EASTER SUNDAY IN OGDEN.

Special Services in Various Churches of Junction City—Ideal Weather Brings Out Throngs.

Ogden, April 16.—In the presence of a congregation that taxed the First Methodist Episcopal church to its fullest capacity last evening, Rev. Samuel Blair, pastor of the church, burned the marriage notes, etc., that have for eighteen years been held against the Ogden church, and the building, which was erected in 1885, was dedicated. It was an evening of rejoicing for the pastor and congregation, after so many years of toiling and burden in reducing the debt to have the same wiped out, amounting to $32,000, and to once more breathe the breath of freedom. As the flames wiped out the notes, the congregation sang, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

The Methodist church building is one of the most beautiful in Ogden, and is sufficiently large to accommodate the congregation for many years to come. A platform service was held, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, which was participated in by the ministers of the various churches of the city. Short addresses were made by Dr. H. J. Talbot, bishop of the M. E. church; Rev. J. E. Carver, of the Presbyterian church; Rev. H. B. Bond, of the Baptist church; Rev. H. H. Flier, of the German Evangelical church; Rev. Noble S. Elderkin, of the Congregational church; Rev. James Thompson, of the Central Park Presbyterian church; Prof. W. L. Underwood and Rev. Frank Shaw of the Methodist church. Each of the speakers congratulated the congregation and Rev. Blair for their untiring, faithful services in clearing the church of its debt, and wished them God speed in the future. The excellent services of Rev. Blair in working out the debt, clearing the church debt and to perform his other duties was loudly praised by his fellow churchmen.

Rev. Blair addressed the assembly, expressing his true appreciation for the manner in which the members of his charge in Ogden have assisted him in paying off the indebtedness, and he praised highly the church and its members, who came to the rescue of the church in shouldering the church debt of $32,000, and who after a number of years gave to the Ogden church $22,000 if they would raise the balance of $10,000, which they have done, and Judge Thomas Maloney in behalf of the extension board, delivered to Rev. Blair in the presence of the congregation the cancelled mortgage, notes, deeds and other papers and congratulated the people on their achievement.

Then followed the dedicatory services and prayer, which was conducted by Dr. Talbot, assisted by the other ministers. Today Judge Maloney will with Rev. Blair have the marriage cancelled on the county recorder's books, and make the title to the building and ground clear.

EASTER IN OGDEN.

Special Services in Various Churches of Junction City.

Ogden, April 16.—Easter Sunday was the most beautiful day of this spring. The sun shone clearly, and its warm rays brought out many people at the various churches throughout the city. Each of the church edifices was most artistically decorated.

The St. Joseph's Catholic church was prettily decorated. The altar was entwined with smilax and cut flowers, also many Easter lilies, together with palms. Father Dineff of Salt Lake held high mass at 8 a. m., and at 10 o'clock morning service. Rev. Father Cushman preached a powerful sermon on "To Be Saved We Must Be Followers of the Risen Christ, and to Be Followers of Christ, We Must Believe all He has Taught Us." Some very beautiful music was rendered by the church choir and soloists.

The Presbyterian church presented a pretty sight. The pulpit was banked in cut flowers and evergreens with Calia lilies on one side and Easter lilies on the other. Besides the regular services, a special Easter song service was held at 5 o'clock, which was largely attended. Some very sweet vocal and instrumental music was rendered and Rev. J. E. Carver preached an impressive sermon on "The Message of Easter Blossoms."

At the Episcopal church both afternoon and evening services were conducted by Rev. Alfred Brown. He spoke on "The Resurrection." The church was tastefully decorated with Easter blossoms.

The Eastern morning services at the First Methodist Episcopal church were very impressive. The El Monte commandery of the Knights Templar, attended the services in a body. The church choir and soloists rendered special music and Bishop H. J. Talbot delivered a beautiful sermon on "The Resurrection of Christ." The church

The pulpit and stand were a profusion of cala and Easter lilies and palms and in each of the windows were ferns and palm leaves.

The Swedish Lutheran church Easter service was held at 11 a. m. Rev. O. A. Ellquist proclaiming "The Lesson of the Open Grave," and in the evening the children's chorus gave its third annual Easter concert, and entertainment. Rev. H. H. Flier preached at the German Evangelical church an impressive Easter sermon. Easter flowers were used profusely at each of the church edifices.

CHOICE OF HENRY LANE.

Henry Lane, an honored resident of Ogden, passed peacefully from mortality Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, Patriarch George W. Larkin, 648 Twenty-seventh street. The immediate cause of death being peritonitis, superinduced by injuries received a year ago last winter on Washington avenue, where he slipped and fell on the pavement, his right arm and side were seriously injured. Mr. Lane was born in Yorkshire, England, January, 1820, when 24 years of age, having joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints with his family, he emigrated to Utah, coming to Ogden where he lived until 1902, when he was elected to the office of Patriarch, and operated a shoe business. Two years ago he returned to Ogden and remained here up to the time of his death.

He was survived by his wife, Mrs. George W. Larkin, Sr., five grand children and two great grandchildren. The funeral will be held at the family residence, 648 Twenty-seventh street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His remains will lie in state at the home on a. m. and 2 p. m.

BRAKEMAN ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY.

A Southern Pacific freight brakeman named F. H. Woods was placed under arrest early Sunday morning on the charge of burglary. Woods had been out on his run and arrived in Ogden shortly after midnight, as he stepped from the train he was immediately placed under arrest by Sheriff Sebring and Deputy Wilson and taken to the county jail, where he still occupies a cell.

One of the cars in the train on which Woods was brakeman was broken open between Carlin and Montello, and a quantity of cigars and collars stolen. Suspicion fell on Woods, and the officers were notified of the same. He was watched carefully, and so convinced were the officers of his guilt, that they decided to place him under arrest. The most convincing evidence against him was that a value he carried contained a quantity of cigars and collars of the same brand as those stolen. Woods is a young man who has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLEN LEATHAM.

Mrs. Ellen Hendry Leatham, wife of Alexander Leatham, died at 5 o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence, 2701 10th avenue, of an attack of blood poisoning. She had been ill about three weeks. The deceased was born in Ogden, Aug. 10, 1853. She is survived by her husband, two small children, four sisters and one brother. The funeral services will be held from the Second ward meetinghouse at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment will be in the city cemetery.

UNION OF CANNING FACTORIES.

Friday next an important meeting of the management of the various canning factories of the state will be held at the Weber club for the purpose of deciding on a permanent organization to protect and look after the interests of the canning industry, at a meeting of the canners held at the Weber club last Saturday afternoon there were representatives of 17 canning factories out of the 22 factories in the state. The situation was thoroughly discussed and plans practically decided upon, but as some of the representatives present had not been fully authorized to act for their respective factories, it was decided to postpone definite action until April 20.

COUNTY SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

The Weber county school teachers held interesting meetings Saturday afternoon.

The grammar grade teachers met in the county commissioners' room at the court house. It was decided to hold the eighth grade examinations on May 25 and 26, either in the Ogden High school or the Weber Stake academy.

The teachers' examination will be held during the first part of June. It was determined that teachers who received 75 per cent or better on any one subject would be exempt from examination on that subject. If the teacher received as much as 75 per cent on all subjects the certificate would be reissued by the state board without further examination. A committee was appointed for the purpose of preparing examination questions for the seventh grade pupils. Another committee was appointed to prepare a list of 50 questions for each subject to be used for general review in the eighth grade work. It was also determined to hold local exhibits in each of the different schools of the county at a general exhibit in Ogden City. The latter will be composed of the best work from all the schools.

The primary department teachers' meeting was held in the Ogden High school. Reading was thoroughly and ably discussed, after which Miss May Hartog of the Grant school of Ogden City, addressed the gathering on the matter of class exercise. County Supt. of Schools W. N. Peterson has received from State Supt. Nelson a notice of the state school apportionment for the coming year. The apportionment this year is 99 cents per capita, which is the highest figure it has ever reached. In 1905 the per capita was 92 cents, and the amount this year, 55 cents is from the state fund and 44 cents is from the rentals and school land fund. It is expected that the county school fund apportionment will be enough to carry the school for a few days. This will be $1.05 per capita, which is the greatest amount ever apportioned in Weber county. The sum of $9,969.75 will be apportioned between Ogden City and Weber county.

IN NEW YORK'S THEATERS

(By Acton Davies).

Special Correspondence.

New York, April 16.—The Casino came into its own again on Saturday night, when the "Social Whirl," a new review by Charles Doty, Joseph Herbert and Gustave Kerker, was presented there. One of the biggest audiences which has ever gathered there put the hall-mark of success all over a piece which promised to score one of the highest hits in the history of the Casino. It is rare indeed to find a musical play which gives so many of its actors a chance to score as "The Social Whirl," and, furthermore, in his joint capacity of composer and musical conductor the Casino in this production regains one of its longest traditions. Mr. Kerker was on the topmost crest of the wave of success which broke over the Casino on Saturday night. His score is the brightest and most tuneful which he has yet written, and the days of "The Belle of New York," and as though to keep pace with him, the librettists, Charles Doty and Joseph Herbert, had both put their feet on the ladder of success. It is from us to insinuate that any librettist ever wrote a musical play with his feet— with the result that the new piece has really got a story, some character, some action and a good deal of wit in some of its dialog.

The freshest character in the piece is the bounding subterfuge from the Idaho circuit who comes to the Metropole to take a fall out of Broadway—a role which was played initially by Miss Ida Lewis, an artist who has learned the knack of being tough without being in the slightest degree vulgar. Miss Lewis has had to wait years for a role but it has come to her at last. Miss Adele Ritchie was another actress who, if she had only happened to be a horse, would have won the winning circle drawn around her name on Saturday night.

For one thing in an imitation of Miss Barrymore she disheveled a sense of humor of which no one had ever suspected her. She scored in three directions, as a matter of fact. Her acting was admirable, her frocks the prettiest which the stage has shown this season, and as an equestrienne the sensational jump which she made over a fence into the middle of the stage at the end of the play entitles her to qualify for high school honors at the Hippodrome.

Then there was Miss Maud Raymond as the colored hand maiden in the manor house. Her rendering of the interpolated song by George Spink, "Billy Simmons," which tells the story of the darky who couldn't keep still when the band played, was the funniest song which she has ever sung. It is only doing her justice to say that in her singing of it Miss Raymond scored the hit of her life.

It is a pleasure to record the success of these three women, each of them after early successes has known the bitterness which comes to artists who are forced to play unoriginal or impossible roles.

That they all three should have hit the bullseye at the same performance speaks well for "The Social Whirl." Joseph Coyne also found a new part which fitted him to a T. He played the old Daly graduate, Frederick Bond, proved that he can hold his own even with such a past master of musical comedy methods as Charles Ross.

Then there was Miss Mabel Penton, who as a society dowager was distinguished in the ruling. Miss Elizabeth Brice, who disclosed an uncommonly fine voice which will very soon make a prima donna of her if she isn't careful, and Miss Blanche Deyo, who danced like a summer breeze.

Besides these there were girls and girls and girls—bevy and bevy of them. And not only were they graceful and pretty but they acted with an intelligence and vivacity which was only another demonstration of the fact that in this production Stage Manager Burnside has excelled himself.

The chorus of young men and girls were all young and good-looking and carried themselves like wellbred men. The second act is not quite as breezy as the first, but it can stand a bit of cutting here and there. But that's a mere detail, which a few performances will set free. The Shuberts in this production have set a new pace for summer shows. They have lived up to the best traditions of the old Casino and excelled them. "The Social Whirl" acts as the whirlwind dervish of successes. It never stops going round.

In his new home, at Field's theater, Mr. Hopkinson has settled down on a lease of laughter and prosperity. "Hoppy" has come to stay, there's no doubt about that, and the more one sees of this light comedy of R. C. Cartton's the more one realizes the exceptional cleverness of his construction and characterization and the brightness of its lines.

Out of every dozen playgoers who see this play you will find at least one who appreciates "Mr. Hopkinson" at its real worth, and about two who will tell you with no end of emphasis that it is stupid to the last degree. To this

Grandfather's Cure for Constipation

GREAT medicine—the Saw-buck.

Two hours a day sawing wood will keep anyone's bowels regular. No need of pills, Cathartics, Castor Oil nor "Physic." If you'll only work the Sawbuck regularly.

Exercise is Nature's Cure for Constipation and—Ten-Mile walk will do, if you haven't got a wood pile.

But, if you will take your Exercise in an Easy Chair, there's only one way to do that, and make a Success of it. Because—there's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowels and its name is "CASCARETS."

Cascarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles, without work. They don't Purge, Grip, nor "upset your Stomach," because they don't act like Cathartics. They don't flush out your Bowels and Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juice, as Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Aperient Waters, always do.

No—Cascarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles instead.

These are the Muscles that line the Food passages and that tighten up when Food touches them, thus driving that Food on to its finish.

They are the Muscles that turn Food into Strength through Nutrition.

Well—a Cascaret acts on your Bowel Muscles as if you had just Sawed a cord of wood, or walked ten miles.

That's why Cascarets are safe to take continuously in health; and out of health.

Because they move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastric Juice.

They thus work all the Nutrition out of it before it decays.

The thin, flat, Ten Cent box is made to fit your Vest Pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse.

Carry it constantly with you and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need one.

Thus you will ward off Appendicitis, Constipation, Indigestion, and other things besides.
