Returned Elders Feted—A Delightful Occasion—Spring Harbinger.
Salina, Utah, March 8.—A large and interesting assembly of the members of the Relief Society hall last Monday evening to accord a welcome to the following recently returned missionaries: Elders Carl Johnson, Hyrum J. Anderson, Carl Matterson and John H. Brown. The ladies came with baskets filled with picnic and the gentlemen came with nature with voracious appetites.

An interesting program, consisting of songs, recitations and speeches, was carried out. Ex-Bishop James S. Jensen, was elected master of ceremonies, and performed the function with the ease and grace characteristic of a veteran. The presence of the choir and the brass band lent enthusiasm to the affair. After to the sumptuous repast given the evening's festivities concluded with an enjoyable dance.

Salina, Utah, March 8.—On Thursday, March 4, a manual training exhibition was held in the Salina schoolhouse. Two rooms were decorated with finished products of the manual training class. Each grade had furnished a quilt which furnished a dazzling background for the dolls, napkins, centerpieces, tidies, pillow slips, sleevelets, aprons, and so on.

A fine display of coat racks, book racks, wash stands, picture frames, key-stands, photograph holders, hat racks, decorated the walls of the grammar grade departments.

Prof. Eastmond, the manual training teacher, delivered an interesting lecture, portraying to the assembly the necessity of pupils studying manual training and art. The following hour he spent with the Salina schools, instructing them in designing and art.

TO BUILD A NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.
On Friday night the taxpayers in the district met and decided to erect an eight-room central schoolhouse, at a cost of $4,000, and to bond the district for ten years.

PRESTON, IDAHO.

PROMINENT CITIZEN DEAD.
Harrison Ayres Thomas is Called Home—Fought Indians and Protected Homes.

Special Correspondence.
Preston, Onida Co., March 8.—Harrison Ayres Thomas, a well known and highly respected citizen of Smithfield, Cache Co., Utah, died of pneumonia at this place, Thursday, March 3, at 7:35 a. m. Deceased was born in Kemper county, state of Mississippi, April 5, 1857. He died in his 47th year. He was the father of Joseph H. Thomas, and Mary Ann Thomas. His parents received the Gospel in Mississippi, and gathered with the Saints at Nauvoo in 1843. He saw the Prophet Joseph Smith and well remembered being present when the Prophet delivered his last address to the Nauvoo Legion. He also remembered viewing the bodies of the martyred Prophet and Patriarch.

He emigrated to Utah with his uncle, Preston Thomas, in the year 1851 and settled at Lehi, Utah, and Feb. 12, 1853 married Miss Annie Morehead. He was one of the men who went to Echo canyon to meet Johnston's army, and to the spring of 1857 he was in the field, where he assumed, with others, the role of protector from hostile Indians.

His occupation was that of farming and stock raising, and he took great delight in locating and building roads in the rugged mountains. He owned one of the first mills in Cache county, and has furnished work to hundreds of men. His greatest pleasure was in subduing the rugged elements of nature, and was a pioneer in very deed.

His last illness was of short duration, having lasted only four days. He was the father of 12 children, his wife and nine of whom are living.

The funeral services were held in the Smithfield tabernacle Sunday afternoon, March 6, 1904.

The speakers were President George C. Parkinson and Joseph Deddes of the Onida stake presidency, Bishop Henry T. Rogers of Preston, Ida., Bishop Newton Woodruff, Samuel Nelson, Samuel Roskelley, George L. Farrell and H. R. Miles of Smithfield, all of whom took part in his worth and sterling qualities.

He lived and died a faithful Latter-day Saint.
