In Tabernacle Sunday Afternoon—Greek Laborer Fatally Injured at Granger Railroad Yards.

OGDEN, July 22.—David Eccles has returned from an extensive visit to his interests in Oregon, which include the Oregon Lumber company, at Baker City, also the Sumpter valley railroad at that point and the Mt. Hood railroad at Hood River. Before returning Mr. Eccles gave instructions for the building of an extension of the Sumpter valley road 22 miles to the John Day valley, also for an extension of six miles to the Hood river road, which opens up a comparatively rich timber and horticultural district.

In speaking of the extensions of the Ogden Rapid Transit, Mr. Eccles stated that work upon the Plain City extension would now be rushed. Late this fall or during the winter work upon the canyon line from the Granger station to Huntsville will be resumed.

BIG TEMPERANCE MEETING.
 OGDEN, July 22.—At the tabernacle next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock arrangements have been made for a great union temperance mass meeting at which the principal speaker will be Rev. P. A. Baker, the national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league. This was the statement that was given to the press yesterday by Louis S. Fuller, who is at the head of the prohibition movement in Utah and the general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league in the intermountain region.

The body was turned over to friends who will make the funeral arrangements at Rock Springs.

James Ransom, an old man who was traveling from Smith's Center, Kan., lost his ticket in the railroad yards here last night. He is in a helpless condition, having no other acquaintances here nor money.

The local board of health plans to have Ogden looking its best when the Grand Army visitors are here next month. A special inspector has been put at work. It will be his duty to visit every house and lot in the city and see that the places are cleaned up and put in good condition.

Twenty-one extra clerks are being employed in the office of County Clerk Samuel Dye getting out the assessment rolls. Two-thirds of the force work the day time and the remainder work at night. It is expected that the rolls will be completed next week, which will be about 30 days in advance of the work last year.

Judge Albert Howell of the district court, accompanied by his wife, is expected to return from his coast trip during the latter part of the week. He expects to hold court next Monday when the case of the state against Clarence Ernst, charged with murder, will be tried.

SHOCKING SUICIDE OF OLD MAN AT ALPINE

ALPINE, Utah Co., July 21.—John Riley McDaniell, who was more than 70 years of age, in a fit of despondency over ill health, hanged himself in his barn about 3 o'clock this afternoon. For three years he had suffered greatly from rheumatism and was driven to desperation through his failure to get relief from his constant pain.

After dinner his wife, as was his custom, lay down for a nap. When she awakened she did not see Mr. McDaniell about the house and she began a search for him, with the result that she found him hanging from a rafter in the barn dead.

Mr. McDaniell was one of the oldest and well known men in the north end of the county and was held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends who are greatly shocked over his tragic ending.

His wife is almost beside herself over the rash deed, and the three sons are overcome with grief. The county sheriff does not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. The time of the funeral will be announced later.

Preparations are being made to celebrate the 24th of July on Saturday next. A grand ball will be given in the evening.

RECENT DEATHS

WRIGHT, MARY JANE NEELEY.
 On Tuesday, July 20, Mrs. Mary Jane Neeley Wright, one of the veterans of Nauvoo, Illinois, and one of the pioneers of Brigham City, died at her home in the Fourth ward, as a result of injuries received by a fall about two months ago, when she had an arm broken, her hip dislocated and perhaps received internal injuries, from which she never recovered. Aunt Mary Wright, as she was generally known, was the daughter of Lewis and Elizabeth Neeley, born Oct. 8, 1832, near Danville, Ill. Her parents, who were members of the Church, moved to Nauvoo, where they were eye witnesses to many of the incidents of early Church history. Although but a young girl at the time, many of these things were so impressed upon her mind that she never forgot them, and vividly remembered the occasion when after the martyrdom, the mantle of the prophet Joseph fell upon Brigham Young. She left Nauvoo with the Saints in 1846, went to Council Bluffs, later to Winterquaters, was one of the girls who assisted in catching the quails on the memorable occasion when kind Providence sent the birds to prevent the saints from starving. She walked across the plains to Utah, in 1851. In 1852 she was married to the late Judge Jonathan C. Wright and 12 children were born to them, four of whom survive. She has also been a mother to seven of Mr. Wright's other children, after the death of their mother. The family moved to Brigham City with the pioneers of 1853. Her three remaining sons are Levi Wright, a member of the high council of Union stake, Oregon; Brigham Wright, bishop of the Brigham City Fourth ward and Bishop Moses Wright of Lincoln ward, Brigham stake. The funeral services were held in the stake tabernacle at 11 o'clock, July 22, and were largely attended. Many old time friends bore testimony to her beautiful life and character.
