SCHLEY IS HEARD FROM

Commodore of Flying Squadron Makes Report to Admiral Sampson.

THE CONTENTS NOT YET MADE PUBLIC.

Intimation is Strong that He Has the Spanish Fleet Severely Locked in Santiago Harbor.

Off the Northern Coast of Cuba, May 27, 2 a. m., via Key West—At 10 o'clock last night the Dolphin ran alongside the flagship New York. The flash showed that she bore dispatches for Rear Admiral Sampson. The commander of the Dolphin shouted through the megaphone:

"I have dispatches from Commodore Schley to the commander-in-chief."

A cheer went up from the crowded decks.

Commodore Schley's dispatches were dated off Cienfuegos.

"Absolutely nothing definite can be said," was the reply which Captain Chadwick, of the New York, made to a question as to what had transpired.

Since he heard of Admiral Cervera's arrival at Curacao, Rear Admiral Sampson has repeatedly said he believed the Spaniards would go to Cienfuegos or Santiago. To prove the American admiral was almost sure the Spanish would be caught, the following can be divulged without a breach of confidence:

When the ships of Commodore Schley's division were sailing out of Key West under Rear Admiral Sampson's orders, the admiral set this signal to Captain Philips, of the Texas:

"We are going to hunt the Spaniards, and good luck to you."

Since then Rear Admiral Sampson has been cruising around as a lonely, preoccupied monarch. He thoroughly believed Commodore Schley would bottle up the Spaniards either in Cienfuegos or at Santiago, but he took all measures to guard against a possible evasion of Commodore Schley by the enemy and any attempt to make Havana through the eastern or western passage, though there is little doubt that the commodore had he met the Spanish ships, could have defeated them.

There is good reason to believe from a strategic point of view, that more can be gained by the Spaniards being bottled up in Santiago than in an engagement which, though it would result in victory for the Americans, might have resulted in some damage to our ships.

In the harbor of Santiago the Spanish fleet will be helpless. The channel leading into the harbor is narrow, and the enemy can either be beat a single one there, by sinking a few hulks in the channel, or he can be destroyed by a superior force.

Hanged for Murder.

Austin, Tex., May 27.—Eugene Burt was hanged today for the murder of his wife and two children in this city in July, 1896. He protested his innocence to the last, and the only statement made on the gallows was that owing to the disgrace the present "was the happiest moment of his life."

Fatal Railway Collision.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 27.—A special from Oakdale, Tenn., says:

An engine collided with the Oakdale accommodation train at Graysville, north of Chattanooga on the Cincinnati Southern railroad. The crew on the engine, composed of Conductor Simpson, Engineer Hudson, Fireman Edwards and Brakemen Matthews and Swanson, were all instantly killed, except Simpson, who is not expected to live. All residing in Somerset, Ky. Engineer Walkenshaw, Fireman Day and Baggagemaster Dreshack, of the accommodation train, were seriously hurt.

Killed While Saying Goodbye.

Butte, Mont., May 27.—W. F. Bowen, while attempting to bid his brother good-bye at the departure of the troops for San Francisco, fell beneath the military train and was killed.

ARMY AT CHICKAMAUGA.

Now Numbers 45,000 Men and Continues to Grow.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 27.—The big volunteer army at Chickamauga now numbers nearly 45,000 men and is still on to grow. Today the Sixty-ninth New York, the First Arkansas, the Fifth Missouri and three troops of the Third volunteer cavalry (Col Grigsby's cowboys) went into camp. Together these commands number about 1,500 men. The Sixty-ninth New York attracts great attention on account of the evident fact that it is composed entirely of Irishmen.

The Fifth Missouri infantry, 1,023 men, under Colonel Milton Moore, arrived this morning. The regiment is poorly equipped and cannot receive immediate attention from the supply officers.

Nearly all the men of the Fourth Ohio regiment were vaccinated yesterday. Today their arms are very sore. Drills will probably be suspended for a few days.

The Pennsylvania soldiers, about 6,000 in all, are busy today over the announcement that they will at once receive pay for the five days spent in camp before being mustered into the service of the United States. His money which amounts to about $25,000 will be paid by the state of Pennsylvania.

The pipe lines to nearly all the commands in the park were completed today, and hereafter there can be no complaints about water.

Numerous complaints are being made by men of various regiments of the army, but, according to an officer, thirty these complaints are not well founded.

General Brooke and his assistants are giving the men every possible accommodation, and those who complain are doubtless men who cannot make up their minds to endure the hardships attendant upon army life.

Brigadier General Hurt and staff left Chickamauga today for Tampa, Fla., where they have been assigned to duty.

AMUSEMENTS

Anyone happening inside of the Congregational church last night, and aware of the kind of entertainment being given, could have imagined himself in one of the Southern states anywhere below the Mason and Dixon line, from the songs that were sung and the tales that were told. Nearly all were decidedly Southern. It was called An Evening of Southern Song and Story, and such it proved to be in every sense of the word. The jolly coon songs that were sung and those of a sadder strain called to mind many personal reminiscences among those in attendance, and showed plainly that they were living over other days again. But the real could scarcely have been more interesting than the characterizations given last night. The Southern dialect is extremely musical and expressive which they use, but never so impressive and amusing as when a Southerner and Mamie "Yank" get into conversation. It was a happy thought that struck two such talented people as Mrs. Inglehart and Mr. Brigham, and which culminated in such an enjoyable evening's entertainment as that given last night. The Congregational church was filled to more than its usual capacity, it being necessary, in order to accommodate the large attendance, to throw open the doors, and this was pretty well filled before the program was thoroughly started. The program was a splendid one, and everybody on everything suggestive of Southern life, and was rendered by some of the best of local talent. Mrs. Inglehart and Mr. Brigham of course being the particular stars of the evening. The recitation, The Wonderful Tar Baby, by the former, was the best number, though an encore in one of her numbers was called for. At Castle Lighting-Time, was a very clever thing. The lady has the true Southern dialect down to perfection, and the musical intonation of her voice in all her recitations was faultless, and her reception was indeed flattering. Mr. Brigham's friends were out in force last night, and the sweet notes of his splendid tenor voice as the evening rinsing with applause. His is a voice of almost indescribable sympathetic expression, and his negro melodies rendered last night it took on an added enjoyableness and pathos. Everything in the U. S. brand, A. D. and numbers, made up of Kentucky Babe, Honey Lamb, Dixie Land and Mammy's Little Pumpkin Colored Coons. As an encore to this Mr. Brigham sang the old favorite, Uncle Ludes Trip. It was this song that gave him much of his reputation, and though it has been sung by him ever so frequently, its sentiment never grows old. In addition to these numbers he also sang Whip Poor Will, Mam and Mammy Home, with the aid of a quartette composed of Thomas Ashworth, Alfred Best, Will C. Hardwick, and Willard Christofferson. The quartet also rendered a number or two, the last of which proved to be a patriotic medley set to familiar negro melodies. Miss Ethel Dwyer gave a piano number, Lovely Lou, and Little Toller Boy, her splendid contralto voice calling out well both. Willie Wilde and the quartet sang Ambolena Snow and On the Banks of the Wabash was done by Will Hardwick and the quartet, and Spencer Clawson Jr. gave a piano selection of negro melodies very creditably. The whole program was a drawing and those responsible for it are respectfully invited to arrange a similar one for the near future.

Tonight and tomorrow night Katie Putnam and her company will appear at the Theater in Hoyt's most amusing comedy, Texas Steer. On Saturday afternoon a popular priced matinee will be given.

The University Kindergarten did not fare well at the concert given by the M. of U. band at the Tabernacle last night, a regrettable fact, for the cause was a most worthy one and the program rendered was certainly a good one. The descriptive numbers rendered by the band, The Destruction of the Maine, was a most cleverly arranged affair, and applause greeted its rendition. Others who participated were Nellie Treasa Pugsley, Geo. D. Pyper, Luella Farrow and H. G. Graham. The latter's war song was a splendid one, though the attendance was light.

High Priests.

FIREMAN EARL'S PREDICAMENT.

Accused of Having Applied a Vile Epithet to Councilman Weiler.

Michael W. Earl, nominee for lieutenant of the fire department, is in hot water, and if what he is accused of is proved, the chances are his appointment will be turned down. Councilman Weiler is the complaining witness. He accuses Earl of having called him a vile name in the presence of others. Earl says he has no recollection of it, and if he did he is sorry for it. Earl was appointed lieutenant some time ago and confirmed, but the Council reconsidered its action and referred the matter back to the committee on fire and police. The question came up at a meeting of the committee last night. Earl was present and in answer to questions propounded claimed to have no recollection of using the language charged against him. Councilman Weiler said he could produce the proof, and an adjournment was taken to Monday evening, when a full investigation will be had in Chief Devine's office. The language accredited to Earl is said to have been made after Chief Devine's confirmation.

To be Placed in Mount Olivet.

The remains of William H. Ryan, formerly superintendent of waterworks of this city, and who died at Grand Junction, Colorado, nearly three years ago, will be brought to Salt Lake for interment tomorrow. The remains will reach here on the 12:30 noon train and be taken to Mt. Olivet cemetery, their final resting place.

Has an Artificial Foot

John Thomas, a young man who last fall suffered the loss of a foot through an accident at the Intermountain Salt company's works, arrived in the city today and has the pleasure of seeing several months, in which time he has succeeded in securing an artificial limb. Mr. Thomas is now footing quite well.

From the Mission Field.

Elders J. E. Teeples of Burrville, Sevier county, Joseph A. Jacobson of the Seventh ward of this city, John H. Ellis of Bountiful, and E. F. Richards of Farmington, returned on Monday, May 23rd, from missions to Australasia. All enjoyed their work to the fullest and return in good health. Elder Teeples has been absent since October 25, 1894, and Elder Richards since February 11, 1896. Elder Jacobson since February 11, 1896, and Elder Richards since April 7th, 1896.

Elder D. K. Brown of Nephi returned Saturday last from a mission to Denmark. Norway and Sweden, whither he went in April, 1896. He enjoyed himself thoroughly and reports that the Elders are doing a good work.

Elder J. F. Russon also returned from Europe on Saturday last. He labored in Great Britain and has been absent since April, 1898.

Elder George Done Jr. of Smithfield, Cache county, returned this week from a mission to Missouri, which he enthusiastically reports to be the finest field, the most prosperous and promising mission in the world today." Elder Done left Rome May 2, 1894, and labored in Missouri during his entire mission.

Elder Samuel G. Gardner of the Twenty-second ward of this city, is home from Iowa, where he labored in the Great Britain. He labored all of the time in the Birmingham conference, enjoyed good health and returns home in good spirits.

UP FROM MOAB.

Henry Holyoak Talks of Conditions and Prospects in Grand County.

Henry Holyoak, one of Grand county's enterprising and industrious citizens, is up from his home in Moab. He arrived in Salt Lake last evening and reports conditions and prospects in the Grand country as being very satisfactory.

Agricultural products of all kinds are doing excellently and have been greatly benefitted by recent rains, which, however, were light. It has been here and in other sections of the State. In the fruit line there will be a heavy yield. Strawberries are now being shipped, the peach crop will be heavy, plums will be heavier, and apples fair. The grain crop will be lighter than usual owing to the extremely cold weather of last winter.

As the snow disappears from the mountains prospectors are going into the La Sals. About one hundred miners are in there now and some good discoveries and assays are reported. Rebirds' Nest desperadoes come into town after supplies and it is difficult to distinguish between them and the prospectors. Lower are continually reported though nothing of a serious character has recently occurred.

A Rush for Opera Seats.

The box office at the Theater this morning was fairly besieged with applicants for seats for Katie Putnam, with which the Salt Lake Opera company will close the season on Monday afternoon and evening. The indications are that the attendance will equal that of the original production on Washington's birthday.

Thanks to Performers.

The members of the University Kindergarten association desire to express their thanks to the Knights of Pythias band, to Prof. Stephens and Tabernacle choir, and to all those who so cheerfully aided in making the concert given last evening such an artistic success.

WAR NOTES.

Chicago, May 27.—Montana's quota of cowboy cavalrymen to the number of 1,200 arrived in the city today en route to Chickamauga and immediately went into camp for the day at the stock yards. The regiment will resume the journey south tonight.

Key West, Fla., May 27.—The rainy season is just beginning in Cuba, and the fleet of vessels and the army expeditionary forces have experienced bad weather during the past week, with frequent violent rainstorms. Off the Cuban coast today the weather is pleasant and the absence of several monitors, formerly the Amazonas, excites the admiration of all naval men during the present crisis, on account of her speed and apparent effectiveness as a fighting ship.

A SALT LAKER KILLED.

William J. Herridge Has His Skull Crushed in a Nevada Concentrator.

LIFELESS BODY BROUGHT HOME TODAY.

The Young Man Was Well Known and Widely Respected—Funeral from Twenty-third Ward Tomorrow.

The lifeless body of William J. Herridge of the Twenty-third ward of this city was brought to Salt Lake today and taken to the undertaking parlors of Joseph William Taylor, where it awaits burial. Herridge was in his twenty-first year and met his death through an accident at Goldenda, Nevada, on Wednesday morning last while working in the Star mines concentrator. Herridge is the Glasgow & Western Exploration company, of which Otto Stahlman of this city is general manager.

Young Herridge had been employed at the mill about six months and at the time he met his death was attempting to guide a belt on to a cylinder from which it had run. The stick broke, causing him to fall forward and be drawn into the machinery where his skull was crushed and where he received internal injuries. He died ten hours later. His father, Junius Farnes Herridge, was employed at the concentrator and, sorrow-stricken and discouraged, he brought the body home, reaching his city yesterday at 5:35 this afternoon. The meeting was a profoundly sorrowful one.

The deceased was a highly respected young man both here and in Nevada. His employers held him in the highest esteem and greatly regret the tragic death of Will. Mrs. Herridge is completely overtaken. He Salt Lake friends were very numerous and will mourn his untimely end. Young Herridge is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters, all residents of Brigham City. It is quite evident the man have been guilty of boating other establishments.

Sheriff Davis thinks he has the right men, and will leave with his charges this evening.

VISITING OLD FRIENDS.

D. E. Harris of Colonia Juarez, Mexico, Makes the "News" a Pleasant Call.

D. E. Harris, a former Utahn and now a resident of Colonia Juarez, Mexico, arrived in Salt Lake today and made the "News" a pleasant call. Mr. Harris is president of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement association of his section and came to Utah for the express purpose of attending the conference which begins here on Sunday next. He reports the Mormon colonies in Mexico as being in a flourishing and prosperous condition notwithstanding the fact that money matters are somewhat closer now than at any time past. The people are building good homes and getting substantial surroundings.

Concerning the war of the United States with Spain, Mr. Harris says that Mexican sentiment, as he gathers it from such officials as he talked to, was rather favorable to the United States. The Mexicans are in hearty sympathy and accord with the Cuban insurgents in their struggle for freedom from Spanish rule, and the opinion that the United States has overstepped that in interference.

Joined in Wedlock.

Justice Timmony last evening performed the ceremony which united Miss Simpson and William Marcroft in the bonds of matrimony. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 1,163 East South street, and hearty congratulations and good wishes were showered upon the young couple.

Will Plead Tomorrow.

The four men, Henry Casey, William O'Brien, Thomas Ryan and Frank Miller, arrested by detective Sheridan on a charge of vagrancy yesterday were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Norman today on the charge of burglarizing Sheriff Davis' stable on Thursday night. Each of them desired until tomorrow morning before pleading, at that time the preliminary will be given a preliminary hearing.

University Ball and Banquet.

Invitations have been issued to the members of the Alumni association of the University of Utah to attend its regular annual ball and banquet, to be held June 15th, at 8 o'clock p.m., at Christensen's hall.

According to "Hardware," two rival commercial travelers were trying to sell a merchant a fireproof safe. The first said: "Now, sir, you can put a roll out in one of our safes, and the safe was put in the middle of a fire for 24 hours, and when it was taken out the roll was alive." Said the second: "We put a cat in one of our safes and piled a fire around it for 24 hours, and when we opened it the cat was dead." "Ah, I thought so," said the merchant. "Then," replied the traveler, "he was frozen to death."

Impostors are abroad in the Red Cross field, says the Times. Positive proof has come to the subscription committee, and it has been determined that all the books in use will be withdrawn. Mrs. F. G. Sauborn, chairman of the committee, asks that no further donations be made to her until further notice. In executive session the committee at once was again in planning a new system, which will be duly announced.

DIED.

HERRIDGE.—At Galeenda, Nevada, May 25th, 1898, from fractured skull, William James Herridge, son of James and Louisa Herridge, of the Twenty-third ward this city; aged 20 years, 6 months and 18 days.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 p. m. from the Twenty-third ward meeting house. Friends are respectfully invited to attend.

M'HENRY SCOTT'S CASE.

Trial of a Colored Man Charged with Mayhem Before Judge Norrell.

GOUGED J. O. GOTTHARDT'S EYE OUT,

The Victim's Account of the Affair—To Recover $2,000 on an Accident Insurance Policy.

The trial of McHenry Scott, (colored), on the charge of mayhem, commenced before Judge Norrell and a jury in the criminal branch of the Third district court today, with County Attorney Pulsipher prosecuting and Attorney Jesse F. Route defending the accused.

Scott is charged with having gouged out the right eye of John Gotthardt, a drummer residing on east South Temple street, on the morning of March 4th, 1898. What the defendant's motive could have been is not known and there is a doubt in the minds of many as to whether Scott is the real culprit. Gotthardt admitted today that he had never met the prisoner before the morning of the assault, but is certain that he is the man who attacked him. One thing is certain and that is Gotthardt has completely lost the sight of his right eye, and has also sustained an injury to his right thumb.

GOTTHARDT'S TESTIMONY.

Gotthardt was the first witness called. He testified that on Sunday morning, March 4th, he was walking east on Second South street, and about half way between State and Second East streets on the south side of the street he heard some one behind him. Turning around he saw the defendant, who immediately commenced to strike him in the face and not a word was spoken by either parties. Blood began to run down plaintiff's face and he became dazed and fell to the sidewalk. Scott then jumped on him and again struck him several times before he ran. Shortly afterwards he ran away. Officers Roberts and Hemple came along and assisted Gotthardt to the police station.

On cross-examination he admitted having been in a number of saloons the night before and had partaken of half a dozen beers and a couple of whiskies. He said he was not perfectly sober, however.

Drs. Root and Hughes were called and testified to the extent of Gotthardt's injuries.

Officers Hemple and Roberts told of finding Gotthardt on the sidewalk and of arresting Scott. The prosecution had not rested at press time.

ON AN INSURANCE POLICY.

Trial of the Case of Mary E. Brown against the Fraternal Accident Association.

Judge Cherry and a jury have been engaged to day trying the case of Mary E. Brown against The Fraternal Accident Association of America. Powers, Straup & Lippman appeared for the plaintiff and Williams, Van Cott & Sutherland are looking after the interests of the defendant association.

Plaintiff sues to recover the sum of $2,000, with interest, alleged to be due as damages sustained as the beneficiary of a certain policy of insurance, issued by the association to plaintiff's husband, Caleb M. Brown, on May 1, 1896. Mr. Brown died in March, 1894, when plaintiff notified the defendants, but payment of the policy was refused. The policy provided against accidents, and that if death should result from injuries received in any way, the defendants were to pay Mrs. Brown $2,000. It is then set out that on the 20th day of February, 1894, Mr. Campbell sustained a fall on one of the sidewalks of Salt Lake City, which affected his lungs and caused acute pneumonia, resulting in his death on the 16th of March following.

The defense denies the accident, or that the death of Mr. Brown resulted from it. It is further contended that a number of the policy's provisions were violated, one of which was the notifying of the company of the accident within ten days after it occurred, and the other was that no physician of the had been permitted to examine the body in order to ascertain the cause of death.

Attorney Sutherland was arguing a motion for a non-suit when the "News" report closed.

Mrs. Young's Divorce Suit.

Hannah M. H. Young has commenced divorce proceedings against James L. Young. The marriage took place here at Missoula, Mont., in February, 1883. There are two children of the marriage, Ira March, born October 5, 1884. The defendant sent his wife to her parents at Preston, Ida., where she remained for two years unmolested by Young.

Supreme Court Cases.

The Supreme court heard arguments in the following cases today: Ellinger & Co., vs H. Eisman & Co., appellants.

S. Hayes, appellant, vs C. Lavingston.

John H. Bailey, petitioner vs The Third Judicial district court.

District Court Notes.

The case of Mary E. Osborn against Fidelia R. Hamilton has resulted in plaintiff being non-suited. Miss Osborn sued for $1,116.62 alleged to be due her for wages.

The jury in the $7,009 damage suit of Ellen Hurley Sollis against Salt Lake City has returned a verdict in favor of the city.

Judge Hart dismissed today the case of Charles Carter against Harry Hyrde for the want of prosecution.

Petit Juror W. F. Nelson was excused for the term by Judge Cherry today.

FATHER AND THREE SONS CURED OF ITCHING RASH

I take pleasure in letting you know how much Cuticura Ointment has done for me, my father and two brothers. In the fall of '96, I began to be afflicted with an itching rash under my chin. It kept spreading until it was all over my body. I could not sleep but was compelled to be awake and scratch all the time. My father, two days after, was afflicted with the same thing, at the same time. We all suffered terribly for a year and a half, trying in the meantime all the remedies we could find, but received no benefit. I happened to see Cuticura Remedies advertised and how they had cured others from similar skin diseases, and we thought we would try them. I bought three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three bottles of Cuticura (ointment) and they cured the four of us completely. Any person desiring further information can call on me. RICHARD ANDERSON, Feb. 22, '98. Geneva, Box Elder Co., Utah.

ECZEMA FOR YEARS CURED BY CUTICURA

I had an attack of Eczema several years ago and found myself in the clutches of a monster whose business it was to torture me and make life miserable. Cuticura Remedies were recommended to me by my druggist, Mr. T. N. Van Winkle of Hartford City, Ind. I used altogether three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, with frequent baths with Cuticura Soap, and the use of Cuticura (ointment), and to-day I am entirely cured. I have given you this testimonial, knowing of many parents and sufferers. MRS. ELIZA J. HAYES, Hartford City, Ind.
