"CHRISTIAN" ACCEPTANCE OF "MORMON" DOCTRINE.

What does Pater mean by the declara-tion that Christ preached to the spirits in prison? 1 Peter ill., 19, 20.

That is a difficult question to anawer. We, however, see no ade-quate reason for refusing to take the words in their plain and obvi-is the key to unlock the door for the words in their plain and obvi-ous sense, in which they are taken "the deliverance of the captives of James Givens, in this place, this ous sense, in which they are taken "the deliverance of the captives of fernoon, and his stacks, sheds and by the Apostles' Creed. of our Elders has done a great deal more than is generally recognized, the glorious work, and give thanks towards the correction of religious opinion among vast multitudes of people who have never become connected with this Church. The doctrine of immediate revelation was scouted when Joseph Smith came with "the burden of the word of the Lord" for the generations of the nineteenth century. Now it is accepted by millions, although in rejecting his testimony they have laid themselves open to influences from the unseen world, which are leading them away from the "straight and narrow path" and blinding their eyes to the light that comes from God.

The doctrines of the literal gathering of Israel and the second advent of Christ; the gradation of eternal punishment according to the nature and extent of the sins committed; the distinction between the duration of the ever-existing' punishment and the time which the guilty will suffer in that punishment, from which they will be released after paying "the uttermost farthing;" the final redemption of the race; and the restoration of the earth, after its purification, to its pristine glory as the habitation of immortal man; have been impressed upon the popular mind through the teachings of our missionaries, and the darkness on these points, resulting from the dogmas of a perverted Christianity, have been thereby measurably dissisionaries, and the darkness on these been thereby measurably dissipated.

And now the "Mormon" doctrine used not here describe we manage of Christ's preaching of the gospei to get Grand Juries with only one o departed spirits, is adopted by one of the most widely circulated eligious journals of the land. But erhaps its editors, who are among he most popular preachers in hristendom, do not see the conse-uence of their reception and ac-nowledgment of this principle of ur faith. If Jesus preached to the spirits in prison" who had not spirits in prison" who had not nowledgment of this principle of all such persons as may be in sym-all such persons as may be in sym-pathy with them, or who believe in any of their doctrines, from serv-ing ou juries, and be made inelegi-ble to citizenship. They believe in Joe Smith, in Brigham Young, emand that the millions who ave died since his vicarious offerig without hearing "the only ame given under heaven whereby ian cau be saved," should receive he same opportunities, that they ance, which in our estimation is same opportunities, that they usy be "judged according to men is rank treason, and renders them worthy of being bound hand and foot and cast out and trodden under foot of men. They even have the audacity in this enlightened age to preach and practise plurality of wives, and practise it openly, while we, more wise and prudent, practise our kind the needful ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all "Christians," Nor parden offered to the dead." It is evident that the preaching instead of opposing and maligning Stott, an old resident of Fillmore the people who are called to this City, in 1855; lived in that city till important vocation, should join in
