novelties in silks, satins, tricot, and other dress goods, besides a generally new stock of notions, carpets, clothing, boots and shoes, in fact everything to be found in their line. Their prices compare favorably with those both East and West.

"Hoop of Gold."—Another good house greeted the second performance of this popular sensational drama, at the Theatre last evening, which fully attests the truthfulness of the report in relation to its drawing qualities which have preceded it. To-night the same piece will be presented for the last time, prior to the departure of this talented company for pastures new.

Desperado Captured.—The Laramie Boomerang says that a private letter from Mrs. Reeves to Mrs. J. W. Brown, of that city, dated March 5, brought the intelligence that a noted desperado, who formerly trained with the Jesse James gang, surrendered at Buffalo, Wyoming, on that day. A man who knew Cummins reached Buffalo last week, and gave him away. An officer approached him when off his guard and invited him to surrender. Having no alternative, Cummins resolutely gave himself up. The letter states that it can be proved beyond doubt that this is the man. A reward of $10,000 is offered for the arrest of this desperado.

The Wilhelmson Monument.—From the Scandinavian Star, of a recent issue, we learn that a beautiful monument has been erected over the grave of Elder N. Wilhelmson, who died in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1881, while on a mission to that country. A beehive ornaments the lower part of a marble plate, at the top two hands are clasped, and the center bears the following inscription: "Nils Wilhelmson, born April 21st, 1824, died August 1st, 1881. A memorial erected by many friends." The work was performed by Elder A. J. Anderson, and the costs were sustained by the Elders from Utah who are now laboring in the Scandinavian countries.

The B. Y. Academy Benefit.—Mrs. Zina Y. Williams and Mrs. Susa Y. Gates, two of the committee from Provo who have in hand the selling of tickets for the performances at the Theatre to-morrow afternoon and night, called to-day and desired us to state for them that the B. Y. Academy is to receive fifty per cent. only of the sales made by the committee and their assistants, exclusive entirely of the tickets sold at the Theatre box office. They consider that the public ought to know this, in order that those who desire to benefit the Academy, may be aware of how to best subvert its interests. The committee who are selling for the Academy are H. H. Chad, John C. Graham, Jacob F. Gates, Zina Y. Williams and Susa Young Gates.

Narrow Escape of a Train.—A gentleman who came down from Park City this morning, tells of an accident which happened to the train between that city and Ogden. It appears they were rounding a curve in Silver Creek Canyon, when the engineer saw a large rock on the side of the track, but his train was too near for him to stop. A boulder about four feet square, weighing several tons, had rolled down from the mountain and lodged so much in the way as to endanger the train, as on the opposite side of the track there was a high precipice.

A section man, in making his rounds, discovered the rock and attempted to pry it far enough to clear the engine, but it stripped the steps from the cars as they sped past. The track man saved himself by jumping on top of the rock just in time to get out of the way. The passengers were considerably frightened over the accident, while very thankful to escape so fortunately.

ISRAEL CANFIELD.

A GOOD MAN GONE TO HIS REST.

The death of Elder Israel Canfield, which occurred at Ogden on the 11th inst., deprives the Church on earth of one of its veterans and the community in which he lived one of its most useful and highly respected members. The fatal event was the immediate result of a paralytic stroke sustained on the 8th of last February, though his death at the ripe old age of 74 years, was not surprising nor wholly unexpected.

The deceased was the son of Israel and Lucy West Canfield, and was born in Pittsford, Monroe County, New York, on the 18th day of February, 1810. In the year 1830, he moved with his parents to the town of Ossian, Livingston County, New York, where, on March 28th, 1832, he was united in marriage with Miss Anna Bishop. He filled several honorable and responsible offices in the aforesaid County with dignity and honor to himself and with entire satisfaction to his constituents. He was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on the 14th day of January, 1841, by Elder Wm. Hyde, ordained an Elder in said Church, and appointed to preside over the Ossian Branch. In 1843 he immigrated to Salt Lake Valley, Utah, with his family, and located in Ogden City, Weber County, where he resided until his death. He was elected a member of the Ogden City Council in February, 1869, and occupied a position therein for ten years with satisfaction to all concerned. He was also a member of the High Council, and faithful home missionary in the Weber Stake of Zion for many years. He filled the offices of County Treasurer and Sexton, several years, with honor and ability.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday, March 13th, commencing at 1 p.m., in the Fourth Ward meeting house, Ogden City, and were conducted by Bishop Edwin Stratford. Elder Joseph Parry offered up the opening prayer, and the congregation was addressed consecutively by Elders D. M. Stuart, Bishop R. McQuarrie, President L. W. Sturtevant, President C. P. Middleton, Elder Joseph Parry and Bishop Stratford. Benediction was pronounced by Bishop N. C. Flycard. The remains were followed to the cemetery by a cortege of over fifty vehicles.

THE ALTA VICTIMS.

THEIR BODIES BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL—INQUEST AT SIXTON TAYLOR'S TO-DAY.

Eleven bodies of those who perished in the snowstorm of last night, were brought to this city by special train this morning, and shortly after noon were taken to Sexton Taylor's office, where an inquest was held upon them by the Coroner at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The corpses were in good condition, though some discoloration was apparent on some of them, and were carried to town in the boxes provided by the Sexton for that purpose and sent along with the relief party which left here at seven o'clock yesterday morning for the scene of the disaster.

The party, led by Mr. George Collins, reached Wasatch, eight miles below Alta, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and from that point beat their way in double file through the snow and ice up to Alta, where the bodies lay awaiting transportation. The men divided into two gangs, the first of which reached Alta at 8 p.m. and the other about an hour later.

They found the town literally under the snow, some of the buildings being covered up to their gables, while the whole cañon was blocked up by avalanches which had come down from both sides of the gorge. After a rest of several hours, the party started on the return trip, leaving Alta at moonrise and dragging the bodies on sledges down to Wasatch. They were taken the same way by Mr. Livingston's quartermen, who rendered effective service, and all arrived at Wasatch at two a.m., where the bodies were put on the train for this city.

The heroic party, or most of them, returned at the same time. The bodies will be buried here as soon as the inquest is over, and matters can be arranged for their interment. The inquest is in progress as we go to press. We learn that the bodies of Mr. Prothero and the young man Richardson were taken to Provo to-morrow, and those of Mr. Callaghan and wife arrived at Provo yesterday. Little Ottie will be buried from the Sexton's office at 11 a.m. to-morrow. The two Wasson brothers, Mr. Delano and Mr. Crockett will be buried to-morrow at two o'clock, in one lot in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Mr. Taylor's wife and son, who were with the party, are still in the city.

One of the bodies, Mr. Willard Stevenson, is still under the snow.

PERSONAL.

Elder Scott Anderson leaves for Logan to-morrow morning, on a visit to friends in that city. He will lecture, by invitation, on the temperance question, in the Tabernacle at that place, one night next week.

L. W. Curtis, of Denver, is at the Metropolitan.

A. F. Meyers, of Greenville, Cal., arrived at the Metropolitan yesterday.

H. S. Younglove, of Fredonia, is a guest at the Valley House.

J. Bell, of Walla Walla, is stopping at the Valley House.

J. Lee, of Denver, is registered at the Valley House.

Mrs. Bachrach, of the Jewish Times, a paper published in San Francisco, made us a pleasant call this morning. The gentleman is returning west, after an absence of six weeks. He arrived by the P. & O. yesterday, after being detained by snow two days, this side of Marshall Pass.

Washout at Riverside.—The Ogden Herald states that on the bench east of Taylor's mill, near Riverside, the water from the rain and snow had formed in a large natural basin—which became so full that a few days ago, it overflowed. The water set its way, at first lightly, over the hill and soon came down in great torrents, washing a cut from 20 to 25 feet deep for a long distance in the hill, carrying hundreds of tons of sand and gravel on a farm, completely destroying the covered portion. The road was impassable for some time.

FAUST.

THE ABBOTT COMPANY'S GREATEST SUCCESS.

Some minutes before the rise of the Opera House curtain last evening, one might have been, and indeed several were, greeted by the most fully spoken and highly respected members. The fatal event was the immediate result of a paralytic stroke sustained on the 8th of last February, though his death at the ripe old age of 74 years, was not surprising nor wholly unexpected.

Respectfully, GEORGE A. MERRILL, Salt Lake City, Feb. 14th, 1884.

C. L. Lewis, druggist of Cedar Vale, Kansas, writes:

"I have sold 'Frickley's' for the past seven or eight years, and consider them one of the most reliable proprietary medicines I have ever used. They have increased in sales and the almost universal satisfaction which attends their use."

A MAGIC POWER.

A Secret Agent at Work.

We were surprised the other day to learn that certain individuals in this city, who had for many years yielded to what was apparently an inevitable fate, had started on their journey of life, and were now enjoying the condition of semi-stupidity into asserting their right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." These parties had been bound up by an influence as powerful as the most potent magic. They knew not the cause, yet they were enchained, but they could not discern by what means they had been manacled. They had long sought deliverance in vain. Their appeals to the knowledge contained in books were equally unavailing. At last, relief came. They were told that the President, or of Congress, for their trouble was not of a political character. Neither the President nor Congress could release them, nor any action of the new Legislature, for it was of the old Legislature, and they were suddenly and effectually released from the bondage they suffered, and placed on the equal scale of human happiness.

"What was their trouble?" is what our readers will ask. They had been tormented by a universal agent, quietly and unobtrusively, and they had not known it. They had not walked with the knowledge contained in books, and on the strong recommendations of friends who had been there, they tried Britannia, and were at once relieved and radically cured. Britannia is what did it. It acted like a magic power.

VARIOUS QUACKS

Who—Each with his own Pet Scheme Calibrate the Field of Human Nature.

There have always been quacks—legal quacks, theological quacks, scientific quacks and medical quacks. Some of them are bland, city fellows who argue and smile the world into believing in their favorite bit of humbug. Others are pompous and pretentious parasites. But they make it pay. Men seem to love to be swindled, stipulating only that it shall be neatly done.

The dear public are equally liberal to the electric and magnetic fraud. This fellow is a genius in his line. He will put a magnetic belt around your waist, a magnetic necktie under your chin, or fit you out with an entire suit of magnetic clothes, warranted to serve the purpose of ordinary garments, and at the same time to cure all diseases, from whooping-cough to hairy scalp.

Most of these have no more electric or magnetic power about them than resides in woolen blankets or in girdles of sackcloth. Only when applied by an expert in electricity of the slightest use as a medicinal agent, and even then its value is grossly overestimated. What is the strongest possible presumptive evidence in favor of a particular remedy? Clearly that it should have been prepared by responsible persons of acknowledged skill in the treatment of disease.

Squared on this factious standard, BREXTON'S CAPSULE POROUS PLASTER, Endorsed by 5,000 physicians, pharmacists, druggists and chemists, it needs no further apology nor introduction. It is the one and only true and tried external application. Quacks of all kinds pay the Capsule the compliment of their dislike, as Satan is said to hate holy water.

Look in the bottle of the plaster for the word "CAPSULE." Price 25 cents. Sanbury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
