

Port Arthur have taken 203 Meter hill. but if it is officially confirmed the war office admits that it will be a desperate law for the gallant defenders of fortress. The position commands the harbor, and if the Japanese can mount slege guns on its summit they can force out the Russian squadron, or destroy it at its anchorage. Those fa-miliar with the supporting plans of the forts think it is by no means certain that even though Russians are forced to retire from 203 Meter hill the Japanese can place in position heavy guns against the fire which the other forts can bring to bear on it. Still the war office officials reluctantly agree that such a breach in the chain renders the position extremely critical, and though the garrison might be able to hold out in the Golden hill, Tiger's Tail and Lda-oil forts for some time it may mark the beginning of the end. The war of-fice is convinced that with the approach of the Russian Second Pacific squadron the Japanese considered that the elimination of the Port Arthur squadron as fighting factor was absolutely vital, hus accounting for the reckless sacriof life in order to secure a tion directly commanding the harbor. ton on that subject, by a "News" re-porter was unsuccessful, because of the poor health of the Bishop. The fact is that Bishop Preston has been very in for the past three months, and only recently it was thought that he could not survive. His friends, therefore, naturally, are anxious not to have him drawn into a controversy of this nature. It is safe to say, however, judg-ing from the usual factics of the Tribune and the utter disregard for truth evinced by that organ of hatred and strife, that Bishop Preston has been misquoted, if he was seen at all by representative of the afore-mentioned It is absolutely certain that organ. Bishep Preston has never said any-thing conveying the idea that the Church is engaged in immi-gration business, or contract labor business. What the Tribune can hope to gain by forging a story so palpably false is difficult to understand, since anyone interested in the question, by a little investigation can find out the truth for himself.

Considerable indignation has been manifested at the wilful misrepresentation of the Tribune over the storm in'a teacup that has been raised down at Murray. In discussing the matter, one gentleman said this morning:

"If the head of any responsible Chris-tian organization of this city-say the pastor of the Congregational church or the president of the Salt Lake Charity association, should make an announce ment that he is willing to receive ap-plications from employers who need men, and to notify men out of work where employment may be had, would anyone be justified in declaring the dispenser of this kind of genuine char-ity was in the business of furnishing contract laborers, and of attempting to plant a colony subservient to his will? Yet it must needs be perverted into an attempted proof that the 'Mormon' Church is supplying laborers to corporations, in the nefarious manner often employed by contract labor agents "A statement of Mayor Stratton of Murray to the effect that he desires a better class of laboring men at the smelters, and that he wishes a committee appointed to interview the 'Mormon' Cnurch officials in regard to seeing what they can do in furnishing labor, is wilfully bent into a shape where it will serve as evidence that the Church has already been approached, its consent given, and a 'conspiracy tormed to plant an extensive foreign colony at Murray. The plain statement of an evident fact by the Church offlclais that it is beyond their sphere, and outside of their policy to furnish any labor of this sort is contradicted by false quotation from Mayor Stratton to the effect that he stands pat on declaration which he never made that certain Church officials whom he would not name had offered their support, ind that he had a letter from whom he would not tell making the contract, and that he would force the Church to keep its promise. A plain denial of these statements from Mayor Stratton must bring only a statement that the Deseret News is dodging, and the Church officials are backing out of a proposition because they fear the publie laws against importing contract labor, that they never in their history have imported and never have desired to make one move toward importing.

"What principle is a paper following this policy attempting to serve? What good to Utah or to any section of Utah does this policy look forward to ac-complishing? What point is aimed at this and its kindred efforts except the stirring up of the greatest amount of trouble for Utah in the shortest amount of time, merely to add to the satisfaction of one unsuccessful man?"

The procession was headed by a military escort composed of all the military escort composed of all the military organizations on the ground, the regular soldiers stationed at Jefferson barracks, and other military organizations of St. Louis.

President Francis took his place on the north side of the Louisiana monument to deliver his farewell address at the exact place where were held the opening exercises in April. The members of the national commission, the board of lady man-agers, the members of the foreign and state commissions and other notable guests occupied the immediate vicinity of the speaker's stand and stratching away into the distance on all sides was a sea of faces. Brief addresses were made by Governor Dockery, in behalf of the state, and Mayor Wells in behalf of the city. President Francis then delivered his farewell address. As he arose a mighty cheer went up from the assembled thousands. President Francis told of the exposition as a nonument of industry of the world, as universal institution of instruction as a patriotic success.

When he had ceased speaking, the mammoth assemblage again burst into heering and then dispersed to explore for the last time the extensive ramifiitions of the exposition.

Drills, concerts and receptions genrally throughout the grounds occupled the latter part of the day. Pres-ident Francis was tendered a general eception at the house of the board of adv managers. President Francis said in part, speaking of the results of the work expend-ed on the world's fair:

"Time will be required to demonstrate that the thought and labor and the sacrifices that have entered into it were not ill-advisedly bestowed. The conse-quences will continue to flow for at least a generation to come. Its influ-ence will be felt and appreciated in widening circles as the years go by. It marks a new epoch in the intellectual industrial advancement of the and world, and the dawn of a new era in the international relations of governments and peoples."
