FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 14.—A motion to go into executive session was lost—yeas 20, nays 21, and Morgan addressed the Senate.

Brown followed, and said at the close of the war he had taken a position for absolute acquiesence in reconstruction measures, and after the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, stood in favor of a free ballot and fair count, and criticized the republican party for injustice towards the colored race.

Hoar replied to Brown's speech, and a good-humored discussion took place between them, which was kept up until Brown, misunderstanding a statement by Hoar, and misquoting, was excitedly interrogated by Hoar. He had said what was not true Brown denied any intention of misstating the senator's remarks, and the good humor was restored by Beck's simulated fear that the Senate would lose both the senators from Georgia.

Hawley also replied to some remarks of Brown.

After some opposition from the democratic side, the Senate adjourned until Monday.

AMERICAN.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, 14.—The President sent to the Senate the name of Jas. C. Fullerton, for receiver of public moneys at Roseburg, Oregon.

The Senate intends to adjourn today to Monday. The republican caucus on Saturday will fully discuss the deadlock. Republicans are entirely harmonious, and recognize the policy of confirming some important nominations, like Robertson, Price, Pardee, Hitt, and others yet to be made. Democrats will fight only Chandler's nomination, and will vote to confirm all others. The republicans can control confirmations and renew the present fight by stopping the executive session whenever they like, and they then will be in better shape. It is stated that Conkling will, in open Senate next week, fully explain his opposition to Robertson's confirmation.

Postmaster General James has appointed a commission to make a thorough examination into the alleged steamboat mail service irregularities on several routes centering at Memphis. The commission will also look into the management of the postoffice at that city.

Secretary Windom will hear the argument of the hoop iron manufacturers on the 20th inst., relative to the duty on cotton bands.

The Treasury Department purchased, to-day, 10,000 ounces of fine silver for the New Orleans mint.

The number of immigrants that arrived during March, is 44,121, of whom 19,000 were from Germany and 3,000 from Spain. Number arrived during the nine months ending March 31, 121,422. Of these, 102,000 were from Germany, 87,000 000 from Canada, and 33,000 from Ireland.

G. W. Manypenny, chairman of the Ute commission, recently resigned, has consented to serve as a member of the commission until relieved by his successor. Manypenny is at his home in Columbus, O.

The report that Senator Conkling and his friends have abandoned all hope of procuring the withdrawal of Judge Robertson's nomination is erroneous, but it can be stated on unquestionable authority that he has fully made up his mind to declare war upon the President at an early day, in open Senate, in case the nomination be not withdrawn. His speech, in this event, would of course, be directed in the first place to the pending controversy concerning the Senate officers, but could readily be turned into the channel he desires. He will, it is said, elaborately discuss what is known as the "courtesy of the Senate," its original scope and usefulness, and will give to the country without equivocation or concealment, all the facts and antecedents and circumstances connected with the nomination of Robertson and the whole history (from his standpoint) of the quarrel between the New New York stalwarts and their opponents, both in and out of office. Intimate friends of Conkling say he fully appreciates the magnitude of the odds in favor of the confirmation of this nomination, if it be pressisted in by the administration, and he much prefers that it should be withdrawn, both for his own sake and in the interest of party harmony; but it is equally clear to his own mind that he cannot afford to shirk what he considers an invitation to measure swords, and if the challenge be maintained, he is determined to make the fiercest and most effective attack upon President Garfield, that his utmost resources can inspire. The outlook for an early break in the Senate deadlock is considerably less promising than it was a few days ago, and it seems to be now generally conceded that if the republican caucus next week determine to allow one or more executive sessions to be held, it will be with the fixed purpose of holding the business entirely in republican hands. The first step in the proper order of business, if this course be adopted, will be to refer the pending nominations. Then the committees, being under the control of republicans, will report back such as they deem important to have confirmed immediately, and after they are disposed of the republicans can renew their present effort to oust Senate officers. It must be said, however, that this suggested programme does not as yet find favor with more than a few members of the caucus, and the time is apparently not ripe for adoption.

The Senate having adjourned until Monday, the contemplated republican caucus will not meet before next week, probably Monday. Conkling and several other republican Senators go to-night to New York. It is understood that Conkling is not averse to an executive session for the confirmation of such nominations as are not objected to. It has been given out and repeated over and over again that he keeps the dead-lock fostered because he is afraid Robertson's case might come up if an executive session be held. This is said the effect of putting on his shoulders a greater share of responsibility for the dead-lock than any other senator. It is claimed for him that he has no fear of an executive session, because certainly the majority, and probably all of the commerce committee will sustain him in his opposition to Robertson.

At least two democratic members of that committee are with him in agreeing to hold back Robertson's nomination until next session. The only way by which the nomination can be taken from the committee is by a majority vote of the Senate, and no matter how republican senators may feel, they would not carry discord in their ranks at this time, when harmony is necessary, by voting to take up Robertson's nomination in spite of the commerce committee. Hence, probably, the action of the caucus when it is held, will be to agree upon the least objectionable nominations, including the most important, and have an Executive Session for the confirmation. Should the Senate session last through the summer, the democrats consider they have got the advantage of Mahone in opening and conducting the campaign in Virginia, because no democrats will pair with Mahone. In democratic circles it is held his vote cannot be paired, and therefore he cannot enter the Virginia campaign in person, unless he breaks the republican majority. All evidence goes to show that even if an executive session be provided for the fight will be continued, as the republicans intend to hold their control of the business.

In the Christiancy divorce case today, further testimony was given to show that Mrs. Christiancy could not have stopped at the James Hotel on Christmas day, as testified to by Giro.

The paper on the iron and steel industries of the United States shows that the whole number of establishments in '80 was 1,005; in 1870, 808. The size and capacity of the establishments were, however, much greater in '80 than '70. The whole amount of capital invested in 1880 was $230,971,884; in '70, $121,772,074.

GOTHAM GOSSIP.

A Nice Pleasure Excursion.

NEW YORK, 14.—The World's City of Mexico special, April 10th, says: The expedition to the cave of Cacahuamilpa proved not only a failure as regards pleasure, but almost fatal to several persons. Senor Carlos Quaglia, governor of Marelos, had ordered a banquet to be prepared in that portion of the grotto which bears the name of the Organ Saloon, on account of the stalectites which have there assumed the form of an organ. The place was illuminated by electric light, yet there were many torches of resinous wood burning. The elite there numbered perhaps 90 persons. There were also a great many servants occupying the Organ Saloon. After the sumptuous banquet, which lasted until 2 o'clock in the morning, the guests lingered over the table and were chatting, when Governor Quaglia fainted. All efforts to restore him to consciousness seemed futile While he remained in this condition some ladies complained of illness, others were asphyxiated, and a gentleman suggested that all this might be due to mephitic exhalations. Mothers at once hastened to their children, and finding some in a stupor, comprehended the danger. A panic ensued, and it was with great difficulty that the party made its way to the entrance to the cave. In addition to the difficulty occasioned by the carbonic acid gas in the grotto, the party lost thirty mules and two horses on account of the heat and bad roads, and several ladies are yet indisposed more, however, from the fright and fatigue, than the mephitic vapors of the cavern.

A Good Word for Windom.

The Public: The new Administration begins admirably in financial matters. It deserves credit because it does not fret nor fuss, nor hurry nor suffer to be pushed into ill-natured, hasty action, because it keeps its own counsel, and waits until it has decided before explaining its intentions. It believes the new plan will prove exceedingly successful and popular. The democratic Congress talked for months, passed a bill to make war on the banks, drove the rate of interest up to 400 per cent., contracted currency $18,000,000 in a week and demonstrated the utter absurdity of taking capital by the throat in order to borrow money at a low rate of interest. A republican administration, without the aid of any new law, by the mere application of common justice and common sense to the problem, will probably succeed within a very short time in reducing the rate of interest on $650,000,000 from 6 and 5 to 3½ per cent. and making the loan terminable at the pleasure of government.

Another Holiday Wanted.

A mammoth petition was sent to Albany, yesterday, praying the legislature to include Good Friday among the legal holidays. The reasons given are more of a business kind than religious. As the case stands at present, commercial exchanges and the majority of the stores and offices of wholesale merchants are closed, while banks and public offices have to remain open as on other days. The day, hence, is neither one thing nor another, and its anomalous position in the calendar is productive of no little embarrassment to business men outside the exchange.

Tyng's Religious Views.

The Tribune says: A report that the Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., was about to join the Catholic Church has been circulated of late, and his retirement from the rectorship of the Church of the Holy Trinity has been interpreted as a step in that direction. Nothing is more absurd, said Dr. Tyng. I have no thought whatever of joining the Roman Catholic Church. If I had, I should have left the ministry long ago. No honorable man would remain under such circumstances. The story is based on his sermon on modern miracles.

Sentence on the Perjurer.

The Tribune says: In imposing the sentence, Judge Cowing spoke as follows: The case is one in which the perjury was of the most dangerous character, and one which affected the result of a national election. In imposing such a heavy sentence for the offense, I do it to serve as a warning to others against going upon the stand in a court of justice and deliberately perjuring themselves, where the act involves such enormous interests. Assistant District Attorney Bell says O'Brien is a miserable, worthless fellow, who would swear to anything for $5. The court might, under the statute, have imposed a ten years' sentence.

Improved Stock Market.

CHICAGO, 14.—The mining market is showing some very strong features and transactions are daily increasing at appreciating prices for leading stocks. Nevada and Utah stocks are experiencing the boom in a very material manner, and stocks which a few days ago were held at 50c to $1, are now crowding $4 per share. The Stormont, for instance, which has been taken up by new parties, is now selling for $3.55, and much higher figures are promised by those who watch the market.

Billiards.

NEW YORK, 14.—To-night's play between Slosson and Schaefer was a magnificent exhibition and was loudly cheered. Slosson made the heaviest runs, and gained considerably on his antagonist. Slosson's best runs were 65, 202, 93, 158, 94, 123, 40. Grand total, 3,200. Schaefer's best runs: 240, 60, 208, 27, 252, 182; total 1,028. Grand total 2,688. The audience was intensely interested in several close and doubtful points, and was favorable to Slosson.

RAILROAD NEWS.

DENVER, Col., 14.—The Denver and Rio Grande Company have begun the work of laying a third rail, between Denver and Pueblo. This will give Denver another through broad guage connection with the east, west and south via the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe lines. The projected Denver and New Orleans road must be seriously embarrassed by this, as it is precluded from any interchange of business at its intersection, at Lajunta, with the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe, and by reason of the existing ten year arrangement, and its route in Colorado can furnish no local traffic, as it is across uninhabited plains, far east of the mining districts which supply the business. The proposed scheme is here regarded as chimerical.

The St. Louis and S. F. R. R. Co, through Captain C. W. Rogers, general manager, closed a contract, to day, with the Joliet (Ills.) Steel Works, for rails for the southwestern branch of that road, from Pierce City, Mo., to Dallas, Tex s. This line is being pushed, and will be completed to Fayetteville, Ark., by June 1st.

Chicago.—The Inter-Ocean's New York: The argument on a motion to continue the temporary injunction granted against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and others, to compel them to deliver up the 180,000 shares of the company's stock, was continued to-day, and Judge Shipman for the company, argued at great length, to establish the position that the purchasing committee which bought in the property and franchises of the railroad on foreclosures sale in 1875, had exactly the same power to deal with the property purchased, which any person has to deal with his watch or other chattels. If the power of the committee to hold a lien, to dispose of, or contract concerning the subject matter of the purchaser, was absolutely unlimited, it followed, as a necessary logical inference that the committee which had power to bind the property to any subsequent disposition whatever, had undoubted power to make an agreement.

Boston, 14.—The annual report of the officers of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad shows the gross earnings of the past year to be $8,556,975, less operating expenses and taxes, $4,643,305; the other deductions and expenses, including 7½ per cent. in dividends, fixed charges, rentals, etc., aggregate $3,272,054, leaving a surplus of $941,716. The President's report states that there has been spent on construction, including $1,325,760 for new rolling stock, $1,801,025; and in order to provide funds for this and other outlays, largely exceeding the balance of the equipment fund raised in 1879, made necessary by the vigorous extension of the lines in Kansas and New Mexico, the directors issued $2,242,400 of stock to their stockholders at par. The capital stock was further increased by the purchase, or exchange of capital stock in various connecting roads. Moreover, the holders of $3,257,550 consolidated mortgage bonds availed themselves of the option to convert them into stock. The road, with its branches, is about 865 miles long, and from the recently formed connection at Deming, with the Southern Pacific, a large business is expected from California and the mining districts of Arizona. The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, of which the Atchison Company own one-half the stock, has been pushed 100 miles west from Albuquerque.

Outlaws in New Mexico.

DENVER, 14—The Republican has advices from Durango, that Ike Stockton and gang, nearly all of whom participated in the Lincoln County, N. M., troubles several years ago, are sending raiding parties towards Farmington, Rioranaba, County, N. M., to steal cattle and kill cowboys. A few days ago they drove 35 head of cattle into Durango, where they butchered and sold them, and the latter town is in a state of excitement bordering on anarchy, and growing worse every day. Citizens dare not write an impartial statement of affairs in papers for fear of death. A Denver newspaper man who was suspected of wring an account for the Denver papers, was, a few days ago, stopped on the street at the point of a revolver, by Ike Stockton. Six marshals are on duty, but are unable to cope with the outlaws. Col. J. A. Broadhead, paymaster of the United States army, has just returned from the White River Agency, and says he thinks the Ute war almost certain.

The Dakota Floods.

YANKTON, Dakota, 14.—River stationary. Those drowned out are flocking hither and getting government rations and aid. Two thousand five hundred received aid here and 5,000 below Vermillion. The flood on the Dakota side covers 227,000 acres, the whole region being thickly settled. Yankton is drained only on the levee, where there has been a great deal of destruction of steamboats and warehouses. Captains Lavender and Noble returned from a four days' cruise over the bottoms, having saved 410 people. They have worked night and day with personal peril, amid floating ice, and deserve the heartfelt thanks they get. Probably 300 persons have been lost by the flood, and the great disaster is shorn of the horrors of a great loss of life by the heroic efforts of worthy citizens.

The Loyal Legion.

PHILADELPHIA, 14.—At a meeting of the Loyal Legion to-day, Gen. Hancock, presiding, an amendment to the constitution was adopted, to admit as hereditary members sons of officers killed in battle. The question of admitting West Point cadets as members was debated. The present officers will continue the fifth quadrennial congress in Chicago in 1883. In the evening a banquet was served.

Big Land Sale.

ST. LOUIS, 14.—Land Commissioner Coffin, of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, closed a sale today of 138,000 acres of land in Barey County, this State, to the Missouri Land Company, of Scotland. The purchase was made by Sidway, Begue & Co., of Chicago, as agents of the Scottish Company. The price has not transpired. A large number of Scotch colonists will be settled on the land.

All the nihilists except Hessy Helfmann, who is enciente, and whose execution will be delayed until after her confinement, will be hanged at 9 o'clock Friday morning, in Somneff Square.

In the case of Mary A. Murray vs. General E. B. Tyler, postmaster of Baltimore, for $20,000 damages for alleged indecent assault while an employee in the postoffice, the jury gave a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at $5,000.

The Telephotograph.

It was while engaged in working with the telephone that Mr. Shelford Bidwell conceived the idea of telegraphing the luminous image of a natural object along a wire by aid of selenium, and he has been so far successful in his first attempt as to transmit several simple designs cut out of tinfoil. The device by which he achieves this experimental feat is an ingenious application of Mr. Bakewell's drawing telegraph, which makes a faithful copy of an outline drawing or a manuscript letter at the remote end of the line. This, again, is based on the chemical telegraph of Alexander Bain, the Caithness clockmaker, in which the electric current flows like ink from a marking-pen, and stains the paper underneath by decomposing an iodide solution, with which the latter is impregnated. The image of the design to be despatched is focussed by a photographic lens upon a sensitive surface of selenium at one end of the wire, and the outline of the image, as well as its light and shade are more or less imperfectly portrayed by the electric pen or stylus, which marks the chemical paper at the other end. It is something to have done even this much, and the construction of a more perfect apparatus, whereby one person may see another by means of a telegraph wire, is only a question of time and thought.—Globe.
