

CHRISTENSEN IS SUPERINTENDENT.

Utah County Man Chosen by School Board Committee.

SALARY WILL BE $2,800.

Successful Candidate Receives Almost Entire Support of Committee—Critchlow Preferred Some Other Man.

D. H. Christensen of Provo was today named as superintendent of the Salt Lake City schools by the school board sitting as a committee of the whole. His salary was fixed at $2,800 after a lively discussion and on next Tuesday night the preliminary duty of taking a formal vote will be taken, when it is expected that the new superintendent will receive the unanimous support of the board. Prof. Eaton positively refused to be considered as a candidate, and for that reason it is thought that Mr. Geoghegan, who has been supporting Mr. Eaton, will vote for Mr. Christensen. He was unavoidably detained from being present at the meeting today.

The preliminary session was held in the office of O. W. Moyle and was presided over by Pres. Newman. There were present Messrs. Newman, Messrs. Critchlow, Bamberger, Moyle, Young, Glaugue, Walker and Branting. Mr. Geoghegan was not present.

As soon as the meeting was called to order President Newman stated the object of this meeting and called for the nomination of superintendent. D. H. Christensen was nominated by Mr. Glaugue and Mr. Moyle seconded the motion.

The end that the committee finally arrived at might have been reached in ten minutes but instead nearly two hours were consumed in the discussion of the merits and demerits of the candidates. Personalities were dealt with freely and comparisons were made without reserve, and in the course of the controversy the names of prominent editors were brought in and many who had never been thought of in connection with the superintendency. Mr. Critchlow was the germ of the opposition against Christensen. His objections were put freely, not bitterly, but firmly. The substance of his position is that he will vote for Christensen if a majority of the board cannot agree on any other man.

"I don't think Christensen is a strong man," was his candid beginning. "He is a good man and very agreeable and may possibly get on without friction, but I don't think he will give a strong administration. I know of no man except Mr. Wright of Ohio, whom I would regard as strong enough to begin now and conduct the schools as they ought to be conducted."

"I could do it, although from all I can learn Thomas is the best educated man of them all. But education is not all that is essential, executive ability is also needed. The superintendent would grow to be a better superintendent than Christensen, and I think Prof. Eaton would grow into the place and I would have voted for him if he had been named."

"Another man that I have thought of as a possible candidate is Prof. G. M. Marshall of the University. Although he too would have to grow into the position. But he is a man of superior education and I would be at a loss to know who I would vote for first as between Bradford and Marshall."

Mr. Moyle said he was glad to see that Mr. Critchlow could see a number of men in Utah that might fill the position of superintendent. He had thought that it was the latter's opinion that a suitable man could only be secured out of the state.

"Now Mr. Millsbaugh," added Mr. Moyle, "was considered one of the best superintendents we have had, and yet he has not had as much experience as Mr. Christensen, and Mr. Christensen is a better educated man than Mr. Cooper. The two cannot be compared as far as education is concerned." Mr. Moyle then spoke of his candidate's work in the Utah county schools, where he is said to have been very successful. "No one doubts this man's executive ability nor his qualifications and I think he will carry the schools forward. I vote for Christensen because I think he is the best man."

An attempt to call the roll was then made and when Critchlow's name was called he said that his first choice was for Wright, then Bradford and Marshall and Christensen was his fourth choice, but however he would vote for the latter if his other candidates did not meet the approval of the board. Mr. Moyle objected to Mr. Critchlow's naming other candidates when the vote on one was being taken. Then a general discussion of Critchlow's methods was held and the roll was continued. Those for Christensen were Newman, Moyle, Newman, Young, and Glaugue. Those opposed were: Critchlow, Bamberger and Walker.

In explaining his reason for voting against Mr. Christensen, Mr. Bamberger said that he had not had time to investigate the merits of the candidates outside of the state, but from all he could ascertain Mr. Christensen stood better among the educational men than any other local candidate, and when it comes to the board meeting his record likely support him. But he regarded the appointment of Christensen in the light of an experiment, and voted no because he wanted those in the majority to shoulder the responsibility.

President Newman suggested that it was an experiment when Millsbaugh was appointed, and the same with Mr. Cooper, who was superintendent of the Des Moines schools when he was called to Salt Lake. President Newman further stated that Mr. Cooper was a man of tact and some executive ability, but there had been some dissatisfaction in Des Moines over his administration of the schools there. He affirmed that Christensen had more experience than Cooper. He had been superintendent of schools at Payson and was the estimated head of the Utah county schools for a long time. "And let me say," concluded Mr. Newman, "we are not taking an unkindly quantity, and we are not experimenting any more than we have done in the past."

"Let us be candid with one another," said Critchlow, "for we know that Mr. Christensen with his credentials and his training would not stand any show in trying for a position of superintendent in states in the east."

"We don't know," interjected Mr. Moyle.

At this point Mr. Branting came in and the stage of the proceedings were explained to him, including the determination of Mr. Eaton not to be considered a candidate. Mr. Branting then arose and observed that his first choice was Dr. Talmage and his second choice was Prof. Eaton, but inasmuch as he had withdrawn he would vote for Mr. Christensen.

QUESTION OF SALARY.
The matter of the salary for the new superintendent which entailed a lengthy discussion, was precipitated upon the meeting by Mr. Moyle, who moved that the salary be $3,000.

This was promptly objected to by Mr. Bamberger, who said that it was a bad policy to pay large salaries to young men, for it often proved their ruin. Holding as he did also that it was an experiment, he thought that $2,800 was enough for Mr. Christensen, the salary that Mr. Millsbaugh received. Moyle thought that Christensen was worth as much as Cooper, for he had a better education than the latter. Bamberger replied that a man might know ten languages and yet be a poor superintendent. It was executive ability that was needed.

Critchlow thought that $2,500 was enough for the first year, and if the new man was a success he would be glad to raise his salary.

Mr. Glaugue, who stood out firmly for $3,000 to the end, said that if Cooper were worth $3,000, Christensen was surely worth $3,000. Mr. Bamberger said that he had always regretted voting for the increase in Mr. Cooper's salary. Moyle thought that they all did, although he voted against the raise. "Now don't crow," remarked Mr. Young.

The vote on the Bamberger amendment for $2,500 was taken, but lost. Moyle then moved that it be made $2,800 and Walker seconded the motion. Critchlow wanted to split the difference and made it $2,750 but failed. Glaugue maintained that if a man is good enough to hold the position of superintendent of the Salt Lake schools he is worth $3,000 and voted no on Moyle's motion. The others voted yes and the salary was thereby fixed at $2,800 a year just $300 less than the salary Mr. Cooper was getting when he resigned to accept the superintendency of the Seattle schools, where it is said he will get a still higher compensation.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

At the meeting of the board last night the names of nineteen applicants were brought before the meeting but the only ones who received any consideration were George A. Eaton, principal of the High School; D. H. Christensen; George Thomas of Logan, and N. T. Porter, but the discussion soon turned on Prof. Eaton, and Mr. Christensen.

On request of Mr. Glaugue the credentials of Mr. Christensen were read, they being strong recommendations from George Thomas of Logan, and J. T. Kingsbury, William M. Stewart, W. J. Kerr, J. H. Paul, James H. Linford, State Superintendent of Schools Nelson County Superintendent Ashton, and W. S. Rawlins, superintendent of the Provo city schools.

Branting wished to know if Eaton had any credentials. Geoghegan said that Eaton needed no credentials, that his work was before the board and they could judge of it for themselves. The substance of his position is that he will vote for Christensen if a majority of the board cannot agree on any other man.

Several members of the board were of the understanding that Mr. Eaton would tender his position unless he was elected. Mr. Christensen said that was news to him. It was apparent that the majority of the members were in favor of Mr. Christensen, but the vote was postponed until today out of deference to the wishes of Mr. Geoghegan and Mr. Walker.

NEW A. C. BUILDINGS.

Trustees Are Considering Bids at McCornick's Bank This Afternoon.

The office of Hon. W. S. McCornick was crowded at a late hour this afternoon by contractors who had bid on the new buildings to be erected by the Agricultural college at Logan. These buildings consist of a cattle barn, sheep shed and pigery for which bids were received some time ago but rejected at a meeting of the board of trustees held in Logan as stated in the "News" at the time for the reason that they were too high.

At the meeting this afternoon President McCornick presided and the other members of the board of trustees were present as was also President Kerr who came down from Logan to attend the meeting. In no case had an award been made at 4 o'clock.

SENATOR CLARK ARRIVES IN CITY.

Attends an Informal Conference of Directors of San Pedro Today.

BIG MEETING ON MONDAY.

Nothing Accomplished This Morning Beyond Talking Over the Situation—Gibson Arrives Tomorrow.

Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, accompanied by his private secretary, arrived in Salt Lake City early this morning and immediately repaired to the Knutsford.

According to his custom he refused to be interviewed and sent down word to the effect that he was very busy. During the entire morning the directors of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company, who are in this city, held an informal meeting to discuss the local situation and the plans of construction generally. Those of the directorate who were seen this afternoon stated that there was nothing to give out regarding the meeting, and that no business would be transacted until after the arrival of Vice President T. E. Gibson, who leaves Carson City today.

After the directors' meeting on Monday, however, it is expected some important announcements regarding the project will be forthcoming.

Heavy Live Stock Shipments.

The Rio Grande Western and the Denver & Rio Grande handled the following consignments of live stock during the past week. Thirty-seven cars of sheep, from Thompson's to Kansas City; twenty-five cars of cattle from Deeth, Nev., to South Omaha; sixteen cars of cattle from Ontario, Ore., to Kansas City; eleven cars of horses from Red Rock to Kansas City; fifteen cars of horses from Caldwell, Ida., to Chicago and seven cars of horses from Colliation to Kansas City.

Into Big Horn Country.

The Burlington announces that Pryor Station, Montana, 50.2 miles from Toluca on the Toluca-Cody lines, has been opened and T. J. Hall appointed agent. This announcement will come as good news to the settlers of the Big Horn country, nearly all of whom hail from Utah. Under the new order of things people can now visit that district without having to go via Butte and make several changes of cars en route. A party can now leave Salt Lake and go via the Denver and Brush cut-off instead of changing at Billings.

AT THE RESORTS.

The temperature of the water at Saltair this afternoon was 84 degrees and still rising. The bathing season has now set in and hundreds daily take their dip in the briny.

The Twenty-third ward is taking its outing at Lagoona today.

Tonight is "society night" at Saltair. A special time table has been put on for the occasion.

One of the favorite pastimes at Lagoona seems to be catching fish in the big pools and then feeding them to the bears. The animals are very fond of a piscatorial diet and as a consequence there have been some lively fights over some of the tit bits.

The annual outing of the people of the Granite Stake to the lake (Saltair) has been fixed for Thursday, July 11, 1901. The Sunday school and the Mutual Improvement associations have combined to make the affair the largest of the kind in the history of the Stake. The special guests of the occasion will be the Old Folks of the Stake, all of whom will be furnished free transportation and entertainment. The date chosen is one of the best, and the most enjoyable time is anticipated. All the officers and workers in the organizations mentioned have been requested to inform the people of Granite Stake, and all other friends of this proposed excursion. As the aged are to be invited an effort will be made to render the occasion a perfect day of enjoyment.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Theatre will be open on Monday evening for the benefit of Prof. L. E. Young. A uniform admission price of 25c has been fixed. This, with Prof. Young's popularity and the excellent program provided, should fill the house.

Elder S. G. Clark of Richfield returned this morning from the Colorado mission, with Elder E. L. Hansen of Bountiful, who had developed a suspected case of typhoid. Before the train reached this city the condition of Elder Hansen was such that his companion deemed it necessary to send a dispatch to President Snow from Thistle Junction, asking that an ambulance be sent to meet the train. Accordingly St. Mark's hospital was communicated with and the view through some misunderstanding the sick man was transferred to the Holy Cross hospital ambulance, which was at the depot, and subsequently put to bed in that institution. Shortly afterward the St. Mark's ambulance appeared outside the hospital for the patient, with the result that he was finally comfortably tucked away in a ward out near the Warm Springs.

He states that he is of the opinion that the beet fields which are cultivated by irrigation will be the success of the future, in fact the record made by his factory which handles the irrigated crop at Rocky Ford, Colo., was the best of any of his plants. Mr. Oxnard, though closely connected with the Clarks, is not interested in the railroad.
