

CHANGES IN THE BEAR LAKE STAKE

President Budge Released and Joseph R. Shepherd Chosen.

BISHOPRIC IS REORGANIZED.

Fine Spirit Manifested in the Meetings Which Were Attended by Church Leaders.

On Friday last President Francis M. Lyman and Charles W. Penrose of the council of the apostles, and President Seymour R. Young, of the first council of seventy, left Salt Lake to attend the Bear Lake conference. Owing to a heavy rain, the party did not reach Panguitch until 1 o'clock p. m. on Saturday. In the afternoon the visitors addressed a large congregation in the tabernacle. A fine spirit was manifested in the meeting and the instructions of the speakers were appropriate and were well received.

On Sunday the tabernacle was crowded on the occasion of each meeting, which were addressed by Elders Lyman, Penrose and Young. President Budge gave a good report of the condition of the stake, and had farewell to the people, over whom he had presided for 36 years, 29 years as stake president and seven years as presiding bishop. Elder Budge was honorably released from his position as stake president, having been called to preside over the Logan temple. His counselors, Elders James H. Hart, now 86 years of age, and in feeble health, and William L. Rich, were also honorably released from their respective positions. Elder Hart is now a patriarch.

A new stake presidency was chosen as follows: Joseph R. Shepherd, president; William L. Rich, first counselor; and Wilford W. Richards, second counselor. As Elder Richards was bishop of Georgetown, it became necessary to reorganize the bishopric of that ward, which was done by choosing as bishop Alma Hayes, with Charles R. Clark and Henry H. Huff as counselors.

The new presidency, as well as the new bishopric were unanimously sustained by the conference, and all except Elder Huff, who was not present, were set apart by Elders Lyman and Penrose.

Between the meetings of the conference proper, meetings of the Priesthood and of the high council were held. At the latter, which convened on Sunday, each member agreed to live closer to his line of duty than ever before. The meeting was addressed by President Lyman.

The Salt Lake party returned to their homes on Monday evening, after a tedious journey. They report that the prospects for abundant crops in Bear Lake valley are very promising. Bear river is booming, but the high water mark has not been reached that will likely come later in the season.

AMUSEMENTS.

Orpheum—It was a bold leap the Orpheum stock company made last night when it essayed the presentation of "Old Heidelberg," one of the famous successes of Richard Mansfield, and it is not to be wondered that an occasional flop was felt. The marvel is that it should ever have been attempted with the absence of so many essentials to German college color. Nevertheless, the portrayal, in the main, must be accounted satisfactory, and with a few halting first night lines more glibly spoken, the week should round itself out in pleasing fashion, and with a big profit on the right side of the ledger.

The personal composition of an audience is always an interesting study, and the "Old Heidelberg" audience was no exception to this rule. In every part of the house were men and women who belonged to the professional men and women whose college days are still as sweet lavender to their senses; and while they were not products of the famous old institution of the fatherland, the natural relationship connected it in sentiment at least with their own, and so they were there to see enacted anew the scenes that illuminated their own university days, for were not the experiences of Carl Heinrich and his companions in no small measure like their own? Besides the romance and history of off-beleagured, sacked and looted Heidelberg, set in the wooded and vine-clad hills between the Neckar and the Rhine, with its castle ruins and renaissance architecture, had a charm of the irresistible sort. The big drop depicting these scenes was specially painted at the Salt Lake theatre for use in this performance, and was only in position a few minutes when the curtain went up on the first act.

Of course "Old Heidelberg," like all of Mansfield's plays, is a one-man production. Last night that man was Mr. MAYALL as the heir-apparent, and right splendidly did he acquit himself as the student and the prince. Gus Mordimer, chasing in a role that he did not like, that of the aged tutor to his royal highness, made an impression that evidenced his ability as an actor. As the minister of state Mr. Barrett did a good piece of work, and Mr. Clements was excellent as the egotistical and supercilious valet. Scenic beauties, the landscape these constant cry was, "This is too much for one man," was well, the cry should be amended to read, "He is one man too much," for he certainly is—while on the stage. In the cast were eight new faces whose abilities were represented by as many streaks of fat and lean, with the lean predominating. Miss Stuart, as Katie, the landlady's daughter, came close to carrying off the laurels last night. "Three or four times" she was called to the stage, and she acquitted herself to an ovation. The impressed Heidelberg quartet added much to the enjoyment of the last act.

"Old Heidelberg" goes for the rest of the week with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

There—There is much interest felt in the coming of Henrietta Crossman at the Salt Lake theatre next week. The advance sale will begin Friday morning.

Grand—the Ethel Tucker stock company entered upon the seventh week of their engagement with no diminution in the size of their audience and with evidences of increased interest and appreciation on the part of patrons of the house. The electric fans and ice blast are conducive of comfort and add much to the pleasure of the entertainment. The bill for the first half of this week is "The Man of Mystery," an animated melodrama, which is a thorough mingling of blood and thunder, wit and humor. Several members of the company are presented with the opportunity of exhibiting their cleverness, and do so in a manner pleasing to the audience. Whit Brandon, as Richard Glenwood, the man of a dual life, Ethel Tucker, as Flossie, his sister, who is not spared from his periphery; A. T. Dickinson in the role of "Ludger," the "Man of Mystery;" Elmer Ballard, who played the part of aged Dr. Lettice; Gertrude Perrie, the "widow;" Madge Brown and Jack Diamond—funny Jack Diamond—each and all added to the laurels that have come to them since their Salt Lake engagement began.

The moving pictures of the San Francisco earthquake and fire continue to be a highly interesting feature of the between-act entertainment.

Casino Park—This seems to be the resort for the crowds on these warm nights, and the business since Saturday has been enormous. "A Night in Morocco" is the title of the piece Zim's company is playing this week, and it is full of comedy from start to finish. The dancing of Jessie Brown and the good work of Mann and Franks are still features.

Lytic—"For Her Children's Sake" seems to please the patrons of the Lyric, and the business grows apace each performance. The regular matinee will be given Wednesday.

That of Weber Stake Convened Today in City of Ogden.

PRESIDENT SMITH SPOKE.

An Interesting Musical Program Was Carried Out Followed by Delicious Banquet—Address of Welcome.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, June 12.—The biennial reunion of the Priesthood of Weber stake convened today in the Fifth ward meetinghouse and in the institute adjoining. At 12 o'clock a large party arrived from Salt Lake, consisting of President Joseph F. Smith and wife; President John R. Winder and wife; Patriarch John Smith and wife, Elder Hyrum M. Smith and wife, Joseph F. Smith, Jr., and wife, Mrs. Bathsheba W. Smith and others. As the visitors entered the building, the choir and congregation, arose and sang the hymn "We thank Thee, O God, for a prophet."

An address of welcome was delivered by President L. W. Shurtliff, of Weber stake, and a feeling response was made by President Joseph F. Smith. Among other addresses were those of President John Winder and Elder C. P. Middleton.

Charles J. Ross was master of ceremonies, and an interesting musical program was carried out. After the meeting all repaired to the institute, where three long tables, beautifully decorated and laden with delicious viands, had been set the length of the hall, when a banquet was partaken of, and an enjoyable time is being had as this report closes.
